SAMOA'S BAD REBELS

Refuse to Be Arrested, as They Don't Know the Supreme Court.

His Little Army of 43 Braves Would Have Too Big a Job on Hand.

THE GOVERNMENT VERY UNPOPULAR

APIA, SAMOA, Nov. 10.-Chief Justice Gedergrantz has tried several civil cases since his return from his vacation, but some dissatisfaction has been found with the verdiets rendered. In one case an Englishman, who was arrested by a native policeman under warrant from a Samoan magistrate, prayed for damages, and, though the magistrate acknowledged his error, Chief Justice Gedergrantz dismissed the case on the ground that the white man was in no bodily danger, and could have registered

In another case McArthur & Co. sued some natives for debts due secured by mortgage. The Chief Justice dismissed this case on the ground that chiefs who signed the deed had not rendered themselves personally liable, and the firm must wait the decision of the Land Court as to land titles. As most of these cases are against the natives on the Island of Savali, it means ro one can recover mortgage debts on that island for at least two years, as it will be fully that time before the lands on Savaii can be taken up by the Land Court.

Rebels Ignore the Supreme Court, The Chief Justice has stated in open Court that the natives need not be afraid to appear before him, as he is friendly disosed to them; but when he sent some solliers down to Malie in charge of an officer of the Supreme Court to arrest some natives who had been summoned to answer charges of steeling swins they refused to obey the warrant. On the arrival of the officers he was informed by some of the leading rebel chiefs that he would not be aled to arrest men, as they did not know

When the Chief Justice found that his arrant had been defied, he wrote to King dalleton, suggesting that the Samoan army, hich numbers 43 men, be sent to arrest the en wanted. The King, however, replied hat the army would surely be unsucessful. the other party would learn thereof as soon

The Chief Justice thereupon wrote to the Littish Consul, informing him of these facts, and demanding a British man-of-war to be at once sent to carry out the mandates of ourt. The chiefs who compose the Government had a meeting and deided to get their men together to attack the bethon was allowed to go on the more diffi-cult it would be to break it up.

Hoping for an American President. They eventually decided, however, to arrival of the next mail from San Francisco, hoping that a new President, either an American or an Englishman, would be appointed, which it was thought ould go far toward settling the difficulties between the natives

Many of the chiefs say that if the treaty owers should request Baron Von Senft, resident of the Municipal Council of Apia, withdraw his tendered resignation, trou-

The Chief Justice has written to the Municipal Council, refusing to pay duty on goods imported for his own use. Considering that he is hving rent free, his refusal to pay these duties, also, caused dissatisfaction the natives. There are yet six months efore his term expires, in which alteration a the treaty may be considered. In view of this short period, it is thought the treaty request President Vonsentt continue in office until that time expires. It is believed that the American Governent has been fully informed on all points, onsul Sewell and ex-Land Commissioner lde being now in America.

The little Samoan army costs the government over $4,000 a year. It is comsent here by the treaty.

POULTICED HIS PANTALOONS.

Bather Queer Story of a Kick and a Piece of Homespun,

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Dec 25 .- A very singular incident has just come to light here. Thirty-one years ago James R. Emerson, then a resident of the country two miles south of this place, was kicked on the thigh by one of his horses. The wound was severe, but after a time healed up, leaving a lump. Periodically since then it has given him more or less trouble, and a | Call and see him days ago it became so painful that Mr. person called a physician. The place where ne wound had been was much inflamed. Poultices were applied, and in a day or two a piece of thick cloth, one and a half inch in length by one-fourth of an inch wide, made rts appearance. It was evidently a part of the pantaloons worn by Mr. Emerson when he was kicked. It had been forced into his thigh by the blow, and had been there thirty-one years.

A MINT EPISODE RECALLED

Hy a Bill Introduced Into the Senate by Don Cameron.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.-During tile year 1885, when the late James C. Booth was melter and refiner at the Philadelphia mint, three bars of silver were missed and supposed to have been stolen. The silver bars were in the legal custody of the melter and refiner, and he was, therefore, responsible for them. It was shown that the limited secumodations of the mint did not permit proper storage to be furnished, but this fact did not relieve Mr. Booth from legal liability, and he was compelled to make good the loss by paying to the Government the sum of $1,842, which was in full for the cost value of the 1,981 ounces silver bullion lost. The loss of the bullion was through no fault of Mr. Booth, and Senator Cameron has introduced a bill directing the Secretary of the Treasury to return the amount paid by Mr. Booth to his heirs. The bill is before the Committee on Finance.

TOO SOON TO FIGURE

KING MALIETOA AFRAID TO ACT. On How Large the City Tax Valuation Will Be for Next Year-All Appeals Yet to Be Heard-Improved Streets and New Property Will Swell the Amount-Assessors Have Big Work Ahead.

