JUDGE EWING'S ERROR

Ilga Hoffman the First Woman Juror Ever Drawn in This State.

SHE WAS SUMMONED INTO COURT.

Judge White Sees the Mistake and Releases Her From Duty.

LAWYERS ARE LAUGHING AT THE COURT

Most men who have brains sufficient have an object in life, and lawyers and court officials complain that Judge Ewing's penchant is for work-work-work-unintermittent work and the selection of jurors who will do their whole duty. He regards a crooked juror as great an abomination as an unjust balance is in the sight of the Lord. They say that while His Honor in order to get a vast amount of work done takes all manners of short diagonal cuts his specialty lies particularly in the selection of jurors, and when it devolves upon him to fill in one-third of the names that go into the wheel, he keeps tipstaves in a sweat for three weeks, and is never happy until he has all the registration books piled around him so that he is hidden from sight. He selected the panel for this year, and in the list for the fifth Monday of October succeeded in doing himself prond. A very comprehensive smile passed over the countenance of Clerk Armstrong the other day when he read from the venire for the fifth Monday in October the name of 11ga Hoffman, jeweler, Twentieth ward, city of Pittsburg, but Mr. Armstrong wasn't there to exercise a censorship of the selec-

A Woman Drawn as a Juror.

Hga Hoffman did not answer, and persisting in apparent contumacy, the Sheriff was summoned. He deposed that Ilga, so far as his knowledge went, had been regularly summoned, so Deputy Sheriff Jim Richards was instructed by Judge White to bring Ilga to the front to show cause for non-appearance and apparent disrespect to the court. Richards repaired to Ilga Hoffman's place of business in the Twentieth ward, when a vision of beauty answered the summous and demanded to know what he wanted. He explained, and the aforesaid vision, a comely matron with alabaster neck, etc., as poets say, responded quietly, "I am she," The gallent Richards caught convulsively at the jewelry case, but he overcame the shock after the sympathetic Ilga had thrown ice water in his face.
On his return he reported that Ilga Hoffman, though taxed and held amenable to the laws of Pennsylvania, and taxed without direct representation were petticoats, and Judge White accordingly made an order excusing her from jury duty. While she might be the peeress of any one doing business in the court, she was no nearer a peer than, possibly, a femme sole trader.

Judge Ewing Gets the Worst of It. Since then every lawver has it in for Judge Ewing and it will be many a day ere he hears the end of it, though he stands a chance of being canonized by the strong-minded sisterhood, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Sue Anthony, et al., as the man who selected the first woman juror ever known to tame in Pennsylvania. There are plenty of people who will contend that His Honor would not have hurt the jury if he had selected the entire panel from the softer sex. In that event, some people who figure two or three times a year on the jury list would fail to find their names there and suitors certainly find their names there, and suitors certainly would not complain, at least not all of

If the selection was an unintentional mistake, Judge Ewing can plead that the Christian name "Hga" is so uncommon in this country as to be just as likely to be put in the male category with Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Peter, etc., as among the Kittys, Mollies, Idas, Bessies, etc., which became fashionable after the Mary Anns, Barbara Ellens, Ann Elizas, Mary Janes and Jerushas began to grate on ears polite.

MANY MATTERS DISCUSSED.

Business Done at Yesterday's Meeting of the Pittsburg Presbytery-Prospects for a New Building for the Church-Several Calls Issued.

The Pittsburg Presbytery met yesterday in the Sixth Presbyterian Church, Moderator Mercer presiding. A petition for a church at Edgewood caused the appointment of Revs. Fisher, Gordon and Moore and Elders Sample and Kitzmiller as a committee to investigate the matter. Calls were extended to Rev. Samuel T. Farmer, of Redstone, to the Charleroi church and Rev. F. Swartz Crawford, of McDonsid, to the Homewood avenue church. The call of the Concord congregation to Rev. Joseph P. Jordan was placed in the latter's hands. The special committee reported that the annexation of Edgewood to the Pittsburg Presbytery was entirely satisfactory. Rev. Dr. Moore was appointed to request the Blairsville Presbytery to allow all of Wilkinsburg to be annexed to Pittsburg

At the afternoon session Prof. J. C. Sharp preached his trial sermon as an Evangelist, and was afterward ordained. Treasurer John S. Renshaw submitted his Treasurer John S. Renshaw submitted his report showing the receipts for the year to have been $1,405, and asking for a like sum for the coming year. On motion of Rev. G. W. Chalfant it was decided that when the Presbytery adjourned it would be to meet again December 21 in the First Church to hear and decide the call of Rev. Mr. Crawford to the Homewood Church. Rev. J. F. Hill said the treaty with the Rev. J. F. Hill said the treaty with the new State in the center of Africa restricting slavery and liquor had been signed by all the signatory powers except the United States, much to the shame and mortification of all the Christians of this land. The matter was still pending before the Senate, and he advised those present to have petitions signed and sent in. One of the ministers wanted to know if the signing of it was not perused because it was contrary to the Monroe doctrine. Rev. Mr. Hill said that was one reason, and another was that it would injure trade relations, and the moral side of the question was not looked at.

