It is for the benefit of our young players we give these three standard prob-lems, suggested by the reputation Mr. Maize has acquired by playing with a man short. A close study of problems such as the above would lead us often to sacrifice a man for position, which often wins. GAME NO. -"WHILTER." GAME NO. - WHITTER. The following two games are the second and sixth games in the final round of the tournament for the championship of the State between Joseph Maize, of McDonald, Pa., and W. H. Tyson, of Big Run, Pa., being the only two wins in the round, the other four games being drawn: Mr. Maize's move.

The subject of our sketch was born on April 13, 1860, in the parish of Kilsyth, Scot-land. He commenced playing checkers when he was 20 years of age, and very soon became proficient in the game, and one year after he entered the Lanarkshire Tourney of 1881. In the second round he met the famous prob-lemist, D. Gourlay, and was defeated by the score of 2 wins to 1, and 1 game drawn. He came to this country in September. 1881. In the second round he met the famous prob-lemist, D. Gourlay, and was defeated by the score of 2 wins to 1, and 1 game drawn. He came to this country in September, 1881, and bought his first book on the game in 1883 (Janvier's Anderson). He soon gamed a reputation as an analyst and critic, and prac-tically recreated and popularized "Second Double Corner" opening. In 1886 he pub-lished in the D. P. W. M. an analysis of 68 variations on the above opening. John Rob-ertson (author of "Robertson's Guide"). bitterly attacked the analysis, showing 17 errors in the 68 variations, and that only 3 of his alleged corrections were sound, a lesser margin of errors by 30 per cent than have been shown on his (Robertson's) double corner, published in same magazine at the same time. Our young analysis got a setback on the center opening when he challenged Wyllie, the world's champion, to a match, and would allow the draws as wins; but before the final stake was up he discovered the draw and wisely paid forfeit. His correction of the 27-23 loss in the single corner shows a sound draw for white, that Beattle, of Liverpool, makes such pre-tentious claims for ex-Champion Martins; but if priority of publication goes for any-thing, which it certainly does, it belongs to Mr. Maize, he having published his analysis in 1888, which is head of anything Beattle can show for Martins. Mr. Maize has cer-tainly demonstrated undoubted ability in cose-board play, and has nequired a reputa-tion for throwing a plece and making a draw with a man short, possessing the faculty in a wonderful degree for working into third, fourth or Drinkwater position. (See diagram above.) He visited Chicago in l888 and 1891, and, though no scores were kept for publication, yet against such play-ers as Hefter, Denvir and Crowell, he made a record that no player need be asimed of, his score with James P. Reed in his last two sittings on November 29, 1891, being: Reed, 5 wins: Maize, 3 wins; drawn, 6. We think the above a sufficient answer to the query a few ARE THE STRONGEST NONE GENUINE WITHOUT THE SA LABEL. WYLLIE'S ANSWER TO BARKER. WYLLIE'S ANSWER TO BARKER. The following letter was received by Rob-ert McCall, of the Glasgow Herdid, in reply to Mr. Hill's letter, which we gave last week. SiR-In answer to Mr. Hill's letter I beg leave to state that, if Barker wants me to play him in any neutral town in England he must get some one else to pay his expenses. If I am to pay his expenses, then the match must be played in Glasgow. I might as well nek Mr. Barker to play me in Canada and al-low me £20 for expenses. I shall need to have my tour over before I finally arrange for the match. I am, etc., GATESHEAD, ENGLAND.
