SEVERAL OBJECTIONS OFFERED.

the Clause Referred Back to the Committee for Revision.

ALL COURT PROCEEDINGS CONDENSED

The second meeting of members of the Allegheny County Bar was held yesterday afternoon to further arrangements for an organization for the purpose of suggesting candidates for judicial honors. Major Neglet presided and the committee, to which had een referred the subject, presented a report through its Chairman, Mr. Woodward. The report was taken for consideration

The name of the organization gave rise to some discussion. Mr. Campbell wanted it called the Judiciary and Non-Partisan Association of Allegheny County. Magnus Pflam wanted The Lawvers' Association substituted, but the name reported by the committee, that of "The Association of the Bar of Allegheny County," was selected. The document was then adopted as presented and previously printed in THE DIS-PATCH, with but few slight changes, until the rules governing the choosing of candidates was reached.

Lyon as an Objector.

Mr. Lyon was the first to object to the third clause, relating to the voting. He said if the association expected to accomplish anything it must ratisfy the public that the bar as a whole is talking when a candidate is endorsed, and not a small portion of it, as might be the case if the clause

Mr. Jennings said that certain people night not care to vote and they would be able by their lack of interest to check the effectiveness of those who did vote. Mr. Lyon wanted it fixed so that candidates must be indersed by a maority of the bar. But Mr. Jennings the the action of the majority voting could be considered as the action of the bar. Mr. Lyon thought it unfair that a minority should be placed in a position to orce an obnoxious candidate on the ma-

Mr. Cotton agreed, saying that if the ascintion is to be made felt at Harrisburg, at Washington and throughout the coun try, it ought at least to back up its men, with

A Compromise Proposition

Mr. Knox wanted to compromise by makag it three-fourths of those voting. John arge created some amusement by conemning the whole scheme. He said: suppose neither convention will nominate plate named by this association. We e subscribed to a pledge to stand by our an. Are we going to do it? No; I ouldn't, not even if Major Negley was the um [laughter]. This kind of a scheme night have done in aristocratic or Russianic imes, but it won't do in free America. The paper was adopted as a whole with the exception of the third clause referred to, which was recommitted for revision by the committee with instructions to report at an adjourned meeting to be held next. Wednesday at 3 o'clock.

FELL IN LOVE WITH A BUTCHER. A Happy Farmer's Home Broken Up Indiana Township

The testimony taken in the divorce suit of lienry Strohm against Louisa Strohm, was filed yesterday. Strohm is a farmer, 57 years of age, and lives in Indiana township. The defendant is his second wife and is 36 years of age. They were married February 12. of age. They were married February 12, 1896. Mr. Strohm charges that William H. Hill, a buttener, who boarded with him, was the cause of separation. He said his wife was too intimate with Hill. Mr. Strohm said on intimate with Hill. Mr. Strobm said that he wanted his wife to remain with him, ut she left and went to her father. Mrs. trehm and Hill both denied the charges of dimey. She said that she did not leave trohm voluntarily, but he put her out.

An answer was filed by the defendant yesterday in the divorce case of Hannah L. tevenson against James Stevenson. The asband denies his wife's knarges of cruelty and asserts that she, by her ingovernable conner and unbridled tongue, embittered is life and desiroyed his happiness. He sks that the suit be dismissed.

Ford & Co. Offer a Compromise.

arguments in the case of S. F. Barr against the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company were continued yesterday before Judges son and Reed, in the United States Cirait Court. The day was occupied in hear-in the argument of D. T. Watson, Esq., ateney for J. B. Ford & Co.of the defendants, econtended there had been no conspiracy the minority stockholders of the ny, and that because some of the olders had built other plants they the not liable to the minority stockholders, the course of his argument Mr. Watson id J. B. Ford & Co. are willing to give the staburg Plate Glass Company $100,000 if they will rescale the contract and give back Ford & Co. the Tarentum glass works, sold y Ford & Co. to the Pittsburg company, her would give this amount over the price exceived for the plant.

Refused to Transfer the Stock. A bill in equity was filed yesterday by the ational Bank of the Republic, of New York, must the Rochester Tumbler Company C. Fry. J. F. Kick, P. E. Richmond, S. M. cone and S. H. Moulds, directors, and F. S. ite, assignee of Jesse H.
