

THE CHINESE BIGOT

Who Is Playing on the Prejudices of the Almond-Eyed Heathen

IS A TROUBLESOME TARTAR.

The Literature He Uses to Fire Their Hearts Is Filthy

BUT IT IS VERY EFFECTIVE.

The Son of the Minister to England One of the Murderous Crew.

FOREIGNERS FLEEING BUT IN DANGER

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20.—The Pacific mail steamer City of Peking arrived today from China bringing Hongkong news to November 24. No passengers could be seen, as all are quarantined. Details of the trouble in Hunan and along the Yang-Tze river given in Shanghai and Hongkong papers throw light on the meager cable dispatches, and show that the situation of the foreigners is very grave.

There seems to be no doubt that the main cause of intense bitterness against the foreigners are the books issued in the capital of Hunan by a literary man who is an intimate associate of the Governor of the province, and who has not been punished for his offense. Dr. Griffith John, of Shanghai, located this fellow, whose name is Cheen Han. He is a Tartar of considerable wealth with influential connections. Five levers of newspapers in Wuchang were arrested and punished severely for selling the books. One, however, who was a relative of Cheen Han, was released, the authorities claiming there was no evidence against him.

The Viceroy Afraid of the Disturber.

Cheen Han a few weeks before the riots began to send emissaries up and down the Yang-Tze Valley with his filthy books containing bitter attacks on foreigners and calling upon the Chinese people to expel them and burn their houses. These men were known to be doing this work in March and April. The first riot occurred at Wuhu on May 12. Then came the Nanking riot on the 25th of May, the Wuchang riots on the 5th of June, and the Ichang riots on September 2. Compare these dates and you will see at once that all these riots synchronize with the presence of Cheen Han's emissaries in the Yang-Tze Valley.

Everywhere they found a state of mind ready for their reception and lots of Hunan men only too glad to join them, but they themselves seem to have been the principal agents in inflaming the popular mind and raising an uproar. These books, as well as obscene and blasphemous placards, are ascribed to Cheen Han, whose residence is well known to the Viceroy, Li Hsing Chang, but in the present state of the Chinese Empire he dares not attempt to send a force into Hunan to capture this man, who is responsible for all the trouble.

Literature That Inflamed the Heathens.

A Hankow correspondent of the North China News sends this interesting account of the books issued by Cheen Han that have roused the Chinese to fury against foreigners. Our correspondent writes from Hankow that he met a Bachelor of Arts, not Christian, who had just returned from Changsha, the capital of Hunan, where he had been attending the examinations. He brought back a handsome volume full of pictures and of articles of most revolting obscenity, and it is difficult to believe that any man could be shameless enough to compile such a volume. The work is a red Tartar, Cheen Han, a native of Changsha, now living there with his family. It is not known who finds the money. This Tartar has had innumerable pictures and blocks cut. He has them bound up in volumes, and gives them to snopkeepers with orders to give a copy to every one who asks for one or who comes in to buy books. They are to be given at a reduced price to traders who come to Changsha from other provinces, in order that they may be as widely disseminated as possible.

While the candidates were assembled at Changsha for examinations this Tartar went among them personally recommending these books. He pointed out passages showing how to prevent Chinese becoming Christians by various punishments, including death in the central temple. He recommended them all to write to drive all Christians out of Hunan. He said that the Emperor's recent edict was only issued by the Emperor through fear of foreign armies and that against the Europeans and their Christian missionaries. He said that the Emperor was back from the examinations are bringing with them large supplies of these incendiary books and are distributing them wherever they go.

Appeals to the Prejudices of the People.

Dr. Griffith John, in a later letter to the North China News, declares that 800,000 copies of the book entitled "Death of the Devil's Religion" have been printed and circulated free in Hunan and other provinces. This book takes the place of the famous book "Deathblow to Corrupt Doctrines," printed over 20 years ago. This was a book written in the Mandarin dialect and intended only for the literati, whereas this latest book is written in the language of the people and is evidently intended to appeal to the prejudices of the masses. A translation of the book in the dialect of the provinces near Yang-Tze is such as to constitute serious danger to the Chinese Government as well as to the lives and property of foreigners, and as the Government is now well aware of the danger, there is no reason to doubt that efforts to break up the Hunan-Anhui monopoly of military power will be vigorously prosecuted, and this can be successfully completed before any general outbreak occurs. The danger of rebellion will be averted, the fact, however, that a change in it to be made is becoming known considerably to the gravity of the situation.

