

STREET RAILWAY WAR
In the Borough of Braddock Results in Two Suits in Court.

BOTH SIDES FILE BILLS IN EQUITY.

The West Penn Road Objects to Another Line Crossing It.

A DAY'S HAPPENINGS AMONG THE JUDGES

A battle between the Braddock Electric Railway Company and the officials of Braddock borough was commenced in court yesterday. In Common Pleas No. 2, the railway company filed a bill in equity asking the court to restrain the borough from laying tracks on Braddock avenue and Eighth street, and Judge Magee granted a preliminary injunction. The workmen of the company, it is alleged, were arrested yesterday and lodged in the lockup and bail refused for them.

In Common Pleas No. 3, the counsel for the borough filed a bill against the railway company, asking the court to restrain the company from laying its tracks on the streets in question in the manner contemplated. The situation is each party asking the court to restrain the other.

The bill of the Braddock Electric Railway Company was filed by Attorneys Russell and Potter. It is against J. A. Stone, Burgess; and D. Oskin, J. Brennan, Joseph Price and James Pettit, Street Committee of Braddock, borough, and B. F. Spangler, James Sullivan, William Bennett, George Gibson and T. W. Sharpe.

Claims of the Company.
It is stated in the bill that the charter of the company embraces as part of the right of way Braddock avenue, from Eighth street to Burton street. A short time ago a complaint arose as to the right to occupy the street between the plaintiff and the defendant and the defendant.

The Braddock Electric Railway Company is suing the borough for $100,000 damages, claiming that it was wrongfully prevented from carrying out its contract with the borough by the defendant's action in laying tracks on the street in question and directing the manner in which the tracks were to be laid. The order also directs a diagonal crossing to be made at the corner of Eighth street. The plaintiff, it is alleged, has attempted to perform the work in accordance with the order of the court, but has been prevented by the defendants. At the instance of the Street Committee the police arrested their workmen and put them in the lockup, a speedy hearing or bail being refused them. An injunction to restrain the defendants from interfering with the work was asked for. Judge Magee granted a preliminary injunction fixing to-morrow for a hearing.

Attorney E. J. Small, in behalf of Braddock borough, filed the bill against the railway company. In this bill another condition of affairs is recited. It was stated that by ordinance the Council of the borough granted the company permission to lay its tracks on Braddock avenue from Burton street to Eighth street.

The Ordinance Not Carried Out.
It was provided that the work was to be done in accordance with the directions of the Street Committee and Street Commissioner, and that the preliminary injunction was to be dissolved when the work was completed within a certain time, or the ordinance would be null and void. The company, it is stated, has not accepted the ordinance, and has a motion pending for its dissolution in the manner directed by the Street Committee. The street, which already has the double tracks of the Braddock and Turtle Creek Street Railway on it, is only 30 feet wide from curb to curb, and the defendant wants to lay its tracks between the other tracks and the curb. This would take up the whole roadway, make the street dangerous and damage property. At the present time the street is in a state of confusion, and the plaintiff's tracks from the center of the street to the side, making a diagonal crossing and rendering it a very dangerous point. An injunction to restrain the defendants from interfering with the work was asked for, and the ordinance is asked for.

The County Will Not Pay.
Judge Ewing yesterday handed down an opinion on the report of the viewers as to the necessity for the county to build embankments at a bridge over Burns' Run, in Lincoln township. Exceptions to the report were filed by the County Commissioners. The petition for the viewers was filed under the act of 1889, providing that if the cost of embankments necessary for a bridge is too heavy for townships to bear they shall be paid for by the county. Counsel for the petitioners said the work would cost $2,000, while the county's assessed tax would not cost more than $600 or $800. In his opinion Judge Ewing said the bridge near the run was built by the Commissioners at a cost of $5,000. They, however, would not enter it as a county bridge or be responsible for any necessary embankments. As it was not a county bridge the county cannot be compelled to pay for the embankments. The cost of the bridge was the county's contribution in aid of the township. The viewers are directing to expect the township to do the remaining work necessary and the report of the viewers was dismissed.

Collect Insurance Money.
The suit of E. Silverman against the American Protection Mutual Insurance Company Against Burglary, is on trial before Judge Collier. This is the second trial of this case, the jury, at the first trial, having disagreed. Silverman kept a clothing store on Fifth avenue, and was insured by the defendant company against burglary. He alleged that his store was broken into one night and about $500 worth of goods stolen. The defendant was a scheme to defraud, and refused to pay.

