

A SENATOR'S SHOES

Making Lots of Kansas Statesmen Hustle to Fill Them if They Can but Try Them On.

GOVERNOR HUMPHREY'S HARD JOB.

Ben Simpson, One of the Leaders in the Race, Decides to Withdraw His Name From the List.

GEORGE R. PECK WOULD'NT HAVE IT

The Governor's Congressional Ambition Counted in as a Factor.

TOPEKA, Dec. 26.—The succession to the seat in the United States Senate vacant by the death of Senator Plumb is agitating the whole State. Before the funeral of the late Senator the probable candidates had some delicate announcing themselves, but now the funeral is over the candidates have swarmed into the field in legions.

The chief candidate now, and the one who, to all appearances, has the best chance of appointment, seems to be Ben Simpson. William Higgins, Secretary of State, who has been on terms of the closest political intimacy with Governor Humphrey, in an interview this morning at Topeka said he favored Mr. Simpson's candidacy. This statement is believed to be significant on account of the intimacy between Mr. Higgins and the Governor, and the fact that he is the Governor's personal preference.

Humphrey's Debt to Simpson. Mr. Simpson has always been a staunch Republican, and an indefatigable worker for the Republican cause. It was he who managed Governor Humphrey's campaign against Willets, the Farmer's Alliance candidate, a year ago, and who pulled the Governor through, although the majority of the other Republican candidates were defeated. The Governor therefore owes him something, and is known to regard him favorably.

Besides, Mr. Simpson is an able man, and is fitted to succeed Mr. Plumb with honor to himself and credit to the State. He knows the needs of the State, is known to every man in it, and is a hard worker. He is therefore regarded a candidate with exceptional chances for success, from the view point of fitness and ability.

George R. Peck, until to-day, was supposed to be running a close race with Mr. Simpson. He is a man of brilliant mind, an eloquent and graceful speaker with a host of friends in the State who would do all in their power to land him in a position of honor. The only thing against him in the popular mind is the fact that he is the General Superintendent of the Santa Fe, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway. To-day Mr. Peck declared himself not a candidate.

Peck Positively Not a Candidate. "I am not a candidate for the position, and could not accept it if it were tendered me. A large majority of the candidates have voluntarily declined to say that I wanted the appointment they would withdraw and support me; and my friends have urged the Governor to offer me the appointment. I have never said to any one that I could not accept the position, and it would be unfair for me to recede from this position."

How about your proposed candidacy in 1892? "I have said nothing and have come to no conclusion in regard to it." Ex-Congressman Perkins is believed to be another strong candidate. He was one of the candidates who went down in the general Republican disaster a year ago, when the Alliance won the election. He is an avowed candidate. The Governor is known to be ambitious to go to Congress, and if Mr. Perkins, who lives in the Governor's district, should be out of the way there would be no doubt of his getting the nomination at last.

A New Name on the List. J. W. Ady, of the same district, who is now United States District Attorney for the district of Kansas, is another candidate. He is well and favorably known to the people of the State, is a talented man, and has the backing of many influential Republicans in the State.

Major J. K. Hudson, editor and proprietor of the Topeka Capital, the Republican organ of Kansas, will announce his candidacy through the columns of his newspaper to-morrow. Major Hudson is an old soldier with a fine war record. He is a close personal and political friend of the Governor. His chief recommendations are his ability and his availability. He has labored for his party, in season and out of season, for ten years past, and his name is a name of sound Republican principles, and has, without never been a candidate for anything. This friends think it is time he was rewarded.

The intimate friends of Ex-Congressman Morrill say he would accept the Senatorial appointment should Governor Humphrey tender it to him. It is known that Mr. Morrill's character, services and strength are known and recognized in the State.

Morrill as Popular as Anybody. The man who shall receive the Governor's appointment becomes the candidate before the people and the Legislature, and it is urged on behalf of Morrill that there is not a more popular man in the State. The post now vacant requires an able business man, one acquainted with legislation and with all men of influence in both parties. Morrill, it is claimed, meets every requirement.

While the names of legalists are making a great deal of noise, there are not having it their own way, by any means. There is really a quiet undercurrent in his favor. He has not been in the news for some time, as far as can be learned, none of his friends have appeared in his behalf, but Governor Humphrey has received a great many letters and telegrams from influential Republicans throughout the State, urging him to appoint the ex-Senator to Plumb's place. The ex-Senator was in the city to-day, but he would not talk for print.

There is a swarm of lesser candidates, but the claims of none of them, it is believed, will be seriously considered. Governor Humphrey has escaped the annoyances of the campaign by isolating himself at his home at Independence, Kan., a small town in the center of the State, and has sent word that he will not return to Topeka until after the holidays, unless called back on extremely urgent business. He still declines to talk on the Senatorial succession.

