Chicago sports received the blow of their lives. They went hone sick at heart over the outcome. They came here expecting a gay price for the club and missed it. They claim they held a matrixed it. They gay price for the club and missed it. They chain they held a partnership in the Asso-ciation and that the law will sustain them. Next year they propose to attach the gate receipts of the Learne. But the Chicago As-sociation club is gone, terribly gone. All is nearly over except celebrating the victory. Brush's friends claim that for him. They say that he should be crowned as the king of basebail magnates, since he has been the great moving power in the amalgamation. The entire League has used its bright heads and shining dollars through a long period of discouragement, and now they are masters of the situation. They Image the Small Fre.

They Ignore the Small Fry.

The League is always out for big game. A year ago it never dreamed of landing such a prize as the Association. It was the largest deal ever known in sporting annals, and it has not left the conqueror in a condition not to be able to sigh for other victims. Wednesday it was said the League club was ready to buy the Athletics. When the conference asked the club to pay $26,000 toward the transfer of the Wagner goods there was a protest. It is thought a satis-factory settlement will be made, however, and the Philauelphians will make the neces-sary anie. Some of the new League's ene-mies could hardly wait for the consolida-tion so they could say it would fall. They olaim 12 clubs are too many. It will leave six clubs away down at the tail end, and patrons of the game will cry: "Give us a trest," before the season is over. But the truth is the 12-club circuit won't fail. toward the transfer of the Wagner goods It Is Not Too Large.

It is as easily cared for as eight clubs. The idea of the six tail-enders will easily be remedied. The League proposes a double championship season. The clubs will play until the middle of the season, then they h gin again and play the last half. The club having the highest standing for the two sea-sons takes the championship.

A new Association is believed to be bosh. It is threatened by Chicago and Milwaukee, who were frozen out of the deal. The new League is not alarmed. Boston, the Ath-League is not alarmed. Boston, the Ath-letics, Von der Ahe and Von der Horst, the brightest lights of the Association, the life of that organization, could not wrestle with the League. Suppose Chicago and Mil-waukee do get up opposition teams, what can they do against the combined strength of the old Association and League? The new organization will last four years, or, that is, the present arrangement. The kind of men are behind it who will push it along for that length of time.

Buying Them Out.

The committee continues in session at 9 o'clock. It is understood, however, that satisfactory arrangements have been reached with Chicago, Columbus, Philadelphia and Boston. The only kicker that remains now and which prolongs the session is Milwankec. It seems to be dying hard, The $7,000 offered is not satisfactory, hence The $7,000 offered is not satisfactory, hence the kick. Chicago gets all it put in, about $12,000 to $15,000. Columbus wanted $20,000 and will get $18,000, perimps $19,000; Boston, in-cluding money for stand and grounds, about $50,000, and Philadelphia about the same amount or perhaps $5,000 less. It is under-stood that each club will be entitled to 14 were.

THEY ARE WELL PLEASED.

Local Ball Ciub Officials Think That the Settlement Makes Things All Right.

When the directors of the local club re ceived word yesterday afternoon that the Association and League had fixed up their trouble they were delighted. Vice Presi-dent Kerr was pleased at the settlement and said the prospects for a good season in Pitts burg next year were excellent. But he was opposed to paying any money to clubs that had been dropped, simply because he saw no sound reasons in their claims. He had not learned anything regarding what is to be done with the players, but he is certain that Pittsburg will have good men.
