

CURIOS OF CRIME.

Arrest of a Southern Fire-Eater Who Claims He Has Killed 99 Men.

A BIG DESPERADO CAGED.

The Bomb Thrower's Head Still Draws Crowds to the Morgue.

A JEAN VALJEAN IN REAL LIFE.

Sensational Scenes in the Trial of Dr. Graves in Denver.

HIS ATTORNEY'S PLEA FOR JUSTICE

MEMPHIS, Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Tallon Hall, one of the most notorious desperadoes of the Kentucky and West Virginia border, was captured here by detectives to-day.

He was a leader in the famous feud between the Howards, Turners and Eversoles, of Leitcher county, Kentucky. All of the principals and most of the relatives were killed in the feud that raged for years in the mountains, and which occupied the calling out of the militia at various times.

He was a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He is a brave man, absolutely fearless, and in appearance a typical mountain man—all, raw-boned, and straight as an arrow, with piercing gray eyes. He is only 40 years old. His wife resides here, and the detectives have been watching the house, expecting him to visit her.

He was a different man from the one who sat yesterday listening to Mr. Stevens' denunciation. He appeared to be transformed. His whole face was illumined, and at times he seemed ready to burst into tears.

It was a strange scene. A man who was battling for his life sat listening to his champion, with many about who did not believe a word that this champion said. There were others who did, but there were more who looked on the faces of the doctor and neighbors, who are witnesses against him. Even the impassioned eloquence of Judge Furman failed to move them, although it moved many. Some looked beneath his denunciation, while others only smiled.

Judge Furman is without question the most brilliant actor ever heard in a Western courtroom. His sole argument was the denial of every charge preferred against Dr. Graves. He denied that his client had ever acknowledged having sent a bottle of poison to the face of the doctor's old neighbors, who are witnesses against him. Even the impassioned eloquence of Judge Furman failed to move them, although it moved many. Some looked beneath his denunciation, while others only smiled.

When court reconvened this afternoon Judge Macon withdrew his request for the exclusion of all witnesses from the courtroom, since the prosecution threatened to have Dr. Graves' bond declared void. Immediately thereafter the taking of testimony began. The first witness called was George W. Domett, chief clerk of the Boston post-office, who testified as to the various series of stamps and their general circulation. He was followed by John J. Devinich, of the Providence postoffice, who knew Dr. Graves intimately from his position of stamp clerk. Witness generally sold defendant stamps of a large denomination, and remembered distinctly having sold him stamps similar to those contained on the wrapper of the fatal bottle.

Upon the conclusion of the Devinich testimony the prosecution called to the stand a witness who was known to the jury as "the man who analyzed the poison which was used."

TEEN LIVES LOST.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 9.—A series of fatalities—Several Big Fires—Falling Walls Kill Four Men—An Explosion Ends the Life of Others.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 9.—Since last evening this city has been the scene of a series of disastrous fires, entailing a loss of life. In the early evening the store and stock of the Boone Paper Company were destroyed, entailing a loss of $15,000. At 2:35 o'clock this morning an explosion occurred in the adjoining building, occupied by Bamberg, Stung & Co. The shaky walls crumbled and another fire began, which in comparison made the other insignificant.

Before the fire was subdued the stores of Bamberg, Stung & Co., Bliss, Wilson & Co., Jordan, Beck & Sons and Miller, Wood, Payne & Co. had been gutted. The loss is estimated at $250,000, and the insurance at $200,000. While the firemen were at work a wall of the Boone building fell, killing four men and badly injuring four others. The names of the dead are: William Moore, William Davis, Samuel Baker and Tony Schlicht.

The disasters of the night were almost lost to sight of when, at 9 o'clock this morning, a terrible explosion occurred in Menue & Co.'s candy and fireworks factory, killing four men and badly injuring four others. The names of the dead are: Charles Kimmel, foreman, 30 years of age, unmarried; Barbara Cook, Clara Rausch, Ida Anker, Anna Lockhart and Anna Dickow. There was a crash of glass, and thousands of firecrackers exploded, while countless skyrockets and Roman candles flew in all directions. A moment later a sheet of flame burst from the windows.

THE STATES AND THE FAIR.

Representatives Meet in Conference With the Directors and the Board.

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Thirty-one State World's Fair organizations were represented in the convention called to meet to-day with the Board of Control, the Department Chiefs and the Directors of the Exposition.

Helped a Poverty-stricken Woman.

Mrs. McDowell with five little children was stranded at the Union depot yesterday. She was bound for Pankusantway to join her husband. General Passenger Agent Anderson, of the Allegheny Valley road, furnished her with tickets, and Dick Quay, who heard the story, gave her several dollars for the children.

ANOTHER JEAN VALJEAN.

