Refuse to Desert Their Idol Merely for the Sake of Principle.

THEY CANNOT BE COAXED To Form a New Party That Might Be Led by Cleveland, Either.

DEMOCRACY IS GOOD ENOUGH, So It Doesn't Fail to Allow Them to Name the Candidate.

POLITICAL MEETING OF IMPORTANCE

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—Massachusetts Mugwumps were subjected to an awful temptation this afternoon, but it is probable that they will say: "Get thee behind me, Satan," and will hang onto Grover Cleveland's coat-tails as long as he remains in the Presidential race. The Massachusetts Reform Club met to-day to consider the subject of the new political party, which has been dubbed the "Columbian party," and its relations to Mugwumpism in politics.

Mr. James Means was the tempter who sought to lead the Mugwumps astray. As long as he lauded Grover Cleveland the Mugwumps listened with rapt attention, and applauded every suggestion as to his fitness for the Presidential nomination, but, as soon as Mr. Means suggested the remote possibility of dropping Grover to make way for a man who might better unite the deserters from the Democratic and Republican parties, there was a scowl of disapproval.

The Mugwumps still for Grover.

The meeting was one of vast importance to outside politicians, for it indicates, in a measure, the stand to be taken by the Mugwumps in the Presidential contest. Mr. Means told the Mugwumps present that the new party could be formed right away, and that they were the ones who should form it. He said that if they should have for its platform honest money, a low tariff, and the abolition of the spoils system.

After recounting the dangers which threatened the country under the rule of either of the present parties, Mr. Means said:

"I think that nearly all of us were glad to see Grover Cleveland, but Clevelandism and Democracy are two distinct things. That has been very fully proved by the recent inexorable logic of events. Of the first—Clevelandism—we, the members of the new party, want no part. We can get it of the second—Democracy—we have become tired of our own horns. Perhaps some of you are saying to yourselves that Cleveland would not accept the nomination of the new party. True, very true. Of course, he would not accept the nomination of a little struggling band of men such as we of the new party are. But, follow Mugwumps, you have it in your power to revolutionize the politics of the country."

A New Party to Back Cleveland.

If you will join this party and work with it in the months to come, if you will work until the month of May you then will have built up a party which will give Grover Cleveland the support he needs, and whose nomination he will be thankful to accept, knowing that he will have a party behind him which will hold up his hands and not try to drag him down. I have that assurance upon my belief in Cleveland as a patriot and statesman. I have that assurance that I know how strong the Cleveland feeling is in this city, and I thought that you would approve what I have said to you. I now wish to say something which some of you will not approve of. I am saying this to some of you, but I am saying it to you all. I want to distinctly understand that I mean every word that I have said in praise of Cleveland. His principles are of vastly greater importance than any other, and if it should appear that an attempt has been made to form a new party simply to elevate an individual, the spectacle would be ridiculous. If the new party should get into the hands of one man, he would not be worth anything.

If in the very near future we find that our advocacy of Cleveland brings only dissatisfied Democrats under our banner it will be necessary to pause. If the names of Cleveland and Grover are to be put together, Cleveland keep those who have been Republicans from joining us, the only thing we can do will be to ask competent disaffected Republicans to give us their aid."

All Have to Live and Learn.

I believe that the Republicans will come to the support of Cleveland, but we cannot tell yet; we have to live and learn. If we hold our convention a week or two before the others are held, and if we Mugwumps claim Grover Cleveland as our man—as well as we may have a chance to be President—and if we support this man who has not been supported, I believe that we can carry the next national election.

Gentlemen, the campaign of 1892 has already begun. Now, I have just a word to say to the honest money Democrats who are holding office. Most of them are men of integrity and ability, and yet they do not have a chance to be themselves because they are weighed by the same feudal party pressure which Cleveland knows and presents it in a pressure which mortals cannot withstand. Wouldn't common sense seem to dictate that the best thing a man can do under such a pressure is to stand firm under and let the whole concern drop.

Now a word or two to the voters who are faint-hearted. What is it to throw away a vote, of to vote in the air, as it is sometimes called? Isn't it to vote with a party you don't believe in? If the American people are satisfied year after year with a choice between two evils, never asking for any thing better, they are sure to have evil as the result of their choice, are they not?

Loyal to the Old Parties.

