A REMARKABLE OASE.

An Indiana Man is Saved by a Dis-A remarkable case has occurred in our territory. J. N. Berry, a man about thirty years of age, was going down rapidly. He tried physician after physician, patent medicines, home receipts—in fact, everything. He went to a noted sanitarium and returned no better. We all thought he was dying with consumption, and that only a few weeks of life were left for him.

He commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and at the same time commenced to mend. He has used about two dozen bottles, and is still using it. He has gained in weight, color and strength, and is able to do light work. It is just such a case as we should have listened to rather suspiciously, but when we see it, we must believe it.

It has trebled our sales of "Golden Medical Discovery." John Hackett & Son, Druggists, Roanoke, Ind.

> The Last Opportunity Under the Five-Dol-lar Rate for Medicine and Treatment— This Period Furnishes Positively the Last Opportunity to Those Who Desire to Avail Themselves of the Five-Dollar Rate-There Will Be No Further Extension-Patent Medicines Will Not Cure Catarrh.

One thing should be clearly and distinctly stated at this time. This is positively and unequivocally the last opportunity under $5 treatment. Patients who desire to take treatment under this offer must avail themselves of it at once. There will be no fur ther extension in time. Drs. Copeland and Hall have sought to give all an opportunity of availing themselves of this merely nominal rate. They have extended the time three times, and this is the last period in which the offer holds good. All patients being under treatment or placing themselves un-der treatment before January I, will be at the rate of $5 a month until cured.

The cure of eatarrh requires (First.) A The cure of catarrh requires (First.) A patient who has the judgment, common sense and patience to place himself under a regular, systematic and scientific course of treatment. (Second.) A physician who understands the treatment of the disease, has special skill, special experience, special apparatus, special remedies and gives special care and attention to this disease, who is in fact a genuine specialist. The popular impression that catarrh is incurable comes from the fact that it has only been within recent years that skillful physicians gave their whole time and attention to this disease. Catarrh is both a local and constitutional disease, requires both local treatment and constitutional remedies. Patent medicines never did and never will cure it.

PRINCETONS GETTING INTO LINE.

They Are Not Very Ropeful About Thursday's Game

Results of All the Football Contests Probably the best football game of the season was that of yesterday at Exposition Park between the team of the Cleveland Athletic Club and the Three A's. It resulted in a tie, but the tie was made on the part of the Three As by "Farmer" R. Fiscus in a way that created the wildest enthusiasm ever seen on local grounds. Fiscus made the touchdown, snd as soon as he did hats and mbrellas were flying in the air; old men and young men were running down the field yelling like demons, and Fiscus was carried "shoulder-height" by the exeited onlookers. It was indeed a wild scene. And the excitement was just as high when Diebert kicked goal, making the score 6

Kept the Crowd Down. The weather and grounds were very bad and the attendance was kept down to about 500 people. If the day had been fine no doubt that fully 2,000 people would have been in the park. From first to last the contest was just as close and as even as anybody could wish for it to be. The teams were well balanced and both sides played with a vim that caused everything to be extremely lively. Once or twice there was some rough work, but neither team complained and a good spirit of give and take prevailed all around. Valentine got a blow on the eye and Gleason had his head cut. Brainerd's hand was so had his head cut. Brainerd's hand was so badly hurt that he had to retire, Tress taking his place. Mr. Shoen, of Cleveland, was referee and Mr. Beymer was umpire. Certainly the local team played better than they have ever done before. Every member did well, but special mention may be made of the Fiscus brothers, the McClintocks, Diebert and Proctor, Diebert's kicking really saved the day, and R. Fisown as if they were little twigs in his outhway, was a remarkable feature. The ushing of the visitors was their best work, and on one occasion they "bucked" their opponents' line for more than 50 yards thout ever losing the ball. They did not

The Three A's did excellent work behind the line and at times were very effective in their rushes. As a team, however, they did not perform as well as the visitors. The cams lined up as follows:

Position. Center Right Guard Right Tackle.... Oliver ... Right End... Left Guard... Fiscus....Left Tackle. Black McClintock Left End Black
dentine Quarter Back Tillinghart
roctor Right Half Back Gleason
M Clintock Left Half Back O. Germer
lebert Full Back E. Germer

The game consisted of two 30-minute halves, and the first half was an exceedingly lively one. In the early part of the half Thompson played well, and tackled E. Ger-mer so well as to prevent a touchdown. Germer had gotten through the local line on account of errors. W. McClintock and Proctor's rushes were noteworthy. The tackling of Valentine and Brainerd were also cheered. During almost the entire half the Three A's were close to the Clevelands' goal line, but failed to get a touchdown. An Unlucky Slip.

W. McClintock might have scored had he not slipped down. Kountz played well during the half. The first hait ended nothing to nothing, and the second had not proceeded five minntes before the visitors scored a touchdown. O. Germer was rushed through the line, and guined 30 yards before he was tackled by Proctor. A great rush then enabled E.

mer to make a touchdown, and he kicked goal, making a total of 6.
Some good playing followed, and finally in a scrimmage, when the Clevelands had the ball, their backs fumbled it in passing, and R. Fiscus nabbed it. He set out for goal, and shook off three or four Cleveland players as if they were mice. He scored a touchdown and Diebert kicked goal. The game proceeded, and it was called on ancount of darkness amid a wrangle regarding who had a right for the ball. The bell, and the Clevelands argued they had not. The referce, being anything but firm, allowed the argument to proceed, and the contest ended 6 to ii.