Now that the chiefs of departments have mounced their estimates of next year's expenses the question of what the tax rate will be is uppermost. As yet there can be nothing but speculation on this score as the whole question rests on the result of the assessors' work. Until the tax valuation is fixed there can be nothing definite said about the millage.

From present indications the Board of Assessors will not have a reasonably correct estimate of the valuation before the latter part of next month. As previously stated in THE DISPATCH, the delay has resulted from having to wait for the completion of of County Assessors' books for comparison. Of all the wards in the city only three have been completed in such a manner as to be of any service. The City Assessors have not been able to complete one ward up to this time, and there is nothing from which a definite idea can be obtained,

The Valuation Increase to Be Large. But it is a conceded fact that the increase in valuation will be large. Perhaps it will be sufficient to supply all the increase asked to operate the departments without any higher tax rate than the present. Out in the East End there are scores of valuable properties heretofore assessed as rural. This properties heretofore assessed as rurat. This year they will be transferred to the regular city class, and will be taxed accordingly. This will be done on every street that has been paved during the past year. Then there are hundreds of new houses to be assessed and taxed for the first time. Taken altogether the increase may amount to $30,-000,000, which would make the entire valuation $210,000,000.

The Assessor's office is just now the busiest place about City Hall. It will remain so all through the month of January, when the clerks will have to work day and night. The three wards now in from the County Assessors are the Fifteenth, Twenty-fourth and Thirtieth. Appeals will be heard from the Fifteenth from December 29 to January 2. For the Twenty-fourth ward appeals will be heard from December 30 to January
3. The time for the Thirtieth ward has not yet been fixed. Before the Assessors can furnish Councils the necessary estimate of the valuation every ward in the city must be properly advertised and appeals heard on and in that event it would be necessary to muster his forces, which would mean war, as result in changes in the books, taking plenty of time and work.

Difficulties for the Assessors. "We have a hard job ahead," said As-sessor Larkin yesterday. "I cannot give any estimate as to the valuation, as not even one ward has been completed from which to figure on. There will doubtless be a large increase. It is impossible to say when we will be through, having to wait for the county books."

Persons who have built homes during the past year will save considerable to them-selves and the Board of Assessors by calling at the office of the latter and making affidavit to the cost of their property.

An Unfortunate Man Whose Stomach Was

a Lizard Tank. HANOVER, PA., Dec. 25.-Daniel Mum mert, a farmer living near East Berlin, Adams county, this State, had been suffering for some time past from what was supposed to be pulmonary consumption. A week or so ago he was seized with a violent spell of vomiting, and expelled six small lizards from his stomach. His condi-tion became worse, and on Saturday last he died. It was found that his stomach was literally alive with the reptiles. Mr. Mum mert was a Supervisor in Paradise town ship, and in the course of his work fre quently drank from springs by the road side, and it is thought that in this way he got the lizards while very young in his

ONLY A PILE OF BRICKS the Early Morning Explosion—All Wonder How the Pritchards Were Found Alive-Condition of the Injured.

The scene of yesterday morning's explo-sion on Smallman street attracted many thousands of spectators. All day a crowd thronged around the ruins. The chief topic of conversation was the miraculous escape from death of the inmates. The sight was indeed a curious one. The wreck is one mass of debris. Not even the semblage of a building is left. Piles of brick and mortar, with here and there some article of household furniture or grocery stock is visible in the pile. Hanging by the chain to a portion of the wreck is a small silver watch which had stopped at 12:2 o'clock, showing that Christmas had just begns when the explosion occurred. The rear portion of the building was a frame structure, and the sides were burst out, allowing the rest to dream down in such a position. the roof to drop down in such a position that it hung like a canopy over the ruins. In the yard a few chickens were wandering about and a large Newfoundland dog was lying on the top of its kennel seemingly wondering what it was all about.

A visit was paid to the West Penn. Hospital, where it was learned that the victims were all doing very well. Mr. Pritchard was the worst injured. His hands were badly burned and his face scorched. When badly burned and his face scorched. When seen by THE DISPATCH reporter he was resting easily. The attendant said he was doing very nicely, but that he had had too many visitors, nearly 400 having called during the day. He added: "We have considerable trouble with the women. They will make remarks on the appearance of the patients, and in nine cases out of ten take what little nearest hey have left away and what little nerve they have left away, and it takes an hour or two to compose them."

Mrs. Pritchard received a compound fracture of the ankle that will in all probability lame her for life, even if the foot does not have to be amputated. The youngest child suffered a slight fracture of the skull, but was doing well. The other two were uninjured and were removed to the homes
