A Big Financial Scheme Evolved at the Springfield Meeting.

BLAINE SOLID WITH THE FARMERS

Free Silver Is a Declared Policy and Cleveland Is Unpopular.

JERRY RUSK TO BE PUT IN THE HARNESS

The farmers of the United States are not only interested in politics, but they are working on a great financial scheme to relieve the burdens of debt in agricultural districts. The grangers are determined that the policy of the Government in the future shall afford the same protection to their products that the tariff system insures to manufactured articles. The farmer feels that the bankers and manufacturers have been favored, while he has been neglected. The fruits of reciprocity are appreciated, and have made the grangers in the country almost a unit for Blaine as the next Presi-

Of the numerous farmer organizations in the States, the National Grange is one of the strongest and most conservative. The grangers make little noise, and for this reason are not as well known as the Alliance. The Grange in no way affiliates with the latter order, and its members are not in sympathy with the sub-treasury and other visionary schemes. Their aim is to enhance the value of farm products and protect their markets. At present the Grange has 1,000,000 members in the United States, and they are increasing

A Mammoth Mortgage Scheme, At the annual meeting of the organiza-tion in Springfield, O., which has just closed, it was decided to have a company organized that would fund the mortgages of the Grange farmers. Leonard Rhone, of the Pennsylvania and Chairman of the Grange, National Executive Committee, was appointed to look after this branch of the work. Mr. Rhone registered at the Seventh Avenue Hotel last evening. He was on his way from Springfield to his home in Center

In discussing their financial plans Mr. Rhone said he thought that from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 would be needed to relieve the people in their society. If the money can't be raised in America he knows it can be produced in Europe. Agents have been started to interview New York bankers on the subject. The rarmers want the money loaned on long time and at a the number of tickets said to have been In discussing their financial plans Mr. that can be made. The Grange is to be in no way responsible to the company. He remarked that the scheme was similar to the founding of the national bank debt by the Government.

Rave Been Discriminated Against. The grangers believe in the land loan idea to a certain extent, and they think that what is good for the bankers should not be denied the farmers. The Grange is strong in Ohio, and will use its influence against the re-election of Sherman for the part he took in funding the national bank

An agent will be appointed in each State to find out the financial needs of the farmers and report to the company. In making loans this representative will examine the titles and see that everything is satisfactory. Mr. Rhone adds that the financial arrangement will make the Grange so popular that every agriculturist in country will be anxious to join it. As the organization is political its strength would be significant. Mr. Rhone says there is a great deal of distress among the farmers, and while the crops are heavy this year, prices have not advanced, so that the relief afforded is very small.

Want Jerry Rusk to Help Them.

The Grange will also appeal to Secretary Rusk to have him issue a monthly bulletin giving the condition of the foreign markets, the amount of American farm products sold and any discriminations against the Yankee grangers. For example, England was in the habit of quarantining American cattle. It cost from $6 to $7 per head to have them released. The Canadian cattle from a British province were admitted they passed the inspection. The Grange laid the matter before Secretary Rusk, and an act was passed requiring the inspection of cattle here before loaded on the ships. The English had no further need to quarantine Yankee cattle, and the practice was stopped.

Mr. Rhone says the Europeans are constantly doing something to put American agricultural products on an equal footing with their own and those from other coun-tries. The farmers will also demand better service from the consuls.

Mr. Rhone says the Grange now has a membership of 40,000 in Pennsylvania. In the last 18 months 150 granges with 16,000 members were started in this State. He thinks this shows that their principles are commendable to the farmers. Very Powerful in Politica He remarked significantly that the Republican majority this fall in Pennsylvania largely represented the Grange vote, which was cast solidly against Wright, He added that the farmers beat Delamater the year before, and that the Grange worked with the Independent Republicans.

