THE HOLIDAY TRADE.

While Not an Infallible Index, It Has Been Unusually Large,

ESPECIALLY SO IN PITTSBURG.

Signs of a Revival of Old-Time Speculation

GRAIN SHIPMENTS STILL ENORMOUS

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's indicate the results of short week in which the greater share of the interest in the business world has been directed to holiday specialties. None of our telegrams this week indicate anything more than a quiet condition of affairs in any of the staple lines.

fidence a favorable prospect for 1892.

At present the principal activity is in stock-taking. Country merchants West seasonably warm weather.

Cotton, sugar and rice receipts at New Orleans have fallen off, and the depression in cotton at the South is affecting all lines of business

Drygoods jobbing is dull, owing to the holiday influence and warm weather. Export demand is improving. Print cloths have been more active and advanced 1-16c. Wool is quiet, as manufacturers have been buying only on concessions. Dress goods makers are principal purchasers of wool. Cotton is dull and heavy under the pres-from each county. A good picking season is reported in all directions. The tendency is apparently toward a reduced yield in the South Atlantic and Eastern Guif States, while in Texas an increase over last year's crop is indicated. Planters' Finances Not First-Class,

The crop movement is reported much more rapid than a year ago. The financial condition of cotton planters generally is said to be not very favorable. The reports this year indicate a probable crop of 5,490,000 this week, including flour as wheat, for five days only, all of the Pacific coast shipments not received, aggregate 3,558,848 bushels. Last week the total was 5,495,000 bushels. For 26 weeks of the cereal year, counting the partly estimated and partly official ex-ports of wheat and flour to British North America, not included in our regular weekly reports, the preliminary grand total is about 123,000,000 bushels of wheat, as com-

Exports of Indian corn are increasing sharply, amounting to 1,160,890 bushels this week, against 683,624 bushels last week Those of oats, too, have augmented surpri ingly amounting to 1 175 018 bushels th week, as compared with 801,683 bushels the previous week. Rve exports have d clined from 507,565 bushels a week age 114,934 bushels this week.

A Revival of Speculation. Bradstreet's weekly Wall street revie

The past week has witnessed further pr rress toward the realization of that broad and active speculation which for some time past Wall street has confidently expected. It may still be said that the buying is largely professional, and that the public has scarcely begun to take an active in terest. At the same time, the steady advance of bond quotations and the remarkally heavy trading in that quarter, could scarcely have developed without the assistance of the investing public.

It is noticeable that foreign interests, though not inclined to take an active partill after the holidays, have been favorably impressed by the conditions which prevail here, and have bought moderately but steadily. At the same time the general conditions on which the bullish inclinations are based continue to exert a sustaining in-

are based continue to exert a sustaining in-fluence.

The most significant event was the marked advance in the Gould stocks, headed by Missouri Pacific, which could only be inter-preted as meaning that the interest which controls that property is no longer even passively opposed to the general specula-tive inclination. At the same time some stocks, notably Northern Pacific preferred, which have been under pressure, recovered ground, while Richmond Terminal had a sharp recovery.

ground, while Richmond Terminal had a sharp recovery.

One of the principal happenings of the week did not coincide with bullish predictions. When the Lake Shore only main tained its 6 per cent rate for the year and Michigan Central and Canada Southern in creased their dividends by only ½ per ceneach, something of a chill was given to the market.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Cheerful Report.

trade says:

Holiday trade is not always a just measure of the prosperity of the people, but it is suitable for the prosperity of the people, but it is suitable for the form of the prosperity of the people, but it is less than last vear, though some localities report that it is less than last vear. General trade this season is usually light, merchants being engaged in taking stock, but at many points it is reported larger than usual, and eveh larger than last year. Reports show less complaint as to collections and a large trade in progress.

At Pitasburg trade is unusually good in all lines, with iron and steel manufacturers more hopeful, and the glass trade fairly good.

more hopeful, and the glass trade fairly good.

