The ratio of inmates to houses a same privileges as has an American in the Empire is less than 5 to 1, being about 33 to 7 according to the last census. Odd to relate there is less crowding in the cities than in the poorer rural districts. Thus in Osaka City the ratio is 3.7 and in Tokio, the capital, 4; while in the farming districts of Awamori it is 5.8. This is the very opposite of things at home.

Relations of Capital and Labor. The relations of employer and employe are more than friendly. The former, whether agriculturist, artisan or manufacturer, treats the latter as if he were a relative rather than a hireling. In the country same table. favor to be allowed to do so. In the active, although they are passionately they are passionately the covernment, for purposes of revenue, farmed out the exclusive privileges of trade in certain districts to men able to pay for the same. These joined forces to protect their own interests and formed unions or syndicates. In the course of time the orig inal owners admitted faithful employes to their organization, until finally the better members of each craft were enrolled as one body. From protecting the interests of the one they grew by degrees into protecting the interests of all engaged in their particular trade. By acting as 'a unit they exerted great influence with the governing classes.

Introduction of New Industries. In this manner the Government was induced to bring to Japan regardless of expense from Corea, North China and Quantung the greatest experts in porcelain baking, eloissonee making, lacquering and metallurgy. Through this governmental aid these arts arose to their present su-premacy, and afford employment to hun-dreds of thousands of artisans of the highest skill. The guilds are as active to-day as at any time in the past. They teach apprentices and oversee their work, instruct members in branches of their art with which they are unfamiliar, secure markets for fin-ished goods, situations for unemployed members and take up and fight for the cause of any member to whom injustice has been done.

Since the extension of suffrage in Japan, they have begun to take an interest in politi-cal matters, and may ere long, following in the footsteps of their Western brethren, blossom out as a regular party in themselves. ALCALDE, N. M., Dec. 26 .- Two prospectors, who have just come down from the mountains for the winter, report the finding of the remains of four men, who had evidently intrenched themselves in a rude fort and battled with Indians until they were either killed or starved to death. The fort was constructed at the head of a blind canyon, and was in such a sheltered posi-Before the revolution it tion that it could be approached from only one direction.

The men had evidently fled up the canyou from the Indians, and, finding their retreat cut off, built a barricade of stones the ignorance are equal in- and sold their lives as dearly as possible. The incident must have occurred years ago, for the bones are bleached white from LOST-Genuine diamond pendants, $20 to $3, at Emanuel DeRoy's, 643 Smithfield st., near exposure to sun and rain. There was not a scrap of clothing or paper, and the text books, maps and school guns and ammunition had evidently been American or European. So carried off by the Indians after the men had died. There were about a hundred empty shells from a 45-caliber gun lying around within the fort, showing that a desperate fight had been made. The story told by the prospectors receives corroboration from a story told by Milton Welch, who has a ranch east of here. Welch thinks the bones are those of his four companions, from whom he was sep-arated by the Indians in the mountains near this spot nine years ago. Mr. Welch says he and four men had been prospecting, when they were suddenly attacked by a band of Indians. He was riding a mule and started down the valley on a run, while the others ran the other way. He was wounded twice and his mule was shot with a half dozen arrows, but he made good his
