Organized Work Is Not to Take the Place of Individuality.

THE ADDRESS OF A PENNSYLVANIAN

BOSTON, Nov. 19 .- "New and Old Parochial Methods" was the subject discussed this morning in the Episcopal Congress by Dr. G. W. Shinn, of Newton, Mass. Rev. Dr. E. W. Bradley, of Brooklyn, followed with an essay on the same subject. As to the methods of church work he asked: When would it be understood that the Church could not compete with the world in the matter of entertainment? By and by the resources of our church people to enter tain their congregations will have become exhausted. This will naturally lead to the opening of the theaters on Sunday. This will be the logical consequence of the great churches. The Church could only win he way to Christ by fighting. Never could it be won by coaxing. Our methods are not aggressive enough and not evangelistic enough. We want men in this warrare against the enemy of men's souls. If we fail, Rome or Satan must occupy the land. The emergency is great. It is not new machinery that we need so much as a restoration of the old.

Organization Carried to Excess. Dr. Bradley was followed by Rev. Langdon Stewardson, of Worcester, Mass., who took the ground that the distinction between the old and the new parochial methods was best seen in the simplicity of the former compared with the complica-tion that mark the latter. Organization has been carried to an extreme within the churches, and has no good result when new societies and clubs are introduced, when there is no spiritual demand for them. Much of the organization within the Church to-day, according to Dr. Stewardson, so far from promoting spiritual growth, is a posi-tive detriment and drag upon the religious work of the Church. The Church is not supposed to cater to all the physical, intellectual and social wants of its people. When a parish finds that it can accomplish spiritual aims through the stroying white oal

The first speaker for the afternoon was Rev. E. S. Lindes, of New Haven. His ad-iress was in the nature of a plea for the modern methods, having their foundation, as they do, upon the successful, though simpler, methods of the past. He protested against the indiscriminate and sweeping condemnation of all church societies.

The speaker pleaded earnestly for dis-crimination. In the first place, organiza-tions should be simple. The work of socie-ties should not be substituted for personal work, nor should the church be permitted to obscure the personal element that made he preaching of ministers in the he preaching of ministers in the past so

Rev. Henry T. Jones, of Wilkesbarre, the last speaker on the programme, to followed on much the same lines as hose of Rev. Mr. Lindes, speaking in favor f the methods of parochial work as they kist to-day. The need of the day, said he, not for a simpler or more perfect organ-ation in the matter of church work, but a utler and more complete conse

The only volunteer speaker of the session was Rev. W. Lawton Mellichampe, a young missionary from North Carolina. He spoke on the success that attends organized effort in the large city churches, as compared with the unorganized work of smaller parishes.

DEMANDS AN APOLOGY.

A Strange Mixture of Religious Secret Socleties and Religion at the Share Presbyterian Church-It May Get Into the County Courts.

The trouble in the Sharon Presbyterian Church will not down. As will be recollected by some people, there was a dispute several months ago in an Odd Fellows lodge in Sharon, to which some of the members of the church belonged, among them Messrs. Jacob Seafler and D. A. Weigle. The former is an elder in the church, and though regarded by his neighbors as a good man, some of them say he is unfortunate in having a quick temper, and now politics is mixed in the snarl. During the controversy, as the story goes, Mr. Seafler became very much lable rage enacted the tragedy of Luther versus Satan, hurling a heavy inkstand at Mr. Weigle, which, catching him on the frontispiece, damaged it considerably for the time being and for some time subsequently. Some members of the lodge, who are also members of the church, carried the case before the church authorities and the Session was called to adjudicate.

For the benefit of those not up in ecclesiastical jurisprudence it may be well to state that the Session is a court composed of the elders and the minis-ter, the latter being the presiding officer. From it appeal is made to the Presbytery, and from the Presbytery to the Synod and finally to the General Assembly. The pros-ecution urged that Mr. Seafler ought to be required to abase himself before Mr. Weight and ask forgiveness for the ebullition be and ask forgiveness for the ebullition before being reinstated in the church, and they are very wroth because the Session reinstated him without exacting the penalty.
One of them denounces the proceeding as a whitewash. Ecclesiastic law was quoted by both sides and a ruling of the minister, Mr. Mercer, is hotly disputed by the prosecution, who talked for a time of an appeal to the Presbytery, but as no further steps have been taken the controversy has probahave been taken the controversy has proba-bly been ended so far as the church is concerned, though a member stated yesterday that Weigle might carry the matter into

Letting natural gas out of the earth is said to kill timber, and in some places is de-stroying white oak forests. It is also cershould be adopted; but when, because one of these has proved a success under exceptional circumstances, it is regarded as a necessity in all parishes, then church organization has transcended its proper limits.

A Defense of the Modern Methods only society at large in Moon township, but politics and even the churches. As to its effect on politics, those who urge it point to the fact that the Stevenson connection, which has heretofore stood as a solid wall for the Democracy from generation to a second connection.