"The Grange is non-partisan but political," he continued. "I regretted personally the necessity of writing a letter against Wright, but I was called on to do will vote against any candidate, whether Democrat or Republican, who is inimical to its interests. The Grange is strong in the Eastern and Middle States, but we are weak in the South. The delegates of the Union, and I was anxious to get at the political sentiment for next year. To a man I found the Southern representatives opposed to the nomination of Cleveland, mainly on account of his financial views. The Republicans are against Harrison, but is a great favorite. As long as of the farm products, or at least gives them the oleomargarine meu who were convicted in New Jersey. We feel that after making out a case under the law the action of the President was uncalled for. It was a stultification of the act, and gave us to under-stand that Mr. Harrison was not friendly to the agriculturists. This may appear a small matter, but to the farmers it means a Free Silver Votes in Pennsylvania. "Of course, the Grange wants a more lib-eral financial policy. In the West and Northwest the delegates were out-and-out free coinage men. We also favor free silver in Pennsylvania. We feel that free silver will enhance the solver. will enhance the value of our products and increase our markets abroad. While we have been protecting our country with a tariff England has been caring for her postariff England has been caring for her pos-sessions through a shrewd monetary system. We sell our wheat in the Liverpool market for $1 10 in gold, and the East Indian farmer gets $1 40 for his. He is able to buy more for his return than we can. England main-tains a silver basis for India. In the same way Russia has adopted the silver policy. This question will be important to the farmers as long as they sell in foreign mar-kets."

As the Granges has 40,000 members Pennsylvania, and as free silver is its de-clared policy, the politicians who are count-ing on Pennsylvania as solidly opposed to free coinage may be surprised.

A RAILWAY SENSATION.

THE BIG FOUR GOES AFTER SOME SOCIETY PEOPLE.

An Aristocratic Doctor in Cincinnati Arrested for Collusion With Scalpers-Others to Be Taken Care of-How the Scheme Is Worked, and Why Illegal. CINCINNATI, Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Dr. D. M. Denman, practicing physician at 113 West Ninth street, was arrested to-day on a charge of unlawfully trafficking in railway tickets. The arrest was made under ection 7094 of the Revised Statutes, which makes it an offense to deal in railway tickets which ought to have been canceled by the ticket collector, with intent to defraud the railway company. Dr. Denman is charged with having received and disposed of 12 railway tickets good from Indianapolis to Cincinnati. He is a fine appearing young man, and heretofore has borne an unblemished reputation. He is a graduate of an Eastern medical college, and has been practicing in this city some two years. He is a way-up society man, a bachelor, and has elegant rooms in the Albion building. He was considered the most promising young physician in the city, and had a re-nunerative and aristocratic practice.

Attorney Colston, of the Big Four sys tem, was seen, but declined to talk. He simply said the railway officials were making no mistake, but were making arrests, and hadn't yet finished making them.

A prominent railway official said: "I wouldn't be surprised to see this develop into one of the most extensive conspiracies ever discovered for defrauding a railway company, especially by employes."

The facts in possession of the railway company's officials, it is claimed, clearly indicate guilt. The arrest was in contempla tion several days ago, but new and still more confirmatory evidence came to light, and criminal action was delayed until the and warract mention only 13 tickets, but the number of tickets said to have been handled by the doctor is away up in on their land as security. PHYSICIANS AS BURGLARS.

It Paid Them Better Than Their Profes in Illinois.

JOHLET, ILL., Nov. 21.-Gardiner, 28 miles from here, is excited over the discovery to-day that two of the leading physicians and a livery stable keeper of the town are responsible for the recent daring burglaries there. Drs. Boyes and Me-Adam and Livery Stableman Briggs were discovered early this morning trying blow open the safe of the Gardiner Bank. Burglaries have been frequent during the last year, and a detective was employed to ferret out the perpetrators. He suspected the trio, and joined them to get at their secrets. He helped them to plan the burgthe act of blowing open the safe called on them to surrender. They resisted and at-tempted to escape. The detective shot Dr. McAdam and brought him down and cap-tured Dr. Boyes. Briggs escaped.

