MARGIN OF PROFIT VERY NARROW

And Future Changes Are Sure to Be Toward Higher Levels.

DRYGOODS AND HARDWARE OUTLOOK

OFFICE OF THE DISPATCH, PITTSBURG, TUESDAY, January 5. This is the time for stock taking and posting of books, and business in most lines is quiet, as it always is at this season. Business men are, however, hopeful and confident of a good year ahead. There is little of a speculative spirit, and, as prices are for the most part down to bed rock, future changes in markets will in all probability be toward higher levels. Trades people are disposed to economy and cantions buying, and, unless all signs fail, the year 1892 will be one of greater profit and fewer failures than the year that is gone.

The Drygoods Trade.

Interviews with a number of our drygoods jobbers developed the following facts as to the situation and outlook in this department of trade: Volume of business for the year past showed an increase on that of the previous year. The holiday trade was nuusually large, and fully compensated for the quictness which prevailed during some of the early months of the year. In some lines, notably heavy weight goods, trade proved somewhat disappointing, owing to the mild weather which prevailed through the month of December. Heavy flauncis, blankets, furs, cloaks and ladies' wraps did not move according to general expectations of jobbers, and a larger amount of stock in this line than usual will of ne-cessity be carried over until next season by reason of the unseasonable December weather. But, in spite of this adverse feature, jobbers are unanimous in reporting a larger volume of trade than for the correspecifing period of the previous year. Prices are not essentially different from what they have been for a year or two past. In Hardware Lines.

What is true of drygoods is mainly true as to the hardware trade. Margins of profit as to the hardware trade. Margins of profit are very close, closer than at any time in the history of the trade. Builders' hard-ware has been the weak factor of trade all the past year. This weakness is explained by the conflict between journeymen car-penters and contractors, which paralyzed the building trade during a large part of 1891. In this city the amount of building was more than 25 per cent less in 1891 than it was in 1890. Nails have never been so low was in 1888. Natis have never been so low in price as they have been the past few months. With steel nails selling at the Wheeling factories at $1 60 per keg and wire nails a shade below $2 per keg, it is difficult to discover where the profit comes in to the manufacturer. In the opinion of a leading dealer, the margin to the manufacturer at the research of the leaves of the profit of the manufacturer. facturer at these prices is on the losing The Footwear Outlook, firms have been able to cut corners a little closer, and to-day they are getting more trade, proportionately, than their lesser competitors. The total business of l80 has been about 5 per cent less than that of the previous year. Prices are a little lower, but about the same as bettere the appreciation of 1800. The traffic, in a general sense, is on a firmer basis since the surplus is much reduced. Buyers are conservative. The financial conditions are better, and crops have been excellent. On the other hand, the dating ahead canker has not been remedied to much extent. Margins are too small, and the facilities for making shoes too much extended. But taking all things into consideration, there doubtless will be good business in 1892 as regards the number of shoes made. What the profits will be is a doubtful question.

CHICAGO-The holiday duliness which of late has marked the course of business in about everything dealt in on the Board of Trade was continued to-day. Values have been going downward for some time, and, as usual on a declining market, the outside public has lost interest. In wheat weakness accompanied the early duliness, and lower figures were recorded. Nearly all the lower figures were recorded. Nearly all the news of the forenoon was discontaging to holders. The liquidation was general.

May opened unchanged at Mige and slowly sagged off to Mige. Then the character of the news and the temper of the pit began to change. A dispatch from New York said there was good buying for export there and private advices from Paris said that the market was stronger and advancing, though public cables did not bear this out. Encouragement came later from domestic sources. The result was a lively cash whent business, and many fresh orders were received to take advantage of the improved shipping prospects. Prices advanced sharply and closed about the top.

Hog products opened weak and lower on account of heavy receipts of live hogs at the leading packing centers and the lower prices for live hogs here. Later part of this loss was recovered and the close shows no marked changes from yesterday's last figures.

The Boston correspondent of Hide and Louber, a new trade paper of Chicago, has this to say of the boot and shoe situation at the Hub:

Shoe manufacturers are nearly unanimous in saving that the year 1801 has been one of small proportionate grade and memorable on account of a number of failures of the largest houses, which took the trade completely by surprise. Pittsburg Pushing Out in the Direction of Braddock.

ACREAGE COMING INTO MARKET.

Trained Builders Meeting the Wants of the House-Buying Public.

FEATURES OF MONEY AND SPECULATION

The present war is likely to witness an active movement in real estate along the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, between the eastern boundary of the city and Braddock. There is a great deal of vacant ground well adapted to building purposes in this territory, and it is comparatively cheap. The East End is spreading out so rapidly that it is only a question of a little time until there will be an unbroken line of buildings from the city line to the big borough. This is the prospect that delights the hearts of land owners at the opening of the year. It is fortunate that facilities are equal to the largest possible development. Owners of acreage are already putting themselves in a position to meet the demand which is reasonably certain to arise a little later in the season.