DR. GRAVES' LAWYER ELOQUENT IN HIS CLIENT'S DEFENSE.

A WOLF IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING.

The Lead Trust Was Illegal, but a Jersey Charter Saves It—A Reorganization That Satisfies the Law as Well as the Schemers—How It Got There.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The trustees of the National Lead Trust are now free to carry out the scheme of reorganization whereby its entire property was transferred to the National Lead Company, a corporation organized under the laws of New Jersey with a capital of $30,000,000, divided into $15,000,000 preferred and $15,000,000 common stock. Thomas H. Unkles, a holder of $80,000 in certificates, applied to the Supreme Court for an injunction against the scheme. The trust opposed this, and Judge Ingraham to-day denied the application, holding that the trust is legal and cannot enforce an illegal agreement.

THE STOCK OF THE COMPANY WILL BE DISTRIBUTED among the holders of trust certificates in proportion to their holdings. There will also be paid at that time a cash dividend of 30 cents per share on the trust shares, equal to a quarterly dividend at the rate of 7 per cent in the new preferred stock. The stock of the National Lead Company will now represent the property heretofore represented by trust certificates.

AS THE CAPITAL OF THE NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY is $30,000,000 against about $20,000,000 of the trust, the effect of this method of reorganization is to reduce the capitalization of the property to one-third its former amount.

IN HIS DECISION to-day Judge Ingraham says there is no allegation in the complaint that the scheme was not in accordance with a majority of the certificate holders. He refers to the Sugar Trust, and pronounces the Lead Trust illegal, and says that upon no principle could the performance of the trust agreement be enforced.

THEY, HOWEVER, ENJOY THE CARRYING ON of the organization. Simon Beymer and John H. McKelvey, of Pittsburgh, are in the directory.

SUED BY HIS OWN MOTHER.

A SENSATION THAT IS SHAKING UP NEW YORK'S SWELL SET.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—[Special.]—About a year and a half ago the wedding of Mr. Philip Livingston and Miss Juliet Birchard Morris took place in St. Bartholomew's Church. Every pew was filled with New York's fashionable people. The ceremony was held amid a shower of palms, laurel wreaths and flowers placed about the chancel. The bridemaids wore pretty gowns of white lace, and with long girdles and wreaths of forget-me-nots. The bride looked radiant. After the ceremony a large reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Livingston, at Fifty-second street, and this was followed by a dinner in the evening. It is to be expected, therefore, that somewhat of a sensation will be caused in social circles next week, when the young couple are summoned to appear in the Supreme Court, to answer a complaint instituted by the groom's own mother.

Doesn't Believe in Government Loans.

John McDowell, President of the State Agricultural Society; Colonel J. B. R. Streater, and Attorney Dickson, of Washington, left for Harrisburg last evening to confer with Eastern representatives of the Governor about granger matters. Mr. McDowell said he was not in a position at present to talk about the business, but in time it would be made public. He is a member of the Grange, but he doesn't believe in Government loans to the farmer. Every man must look out for himself in this world, when money is loaned by individuals it is safer.

NO SERIOUS OBJECTIONS

Related to the Desired Change of Second Avenue and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Tracks—Chief Bigelow Explains What is Desired in the Matter.

The effort of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to effect a transposition of its tracks and Second avenue is likely to assume definite shape before long. Plans of the desired change have been submitted to Chief Bigelow, and he is giving the matter considerable thought. The railroad is after more yard room. By moving the street to where its tracks now are, between the Tenth street bridge and lock No. 1, the company will gain about five miles of additional track in its yard. It is claimed that the plan would also be of advantage to the city by making a better street as well as relieving it of the expense of maintaining two bridges.

Chief Bigelow said yesterday: "At present there is a heavy down grade on Second avenue between the points mentioned. At the Tenth street bridge the avenue is above the railroad, the latter passing under it through a culvert or bridge. At the lock the avenue is about 15 feet below the railroad. It is argued that this grade would be done away with by putting the avenue where the railroad is now. Under the proposed arrangement the avenue would cross the tracks at lock No. 1 instead of at the Tenth street bridge.

"A short distance beyond where the railroad passes under the avenue the latter crosses a gully over a wooden bridge. According to the ordinance the city has to keep this in repair for 20 years. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has purchased what is known as the Hammond property between Second avenue. If it secures what it wants it promises to relieve the city from all responsibility as to the bridges. They will both be removed and all the ground will be filled up, making a good grade for the yard. Nothing official has yet been done in the matter. I cannot see any objection to the plan."

Mayo Gourley said: "I am not familiar enough with the location to say much about it. But if it will not injure the street and the railroad company bears the expense of the change, I can see no objections to it."

Rings, Rings, Rings.