Rev. Dr. Cowan and David Robinson were re-elected Trustees of the Board of Colportage. Dr. Beacom called attention to the fact that there was no room at the bookstore where committee meetings could be held. This, he said, should be remedied

Rev. G. W. Chalfant, a member of the board, said that a committee was now look-ing for a site where a large Presbyterian has a place in view, and if the Judges of the License Court would only withhold license for another year the property could be secured for something near its value.

A vote of thanks was tendered the ladies of the Sixth Clurch for a supportuous report of the Sixth Church for a sumptuous repast. It was decided to hold the next meeting of the Presbytery in the Point Breeze Church, and the meeting adjourned with prayer and

EVANGELICAL PACTIONS IN COURT.

The Minority Faction Begins Proceedings to Oust the Majority Officers.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 1 .- The minority party to the Evangelical Association began to-day quo warranto proceedings, which will have the effect of bringing the controwill have the effect of bringing the contro-versy to a speedy issue. The minority fac-tion held their General Conference a short time ago in Philadelphia, and elected bishops and officers for the church and the board in charge of the great publishing house in this city. The majority faction did likewise at Indianapolis, and as they were already in possession of the offices their decrees had gone into effect.

The relators in the case are the new The relators in the case are the new officers of the minority party, and the defendants are the officers of majority. The claim made is that the Indianapolis conference was illegal, and its decrees, therefore, of no effect. The Circuit Court is asked to oust the majority from the church offices, and install the bishops and officials elected in Philadelphia.

DEATHS HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

Major George W. McKee. Major George W. McKee, formerly com mandant at the Allegheny Arsenal, died suddenly at the Frankfort Arsenal, Philadelphia, at an early hour yesterday morning. The Major attended the Yale-Princeton ing. The Major attended the Yale-Princeton football game on Thanksgiving Day, where he contracted a severe cold, which developed into pneumonia and ended in his death. Major McKee was born in Lexington, Ky, and was appointed a cadet to West Point in 1858, graduating in 1863 and serving through the latter part of the war. From that time until the present he has held various important posts, being gradually promoted until he had attained the rank of Major. On June 16 last Major McKee married Miss Mary, daughter of John W. Chalfant, the well-known iron manufacturer of this city.

Ex-Governor James M. Johnson. Ex-Governor James M. Johnson died Monday afternoon at the home of his son at Upatoi, near Columbus, Ga. He was Lieu tenant-Governor of Georgia during the reconstruction period. His remains were brought to Columbia yesterday morning. The cortege was met at the station by the local members of the bar and a large con-course of friends. The remains were taken to St. Paul's Church, where the funeral ser-

Postmaster Alexander M. Rutledge. Alexander M. Rutledge, the Postmaster at Williamsburg, Blair county, died sud-denly at his home there yesterday. De-ceased was 70 years of age, was interested in several public enterprises and held many offices of honor and trust. In his early life he was prominently connected with the Pennsylvania canal. He was an influential Republican, and in 1877 was elected Treasurer of Blair county. His wife, a son and a daughter survive him.

Edwin McKeown. Edwin McKeown died at Tyrone Monday morning. He was about 26 years of age, and until two years ago was an oil broker in this city. He will be buried in the East End Cemetery this morning.

Obituary Notes. MRS. HOMER LYNCH, one of the oldest persons in West Virginia, died at Terro Alta Monday night, aged 103. GEORGES RICHARD, a celebrated French author, actor and manager, is dead in Paris, aged 61. He was connected with the Ambign Theater, Paris, at the time of his death.

ROBERT C. BERNAY, a well-known musician of Washington, is dead, aged 32. He was a violinist of local repute, and had latterly led the orchestra at Albaugh's Opera

Major Thomas Harward died Monday at his home in Brooklyn, at the remarkable age of over 192 years. He was the oldest resident of Brooklyn. He received his military title during the war of 1812.

MORRIS H. WARNER, a former advance agent for Barnum & Bailey's Circus, for Robson and Crane, and other theatrical enterprises, died several days ago in Gal-veston, where he had for a year or more been employed on various newspapers. JEHE D. WALK, a well-known auctioneer of Carlisle, was found dead on Sunday morning on the Cumberland Valley Railrond. He was in a kneeling position and his body was frozen. It is supposed that his death was due to apoplexy. He was about 55 years old J. K. Fisher, an extensive grain and prorision operator on the Chicago Board of Trade, died in London yesterday. He became especially prominent in what is known as the Keene wheat deal. He retired from busi-ness with an ample fortune in 1881, and has since lived in Ireland. He was 65 years old.

MRS. McGRANN, wife of the millionaire contractor and Democratic leader of Lan-caster, Pa., who was the candidate of his party for State Treasure in 1887, was buried in Lancaster Sunday. She was 51 'years o? age, and was prominent in social and mu-sical circles in that city and Philadelphia, and was noted for her many charities.

Dr. Boyle, a most eccentric character of Essex county, Ontario, is dead. He was 87 years of age. Dr. Boyle made a great deal of money during the civil war in the United stes, by handl au office in New York. He leaves an estate valued at $100,000. of which $50,000 is in New York. One of his peculiarities was to appear upon the streets in old Continental dress, with knickerbockers and cocked hat.
