PECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

EANEIN STATION, PA., Jan. 7 .- About $:30 o'clock this evening a terrible boiler explosion occurred here in the mill of the Braddock Wire Company, Immediately people rushed to the mill, but were met at every entrance by officers and men posted on guard, who denied them admittance, stating that there was already too much confusion in the mill. Mothers and relatives crowded the doors, but were all turned away, and even now do not know to a cer-tainty whether their dear ones are safe or not, and access will not be given until morn-The women are frantic. Almost immediately after the explosion a bright light sprang up from the mill, and it was learned that several natural gas pipes had been broken, and the gas, becoming innited, had set fire to the mill. The fire de-partment was soon in working order, and in had an hour had the fire subdued. The ex-phosion occurred in the lower end of the I in the rod department, and that part of mill, with its expensive machinery, it

Zimmerman, fireman in the od department, has just been carried out, ad intense excitement existed when reand intense excitement existed when re-nexts were sprend that several others within were dying. This is said on good authority, however, to be incorrect. Officials admitted The Disparton correspondent, with several others, at 10 o'clock, at the same time stating but they had been obliged to keep the peo-de out for fear of fire. The entire rod department of the mill is a contraint and the bolkes baying

The entire rod department of the mill is in contrasion, parts of the bollers having leven thrown against the walls and machin-ery with terrible force, wrecking the latter completely. The fireman was standing near the bollers and was terribly crushed and burned, dying almost instantly. The water tendler, whose imme is at present unknown, was also terribly injured and will likely die. Several other workmen standing about were either burned by the escaping steam or struck by pieces of the flying debris, but, so far as can be learned in the prevailing ex-cidement, the two alrendy mentioned are the norst sufferers. The loss to the mill by the explosion and fire will be very large, but no estimate can be placed on it tonight. No cause is given for the explosion.

SOCIALISTIC IDEAS ADOPTED.

Many Reforms Recommended by the Ohio Trades and Labor Assembly.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 7.-[Special.]-At the meeting of the State Trades and Labor Assembly to-day the Grievance Committee reported favorably on the following resolutions, which were adopted :

Denouncing the convict contract labor system of Ohio; taking the control of tele-graph and telephone lines from corporations and placing them under Government con-trol; against the employment of pauper, Chinese or convict labor; for the enactment of a label trade mark copyright bill; to re-quest the passage of a law by the Legislature to protect laborers from injury by reason of defective scaffolding; to prevent non-resi-dents of Ohio from being clothed with police ename the part of the State power; directing the Secretary of the State Trades Assembly to affix the typographcial union label to all papers and printing issued by him.

The Committee on Petitions presented reports favoring resolutions providing for an ports favoring resolutions providing for an amendment to lien laws; requesting the State to appoint an inspector of passenger elevators in cities of the first and second-class, the office to be under the direction of the Inspector of Workshops and Factories; sking the Legislature to enact a law pro-viding for the weighing of coal before screening; to provide for the use of false flooring to protect workingmen from accidents in the crection of buildings. The reports were adopted. The Committee on Organization sub-

The Committee on Organization sub-mitted a partial report showing the condi-tion of labor organizations in Cineinnati, Cleveland, Dayton, Toledo, Salem, Spring-field, Massillon, Bowling Green, Zanesville, Columbus, Shawnee, Sherrodsville. The report shows a large increase in members and a number of new organizations formed. Betiting mean presented for the second of Petitions were presented for the passage of a 2 cent mileage railway law; recommending the passage of a law making punishable the administering of ironelad oaths to prevent workingmen from forming labor organ izations. The following stirred up the Senatorial issue:

Resolved, That we deplore and condemn the present system of electing United States Senators as one calculated to place this high and important body in the possession of the highest bidders. Resolved, That we favor such changes in our constitution as will permit the people to make directly a selection of their represen-tatives in our legislative bodies.

After some discussion the resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote. The Com-mittee on Resolutions presented preambles and a resolution reciting that the rights of the minority should be so respected in polit-ical matters that nothing of a political nature should come before the State Trades Assembly without unanimous consent. The resolutions also favor the election of Presi-dent and Vice President and United States Senator by vote of the people direct.
