FRIENDS SAVED THEM

The Sheriff of Favette County Talks of the Cooley Gang.

The Sheriff Says He Has Jurisdiction Over but One of Them.

NO REWARD IS OFFERED FOR THEM.

THEIR LEADER IS A MORAL COWARD

Sheriff George McCormick, of Fayette county, was in Pittsburg yesterday. He brought to the penitentiary two prisoners. Speaking of the appeal made by citizens of Fayette county to the Pittsburg police for aid in suppressing the notorious Cooley gang the Sheriff said: "The Cooleys are dangerous, desperate men, and while we have attempted under all circumstances to enforce the law, we have been positively unable to overtake or capture the outlaws. Of course, I have no authority take but one of them until courts demand them. The one who escaped jail, however, I have made many attempts to recapture, but if he is still in our county he is rarely if ever seen with the others. We are not afraid to take the Cooleys, but they have many advantages over us that they do not have over the Pittsburg detectives, who are now and have been up there. They know me and all my deputies, and we cannot approach their haunts without their knowledge. Citizens Keep the Outlaws Posted.

"It seems singular, but it is a fact, that many of the citizens of the Southern end of our county are in sympathy with the Cooleys, and when one of my deputies is seen in the neighborhood the alarm is sounded and the outlaws disappear as completely as if they had never existed. I do not know who employed the Pittsburg detectives, but I do know that for years many of the citizens of the county have been robbed and plundered by the gang, and I am not surprised at the steps they are taking. In my judgment a liberal re-ward should be offered for the taking of that gang, and my word for it, they would be taken promptly. The Cooleys are not the most dangerous of the gang. I look upon Jack Ramsey as the most daring of the party. Yet there are two or three others who would fight to a finish before they would submit to arrest.

"Have you personally ever attempted to arrest any of the gang?" One Was Caught and Escaped. "Yes, certainly. I have spent a good deal of time looking after them, but as I say I have been unable to get near them. We did take one of the Cooley brothers without any fight and without any effort, but since his escape from the old prison we have never been able to locate him. I sometimes think he has gone over to Virginia where his party joins him occasionally.

"The Cooleys and their associates have al ways been rough customers," the Sheriff went on. "I have known them all personally since they were mere boys, and they have always lived by stealing. They subject themselves to all kinds of exposure and they are as hardy as Indians. Frank Cooley their leader is a moral coward and if he could be gotten alone he could be taken by anybody. His will is supreme with his gang however, they will fight and kill at his command. His followers have the greatest confidence in him and they go and come just as he orders. It is safe to say that not one of the gang has done a day's work in their lives, and if we can get them it would certainly relieve many of the citizens up there, although many of the same citizens would go out of their way to prevent the arrest of the high-
