NEWSY NOTES FROM NEARBY TOWNS

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. 1 NEW LISBON, Dec. 23.-Never before has there been such general interest taken in a case here as in that of young William Canfield, who was to-day placed on trial charged by members of the Perkins Detective Agency, of Pittsburg, with train-wrecking and murder. The confession of Canfield, detailing how he happened to fall in with the detectives and acknowledge that he wrecked the train, were fully detailed in these dispatches last Friday. They aroused the greatest sympathy here among prominent men, who made up a purse for the young fellow and secured the services of Detective Haves, who promises some startling revelations as to the methods pursued by the Perkins people to extert an alleged confession from the alleged criminal. The trial began to-day by young Canfield entering a plea of not guilty, and the State then asked permission to examine some 15 witnesses. Probably the most important witnesses examined were the two detectives, E Booth Todd and Claudie Perkins.

Bailed Out of Jail to Testity.

The former had secured bail in the New Castle case and hurried here to the trial. Both these gentlemen told their story, of how they had captured Canfield. They swore that Canfield had voluntarily confessed to opening the switch at East Palestine by breaking it with a hammer. They said he had made that confession several times, and that, too, in the presence of Attorney Anderson, for the defense, then took hold of the two detectives and put them through a severe cross-examination, which brought out facts which startled the court. They never wavered from their first story, though Mr. Anderson forced young Perkins to acknowledge that he had been arrested several times in Pittsburg and twice lately in Ohio, (the Ohio arrests being well known.

At the close of the State's evidence, Attorney Anderson made a short argument outlining what the defense intended to prove. This caused another sensation, the attorney ending by stating they had a clear

A Cloud of Witnesses for Canfield. To-morrow the first witnesses of the defense will be put on the stand. There are about 50 witnesses for the defense, and Deroom 50 witnesses for the defense, and De-tective Haves promises a bomb during the course of their examination. The case will probably last all this week, if not longer. During the examination of the Mayor and Marshal of East Palestine to-day, those gen-tlemen narrated their part in the case. They tlemen narrated their part in the case. They were secreted when Caufield made his alleged confession. Under cross-examination both acknowledged that the prisoner showed the greatest fear when in the presence of Perkins and Todd. This, the defense claimed, went to prove that part of Can-field's assertions when he said the detectives had threatened to kill him if he did not con

Prosecuting Attorney claimed the de-tectives had a perfect right to extort the confession in the way they did. Every effort was made by the prosecution to lave the trial postponed, but Judge Nichols retused a further continuance.

A PREACHER ASKS FOR BAPTISM. Rev. Mr. Bruff, of Unioutown, Changes His

Creed and His Church. UNIONTOWN, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Rev. W. H. Bruff, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church of this city, bas resigned. In a brief communication to the congregation he said that his mind had undergone a change in theological matters. This evening he pre-sented himself at the Central Christian cheological matters. This evening he presented himself at the Central Christian Church and asked for baptism and that he be received as a member of the church. There was a larrye congregation present tonight at the Disciple Church, and after a few remarks by the pastor, Rev. J. C. B. Stivers, Rev. Mr. Bruff arose, and said, in substance: Having renounced the pastorate of the Methodist Protestant Church in this city, and having announced my intention of entering the Christian Church and its ministry, and henceforth to be known simply as a Disciple of Christ, it devolves upon me to give a reason for the change. The Disciples of Christ require assent to no other creed than the all-comprehensive one of divine revelation, namely, that Jeans is the Christ, the Son of the living God. The man believing this truth with all his heart believes all that the Bible teaches concerning the divine Savior, and will also obey from his heart all that Jeans has commanded. In the certiy church every one who nelieved and obeyed Him was recognized as a Christian, and no other test of fellowship was required of him than faith in Christ and obedience to His commands. The united church of the future will also, I believe, require no more of men and women than was asked in the apostolic age. The Disciples of Christ make the word of God the only rule and guide in faith and practice. It is, also, true that other Christians make the Bible their guide, but not their only guide, since they have their articles of religious discipline and confessions of faith in addition.

Everything had been prepared for the ceremony. HOLLIDAYSBURG, Dec. 23 -[Special.] -The gang of theves which has been terrorizing this city for the past year has been run down and a formidable "fence" captured, while officers are pursuing the fleeing rascals. Outrages have been committed here almost nightly. The robbing of the parsonage of St. Michael's Catholic Church and the attempt to murder Father John Heine, created a sensation a few days ago. This created a sensation a few days ago. This had hardly died away when early this morning a gang broke into the store of J. & E. Robinson, carrying away several hundred dollars' worth of goods. Then the armory of Company C, N. G. P., Fifth Regiment, was also visited some time last night, and looted of everything of value. Uniforms, blankets, nuskets, bayonets, dirks, knives, knapsacka, hatchets, bedticks and other paraphernalia were carted away.

muskets, bayonets, dirks, knives, knapsacks, hatchets, bedticks and other paraphernalia were carted away.

The citizens decided to take the matter into their own hands. Detective James McFeeley came down from Attoons and headed a posse of citizens. Accompanied by District Attorney Martin Bell and Chief of Police McGraw, they made a determined search of several suspected places. They then turned their attentions to the home of Henry Shay, a man suspected of being concerned in the robberies. Here they ran into a veritable thieves' nest. The occupants had taken alarm and fied, but they left everything behind. One room was handsomely fitted up as an arsenal, lavishly decorated with the spoils taken from the armory. The floors of other rooms were heaped with rich goods of every description, containing the proceeds of robberies for months past, and valued up in the tion, containing the proceeds of robberies for months past, and valued up in the thousands. In a boiler house owned by Griesbach & Co., on the Weish farm, the dead body of Peter S. Dugan, a numper, aged about 28 years, was found. His skull had been crushed in two places, the wounds evidently having been inflicted while he was asleep, with a hammer. Suspicions turned to James F. Mills. Shortly before 12 o'clock Mills was found asleen in Christie Brothers' boiler house, on asleep in Christie Brothers' boiler house, on the same farm.