The salt riots at Tek-Hua, near Foo Choo, are still threatening. Imperial troops gained one victory over the rioters and headed 50 of the captives. The leader collected another body of troops and defied the army, but was a second time defeated. It is now reported that he is negotiating for a compromise.

Recent Plot to Seize Nanking.

Many years ago a man named Li See Tsung, formerly the Taping leader, having surrendered to the Chinese Government, was made Chief General of this Province, and afterward impeached, deprived of his rank and ordered to remain in Nanking, and subsequently, having got into fresh trouble, was banished by order of Yu Lu, then Governor of Anhui. Yu Lu is a Manchu official, who was acting Viceroy of Nanking and is now Governor of Shing King. Li See Tsung has a son named Li Hung. At the beginning of November Viceroy Chang arrested some secret society men at Wuchang, and it was discovered that the man Li Hung was one of the leaders of the proposed rebellion, also that it was planned to commence an outbreak by an attempt to seize Nanking on November 28, and to make simultaneous attempts to seize Shanghai, near Wuchang, and all the country along the Yang-Tze valley between that place and Chin Kiang. It was also discovered that it had been planned to commence an outbreak at the beginning of the ninth moon (October), but in consequence of the failure to get possession of arms to be brought up from Hong Kong it was postponed and the later date was fixed. Li Hung has fled and efforts are now being made for his arrest. The Viceroy Chang is arranging to get up 30,000 Chinese troops to march into his provinces. The Viceroy of Nanking has sent a dispatch to the Shanghai Taotai, giving the names of some of the secret society men in Shanghai, some of them being compradors of foreign firms here, and demanding their arrest as concerned in a conspiracy to aid a rebellion. No action has been taken in this dispatch as yet, the Taotai being afraid to risk such a thorny question.

A Minister's Son One of the Gang.

The Shanghai Mercury declares that the son of Hsueh, Chinese Minister to England and France, has been made a Taotai. This young fellow was conspicuous in peering up any foreign man and in fomenting riot and the destruction of mission property at Wusich. This honor given to him shows the real feeling of the Government in the present crisis.

There is nothing to record in regard to the situation of American missionaries in China. Large numbers have come in to Shanghai and the river ports where there are foreign men of war. There is a general complaint that too few war vessels have been ordered to the Yang-Tze river, and that should a concerted rising take place all along the river, many foreigners would lose their lives. The native troops sent up from Shanghai are worse than useless, as most of them are merely coolies. Some are armed with old anti-umbrellas with which to strike terror into their foes. One man with a modern repeating rifle could stand off 1,000 of them. Officers of all the men-of-war have been very busy providing for the safety of the stations near which they are assigned.

The Foreigners Are in Danger.

In his latest letter to the North China News, Mr. Drummond gives this as the inside news of the Chinese Government's plans:

The Chinese Government has made inquiries, and the conclusion has been arrived at that statements in regard to the danger now existing from the monopoly of military power by the Hunan and Anhui men, and in regard to the prompt and vigorous action, are true. Orders have been already given for the enlistment of 10,000 troops in other provinces and at Canton, and it is intended to send these as soon as they are ready, which will be in the spring, and the Yang-Tze provinces to break up the Hunan predominance by distributing a large portion of the Hunan troops. It is also stated that as soon as it is considered safe, a Viceroy, who is not a Hunan man, will be sent to Nanking.

As I have previously stated, the necessity for this policy is undoubted, and the time when it comes to be actually carried into effect will be critical. As the condition of the provinces near Yang-Tze is such as to constitute serious danger to the Chinese Government as well as to the lives and property of foreigners, and as the Government is now well aware of the danger, there is no reason to doubt that efforts to break up the Hunan-Anhui monopoly of military power will be vigorously prosecuted, and this can be successfully completed before any general outbreak occurs. The danger of rebellion will be averted, the fact, however, that a change in it to be made is becoming known considerably to the gravity of the situation.

The Salt Riots at Tek-Hua, near Foo Choo.

are still threatening. Imperial troops gained one victory over the rioters and headed 50 of the captives. The leader collected another body of troops and defied the army, but was a second time defeated. It is now reported that he is negotiating for a compromise.