The Body of the Actor to be Kept for Hi

Wife to See Once More. NEW YORK, Nov. 21 .- [Special.]-The arrangements for the funeral of actor William J. Florence are practically completed Monday morning, at 10 o'clock, Rev. Henry Pratt, a lifelong friend of Mr. Florence will celebrate a solemn mass of requiem at St. Agnes' Catholic church, and Rev. Dr. Henry A. Brown, pastor of St. Agnes', will de-liver the eulogy. The body will then be of the larm products, or at least gives them fair show with manufactured articles, he will have the hearty support of the grangers North and South. Much of the opposition among the farmers to Harrison is due to his pardon of Liverpool to-day on the Aurania. After

For many years Mr. Florence has been a Freemason, and it was thought that Catholic Freemason, and it was thought that Catholic authorities might object to having the funeral services in a Catholic church. The law of the Catholic Church is that a man who has been a Freemason, and who dies without renouncing the order, cannot receive Catholic burial. Rev. Dr. Brown says in reference to this that as Mr. Florence made confession on his deathbed and received absolution it was tantamount to a renunciation of Freemasonry.

FRENCH STRIKERS ACTIVE

They Issue an Address to Coal Miners in

Other Countries PARIS, Nov. 21 .- The action of foreign coal mine owners in shipping coal to the nanufacturing centers in the Department of Pash de Calais has aroused the leaders of the strikers to the necessity of stopping if possible this source of supply. They to-day issued an appeal addressed to the coal miners of Great Britain, Austria, Germany and Belgium, urging them to limit their work to the barest requirements of their mployers.

This is desired so that it will be impossi ble for the latter to supply any but the home demand and to fulfill their contracts, home demand and to fulfill their contracts, and thus prevent them from exporting their surplus product to France. The leaders of the striking miners in the department of Pas de Calais, who have already signified their willingness to submit the questions at issue between the men and their employers to arbitration, have asked that the Board of Arbitration which it is the intention of the Government to appoint shall consist of five delegates representing the workingmen, five representing the employers and five to be selected to represent the Government.

WAZANDERANS REVOLT.

The Rebellion Promptly Put Down by Persia's Regular Soldiery. LONDON, Nov. 21.-A dispatch from Tohrain, the capital of Persia, states that the Mujtahid or High Priest of the Shia'h sect, which is the predominant religious sect of the country, numbering nearly 7,000,000, recently fomented a revolt in Mazanderan, a province in Northern Per-Mazanderan, a province in Northern Persia. The Government took prompt measures to suppress the revolt, and a body of troops were dispatched to restore order and to place the High Priest under arrest.

The rebels were prepared, however, and made a determined resistance against the Shah's soldiers. They had entrenched themselves in a strong position, and a long contested and desperate battle ensued. The rebels were finally defeated, not, however, until 200 of their number had been killed. The loss of the troops was 20 killed. A large number of the rebels were taken prisoners, and it is expected that summary oners, and it is expected that summary justice will be meted out to them. Among the prisoners is the high priest to whose machinations the whole trouble was due.

Work and Talk Will Get It. COMBINE AGAINST THE BIG CITY.

Members of the Committee Feel Friendly Toward Pittsburg.

HOW THE SELECTION IS BEING MADE

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. 1 WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 .- Things were very quiet this evening around the Arling-ton Hotel, where the delegations who are after the Republican National Convention are quartered. The only stir to-day was when the main body of the New York delegation arrived, nearly 100 strong, and put on so many airs that the rough-and-ready hustlers of the wild and woolly West were for a little while quite overawed.

The earnestness shown by New York in he contest, and the disposition of the leading Republicans of the committee to lear toward the metropolis, has had one im-portant effect to-day, in bringing about a coalition of the entire West and Southwest. Representatives of each of the Western delegations met to-day and agreed to stand together against New York, which city is looked upon as the dangerous antagonist of the West. If it depended on the delegations this would certainly have the effect to give the convention to one of the Western spirants, but the visiting delegations have really nothing to do with it. In so far as their influence is concerned they might better have stayed at home.

