He reasoned that lay of the country was helter than at Nonongahela, and as a consequence he thought that Western Pennsylva-nia's city would be where Beaver The hope to outshine Pittsburg has failed of realization, but whoever sees the energy of the people who have made their bomes on Gould's old farm and who tave divers field industries of as many choses, although not so extensive as citie of 100,000, cannot help but feel certain that the day the prophecy of Farmer Gould with regard to the advancement of the valley he loved, will be fullfilled. Where in 1880 there were 18,000 inhabitants ere are now 30,000. They live in five ifferent towns as closely connected arrg and Allegheavy, and practically one body of infightigants. The first settle ment was made in Beaver, and the murch progress has been up the river. the last ten years has been a enomenal sport at Benver Falls, and one are now 12,000 inhabitants, where a few fears ago there was only a small village The other towns have populations as for wa: Beaver, 2,700; New Brighton, 9,000; hester, 5,009, and the rest of the 30,000 enside of horough limits. They are placed p apparallelogram 4x21 miles. On two of the stiles natural walls rise 200 or 300 feet there the level. On another side the Ohio ver flows past the historie town of Beaver al on the fourth the slope rises gradually. The town of Beaver Fails is built in this of the valley, and is rapidly extending growth along the Ft. Wayne road.

It looks so funny," he continned with a sigh, as he glanced at the mysterious cars. "I can't help but think of a heavenly chariot when I see it. But we won't have to pay 5 cents when we get there." he added in a tone that indicated a scarcity in the number of nickles he possessed. "All that is left as it used to be is the old All that is left as it used to be is the old church and our hut. I guess they won't be changed —..." and just then the car started and Mr. Reddick was left standing in the street with bare head and in wondering SITUATIONS MALE HELP, AGENTS, PERSONAL. Reaching the Promised Land.

When Beaver was reached it was like a promised land for the stockholders of the company. Everyone cheered, and to aid the thoughts of scriptural times an enterprising citizen by the name of Moses hung ont a sign which rend: "Moses, the Baker, Greets You. May You Make Lots of "Truly, Cannan has been reached," remarked a member of the party, and all were thankful. At the Court House where the public meeting was to be held, the halls of justice were filled with anxious listeners who were paying close attention to the spicy proceedings in the Hamilton divorce County business had to stand aside, however, and promptly at 4 o'clock John F. Dravo called the meeting to order. Speeches were made by Major G. L. Eberhart and W. H. S. Thomson. The former stated that the amount of capital invested in incorpo-rated companies in the valley amounts to MULTUM IN PARYO_That's our "ad" to-