Free Delivery Coming for Braddock.

BRADDOCK, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Free postal delivery for this place is assured. The special United States office sent here by the Department has expressed himself as being satisfied that the people require the free delivery at once. The boundary lines have not been drawn, but it is probable that the system will take in Rankin, Copela and North Braddock, which are all outside the borough limits.

Good Cheer

For Christmas to be found in "Holmes' Best" 1875 pure Monongahela rye whiskey, 1840 Ransom cognac brandy, and endless assortment of fine wines and liquors to select from.

THE WM. H. HOLMES CO., 158 First Avenue and 120 Water Street.

GEMS OF ART AS HOLIDAY GIFTS.

At Gillespie's.

The most desirable Christmas gifts in the city are our

New water colors.

New etchings.

Brilliant baccarat cut glass.

And a host of other beautiful articles.

J. J. GILLESPIE & CO., 422 Wood Street.

CARDS OR GARBESSES

A Kissing Game Suggested Instead of Progressive Euchre.

LEBANON, MO., Dec. 20.—For some reason the grand jury, which adjourned today, failed to return indictments against the progressive euchre players, although a number of society leaders were summoned before that body to testify as to what they knew about the game. Whether that body thought sufficient punishment had been inflicted by the notoriety given the cases is not known, but the "400" breathe easily to-night, and would be perfectly content but for the fact that the preachers have taken the matter up, and are exacting pledges from members of the various churches that they will neither play it nor visit places where the game is in progress.

A house to house canvass is being made by a committee of ladies, and the fat has gone forth that the fascinating game must be banished from Laclede county. It is thought that "postoffice" may be substituted by the young people.

CONGRESS HAS LITTLE TO DO

Before the Adjournment on Wednesday, to Cover the Christmas Holidays.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The death of Senator Plumb has negative any disposition on the part of Congress to enact legislative business during the few days that remain before the beginning of the holiday recess, for the Senate will doubtless recess in the action of the House, and adjourn Wednesday next over the holidays. The obsequies of the late Senator Plumb, the few remarks of sympathetic regret usual on such occasions, will probably fully occupy the time of the Senate up to the beginning of the recess, and the only matter of business that can come before the House, when it comes to the appointment of the committee of the Speaker is able to complete his lists by Wednesday morning.

A REMNANT OF GARZA'S BAND

Living Off Texas Ranchmen by Forced Contributions of Provisions.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Dec. 20.—At least ten of Revolutionist Garza's band have been located at the Alamite store, 35 miles southwest of Encinal. J. K. Burr, of Eagle Pass, in San Antonio, having just completed a 70-mile horseback journey. He reports that these men trade constantly at the store, and that they are killing for consumption the cattle of the neighboring ranchmen, making a pretense of paying for them after having forcibly taken them.

It is believed by the people of the locality that these men were cut off from Garza in Mexico and driven across by troops. They have a corps of musicians and preserve a rude military discipline.

DO BRUTES KEEP SUNDAY.

The Illinois Swine Breeders Believe They Do, at All Events.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Dec. 20.—At a meeting of the Illinois Swine Breeders' Association a resolution was adopted setting forth that the opening of the World's Fair on Sunday "would deprive the animals on exhibition of the rest which is in accordance with the laws of nature and God's plan in the constitution of the Sabbath, and which is so much needed in order that they may appear at their best on the remaining six days," and petitioning the authorities to close the Exposition on Sunday.

The Largest Stone Company.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—The Western Stone Company has purchased the stock and quarries of the Joliet Stone Company and the Crescent Stone Company. The consolidation makes the largest concern of the kind in the United States.

TIM CAMPBELL'S WIT.

Why the Famous Congressman Postponed His Wedding.

HE WANTED IT ON THE QUIET,

And When the Date Was Discovered He Put Off the Ceremony.

THE GUYING BY HIS CONSTITUENTS

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—It was a beautiful sight to behold the Hon. Timothy John Campbell making a farewell tour of his district this afternoon. The mighty Representative of the Eighth in the nation's councils reached this city late Saturday afternoon. He was accompanied by Miss Miller, whom he intended to marry that evening. He escorted Miss Miller to a hotel or to the house of a friend, he declines to say where, and then he went over into his district to find William Schnell, his bosom friend. He dropped into a grocery and inquired where Mr. Schnell was. The proprietor said: "I don't know where Billy Schnell is, your Highness; but I see by the evening paper that you are going to be married."