Objects to the Oil Well.
A bill in equity was filed yesterday by Marc Saugebeck against J. Schinelle and F. M. Pryor. The plaintiff states that he owns a house and lot in North Fayette township. The defendant is drilling an oil well within 30 feet of his house and he asks for an injunction to restrain them, alleging that it will injure his property and endanger it from fire. A similar suit was entered by H. J. Penzie to restrain E. W. Frink from boring a well within 80 feet of his dwelling.

GORDON SAND AGAIN.

More Good Wells Completed Yesterday in This Formation.

THREE LIGHT FIFTH SANDERS.

Oil Equal to the Pennsylvania Product Discovered in Canada.

DRAINAGE IN SOUTHWEST M'DONALD

The Gordon sand has again come to the front with a better showing than the rock in the fifth sand level. The gas needed to throw out the oil from the fifth sand, especially in the southwestern end of the field, is wanting, and in the neighborhood of the Miller, the Mevey, the Elliott and Sturgeon wells there are still plenty of locations which in an ordinary territory could hold many more wells than there are at present, but in this locality the gas which was used in the creation of the remarkable gushers of a month ago has been drawn from many acres of rock and left it almost barren. There can be no question about the territory being drained, as in the most of the wells which have been drilled since a superior quality of sand was found but no oil or gas. A member of a big producing firm in this locality said yesterday that hereafter when they secured even a moderate sized Gordon sand well they would not drill to the fifth and take chances on spilling their well in the Gordon sand, but would look for a gas well. It is claimed that a well which is doing 200 or 300 barrels an hour will drain hundreds of acres of sand providing the belt is not too wide and the result of the best crop of wells in the southwestern part of field seems to bear out this statement.

Guckert & Steele's No. 6 on the Mevey farm will make about 500 barrels a day from the fifth sand. It is located about 1/2 mile from the Gordon sand to-morrow. No. 10 on the same lease is 1,000 feet deep; No. 7, 1,800, and No. 8, 1,000 feet. Their well on the Thompson property is down about 1,500 feet, and is now being drilled at Willow Grove where they are drilling at 500 feet.

Another Good Gordon Sander.
Russell, Kain, Johnson & Co's well on the Southernly lot is about five feet in the Gordon sand and is making 300 barrels a day. This well is on the Noblistown road about 1/2 mile from the Miller and Sturgeon wells. This oil, which is equal to the best Pennsylvania product, will command from $2 to $2 30 per barrel at the well. The credit for this discovery is due to the well located by the late J. C. Coste, of the Provincial Natural Gas Company. Mr. Coste is a graduate of the School of Mines and Mining of Paris, a member of the Dominion Geological Staff and worked in Canada for a number of years, specializing geologists of Canada. He located the famous gas fields in this district, and pronounced upon the value of the territory before a well had been drilled. He said that the oil in the fifth sand is in a shallow bed, and that it is in a shallow bed, and that it is in a shallow bed.

The oil well located at a considerable distance to one side of the gas wells, and Dr. Coste ventures the prediction that an oil field of this kind is not found elsewhere in the vicinity. The first well has every outward indication of being a 25-barrel producer. It made four strong flows to-day.

Personal.
William C. Allison, the President of the Allegheny Oil Company, died Sunday morning of pneumonia at the Hotel Duquesne. The Oakland Oil Company, of which he was the originator, made the well known Allegheny tubing and casing which has been sold in large quantities throughout the region. Many of the older operators were personally acquainted with the deceased, and among the oil well supply manufacturers he had many close friends.

Ernest Howard Flower died at his home, at 105 S. 14th street, last Sunday, and was buried at Pittsburgh yesterday. He had been a well known contractor since 1870, and is said to have drilled the first well in Bradford, located on Corydon street, in that city, in 1874. He was employed by the Allegheny Oil Company for many years. The deceased had resided in Bradford, Titusville, Big Shanty and Coon. He was a veteran of the Civil War, and was a "Bucktail" regiment. He was 47 years old.

Getting a Jury to Try Graves.

Denver, Dec. 3.—Five hundred talesmen packed the District Court this morning to be examined as jurors in the Dr. Graves poisoning case. Judge Rising caused over one half of the "sick" 500 for cause and turned the remainder over to the attorney. Three talesmen became impatient. They were immediately hustled to jail for contempt. Each side had two peremptory challenges left, and it is likely these will be exhausted this evening and a jury accepted.