Democracy from generation to generation, gave way this season, being carried largely into the Straightout movement. As to the effect on ecclesiology and Christian fellow-ship, they say there has been more friction in the Sharon Presbyterian Church during the last year or two than in all the preced ing time of its organization, some 75 or 80

But this is not all of the controversy in the case above stated. Some who want Mr. Seafler disciplined say he was whitewashed on account of his prominerce in the Grange, which is a power in that part of the county.

Thus anothed inconguous element is added, and some people inimical to secret societies are also using the fact that the trouble between Messrs. Seafier and Weigle arose in an Odd Fellows' lodge as an argument against conventional fraternity outside the pale of the church.

DEPENDS ON A TURN

Philadelphia's License System Likely to Be Introduced Here.

IT WOULD BAR OUT B. C. CHRISTY.

Little Need of Any Attorneyssto Secure or Lose a License.

STOWE AND SLAGLE MAY BE THE JUDGES

The eagle eye of the liquor dealer is watching with careful interest to see which court will be assigned to take charge of the December term of Quarter Sessions. The continuance of business is at-stake for some of them and many and fervent are the prayers that the selection will be such that the sequence will not again throw No. 2 in enraged at Mr. Weigle and in an uncontrol- charge of License Court. The mantle cannot by any possible means fall on No. 3, and whether it will be for No. 1 or No. 2 depends on whether Judges Kennedy, Porter or McClung will consent to be forced to take charge of the December term. The Septemher term came regularly as No. 3's turn. but on account of there being so many important cases to be heard Judge Ewing, of No. 2, was persuaded to preside. This again places No. 3 in line for the coming term. If the new court still insists that it has not had enough experience to take charge of important murder trials, No. 1 will preside over the December term, and No. 2, with Judges White, Ewing and Magee, will again dispense licenses, and, if so, the system of other years will probably be followed with the say B. C. Christy on the battleground reinforced with a large scrapbook and a long-

May Adopt the Philadelphia System. If, however, No. 3 takes its regular turn in Criminal Court the first Monday in December, No. 1, with Judges Stowe and Slagle or Stowe and Collier, will be in line for gie or Stowe and Collier, will be in line for License Court, and unless popular opinion is greatly mistaken, the change will mean the adoption of the Philadelphia system, the overthrow of Christy and a shortening of the term to about ten weeks. The plan adopted by the Quaker City Judge is to grant a license without hearing to all dealers against whom remonstrances have not been filed, and to hold attorneys responsible for the papers of their clients. Hearings are, of course, granted to new applicants, ings are, of course, granted to new applicants, but not so much time is taken and applicants are not cross examined on anonymous corre-spondence or the objections of an attorney who appears without witnesses. If Judge Stowe presides it is hardly likely that Mr. Christy will be given a place at the clerk's desk or that he will be given the full swing hitherto accorded him. When asked about his intentions vesterday Mr. Christy said he would certainly take a hand in the coming License Courts, but if No. 1 presides he remarked that it was hardly likely that he would be "in it to any great extent." He thinks it a toss up as to whether No. 1 or No. 2 will have charge, and if it should be the latter be said he was going to have his scrapbook rebound and be on deck with all the vigor of long experi-

All the Attorneys Will Lose Money. Another new feature which Mr. Christy called attention to is the $1,000 license fee called attention to is the $1,000 license fee which successful applicants will have to pay next year. He thinks it will have the effect of freezing out many of the saloon keepers in the outer districts, but that it will have no effect on the downtown people. If the judges of No. 1 hold License Court next spring, Mr. Christy will not be the only loser among the attorneys. The present liquor men will not be compelled to make a fight, and will, therefore, be less liberal in paying big fees to the lawyers who have hitherto been the bright lights at the License court bar. It usually requires an attorney to draw up the complex documents necessary to get a license, however, and in this way the disciples of Blackstone hope to get sufficient fees to keep themselves from laboring on Chief Elliot's new Poor-Farm.

AN EXCEPTIONAL YEAR.

THE Year 1891 has been marked by a greater advance than any similar period since the Magazine was established. Not only has the literary and artistic excellence been maintained and increased, but a corresponding gain has been made in the sale and influence of the Magazine. At the end of 1891 the circulation has risen to more than 140,000 a month, and it may justly be promised that the further improvements for the coming year will be proportionate to these largely increased opportunities.

FOR NEXT YEAR.

It is not possible to give, in a brief space, an account of all the features in preparation, but the following announcements will indicate that the material is deficient neither in importance nor range of subject:

They will be written by authorities so experienced in their respective fields that the series will appeal to civilized people the world over. The plan will include an account of the conditions of life in those cities (in many lands) where the results of research will be helpful for purposes of comparison, as well as for their own intrinsic interest. The treatment will be thoroughly popular and the elaborate illustrations will make the subject vivid. Additional particulars may be found in the prospectus appearing is the Christmas number.

IMPORTANT MOMENTS. The aim of this series of very short articles is to describe the signal occasions when some decisive event took place, or when some great experiment was first shown to be successful:—such moments as that of the first use of the Atlantic cable, the first use of the telegraph and telephone, the first successful experiment with ether, the night of the Chicago fire, the scene at the moment of the vote on the impeachment of Andrew Johnson, etc., etc. Each of the topics, it is expected, will be described by an eye-witness.