Mr. Campbell said this announcement removed his breath for the moment. When he recovered it he betook himself out of the district as rapidly as possible, postponed the wedding, and spent the evening at the Manhattan Athletic Club. Late at night, or rather toward 2 o'clock this morning, he stole quietly to his bed.

Wanted to Be Wed Quietly.

Mr. Campbell made up his mind several months ago to get married, and has been ready to do so as rapidly as possible, avoiding any publicity. Privacy he was determined to have, so the marriage was postponed, and it was decided to hold it at some other than the house of Father McGinley, where it was to have taken place Saturday evening.

Mr. Campbell arose late this morning, and after a hearty breakfast started out on his grand farewell tour of his district. Although he wanted his matrimonial venture kept in the background, it was clear that he wanted to be congratulated. He found his beloved constituents waiting for him. As he walked along Grand street he was stopped at every few feet to be slapped on the back, squeezed by the hands and punched in the ribs.

"Ye are foxy, Timmy," they would say. "Ye never thought it of ye, and at your time of life." Whereat Timmy beamed in successful rivalry with his diamonds.

In Ludlow and in Suffolk streets, in Rivington and Delancey, they cheered him from the opposite side of the way, they called to him from crowded tenement windows, and chuckled at him from basements.

High Time He Was Spliced.

"It's high time ye was a-getting a companion, Timothy," said an old woman. "Ye oughta have a wife by this time." Some of them had not thought well of a marriage with a Presbyterian, and he a good Catholic, but when they heard that the Archbishop had given his permission they were perfectly satisfied.

By the time Mr. Campbell had made the rounds he was in a state of high glee. "Ain't I cool?" said he. "Ain't I calm? Don't I take it well?" And there was no denying it. He showed no fear or trembling, no hesitation.

The darkness was deep about the Campbell mansion when, at 7:30 P. M., the Congressman himself hurried down the steps and around the corner. By what devious routes and secret ways he arrived at Father McGinley's house is a mystery impenetrable. At 7:30 P. M. the ceremony that made Congressman Timothy J. Campbell and

MISS MARGARET D. MILLER MAN AND WIFE

Was Performed by Father McGinley. It took place in the parlor. When the news leaked out a celebration was begun throughout the district such as is only seen upon the occasion of Tammany victories at the polls. It was continued till the gray hours of dawn.

TAKE TOO MUCH TIN PLATE.

Manufacturers Will Hardly Roof World's Fair Buildings Free of Charge.

The first number of the American Tin Plate Review, with George E. Kepple, well known in industrial circles, as editor and manager, appears to-day. Among other information it contains, is the following:

A report was sent out from Harrisburg this week to the effect that the tin plate manufacturers would probably cover the Pennsylvania buildings at the World's Fair with American tin free of cost. There is little, if any, likelihood of such a proposition being made. Considering that it would require 10,000 boxes, the manufacturers, who have just completed their plants at enormous outlays of capital, could scarcely be expected to do such a thing. Secretary Benney, of P. H. Lautman & Co., said yesterday: "I feel very certain there is no truth in the report. Our firm made a proposition to furnish all the material necessary to cover those buildings at a fixed price, but I can scarcely see how the manufacturers could make a proposition to do the work free of charge." When President Cronmeyer, of the United States Iron and Tin Plate Manufacturing Company, was asked about it, he replied: "I know nothing whatever of the matter."

HE KEPT HIS WORD.

Indiana's Governor Pays a Political Debt Like a Little Man.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 20.—Five years ago, while making his campaign for Congress in the Fifth district, the Rev. I. J. Chase met a young in Owen county, Ind., Harrison by name, to whom he took a fancy.

"When you get married I want to perform the ceremony," said Mr. Chase.

"I will hold you to that promise," said the young man, and he did. Last week Governor Chase received a letter from the young man telling him that the day for the wedding had been fixed and asking him to keep his promise. Mr. Chase decided that because he had succeeded to the Governorship of Indiana was no reason why he should break the promise, and to-night he went over to Taylorsville to tie the knot.

NOT A VERY GOOD INDIAN.

How a New York Belle Neatly Turned a Point on Bishop Hare.

NEW YORK TIMES.