All the popular combinations. We do our own mounting, and we flatter ourselves we have some different from any shown elsewhere.

Yellow sapphires, Emeralds, Pink topaz, Olivines, Blue pearls, Tourmalines, Snake rings, Coraline, Pearls, and many others.

HARDY & HAYES', Jewelers, Silversmiths and Art Dealers, 529 Smithfield street.

WE make a big spread in our "ad" today. Read it. JOS. HORNE & CO., Penn Avenue Stores.

THE latest invention, "Chemical Diamonds." What are they?

For the Little Babies, We have prepared a most complete collection of children's buttons. Three new patterns not before shown. Knives, Scissors, Enamel.

HARDY & HAYES', Jewelers, Silversmiths and Art Dealers, 529 Smithfield street.

If you do not use Minnehaha flour, try it the next time you need a sack.

"CHEMICAL DIAMONDS." What are they? Watch for them.

HOLIDAY FANCY GOODS!

BRICA-BRAC, PORCELAIN, BRONZES, STERLING SILVER, SILVER PLATED, BRONZE AND IVORY ARTICLES.

OPEN NOW.

CHRISTMAS CARDS, BOOKLETS, PAINTED NOVELTIES IN SILK AND SATIN.

OPEN NOW.

JOS. EICHBAUM & CO., 48 FIFTH AVENUE, Pittsburgh.

JOS. HORNE & CO. The Leading Dry Goods House. Pittsburgh, Pa. Thursday, Dec. 10, 1891.

JOS. HORNE & CO.'S PENN AVENUE STORES.

Holiday Buying Time

Is here in earnest, and every department of our store is in readiness for it. You may have been in the store many times already, struggling with the idea of what to buy for Christmas, and yet have not fully realized just how complete the preparations here have been for this busy season.

Here are some facts; a bird's-eye view of the big store in Christmas readiness:

Notions.

As you enter the door where most of our customers do, on the right hand, you see a long counter with a large staff of wide-awake salespeople to minister to your wants. You find there a thousand and one things besides pins, buttons and needles.

There are silver thimbles, gold thimbles, needle cases, shining, sharp scissors, manicure sets, brushes and combs of various sorts, beginning with the low priced ones. There are hand-mirrors, cloth brushes, nail brushes and a host of whisk brooms, and a host of other little things, many of which will come in with useful handiness at any time, and will help you now to solve the problem "What to buy."

Right across from this comes the

Trimmings,

Which is by all means one of the wide-awake Departments of the store. There is everything in the way of feather trimming and leather boas, which, by the way, are selling at 1/2-prices now. Besides trimmings of all sorts to go with the Dress Pattern you are going to give. Next, filling a large space in the center of the store, and the nearby counters, comes the

Fancy Goods

Department, the truly Christmas Department, and a popular one it is; filled with more pretty things than were ever brought together here before, at prices that suit every size of pocketbooks.

There are leather goods, pocketbooks and all that sort of thing. There are fancy Satin and Kid Knick Knacks, wonderfully pretty, with their hand-painted designs, of very artistic character. There are plated silver and solid silver novelties without end. There are Japanese oddities; there are dolls; there are Vienna and Paris fans; there are work boxes and jewel boxes; there are cigar boxes and sets.

Here, too, comes the enormous stock of Ladies' and Children's

Umbrellas,

Many of them handsomer than anything we ever had to show you. There are presents in this department, as you see in this hurried look, for the last arrival or the great Grandparent. That is why we say this is the leading Holiday Department of these stores.

Everything gay and new and nothing is anchored with a heavy price.

Next comes some of the useful and particularly feminine departments like

Handkerchief

Department. 60 feet of counter covered with snowy-white Handkerchiefs, some in fancy half-dozen boxes, for Children, some so fine there is but one in a box. There are thousands of dozens of Handkerchiefs, There are Embroidered and Hemstitched and drawn work Handkerchiefs.

Hosiery and Corsets and Underwear.

Of these it is enough to say that each year, more and more, the practical buyers here find just what they want to give. Farther back is another busy place, the

Bed Linens

Make them especially attractive during this busy buying season. Another department that appeals to the practical Christmas buyer is near at hand. Blankets and Quilts.

The latter filled with cotton or fluffy down Feathers—soft and warm. A big variety of both, at the lowest possible prices. Here, in this other Housekeepers' Department, also, are lovely White Counterpanes.

Next, we are right in the midst of the Holiday Throng, for here is the Ladies' and Children's Department. Here, too, are many of the useful sorts of presents—Calico Dress Patterns, Flannel Skirts, Embroidered Flannels of all sorts and flannel of the best kinds made. Money goes a long way in this department.