The Selection Now Being Made. The whole matter is being settled in the cozy room occupied by Chairman Clarkson. There the members of the committee drop in and chat, one after another, with Colonel Clarkson, and out of the views of these members the Chairman is gradually shaping the situation logically, and when the matter comes before the committee it will be found that these little closet conversations found that these little closet conversations have done the business long before the eloquent speeches of the leaders of the visiting delegations smote the air.

Regardless of all offers of hospitality, the convention will be put where it will do the most good, always remembering that the accommodations must be ample. The fact that Perfusylvania does not need the prestige of the convention to make Republicant of the convention to make Republican votes may make it uphill work for the dele-gation of distinguished Pittsburgers which was selected to-day. There is a strong disposition among the members of the commit-tee to make the presence of the convention count greatly for the party, and this is being made the most of by the Western delegations, who vow that in several of the Western States, Republican hitherto, there must be a speedy awakening or there will be a speedy wake.

There is an exceedingly kind feeling toward Pittsburg. Compliments are unspared for the magnificent Republican majority in Allegheny county this fall. Were it a matter of mere choice and compliment there would be a strong movement in the committee to infuse the enthusiasm of days of old into the convention by holding it in the city where the party was born and cradled. As it is, the Pittsburgers will have to take their chances with other cities which cannot lay claim to the convention on any ground of necessity for the purpose of A Kindly Feeling for Pittsburg.

One thing is certain, the respect of the committee for the great State of Pennsylvania and the great Smoky City is su that the Pittsburgers may be assured that no delegation will have a heartier welcome and more respectful hearing than they. Colonel Clarkson informed THE DISPATCH correspondent this evening that he had no information whether Pennsylvania will be represented in the committee. He and all the Pennsylvanians here are anxious that the State be represented. Mr. Clarkson assured State be represented. Mr. Clarkson assured THE DISPATCH correspondent that if Chairman Watres would appoint a temporary member of the committee, vice Senator Quay, resigned, to sit merely in this meeting, the appointee would be heartily admitted. "At least," said Mr. Clarkson, "I would vote for it and advise it."

Pennsylvanians here have been telegraph-ing Mr. Watres all day, asking him what he intended doing, but have been unable to get any reply. Possibly he may yet make up his mtnd in season for the meeting of the committee.

AGAINST THE CIVIL SERVICE.

Organized Opposition of the Law, Wi Threats to Political Parties.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 .- [Special.]-An organization to be known as the "Anti-Civil Service League," has been organized in Washington, with C. Solon Stevenson as President; Robert X. Russell, Secretary, and L. D. Westbrook, Treasurer. The object of the organization, which is to be non partisan, will be the repeal of the civil service law. The first step toward its abolishment will be a demand on the nominating conventions to wholly ignore the law, in forming their platform, at the same time presenting a roll of members, all of whom are pledged not to support any ele-ment or party indorsing the law or lending aid to the appropriating of funds for its maintenance.

Lodges will be organized throughout the State and charters issued by the President through State organizers on application. C. Solon Stevenson, who is virtually the father of this movement, is secretary of the New York Republican Association of the District of Columbia. He is radically opmaterial aid to the rank and file of either party, its benefits being derived almost wholly by a class of young schoolboy graduates of no practical or general knowledge of Government business

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.-Senor Romer Mexican Minister, called President Diaz attention to the Brownsville and San Antonio telegrams published recently in the newspapers to the effect that Caterino Garza was heading a revolution in Northern Mexico which was supposed to be on the ncrease. Senor Romero is to-day in receipt of a cablegram from General Diaz, of which the following is an extract:

Caterino Garza organized in the territory of the United States, in violation of their laws, an armed band of about 80 men. As the boundary line is so extensive he was able to cross, and while some armed ranchman started in its pursuit, he robbed the unprotected villages he found on his way, during the 30 or 40 hours which he remained in Mexican territory and crossed over the Rio Grande river to Texas without being molested or interfered with by the proper authorities of the United States. He and a few of his men are now re-organizing and reauthorities of the United States, He and a re-of his men are now re-organizing and re-cruiting on two ranches in Texas, near the frontier, and so far without any interference from anybody. Graza never stopped to fight his pursurers, and the one killed and a few wounded he had were shot in their backs, while running at full speed.