Bishop Hare, of South Dakota, is fond of telling stories about himself to illustrate the point which he playfully makes that a man who lives long on the plains comes to be a good deal of a barbarian. Once, so one of his stories runs, he had the misfortune while entering a dining room in this city to step upon the skirt of a lady's dress. Apologizing, he said: "You know that I have been living with the Indians lately and have grown somewhat awkward."

The lady, Miss Potter, quickly replied: "I don't think that, Bishop; but I am surprised at one thing, that after living so long with the Indians, you shouldn't be better at following up a trail."

NOT WRITER'S CRAMP.

Doctor—From the condition of your hand and arm I should say you are suffering from writer's cramp—too much exercise of one set of muscles.

Young Business Man—But I never write. I employ a typewriter.

"Um—Engaged to her?"

"Y—e—s."

"Do your—dictating with you other arm."

AMMONIA FOR GORILLAS.

Garner Will Use a Bag-Full to Quiet His Visitors in Africa.

In his African experience Prof. Garner's best safeguard will probably prove to be a contrivance of his own—a bag like an exaggerated canteen filled with concentrated ammonia, with 30 inches of rubber hose and a nozzle attached. If the gorillas try to form a combination and surround him he will shoot some of the ammonia at them and make them respect the peaceful scientist.

The fumes from the ammonia will strangle any number of gorillas, rendering them temporarily helpless and half-conscious. Whoever has gone foolishly near to a woman's smelling salts may multiply the effect on his nose by 1,000 and get a fatal idea as to what Mr. Garner has in store for these gorillas if they act badly. While the gorillas are recovering from their half-strangled condition and talking about it, Mr. Garner's phonograph and graphophone will take down their remarks. He will take pictures of their attitude with the x3 camera that he will have in his cage, while the x5 camera perched up outside will perpetuate the nearest scene.

THE GENERAL SEEN.

Prof. Huxley Was Wrong in Giving the Gorilla the Place.

Mr. Garner, the expert on monkeys, thinks that the gorilla does not come nearest to man among the apes. Prof. Huxley and others to the contrary notwithstanding. He believes that the chimpanzee is the nearest to man, with the possible exception of that rare ape, the koolo kamba.

The language and voice of the gorilla, in spite of his mental inferiority, should prove very interesting. Dr. Chavlin, describing the voice of the gorilla, said that he had heard Mr. and Mrs. Gorilla calling to each other and answering at a distance of four miles.

Bunko Men Probably in Pittsburg.

ALLIANCE, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Detectives from Chicago were in the city today on the hunt of the rascals who so cleverly swindled Hiram Shriver, a wealthy farmer near Massillon, out of $5,500. The detectives think their game is located in Pittsburg.

Dainty Foods Demand it.

IN EVERY Receipt that calls for baking powder, use the "Royal." Better results will be obtained because it is the purest. It will make the food lighter, sweeter, of finer flavor, more digestible and wholesome. It is always reliable and uniform in its work.

I have found the Royal Baking Powder superior to all others.

C. GORJU, Late Chief, Delmonico's.

EDMUNDSON AND PERRINE.

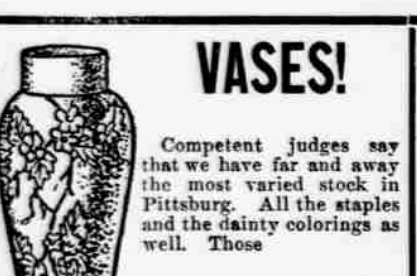

WE WILL SELL ANY ARTICLE IN OUR STOCK AT ACTUAL COST!

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY.

$14.87

For this new pattern Triple-Plated TEA SET, four pieces. It is making friends all around.

SANNAZARO VASES

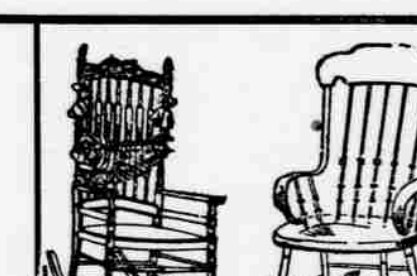

Compliment judges say that we have far and away the most varied stock in Pittsburg. All the staples and the dainty colorings as well. Those

Created a furore. There's a few dozens left—you want some of them at 35c, 57c, $1.10.

