Judge Porter Reverses One of Wishart's Sunday Cases.

CONTRACTOR LYND IS NOT GUILTY.

The Sugar Eun Railroad Stops Operations for a While.

DRIFT OF THE DAY AMONG THE COURTS

A hearing was had before Judge Porter yesterday on the appeal of John Lynd from the judgment of Alderman Rohe, who had fined him $25 and costs at the suit of A. Wishart, for engaging in wordly employment on Sunday.

Lynd was superintending the construction of a pipe line in Stowe township for the Philadelphia Company. It was charged that he had his men working on the pipe line on the last Sunday in August and he was fined. At the hearing in court Lynd showed that he had not ordered the men to work on Sunday and did not know they had worked until afterward.

Lynd testified that there were 250 Italians employed digging the trench and on the Sunday in question they went on working without instructions. Often, he said, the foremen were unable to control them. Judge Porter made an order reversing the Alderman and finding Lynd not guilty.

Contesting a Right of Way.

In the United States Circuit Court yesterday a bill in equity was filed by Camille Weidenfeld against the Sugar Run Railroad Company and others. The suit is brought to restrain the defendants from building a railroad over a route alleged to be partly occupied and to have been graded by the plaintiff. The right of way contested for is about 16 miles long in McKean county. The Court granted a restraining order to stop further work by the defendants on the road until a hearing on the motion for a preliminary injunction, which has been fixed for December 15.

Suing a Hotel Proprietor.

Mary Leahy yesterday entered suit against John B. Schlosser, proprietor of the Hotel Schlosser, for $20,000 damages for that loss of a hand. The plaintiff states that on October 10, 1891, she was employed by the defendant in the laundry of his hotel. On the day in question she was put to work at a "mangle.". The machine, it is alleged, was defective, the rolls being partly un-covered and the articles had to be removed by hand. The light in the laundry was also poor. As a result the plaintiff's left hand was caught and drawn into the rolls and so badly crushed and burned that it had to be amputated.

A Glass Company Wants Damages.

The Phillips Glass Company yesterday entered suit against Charles F. Boyer for $10,000 damages. The defendant, it is stated, has a slaughter house, cattle pen and tenement house on his lot in the Twenty-sixth ward, adjoining the glass works of the plaintiff company. For six months, it is alle ged, he has allowed the drainage from his property to flow into the place of the plaintiff, and it ran against a flue used in the manufacture of gas, chilling the flue and causing considerable damage and put-ting the plaintiff company to great expense.

Accuses His Partner of Fraud.

Samuel Silberstein yesterday filed a bill in equity against Joseph L. Mitchell. The plaintiff alleges that he and Mitchell were partners as Silberstein & Mitchell. The defendant, to get control of the assets, frauduiently confessed judgment to his mother, Mrs. H. A. Mitchell, for $3,000 and had an execution issued against the property of the firm. sionary in the Connellsville coke regions, re turned to Pittsburg yesterday. The rev erend gentleman still lives with his family in this city. He was for several years engaged as a missionary in Allegheny county, but for many years has been devoting his entire time and efforts to christianizing the foreign rabble in Favette county.

"My work in the coke regions has been gratifying," Mr. High said. "I have now in good running order 13 Sunday schools with a fair attendance at each school. My greatest difficulty is to get competent teachers and superintendents for the schools after I have them organized, but at present all my schools are well officered and they are progressing nicely.

"As a rule I preach two or three times every Sunday and we have a constant growth of our congregations. The people of the coke regions shift about a good deal of the coke regions shift about a good deal and in that way our congregations are fre-quently broken up. We follow them about, however, and when they leave one congregation we take them into our church at some other place and in that way we are not discouraged in our work. In one of our churches up in the region we have but two members. We the region we have but two members. We organized it originally with 40 members, but the late strike scattered our people, and they are now worshiping at other places." Ikev. Mr. High has preached in nearly every schoolhouse or public hall in the coke region. He is known personally to every family in the region, and he is recognized as the friend to the discressed. He has al-ways refused to be dragged into labor dis-putes. He is as popular with the employer as the employed. He enjoys friendly rela-tions with Father Lambing, of Sectidale, and the two frequently unite in their char-itable work. They were together on the Re-lief Committee for the distressed by the Mammoth mine horror, and they had charge of the distribution of the $35,000 contrib-uted for the relief of the sufferers of that calamity. They recently closed up their calamity. They recently closed up their work at Mammoth. Much of the money was sent to the families of the dead miners in foreign countries, and with one exception all these contributions have been re ceived and acknowledged. The contribu-tion not yet heard from was forwarded to Hungary. It was sent to a minister there. Its receipt has not yet been acknowledged.

Missouri Pacific Offices Moved.

The freight offices of the Missouri Pacific road were removed yesterday from Liberty street to the Lewis block. Commercial Agent Clark is pleased with the change, but he says the traffic to the Southwest is slow out of Pittsburg.

A Timely Suggestion.

At this season, when cold snaps come so suddenly, it is important in bread baking to have the flour perfectly dry. This is especially true of a high-grade flour like Minnehaha. Twelve hours before you set the sponge put the flour in a pan back of the stove—the result will surprise you.