The great industries close the year with more than usual activity, even the woolen mills having orders enough to keep them fairly employed, and a number have recently started, but none shut down. Cotton manufacturers find a good demand, and numerous enlargements of plants are reported. Shoe factories complain that usual orders are lacking, and yet they are fairly active. Paper mills are busy and making many additions of machinery and buildings. The iron manufacture has been turning out more pig than ever before, though some works have stopped for the holidays, and the tone of the market is stronger, with rather more demand for finished products.

Commendable.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the California Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

DEATH'S HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

David Spaulding, Manufacturer. David Spaulding, one of the pioneer nail manufacturers of the Ohio Valley, died at his home in Steubenville yesterday evening, aged & years. Deceased was a native of Sandwich, Mass, where he learned the ailer trade, and came to Pittsburg in 1832. He worked at his trade in this city until 1854, when he removed to Wheeling, where he became a member of the firm of Bailey, Woodward, Spaulding & Co. This firm purwoodward, Spaulding & Co. This firm purchased the La Belle Iron Works, and five years later the members of the same company purchased the Jefferson Iron Works, Steubenville, under the firm name of Spaulding, Woodward & Co. Mr. Spaulding retained his interest in both companies for 25 years, during the greater part of which time he was President of the concerns. In 1834 he sold out his interests in the iron companies for about $200,000 and made large investments in Southern iron lands. He incorporated the Spaulding Iron Works at Brilliant. This last venture proved disastrous, and the great iron master failed some three years ago, after which he lived a retired life. His death leaves Calvin B. Doty, of this city, as the only survivor of the Woodwards, Balleys, McClintons and other prominent names identified with the establishment of the great iron and nail industries of the Ohio Valley.

Henry Heinz, Sr. Henry Heinz, Sr., died at his residence in Sharpsburg on Thursday. He was in the slst year and one of the oldest and most re-spected citizens of that borough. He had been in ill health for several years and his death was not unexpected. Mr. Heinz was a native of Kallstadt, Germany, and came to this country in 1845, locating on the Souththis country in 1845, locating on the Southside. Five years later he moved to Sharpsburg and entered into the brick manufacturing business, subsequently adding building and contracting to his line. Until a fewyears ago he was one of the active men of the town and a pillar of the German Lutheran Church in this part of the country.
Mr. Heinz leaves a wife and six children, three sons and three daughters. His sons are Henry J. Heinz, the head of the great Keystone Pickling and Preserving Company, John H. and Peter J. Heinz. The daughters are Mrs. S. Mueller and the Misses Mary and Hettie Heinz. The remains will be interred from the family homestead, on Main street, Sharpsburg, to-morrow.

John Sharp, Mormon Bishop. Bishop John Sharp died in Salt Lake City Wednesday, aged 71 years. He was a director of the Union Pacific Railway, second vice president of the Oregon Short Line and Utah Northern, president of the Descret National Bank and a member of many big institutions. He went to Utah in 1851, and was a leading Mormon and partner of Brig-ham Young in the construction of a portion of the Union Pacific road, in Weber Canon.

Obituary Notes. WILLIAM E. McLain, leading leather mer-chant of Shippensburg, died Wednesday, aged 85 years. HERR JANSSEN, the eminent historian and member of the Center party in the Reich-stag, died yesterday. MISS ANTONIA NAVARRO, the only woman doctor in the Republic of Salvador, died at Salvador, the capital, Wednesday morning, PROF. W. H. LEAVITT, for many years the principal of one of the public schools at Parkersburg, died at Chattanooga, Tenn, Wednesday. He was a prominent educator in the South.

CAPTAIN A. T. GILNORE died at Louisville last night. He was for 20 years prominently connected with the Louisville and Evans-ville Packet Company and for 12 years superintendent.

PROF. JAMES Y. McKne, Vice President of the Pennsylvania State College, at Bellefonte, and Professor of Ancient Languages, died at his home on the college grounds yesterday morning, of pneumonia.