Easy Rocker

For him—or her. Always acceptable; always comfortable. The prices won't make you hesitate, that's certain.

OUR PARLOR FURNITURE DISPLAY

Is a grand compilation of the world's ingenuity. A bowery of beauty as well as a galaxy of gift things. For this week one dollar will buy almost the value of two. We prefer to have your dollars now instead of carrying the goods over until spring.

$18.75

For this large LEATHER EASY CHAIR. It generously invites you to come and rest in it. It will make the old folks happy and the young folks will be everlastingly wanting to level in it.

$13.75

For this 3-piece BEDROOM SUIT, has always sold for $20.

Finer Suits at any price you want to pay; but, remember, it will be the manufacturers' price, not the retail price this time.

$6.00

For this Large PARLOR STAND, size of top 28x28, size of shelf 22x22 inches. There are several scores of other designs that go at cost. The reduced prices sound like this: $3 from $4, $4 from $5.50, $5 from $6.75.

49c PER SET For these Handsome Steel Knives or Forks.

They, with about 200 dozen others, came in too late for regular Christmas trade. For the next four days you can have them at actual cost. 50 dozen Steel Knives at 29c per set, worth 45c; 30 dozen Steel Knives or Forks at $2.25 per set, worth $3.50. Also 100 Pairs Carving Knives and Forks at $1.24, worth $2; 50 Pairs Carving Knives and Forks at $2.98, worth $4.50.

$4.87 About 300 of these large handsome silk plush seat antique rockers sold last week. Only about 150 left. You want one.

PLUSH SUITS that were $40, now $23.

TRAPEZY SUITS that were $60, now $35.

$2.10

A regular $3 Table. But it is one of the victims of our price-cutter's knife—your gain, our loss.

$12.75

For this Elegant Tapestry-Covered Couch, Solid Oak Frame, worth $18.

About 25 patterns of Moquette Couches and Bed Lounges—our samples—go at less than cost, because they're dusty.

DOLLS AND TOYS.

There is a joyful army of youngsters in our Basement every day. A larger army of oldsters there, too, buying—buying. If you're hunting for the Fountain of Delight for the youth—it's here if anywhere. Don't go any farther. You'll need surprising money to buy a Santa Claus outfit. Study over these pin-point sample prices:

Dressed Dolls, that were 55c, now 39c.

Dressed Dolls, that were $1.25, now 89c.

100 sets Toy Furniture, were 65c, now 41c.

30 sets Toy Furniture, were $1.25, now 81c.

30 Homes, were 10c, now 5c.

25 Horses and Carts, were 15c, now 9c.

200 Carts, were 30c, now 19c.

100 Sleds, were 80c, now 49c.

HUNDREDS OF TOYS AND DOLLS

At the cost to us in Europe. This will be your price now.

CHINA WARE.

$5.98

FOR THIS HANDSOME 12-PIECE TOILET SET.

$2.74

For this 56-piece English Porcelain Tea Set. Handsomely Decorated.

CARPETS, CURTAINS, RUGS.

Rugs are always in popular favor with gift givers. Here's the value of many dollars for the expenditure of a few.

500 Smyrna Rugs, $2.49, worth $4.

300 Axminster Rugs, $2.87, worth $4.75.

We long to express color by type. We see the inspiring array of tints, various, delicate, subtle refined—and wish for the conjurer's power to touch the fancy of our readers with the poetry of colors. But the perfect union of texture and color can only be dealt about in plain black words.

The material charm is in this week's prices, which are cut to cost. Here's a glimpse at them. Three patterns Body Brussels, 95c, were $1.33; 10 patterns fine Tapestry Brussels, 75c, worth 95c; 10 patterns Ingrains, 55c, were 75c.

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S WRAPS.

The constant activity of our Clock Stock is the inspiration of reductions. When the lots break in size the prices break to clear out. For aspirated start-to-day 25 handsome new garments go at ONE-HALF—$15.50.

This is enough talk. No more like them when sold, and they'll be sold shortly.

In Children's Jackets we show a stock that will delight you. The price is cut to cost.

$3.50 from $5; $5 from $7.50; $7.50 from $10.

Open Every Evening Until Christmas. All Goods Delivered as Promised. 25 Wagons and 100 Men Await Your Bidding.

635 AND 637 SMITHFIELD STREET. 635 AND 637.