At the inquest it was shown that Dugan and Mills hired a rig Tuesday evening and drove over to Renfrew to attend a dance. At 3 o'clock in the morning they returned to Petersville under the influence of liquor, somewhat boisterous. They went to Frank Norris' boiler house about 4 o'clock this morning and began quarreling, brandishing knives in so threatening a manner that the employes of the boiler house left the premises. This was the last time they were seen together. Mills this afternoon claimed that he left Dugan at the edge of a strip of woods between the lift and Welsh farms and did not see him again. Two boys saw Mills leave the boiler house with a hammer in his hand. Going inside, they saw blood on the floor and two terrible gashes on Dugan's head. They boys hastened to their homes and told the story. The jury returned a verdict of murder. Dugan is in the Butter jail.

HOW THE NEWS IS RECEIVED.

Madison Equare Garden Feeured for Slugging Match. GOSSIP GOING IN SPORTING CIRCLES

The heaviest blow ever struck at winter racing was delivered by the Board of Control in New York yesterday. The Board legislates for the Monmouth Park Racing Association, the Coney Island Jockey Club. the New York Jockey Club, and the Brook-lyn Jockey Club. These associations fur-nish about all the rich prizes of the running turf, and to be barred from the great round of spring, summer and fall races will bring min to many stables that now send horses to the winter tracks. The withdrawal of these horses, with their trainers and riders, will, on the other hand, leave only a lot of skates and selling platers that will probably fail to draw a paying attendance at the winter tracks, and so put an end to the unseasonable sport. The action referred to was the adoption of the following resolution at a meeting of the Board of Control:

Resolved. That owners, their horses, trainers and jockeys, racing on any course north of Maryland or east of Ohio, at which there is racing in December, January or February, or on more than 30 days in a calendar year, shall not be qualified to enter, start, ride or have license for the races of the associations represented in the Board of Control, but this resolution shall not take effect until January 1, 1892.

The resolution, it is said, did not meet with the approval of the entire board. The members who were not in favor of taking such action at the present time were Mr. Dwyer and Mr. Cassatt, but after a full discussion of the measure they sided with the majority and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

Only ten days' notice was given to the owners of horses that arrangements had been made to continue at Guttenburg until April 15, the end of the winter racing season. President Waulbaum concluded to call a meeting of the Executive Committee at once to discuss what action should be taken. Mr. Carr said after the meeting:

at once to discuss what action should be taken. Mr. Carr said after the meeting:

This is only a big bluff on the part of the Board of Control, and I do not think it will amount to anything. The racing associations tried the same thing four years ago by shutting out all owners who ran horses on half-mile tracks or for puress less than $500, When the Brooklyn Jockey Club opened in the spring they were very short of endies. I owned several horses that had been running on that short track for small turses. I supposed I was barred out, but I was assured by Mr. Dwyer that my entries would be accepted. The fields were so small that the door had to be opened to everybody, with the understanding that they had done wrong and must never do it again. These clubs had to receive our entries for their own protection or they would have had to run the same horses every day. There are 600 owners, 1,100 horses and 3,500 employes at the Guttenburg race track. We have treated them all fairly and believe that they will stand by us in this fight. I don't expect that a single owner or jockey will leave our track, because they can get more money there than elsewhere. We run our horses for money. The Board of Control protend to run horses for glory, but they want the dollars just as much as anyone else. The Board of Control are jealous of our great success this year, but their bombshell has not frightened anyone.

Fine Sport Promised When Youngstow and Pittsburg Come Together.

The football contest between the Pitts-burg and Youngstown teams, which takes place at Exposition Park to-morrow after-noon, promises to be a most interesting event. The Youngstown team comes with a splendid reputation, all their players being reported to have got the dribbling game down to a fine point, and as the Pittsburg club will have their strongest team on the field to meet them, a splendid contest will in all likelihood be the result.

This will be the first appearance in Pitts-burg of any association team outside of Pennsylvania, and with favorable weather Pennsylvania, and what have a least a large crowd will no doubt witness the game. Corbett and the Englishman Will Slug Each

Corbett and the Englishman Will Slug Each Other There Soon.

New York, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—The talking that Charley Mitchell indulged in yesterday had little effect, upon him, and to-day he seemed to be as strong and well as usual. He and Paddy Siavin and their party took things quietly, however. Jim Corbett appeared to be considerably disappointed at not having been able to make better terms with the Englishman, but determined to make the best of a bad bargain. The Californian is in very fair condition at present, and three or four weeks will be enough, he says, to fit him for the six-round bout, Mitchell says that three weeks will be long enough for him, and before he begins to prepare in earnest he will spar with Slavin in several theaters.

It was determined to-day that the bout will take place on Thursday, February II. W. A. Brady, Corbett's manages, secured the Madison Square Garden for that date, which is two days beyond the seven weeks stipulated in the articles of agreement that both men signed.

Charley, Johnston, Sullivan's backer, is still suffering with rheumatism. A friend who called on him to-day found the popular Brooklyn sporting man in bed, but when the calier mentioned. after some ordinary conversation, the Sullivan-Slavin match, Johnston at once braced up. "Confound it," he exclaimed, "I wish I could get out; I'd make these people stop their bluffing. You can bet that as soon as I am able to be about some business will have to be transacted or there will be a crawl of such proportions that a blind man will be able to see it. Ob, Other There Soon.
