For 30 Days

The trial of Henry Huser, principal, and William J. Groft and Barney Huser, as accessories, for the murder of Henry H. Kelly at Webster on the night of August 22, 1891, was begun before Judge Porter yesterday. It is Judge Porter's first case in his regular official term. It will probably be finished to-day. District Attorney Burleigh and William McElroy represented the Commonwealth, and D. F. Patterson, who was one of the attorneys for the defense in the trial of James Nutt some years ago, appears for the defendants.

The row in which Keily was fatally wounded occurred in the saloon of George Lang, in Webster, Westmoreland county. He was removed to his home in Forward township, this county, where he died on the night of August 24. All of the forenoon vesterday was consumed in securing a jury. The case was opened by District At-torney Burleigh, and Dr. C. B. Wood, who had attended Kelly, was the first witness. He described the wounds found on Kelly's body and testified that he had died from exhaustion and loss of blood, having had everal hemorrhages. W. L. Kelly, a brother of the deceased was the next witness, but his testimony wis un-important, except to show that his brother had good health previous to the time he was wounded. A. A. Tilbrook testified to having helped Kelly up over a bank after he had been cut, but he did not see the cutting Reese Boyd said he was standing in front of the saloon when Kelly first put in an ap-pearance. The latter got into a controversy with a German and then went into the saloon. In a very short time Kelly and three or four men came rushing out. They were striking at each other. Witness then went into the saloon and notified those present that there was a row outside. When he came out again the cutting ind been present that there was a row ontende. When he came out again the cutting had been done and Kelly was coming up over a bank. Joseph Sichel, a boy 18 years of age, cor-roborated Boyd's testimony. W. E. Ene was the next witness, and it

W. E. Rue was the next witness, and it seemed that he was the best yet called for the Commonwealth. He said he saw Groft and Henry Huser push Kelly up into the closet. Witness started into the saloon for help, when Henry Huser threatened to kill him. He braced himself against the door, and two men, Huser and another one, caught hold of him. Huser accused witness of call-ing him names, and said he would kill him. In the meantime two other men, whom the witness could not identify, although he witness could not identify, although he saloon, On cross-examination, Rue said he did not see any of the cutting. Court adjourned with this witness still on the stand. Inity-sixth ward. One was against Annie Robinson for a lot on Wettengel avenue, a second against G. D. Ballantins for a lot on Walnut street, a third against Agnes Sharp for a lot on Harker street, and the fourth against Sarah Ballantine for a lot on Chest-
