REMARKABLE WOMEN.

Two Aged Maidens Confined in the Same Room in Allegheny.

BOTH LADIES OF THE OLD SCHOOL.

Miss Hart and Miss Cochran Ending Their Lives Together.

ONE A RELATIVE HONEST JOHN HART

Miss Lizzie Hart, aged 60, fell down stairs recently at her home, No. 1 Grant avenue, Allecheny, and sustained injuries to her hip that may end fatally. Her physician, however, is hopeful of her

Miss Hart is a remarkable woman. She has lived all her life with Miss Elizabeth Cochran, who is now 90 years old. The two maidens have lived alone for nearly a life maidens have lived glone for nearly a life time and now both are confined in the same room, and there is a likelihood that neither will ever leave her bed alive. Miss Hart is the great-grand-daughter of Honest John Hart, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. She is a woman of rare attainments. She was thoroughly educated and has yet all the accomplishments of the old school of women. Her father, Agron Hart, was a Pittsburg. Her father, Auron Hart, was a Pittsburg steamboatman. He was wealthy, and the older river men of to-day will rememseveral of the boats putting in here, and he was always an untiring worker, whether on the water or the hand. He always personally superintended his business affairs, and he usually accompanied his crew up and down the river. He was a familiar form. familiar figure from Pittsburg to New Orleans, and he was respected by all who knew him. The steamboats then were rude compared to those of the present day, but he was always in the lead in the way gf equipment and improvements to his craft. Unfortunate speculation and re-verses before his death left his daughter Lizzie only in moderate circumstances. She had, however, the advantage of a finished school training and the acquirements of a well managed home, and she has always seemed content with her lot.

Miss Lizzie Hart was a pretty girl. With Miss Lizze Hart was a pretty girl. With her beauty, her accomplishment and her wealth, she was decidedly popular in her set, yet she always refused to entertain any and all offers of marriage. She is a distant relative of C. B. McLean, President of the Masonic Bank, of Pittsburg. Mr. McLean is a daily visitor to the home of the two old ladies, and he and others see that their every wish is gratified, and they have all the care and attention that money can pur-chase or that kind and attentive hands can Supply.

Miss Cochran is a cousin of Mrs. Judge Stove. She, too, is a member of a rare old family, and she, too, has all the acquirements of an accomplished woman. Her income is sufficient to maintain her during her life. She has been confined to her room for mouths. Her remarkable intellect is still clear as a bell. She is a great reader, and her memory is a triumph. She is un-able to move about, yet notwithstanding her years she is in no way a burden, but is an attractive and pleasant old lady.

The two women have always lived hap-pily together. They are certainly rare rep-resentatives of rare old families. They are a pleasure to their friends and relatives and their friends are a positive pleasure to

HIGH WINES FOR EUROPE.

The Action of the German Government Makes the Whisky Trust Happy.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.-News has been received here by whisky men that the bounty which the German Government has been paying to distillers for the home production of high wines was withdrawn yesterday. This action is, presumably, on account of the short cereal crops in that country, the Government desiring to discourage the use of any of the good crops in the manufacture of "hard liquor." The bounty has enabled the German nopolize the high wine trade of Great Britain and France, as well as that of their own country; but its removal and the high price of grain has opened both the British Isles and the continent to the American product, and heavy export trade in that article is already the result.

Foreign dealers have recently been anticipating this action by the German Government, and have been buying freely in this country. In fact, the Whisky Trust has been forced to take the entire output of two of its largest distilleries in Peoria to supply this demand. If the demand keeps up, as it is expected to do, it will probably become necessary to start up some of the plants which the trust has bought during the past few years and shut down.

HUGE WAVES OF HOT WATER.

The Remarkable Experience of a Yankee Ship in the Japanese Earthquake.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.-The Amer fean bark Hesper, 27 days from Kobe, Japan, reports that her standing rigging was carried away by the force of the earthquake shock of October 28 in that harbor, and that other vessels in the harbor also suffered. The damage to the rown was very great. On October 30, when the vessel was about 75 miles from Kobe on its homeward trip, another violent shock occurred shortly after daybreak. A rumbling as that of a submarine volcano was heard, and the sea was lashed into feam, the waves breaking over the vessel. The bark was shaken and tossed about most violently, and the main topmast crosstrees went by the board.

The deck was flooded with water of a temperature so high as to seem almost boil-ing hot, and the air, which was filled with a sulphurous odor, became stifling. Captain Sodergren then steered the vessel to the southward to keep out of the track of the storm. He lost four days by his course.