Simpson Won't Run, After All. The Times of this city, say to-morrow: Ben Simpson has withdrawn from the race for the Senatorial appointment. He will announce the fact in an interview which will appear in the Capital to-morrow morning. He says the appointment is only for a year, and the man who gets it will be the most thoroughly tested man in the State, on account of the great number of candidates and the bitterness of the contest. Frank Fleniken, Senator Plumb's private secretary, is being urged for appointment by the late Senator's friends. They urge that he is familiar with all the needs of the State and requirements of the constituents, as well as all the plans of the late Senator, whose private secretary he was for over 10 years.

A Farmer Uncovers a Hidden Ledger of Pure Metals in Missouri.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 26.—A valuable vein of lead ore was accidentally discovered about five miles east of this city yesterday. H. B. Cornell, a farmer, was hunting for a bank of a small creek, when he noticed a peculiar looking mineral cropping out of a small ledge at the top of the bank. He made an examination, and discovered what he believed to be lead ore.

PICKED UP BY THE POLICE. ROBERT HAZEL was committed to jail yesterday by Magistrate McKenna for trial at court on a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife, Elizabeth Hazel. Joux Xess was arrested last night and locked up in Central station on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Emma Nelson before Alderman Gripp.

FRYE TALKS OF WAR,

But is Certain the People Would Heartily Sustain the President

IN ANY ACTION HE WOULD TAKE.

Our Showing at Sea Not One to Command Anybody's Respect.

SEALS ARE SAFE FOR A SHORT SEASON

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 26.—Senator Frye, who is Chairman of the Committee on Commerce and a member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, is one of the numerous club men in Washington who are at present indulging in very vigorous war talk apropos of the situation in Chile. To THE DISPATCH reporter Senator Frye said this evening: "The United States Government cannot, with proper respect for its prestige in the world of nations, delay much longer in demanding apologies and reparation from Chile. The ignorance of the average American about Chile is surpassed only by Chilean ignorance of the United States. There is no reason to doubt that the Chileans are laughing in their sleeves, thinking of the very pretty opportunity they will have to exhibit their prowess when we shall call time on them. So far from shaking in their boots, they are quite sure they can whip us for years. They have had their eyes on our undefended coasts, particularly the Pacific coast."

And how should they know anything about us? When have they seen an American merchant vessel in their ports in the last 20 years? How often has the American flag floated from an American man-of-war in Chilean waters in that time? England monopolized her foreign commerce relations and carrying trade until recently, when Germany has taken a hand.

"On our part, while we are apt to underestimate the prowess of this vigorous people that absorbed Peru without perceptible effort, and to underestimate also the cost of such a war as would be necessary to accomplish the humbling of Chileans, some can see with half an eye, that public sentiment would greet with uproarious applause a message from the President looking toward an ultimatum. Every member of Congress, irrespective of party lines, would vote to sustain the President. England and any other European power could not afford to adopt a course not in relation to an American man-of-war with Chile. I wish we had a few more large vessels of war—but they are under way, and with what we have, are not to be lightly spoken of."

SEALS SAFE FOR A SEASON. Captain Coulson's Report of Interest to Cook Makers and Dealers. WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 26.—Captain Coulson, commanding the revenue steamer Rush, has made a report to the Treasury Department of the cruise of that vessel on Alaskan waters from October 19 to December 15. He said the weather was boisterous nearly the entire time, and considerable difficulty was experienced in executing the orders of the department in regard to the sealing of the seal islands. Captain Coulson says he is convinced that if it is necessary to guard the seal islands, it is necessary to have a force of men to act as leaders in organizing a company or squad of natives for a regular patrol and guard. These men, he says, would only be required to be at the stations or rookeries on the seal islands, as it is impossible to land on the weather side in bad weather. In calm weather a guard should be placed at each rookery. He says he is satisfied that when the seal smooth landings and raids are no possible unless the cutters are on the spot.

On the 27th of November Captain Coulson, of the Rush, and Captain Healy, of the Bear, had a conference at St. George Island, and as the seals had nearly all left the rookeries it was decided that it was not necessary for the vessels to remain in the islands after December 1, as at that time the stormy weather was a sufficient guard for the seals then remaining on the islands.

RESPECT FOR A PREDECESSOR. Leads Postmaster General Wanamaker to Send an Appropriate Telegram. WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 26.—Postmaster General Wanamaker sent the following telegram to-day to Mr. John A. J. Crowell: "I received with profound sorrow information of the death of ex-Postmaster General Crowell, and beg to assure you and his family of my deepest sympathy. His distinguished services as the head of this department during the five eventful years from 1884 to 1889, while the late President Grant, have passed into history as among the most important in the postal service of this nation. The department buildings have been draped in mourning, and will be closed during the hours of the funeral, out of respect to General Crowell's memory."