THE BIG WORLD'S FAIR LOAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Two lads of 17 fought with hard gloves for a which Hellinger had got knocked out, but drove away before he could be questioned. Hellinger's face was a mass of cuts and bruises, both eyes were blacked, and there ing from cerebral come, resulting, apparently, from a blow on the side of the head which had caused hemorrhages on the brain. Despite their efforts the lad died at 6 o'clock A. M. to-day without recovering

As was subsequently learned, in place of going to the night school, Hellinger went to Samuel Gluck's livery stable, on Suffolk street, to fight George Altman, a butcher by of his own age, in accordance with arrangements which had been made a fortnight before. According to those arrangements the fight was to be to a finish with hard gloves, Queensberry rules. Each backed himself to the amount of $5, and Hellinger agreed, if beaten, to give the allows which were his to allower. loves, which were his, to Altman. Alt was seconded by Harry Halbert, also a butcher boy. Both are employed in the shop of Altman's father.

The elder Altman and Gluck, the livery man, were among the 12 or 15 spectators of the fight. The police have arrested George Altman and his father, Gluck, Hoffman and Halbert. Coroner Levy held all the prisoners pending the inquest. Altman says the fight was forced upon him by Hel-linger, who repeatedly dared him to the eu-counter. There was no bad blood between he added, and the fight was purely for the stakes.

A REGISTRY CLERK'S DILEMMA.

How Three Pretty Blue-Eyed Swedish Girl

Puzzled Him for Awbile. NEW YORK, Nov. 21 .- [Special.]-Three blue-eyed Swedish girls, Lotta, Hilda and Anna Gustavson, bewildered a registry clerk at the barge office to-day. After taking the pedigree of Lotta, who said she was 18 years old and was going to work for her uncle, a farmer near Rockford, Ill., the clerk said, in his usual perfunctory tones: 'Pass on." He did not look up from his book to see if she obeyed. She did, however. Then the clerk gazed into a face that was a duplicate of Lotta's. But the face belonged to Hilda. The clerk repeated his order, "Pass on," but Hilds did not move. She remarked that the clerk had taken her you are twins?" the clerk said. So Hilda's history was entered in the big book and she was ordered to follow the procession.

Another blue-eyed vision confronted the clerk. He took off his spectacles, rubbed and readjusted them carefully, and scrutinized what he was momentarily inclined to think was a mere phantasm. Then he looked at two girls who had preceded the third girl, who said she was Anna Gustavson. He also glanced backward at the long line of unregistered immigrants, to see if there were any more. Then he came to the conclusion that all the 18 year-old Gustavavez and the conclusion that all the 18 year-old Gustavez and the conclusion that all the 18 year-old Gustavez and the conclusion that all the 18 year-old Gustavez and the conclusion that all the 18 year-old Gustavez and the conclusion that all the 18 year-old Gustavez and the conclusion that all the same that the same that the conclusion that all the same that the same th tavson girls had been corralled. a Bark and Drowned. NEW YORK, Nov. 21 .- [Special.]-The St. John, N. B., bark Scammel Bros., which got in to-day, left Antwerp for this port 48 days ago. Because of the westerly gales, she was compelled to seek haven in Torbay, England. She sailed thence on October 23. In a hurricane November 1, in midocean, while all hands were aloft making the lower maintopsail fast, the vessel gave a mighty lurch, shaking four men from the yard into the sea. Owing to the storm and the darkness, nothing could be done to save them. They were George Keen, aged 23, of Quebec; Richard Sandham, aged 21, of Liverpool; A. R. Ehlund, sged 28, of Sweden, and Peter Blonde, aged 17, of Belgium.