JOS. HORNE & CO. Ribbon and Millinery

Departments. Every shade, sort and kind of Ribbon is being cut off here every day, and an enormous stock of Ladies' and Children's Hats and Bonnets, untrimmed and trimmed, are very interesting just now, because on them all we have made extremely low prices.

Also one of the handsomest displays of the store is right here:

Lamp Shades.

Made for us in Paris, any one of which will add much to the brightness of the home wherein it may go. Turning to the left we come to the

Lace and Embroidery

Department, where there are many, many things calculated to make the feminine heart happy. Real Laces, Duchesse, Pointe and Valenciennes, the jewels of this stock, which by their fineness and elegance enhance the beauty of the finest toilet. These delicate and dainty goods come in various widths by the yard, and also in separate pieces, the most popular of which are Handkerchiefs, all the grades, from those of narrow edge of val lace up to those worth a half a hundred dollars of the finest Pointe Lace.

Then there are Lace Toilet Sets, and Ties and Mats and Pin Cushion Covers and a myriad of other pretty dainty things, suitable to give.

Next comes the Housekeepers' Department:

Linens.

You wouldn't see more if you went to Belfast, where so many of the handsome Linens come from, because so many of the best makes of Belfast and Dunfermline and of France and Germany as well are all found here fully represented.

There are plain every day Linens by the yard, and fine ones, too. There are real elegant Dinner Cloths and Napkins to match, and some in pretty boxes to give them a special Holiday look. There is a host of odd pieces in the way of Tray Cloths, Table Covers and other pieces, some of them Embroidered and ornamented with Drawn Work and other fancies that delight the eye of the initiated. There are the finest Linens here that the loom can furnish. There are many Ladies in these cities who haven't any idea of how many things are made in Linens, but there is no excuse for not knowing when they have but to come to this Linen Department to learn.

In passing would say that the low prices on our

Bed Linens

Make them especially attractive during this busy buying season. Another department that appeals to the practical Christmas buyer is near at hand.

Blankets and Quilts.

The latter filled with cotton or fluffy down Feathers—soft and warm. A big variety of both, at the lowest possible prices. Here, in this other Housekeepers' Department, also, are lovely White Counterpanes.

Next, we are right in the midst of the Holiday Throng, for here is the Ladies' and Children's

Dress Goods and Silks,

Occupying an entire room, where hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of goods are to be seen, being a monster collection of every and all the best makes, and containing every new fashion hint in style or color.

The popularity of these two leading departments is founded upon the policy of this house of

JOS. HORNE & CO. There are Handkerchiefs of Silk and of Linen and some of Cotton and Linen. There are Handkerchiefs from $1 a dozen to Handkerchiefs at $10 apiece.

There are Mourning Handkerchiefs and Initial Handkerchiefs. All of them the best handkerchiefs for the least money, no matter what grade you buy. Now is the best time to buy handkerchiefs, as later everybody wants to buy, and sometimes somebody finds that somebody has been ahead of them and bought just what they wanted.

A few steps to the right from here brings us to our Ladies' and Children's

Cloak and Suit

Department. A whole building given up to this department, well lighted, warm and comfortable, and filled to overflowing with garments of Cloth and Fur for ladies and children. Enough to say that here is everything new and desirable for ladies' and children's outfits, in the way of Wraps, Jackets, Ulsters, Waterproof Circulars and Ready-Made Costumes for all occasions.

Also, Furs in all newest shapes that fashion dictates, such as

CAPEES,

MANTLES,

JACKETS,

WRAPS.

As well as our complete line of Real Alaska Seal

Jackets, Coats and Wraps.

On the second floor in the rear of this building the department for Children and Infants' Wear. Complete outfit for infants, and, as well, dresses, coats and jackets for misses and children.

Everything is in full holiday swing here, and no more sensible sort of buying can be done than pleasing the hearts of children with nice new clothes. Coming back to the main room of the store we turn to the

Flannel and Domestic Cotton

Department. Here, too, are many of the useful sorts of presents—Calico Dress Patterns, Flannel Skirts, Embroidered Flannels of all sorts and flannel of the best kinds made. Money goes a long way in this department.

Going across the store we find one entire front room devoted to the wants of men and boys in the way of Furnishings.

The goods brought together here comprise one of the most complete collections of useful and desirable articles, many of them made expressly for our trade. This is the case in fine Hosiery, Underwear and Neckwear, and at this holiday time the stock is larger than usual. There are also very many other things here calculated to please that particular man that you want to buy for.

There are Mufflers, Silk Handkerchiefs, Cans, Umbrellas, Comb and Brush Sets, Silk Suspensers, Gloves of every sort, Bath Robes, Smoking Jackets, Dressing Gowns and Driving Robes. It will be an easy thing to find just what you want for him here.

Getting back to the practical side of this holiday time, we come to the Departments for

Dress Goods and Silks,