ANOTHER DESTROYER.

The Most Formidable of Them All Is Successfully Launched.

SHE IS CHRISTENED NEW YORK.

Built to Prey Upon the Commerce of Nations at War With Us.

HER DIMENSIONS AND HER DESCRIPTION

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—This afternoon the United States armored cruiser New York was launched from the Cramp ship building yard. There were fully 15,000 people present, including the Secretaries of the Navy, Treasury and Interior Depart-

Two platforms had been erected, one directly beneath the bows of the cruiser and the other on an adjoining wharf. The christening party, headed by Mr. Cramp, Secretary Tracy and about 150 specially invited guests, made their way toward the stand beneath the bows of the cruiser. The other stand was crowded with about 5,000 people, and after those who had cards had been admitted the gates were thrown open and about 15,000 people in all were collected to see the New York go off.

After Secretary Tracy, Miss Page and the balance of the party had taken their places, Constructor Lew- Nixon began to make preparations for the launch. The sheering that held the cruiser in shape was knocked away. Mr. Nixon gave a warning call to Miss Page, the great steel hull trembled from stem to stern, and then began to move down the tallowy way. Just as the cruiser started Miss Page struck the gayly ribboned bottle she held in her hands against the keel that was slipping by her, close above her head, and as the wine flowed from the broken bottle she cried out: "I christen thee New York!"

Distinguished Visitors Present,

After the launch a collation was served in the mold room of the yard. Secretary Tracy, before returning to Washington, expressed himself as greatly pleased at the success attending the launch. Fully 5,000 invitations were sent out, but President Harrison, Secretary Blaine, Secretary Rusk, Governor Hill, Governor-elect Flower and Governor Pattison were forced to decline the invitation to be present owing to the pressure of business upon them.

Among the guests were Secretary of the Navy Tracy, Secretary of the Treasury Foster, Secretary of the Interior Noble, Postmaster General Wanamaker, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Gilkinson United retary of the Treasury Gilkinson, United States Senators Manderson, Frye and Haw-ley; the Naval Committees of the Senate and House, headed by their Chairmen, Senator Cameron and Congressman Boutelle; Admiral and Mrs. John G. Walker, Lieutenant Charles O. Allibone, Lieutenant and Mrs. Seaton Schroeder, Lieutenant Frank S. Denny, Chief Engineer of the Navy Melville, Commander and Mrs. W. B. Hoff, Naval Constructor Thomas E. Webb and Capta'n and Mrs. F. V. McNair; Captain W. H. Bennett, Commander R. D. Bradford, J. Seaver Page, Miss Page, William Burdett-Coutts, Naval Constructor W. L. Capp, Andrew Carnegie, Appraiser Cooper, Commodore John S. Dickerson, Chief Engineer A. U. Morley, Colonel Elliott F. Shepard, Miss Shepard, Chief Engineer Stevens and Adjutant General Josiah Potter, of Governor Hill's staff.

She Is a Commerce Destroyer. Although essentially a commerce de-stroyer, the New York will be able to hold her own with all but the heaviest line of battle snips and return shot for shot with them in action. The new cruiser is the e pecial pride of Secretary Tracy, and he has watched her rise from the ways with an interest that no other vessel in the navy has excited in him. She will carry a battery of 6 8 inch breech loading rifles, 12 4-inch rapid firing guns, 8 6-pounders, 4 Gatlings and 6 torpedo tubes. Two of the 8-inch guns will be mounted in barbette forward on the state of the upper deck, and two in similar barbette aft, while the remaining two will be carried in broadside amidships on the upper deck. Following are her principal dimensions: Length on the water line, 380 feet 6.5 inches; breadth of beam, 64 feet; mean draught, 23 feet 3.5 inches; displacement, 8,150 tons; maximum speed, 20 knots; sus tained sea speed, 18.5 knots; complement cofficers and men, 475; coal endurance (total capacity), 13,000 miles. She will be 1,500 tons heavier than the Maine and 1,850 tons heavier than the Texas. Compared with English ships of the Agamemnon, Ajax and War Sprite class, the New York is faster by three knots than the swiftest of these by three knots than the swiftest of these vessels and her radius of action is 6,000 miles greater. She has the advantage also in broadside and turret armor, which, being of nickel steel, will offer greater re-Her Armor Is Amply Protective. She will be a twin screw vessel propelled by four separate engines, each having a power of 4,500 horses. The electric light plant will have a capacity of 10,000 amperes, and will include 7,000 incandescent lights. In addition there will be four search lights. In addition there will be four search lights, 30 inches in diameter, all of which can be controlled from the bridge and conning tower. On the broadside the New York will be protected by one partial belt of armor, another of water excluding material, and a complete protective deck. The protective deck will be covered with two courses of plating, having a thickness of 3 inches ampleting and 21 inches form. inches amidships and 23¢ inches forward and aft. Amidships the slopes are covered with an additional thickness of 3 inches, and the entire space between this and the skin of the ship is filled with cellulose to exclude the water. In the wake of the machinery spaces a belt of thin armor is worked between the protective and berth decks. The total thickness of metal on the sides throughout this space is 5 inches.

In addition to this protection the coal will be stowed on the armor deck, forming an additional safeguard against serious damage near the water line. The barbettes are shields on the gun seven inches. The slop-ing armor between the upper and gun decks beneath the barbettes is five inches and the ammunition tubes below of the same thickness. In addition to the protective deck the New York will have three other complete decks, a large flying deck, or bridge upon which all of her boats will be carried and two military masts, which will be fitted with double fighting tops for machine guns. Having a free board of 20 feet from the water to the upper deck she will be able to fight her guns and maintain her speed in sea way that would render smaller ships helpless.

Decker was about 50 years old. He was born in New York, where his dramatic career was begun. In 1881 he married Miss. Ward Almayne, a young English actress, who came to New York and attained notoriety because of her beauty. She was 20 years his junior, and their married life was an unhappy one. It ended in their separation a few later. From that time Decker's downward course was rapid. His health begran to fail, and in September last, through the kindness of Edwin Booth, he was admitted to the Porrest Home. His mind at that time showed signs of impairment, and symptoms of insanity gradually developed. Just before his attempt an his life steps had been taken to remove him to an insane asylum. The certificate of insanity had been signed.