Experiments to Be Made With Nebrask Preventive Virus.

OTTAWA, ONT., Nov. 21 .- Experiments with swine plague preventives are to be begun in Deer Park township, south of Ottawa, next week, under the direction of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Agricultural Department. Sixty head of healthy hogs have been procured for the tests. They will be divided into three herds, each completely separated from the others. Representatives of Chief Salmon, the organization of a company to manufacture steel in a non-union mill is in circulation. It states that "The works are to be known as 'A Non-union Mill,' thereby avoiding all labor conflicts, strikes, etc., assuring steady work the year round. The experience of the promoters and their capability as practical workmen would make it possible for them to resist all demands made by labor unions and organized strikes." Then the prospectus continues: The promoters are four practical men, each an expert in his particular line in the manufacture of steel. Each has had from 18 to 18 years of practical experience in some of the largest and best equipped plants in the United States. They are the inventors and sole owners of patents whereby they are

When the virus shall have had time to complete its work all of the hogs will be exposed to the disease, and upon the result of this exposure hangs the fate of inoculation as a swine plague preventive. Dr. Billings asserts that the Nebraska laboratory's virus is a sure preventive, while Chief Salmon has grave doubts concerning the effectiveness of any and all kinds of virus. MORE THAN 20,000 PEOPLE SEE THE GAME

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 21 .- Yale won the game and 25,000 persons saw her do it. The score was 10 to 0, one of those old time scores suggesting goals from the field, but Yale had no one to depend upon for

The Wheeling operates the Belt line, which connects the 21 roads running into Toledo. During the switchmen's strike thousands of cars were jammed into a general blockade, Many of these were consigned to the Lake Shore, which was already doing a rushing business, moving grain from the West. Switchmen and trainmen were compelled to work extra hours, and there was general dissatisfaction. The passage of several obnoxious local rules added to the discontent. Then when the rush came from the Wheeling the climax was neared. this method of scoring, so this time the result means a touchdown and a touchdown and goal. The first touchdown was made in the first half in less than four minutes of play, while in the second half, after 45 minutes of play, Captain McClung, of Yale, failed for goal from the first touchdown but was successful in his try the second time. This tells a part of the story of the great game between Yale and Harvard on the field of Hampden Park this afternoon, but it is only a small part. To be sure Yale is not thinking of much else to-night, or Harvard either for that matter, but few of the 25,000 spectators will soon forget the details of the struggle. The people came from every direction and all distances up to over 2,000 miles.

There From All Parts An old Princeton football man came here from Colorado and neglected everything else to get here on time. He joined the Prince-ton contingent and yelled for Yale. Special trains from New York and Boston began emptying loads of people into the city by 11 o'clock this morning, and they kept coming until 1 o'clock in the atternoon. All of the neighboring towns furnished their share of the throng which walked up and down

Main street until 12:30. About 2,000 men went to Hampden Park early to get a choice of seats, and they filled many of the top rows. The stands were all newly made, and formed a perfect amphitheater about the field of play. The stand on the west side of the field was reserved for Yale and that on the east for Harvard. The penalty of going on the wrong side was to stand a large amount of guying. As each college athlete of past renown was discovered the signal was given for admiring and appreciative cheers. Yale in Good Humor Yale seemed to be in the better humor of the two contending colleges, for she made the most noise, and seemed to run things genover confident. In the betting Harvard went up a peg this morning. Last night the odds were 5 to 4 on Yale, and this morning they were 6 to 5. What induced Yale men to give odds of 7 to 5 just before the game is a mystery, but Yale money seemed to go beg-ging even at these figure. The weather was all that could be desired all day by everyone except the players. The thermometer registered about 500, which was too warm for the athletes, but just right for the spectators. There was the usual brilliant galaxy of pretty faces in the living sea that are rounded the field when the rival teams peared, and the scene which greeted the coming beggars description. McClung, of Yale, won the toes and took the ball. The two elevens lined us as