Ready-Made Houses. People in a position to know the require-ments of the home-seeking public say that from the high character of the many dwellings which will be ready for occupancy early in the spring, it would be folly for them to waste time putting up buildings for themselves. Professional builders have had such large experience in this line in the last few years that they thoroughly understand the wants of the masses, and are able to meet all the requirements of a perfect the home. It is undoubtedly true that the character of the houses under way in Pittsburg, as well as of many lately finished, is higher than ever before. They leave little to be desired in either architectural design or convenience. They are many characters in venience. There are many advantages in buying a finished house. The purchaser can occupy it at once, saving frequently a year's rent and interest on the investment. That these considerations have weight is shown by the fact that many who had con-templated, building have changed their minds and are now looking around for houses approaching completion, with a view to having such alterations and addi-tions made as will suit their peculiar views. Of course, this does not hamper develop-ments in the building line. Whether bought in a finished state or erected to or-der, the same number of houses will be required to meet the demand.

Public Lands in the Market, According to the latest reports, the amount of public land remaining subject to disposition in all the States and Territories where there are public lands is no less than 579,654,683 acres, of which about one-half (294,027,773 acres) has not been surveyed. This is exclusive of the Cherokee Strip, containing 8,044,644 acres, and all other lands owned or claimed by the Indians in the Indian Territory west of the ninety-sixth degree of longitude, and is exclusive also of Alaska, which contains, 369,000,000 neres. These lands lie chiefly in the remoter sections of the West and on the Pacific coast.

The Bond Market.

The bond market for the past few weeks has been one of the most interesting features of the financial situation. An augmented demand has been shown for every class of bonds, and higher quotations have been the rule for a large variety of issues. It is stated that foreign investment corporations have been sellers of large blocks of choice to have come to stay.

At the last call yesterday Birmingham Traction was offered down to 18%. For Duquesne 17% was bid at the second call, offered at 18. Insurance companies are declaring their egular dividends. The year was not so ard on them after all.

It is expected that at the meeting of the Pleasant Valley Company to-day the usual dividend will be declared.

The Allegheny Bridge Company announces a dividend of $2 a share, semi-annual, and the Tuna Oil Company one of 2 per cent.

According to the report of Secretary John B. Barbour, Jr., expenses of the Exchange last year were $7.147 70. The real estate is valued at $150,000. The surplus amounts to $17,259 10.

This cannot be reasonably expected so soon after the turn of the year, and with stocktaking and settlements still uncompleted. There was no news to affect values, but the tone was weak. REACTIONARY AGAIN.

BUT THE STOCK MARKET DISPLAYS A STRONG UNDERTONE,

Industrials Lead in Strength-Two Pittsburg Railroad Securities Quite Active- | 6 50. Bulls Trying to Buy Back at Lower Prices-Railroad Bonds Very Active.

New York, Jan. 5 .- The stock market tolay showed rather a reactionary temper, and the volume of business was somewhat smaller, but, while there was considerable pressure to sell from all quarters, the new dertone, the orders to buy being large at every decline, especially from commission houses.

The low-priced shares again attracted a great deal of attention, and among these Louisville, New Albanyand Chicago, Wheeling and Lake Erie, Rending and Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg, together with Pittsburg and Western, were most conspicuous. The Industrials, however, were the features for strength, and all the leaders scored handsome gains. Among the usually active list, New England was the early center of interest; the renewal of the old story of a deal with the New Haven carrying its price in the forenoon to 49%; but there was free selling at that figure, and it finally retired below its opening price and even below its last night's figure.

The Reading securities were strong on the report that the interest on the incomes will be paid, and it fairly took the place of New England as leader of the market, both as to activity and s'rength. The other coal companies were not helped by the advance in Reading, however, though among the low-priced shares' Tennessee Coal was very prominent, as well as the Susquehanna and Western preferred, though each of these stocks reacted in the final dealings.

The opening was generally firm at insignificant advances in most shares from last night's figures; but selling orders, apparently from London, induced considerable short selling, and after the first spurt on the early demand the entire list reacted, though a loss of I per cent in Erie preferred was the only important concession at the time. The market heid stubbornly, however, and before noon the losses were regained, but only to be lost again in the afternoon, the Industrials, in the meantime, taking the lead in the unward movement; and Chicago Gas trials, in the meantime, taking the lead in the upward movement; and Chicago Gas was pushed forward from 74½ to 78½, and Distillers' from 61½ to 64, each retaining most all the gain at the close of business. The new Lead stocks, on the other hand, were still weak and both lost over 1 per cent. There was some selling of the Northern Pacific stocks on the report that the earnings would show a large decrease.

The market finally closed active and fairly steady, after a slight rally in the final trading. Most stocks are small fractions lower than last evening, while no material loss occured in anything. Chicago Gas, however, is up 3½ Distillers', 1½; Northern Pacific preferred, 1½, and Cordage, 1 per cent. trials, in the meantime, taking the lead in the upward movement; and Chicago Gas

Grain, Flour and Feed. Receipts as bulletined at the Grain and

Flour Exchange were unusually light. There were in all but eight carloads bulletined. By Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railway-lear of corn, 1 of malt, 1 of oats, 1 of hay, 1 of flour. By Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis-1 car of oats, 1 of middlings, 1 of hay. Sales on call: One car mixed car corn, 42°, spot: 1 car sample oats, 35¢, 450t; 1 car extra 3 white oats, 35½c, 5 days. As cereal receipts have averaged uaily more than 50 carloads for the past few weeks, with light receipts of to-day, a stronger market was to be expected. But instead of strongth we note weakness. Oats are the weak factor of trade, and prices are a shade lower. Buyers and sellers are far apart in their views of values. With declining markets, the buyer only contracts for immediate wants. hay. Sales on cali: One car mixed car corn, Following quotations are for carload lots on track. Dealers charge an advance on these prices