THEIR FINISHING TOUCHES. The Princeton Football Players Getting Their Final Lessons Before Going to

PRINCETON, Nov. 21.—[Special.].—Only two days remain in which to give the Princeton eleven the finishing touches and unify the playing strength of the team before the great battle of Thanksgiving Day. Monday and Tuesday will therefore be the two most im portant practice days of the year, and Wednesday will be spent in rest. Duncan Edwards, Tracy Harris and Peter Poe, who have been coaching since the beginning of this week, will remain here until the eleven starts on their eventful journey to New starts on their eventful journey to New York. On Monday and Tuesday they will devote most of their time to rubbing off the rough corners and polishing up the fine points which they have been rubbing on so assiduously during the last five days.

On the whole, the work of the team during the season has been far from satisfactory. The vigor, snap and dash so characteristic of Princeton teams in the past, have not been a feature of this season's work, except when Moffat, Harris, Edwards or Poe was here. Of these coaches Moffat and Edwards have been a power on the team. Both have combined head work and real life in their work of coaching. Poe, too, has exerted a wonderfully awakening power over the players. But these men have been here very little, and they might have arranged their visits better. Far a week at a time the team would be without a single coach. Suddenly three, four, five or six would appear, and sometimes the thing was overdone. There have been instances in which a player has had advice during the game from three coaches, and in each case an entirely different method was advocated. The result was, in the words of the player himself, "I did not know what to do." an entirely different method was advocated. The result was, in the words of the player himself, "I did not know what to do."

When the team was left to itself the play was execuably slow, ragged, and suggestive of "prep" school work. There did not seem to be anybody capable of infusing life and spirit into the players. Each man, with one or two exceptions, did very much as he pleased. The team, therefore, did not improve as it would had it been better hanled.

It was not until a few days ago that the

The University boys made all their gains on their round-the-end runs. Griggs and Gill did good work. In the first half a peculiar discussion about the race horse Ormonde is still kept up, though no fresh arguments are being brought forward. The Duke of Westninster says he sold Ormonde to Don Juan de Bocau for £12,000, which he does not think excessive, but as all of Ormo de's brothers and sisters showed signs of roaring, he saw no reason for keeping him. It is remarkable that in these circumstances Westminster should continue to breed animals from parents of Ormonde, sporting men say.

The Ormonde Deal. (BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.) LONDON, Nov. 21. - [Copyrighted.] - Some

THE SWIMMING CONTEST. Fox and McEwen in Fine Condition for the Three Races, Harvard opened the second half with a V and the ball was given to Lake, who made ten yards. Corbett did not do so well and lost two yards. Trafford punted and the ball went over the fence on the Harvard side, and Yale got the ball and carried it out into the field. Bliss was sent around Hallowell's end for four yards. Again Yale tried it with McClung around Harvard's right end, but was tackled Fox, the swimming instructor of the Natatorium, and McEwen, who holds the po-sition of swimming master at the Washington, Pa., Natatorium, swim the first of their series of races at the Nazatorium, Duquesne way, to-morrow evening. The distance is one-quarter mile, and it is safe to say that the contest will be very exciting. McEwen has won numerous prizes, both in Scotland has won numerous prizes, both in Scotland and in this country, and is acknowledged to be one of the most expert swimmers hereabouts, he now having a standing challenge to swim McCusker, the present American champion swimmer.

The backers of Fox, however, feel that they are justified in matching him against McEwen for the reason that he has made vast improvement of late, and has shown some very fast trials. McEwen and Fox differ very matrially in build and size, the Scotchiman weighing some 165 pounds and built like a Hercules, while Fox is more on the greyhound order and weighing but 127 pounds. Both men are in splendid condition, and the spectators will witness one of the finest, speediest and most exciting swimming races ever seen. The fact that intense rivalry exists between the men insures what everybody desires to see, viz., an honest race. McEwan is the favorite, but Fox's friends say they have a surprise in store. The race is fixed for 8 o'clock sharp. Yale tried it with McClung around Harvard's right end, but was tackled beautifully by Newell and Hallowell. Bliss punted, and Harvard got a fair catch by Trafford outside. Lake tried to buck the line, but it was no use. Trafford again assayed a punt, and Bliss was downed in his tracks in an attempt to run. Twice Yale bucked the line, but the Crimsons were impregnable and

All day long the talk was of the chances of Yale or Harvard to win, and many bets were made at odds of 5 to 4 on Yale. The Southern New England Telegraph Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company displayed bulletins giving the status of the game every five minutes, and the streets in front of the offices of these corporations were blocked by thousands of anxious watchers. As the returns came in cheers for Yale rent the air and attracted others from business, who joined the eager crowd. The final result of 10 to 0 in Yale's favor was received about 4:20 r. x., and a perty of Yale students immediately dashed away from the telephone office toward the genus troiter Marvinia."
