TO LEAD THE WORLD.

Traction Roads Begin Running All Night Electric Cars.

THEY WILL SWAP ELECTRICITY.

Manchester and Pleasant Valley Lines May Use the Same Power.

OTHER ROADS MAY GET IN THE POOL

Allegheny's belated travelers who for business or other causes are kept in Pittsburg until the midnight gong is sounded from City Hall will hereafter, if they are able and have the price, be carried home in rapid electric cars instead of the slow going, seventeenth century horse or mule cars. In this, according to a statement made during the Street Railway Convention by Descon Richardson, Pittsburg leads the world. Mr. Richardson is the veteran street railony man of New York. He is auhority on rapid transit subjects and when questioned about night service by a DIS-PATCH reporter, he replied that he knew of no city where rapid transit prevails after 1 o'clock in the morning. If he had visited Pittsburg last night, however, he could have seen two of its leading stree: railways at stated intervals running cars by electricity for the benefit of night travelers. The roads that have adopted the system are the Man-chester and Pleasant Valley. By an ar chester and Pleasant Valley. By an ar rangement discovered as peculiar as elec-tricity itself, they will get power from the same motors and run their machinery week bout, if the negotiations are successful. Less than a week ago the Manchester road bid adien to its horses and put on elec-tric cars for the entire night. The system was received with gratitude by its patrons and sundry glances of envy by its rival. Monday morning the dozing Pleasant Valiev watchmen were suddenly startled by a flash from all the electric lights. The wires of the electric road were charged, and an examination proved that a Manchester wire had struck a Pleasant Val-ley wire. The discovery developed the fact that one dynamo could run night cars for both roads, and an arrangement has been made to give it a trial. The Pleasant Valley started their night electric cars last night, and now it is hoped that the Du-quesue and Birmingham lines will become enthused with enough energy to combine with the Allegheny roads. In this way the engines of the companies would have to run but one week out of four.