What does loyalty to an old party mean? Doesn't it mean that voters surrender their rights as private citizens into the hands of the political managers? Can our statesmen be expected to trouble themselves about the general welfare of the public if the voters say to them: "To us you please; we are loyal to our old parties?"

Some of the faint-hearted say: "You cannot work reform: the political evils which we see are simply the manifestations of human nature, and to such I would reply: you cannot change." To such I would reply: perhaps you can't change human nature, but in order to work reform it is not necessary to change it." The trouble with politics now is that the worst elements of human nature are at the top, and the best which we have taken upon ourselves is to make what has been called "an iridescent dream" a reality, by taking hold of bad men and dragging them down from their high positions and putting them where they belong.

After Mr. Means had finished speaking there was an interesting discussion of what he had been talking about, and in this discussion the Mugwumps stated their views without hesitancy. Mr. Winsky Warren said:

Not a Time for a New Party.

The reason I don't believe in a new party now is because there is an extreme possibility that there will be a new party given us next July by the nomination of Grover Cleveland. I know that if they nominate Grover Cleveland they will have to give him a platform that he can stand upon, and with him I know we are safe on tariff reform and coinage. We can count on the Democratic party to nominate Grover Cleveland or nominate someone else at their own will. We ought to have a conference at New York or somewhere else of all men who believe in Grover Cleveland.

Mr. F. A. Claffin said:

Unless the Democratic party shows itself sincerely desirous of tariff reform, we shall in fact defeat upon it in the next election. The question is not whether we are going to be too much Democratic, but whether we are going to be too Democratic in making a new party out of all its parts instead of increasing our impotence. If we form a new party we shall have a few more in numbers. But if we act independently, instead of forming a new party, we shall

FIFTY WHITE FIGURES

Huddled Shivering Together, Driven From a Southern College.

A PANIC AT A MIDNIGHT FIRE.

Costly Results of a Test of the Furnaces of a Big Building.

THE COLD ADDS TO THE GIRLS' TORTURE

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Jan. 3.—Fifty female pupils, robed in white, made necessary by their hasty exit from Converse Female College, had to crouch behind the shade trees while the fierce flames of their burning home illumined the weird scene. The thermometer registered only 20° above zero, a point which caused untold suffering to the people of this region. Nearly 100 of these had come home for the Christmas holidays, leaving 50 young ladies, besides the college force, in the building.

A Costly Test of the Furnaces.

As Saturday night was intensely cold, the furnaces were tested to their limit, and the young ladies retired for the night. It was about 12:30 o'clock A. M. that a strolling colored man hurrying by noticed the shooting of the flames from the furnaces. Almost before he could give the alarm he was completely at the mercy of the flames. The main stairway reaching to the dormitories were a prey to the fire. Two men who had by this time reached the building, broke open the doors of the west annex, and ran from door to door, awakening the sleeping occupants. As the girls crowded into the hallways and saw the man exit closed against them, a scene of the wildest confusion reigned. The matrons found it almost impossible to reassure them so as to give directions for their escape.

One young lady, driven almost to insanity, made a rush to get through the fire, but was pulled back, her hands and face being terribly burned by her wild effort. At length they were put on the way to escape through the annex stairway, and began streaming out into the open air.

Not a Very Pleasant Change.

The change from the heat and smoke of the burning building into the freezing atmosphere was almost as terrible as the fate which they had escaped. The nearest house was half a mile away, and in the confusion which resulted from their hurried exit and scant attire, and the want of leadership to provide for them, the scene was one hard to describe.

The first effort of almost all, when the safety of the students had been assured, was to master the flames. This was fruitless from the first, however, for want of adequate water supply. In about half an hour people began arriving from the city, and the effort to gather up the girls and take them to homes began. Shivering with cold, some of them were grouped around the burning building, hoping to get some warmth from it, while others wandered off aimlessly, being at sea as to what to do. President Widson did all he could for them under the circumstances, and finally succeeded in having them all cared for.

The loss to the building is about $60,000, which will be partly met by an insurance of $30,000.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

What its Real Objects Are—The Sum Given by the Nation to Sectarian and Denominational Schools—How the Figures Grow.

New York, Jan. 3.—The officers of the National League for the Protection of American Institutions, the object of which is to secure an amendment to the national Constitution prohibiting the appropriation of public money for sectarian or denominational purposes, believes that never has there been so great and widespread an interest in this subject as at present. Unusual efforts have been made to strengthen the league and to secure for it the backing of influential men in all parts of the country. These efforts, the General Secretary, the Rev. James M. King said, have met with flattering success.

The league lays especial emphasis on the encroachments upon the American idea of the public school which appropriations of public money for sectarian and denominational schools, and so comes under the ban of the National League for the Protection of American Institutions. An investigation of the records of Congress and the books of the Indian Office at Washington has shown that more than one-half of all the appropriations have been made for Catholic institutions, and appropriations of the amounts given to other denominations which have been beneficiaries under the Government shows that to this denomination the amount given each year has been increasing. In 1886 the Catholic schools had $118,343, which is a little more than one-half of all the appropriations of this nature. The Presbyterian Church was given $32,995 and the Congregationalists $16,121. The Society of Friends was the recipient of $1,990, to be expended in this year. Lincoln Institute received that year an appropriation of $33,400 and Hampton Institute $20,040. In some years the sectarian school at Martinsburg, Pa., and the Alaska Training School have received appropriations, though these have been dropped from the roll for the last four years. The amounts appropriated for 1892 for religious bodies are as follows:

R. Catholics.....	$82,426	Lutherans.....	$18,200
Presbyterians.....	44,330	Methodists.....	13,390
Episcopalians.....	29,120	Unitarians.....	2,600
Baptists.....	29,120	Lincoln Institute.....	3,400
Friends.....	3,725	Hampton Institute.....	20,040
Methodists.....	3,275	Other.....	20,000
Total.....	$164,530

In the eight years for which the league has the record the total amount appropriated was $1,234,740. Of this the Roman Catholics received $1,989,531. The Presbyterians came second with $288,046 and Lincoln Institute is third with $233,600. Then come the other denominations with these aggregate amounts: Congregationalists, $183,083; Friends, $140,517; Episcopalians, $192,083; the other denominations received amounts ranging from $8,875 to $38,340, which represents the amount the Methodists have drawn from the National Treasury.

Four Members of Two California Families Meet Death by Fire.

HALFORD, CAL., Jan. 3.—Early this morning fire broke out in a frame lodging house, in which four persons perished and six others were badly injured. The fire originated in the explosion of a coaloil stove, the flames spreading rapidly through the flimsy structure, and quickly igniting the Methodist Church and adjoining dwellings.

The inmates of the two dwellings consumed awakened to find escape by the halls cut off, and many of them jumped from the windows, receiving more or less severe injuries. The men burned to death were Elmer E. Spofford, of Chester, N. H.; F. R. Tucker, of Sacramento, and E. W. E. of this place. T. C. Hammond, a printer, was badly burned and hurt by jumping, and died a few hours afterward. Five or six others were bruised and burned. Pecuniary loss slight.

STILL AFTER AIKENS.

Hon. Divorce Business is Said to Have Demoralized a Judge.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Jan. 3.—The State continues to be much interested over Judge Aikens' affairs. The ministers who asked him to resign are preparing to hold another meeting and to make public some of the facts concerning the charges which have been made against the Judge as to drunkenness and debauchery. Said one minister yesterday:

"Had the divorce colony kept away the Judge would have been all right, but with their high ways of living, their champagne and wine and champagne and champagne, the Judge goes to pieces when he begins drinking, and being a young man of vigorous intellect, he wants to run the carth when he loads up on liquor. Why, do you remember that little woman, always dressed in black, Mrs. Peter Snyder, of New York, who was out here for a divorce? Well, she remarked to me just before she was leaving for New York: 'If Judge Aikens' hand must be placed upon every woman's skirt before she can get a decree then I'll do without a divorce.' Well, she never came back again, and she is still the wife of Snyder."

A majority of the members of the Bar Association are in sympathy with Judge Aikens, and claim that what is being made upon the Judge by the prohibitionists for political purposes.

PICTURES AND STATUARY COMING.

English and French Artists in Hot Rivival for the World's Fair.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Mr. Bryan, of the Chicago Fair Commission, writes from Rome that he had just had an audience with Premier Rudini and that he received most encouraging assurances of a desire on the part of the Italian Government to send exhibits to Chicago. Commissioner McCormick has been passing the holidays in Paris, and will return to England to-morrow.

In an interview to-day he said he did not wonder at the lively interest taken by the Paris art world in the Chicago Fair, for the painters and sculptors doubtless know that English artists are straining every nerve to make a fine display. The English artists, he said, mean to try to secure a larger share of American patronage now monopolized by French artists.
