Pittsburg iron men are making the necessurv arrangements for a big trade during the year. The advance noted in our last has been maintained. ome apprehension was felt that there might be an accumulation of iron at the furnaces, owing to the cessation of conption, and that holders would be disposed to force sales and thereby endanger the stability of the market. Fortunately nothing of the kind has occurred, but, on the contrary, there has been a good trade demand, and at fair or unchanged prices. Developments, so far, have been unexpectedly favorable, inasmuch as the crisis is believed to have been passed without any symptoms of weakness whatever. As a matter of fact all the changes within the past 20 days have been in the direction of ther prices. NO SPECULATION AT CINCINNATL

Quete a Liberal Run of Small Orders Shroughout the West.

CINCISTATI, Jan. 15. - [Special.] - Rogers, Brown & On say: There is but little change to report in the condition and prospects of the iron trade, One or two quite large transactions have been closed, and there ins been a liberal run of small orders all brough the Western territory. There is no disposition on the part of buyers to provide more than their actual minimum requirements. Speculation is completely wanting. Completints are heard from some foundries and mills of the scarcity of orders, while others are fuller than usual at this time of the year. Taken altogether, our judgment is that consumption is slowly improving, but production keeps pace with it. A very little increase on the present rate of cu-samption, however, would carry it beyond the producing capacity of the farmaces in these, and the effect would specific be fer in prices, as practically the full producing capacity of the country is now active learning only such furnaces as are not in position to the producing capacity of the country is now active learning only such furnaces as are not in position to the producing capacity of the country is now active learning only such furnaces as are mirements. PRITERING, FRIDAY, January 15.

RAW IRON AND STEEL.—Trade this week with not as not led as not being so large. The amount of raw iron and steel sold the last work in December was 72,192 tons; the first week in January, 71,900 tons, and 38,000 tons of Bessemer ore, making a total of 182,002 tons. The entire—sales for the last week in 1890 and first week in 1891 were 70,576 tons, being a deficiency, compared with the past two weeks, of 131,116 tons. These figures show conclusively that the Pittsburg iron men are making the necesbefore recorded. It would seem that the Heavy Orders at St. Louis.

Sr. Louis, Jan. 15. - [Special.] - Rogers. Brown & Meacham say: There seems to be a general inquiry into the market on part of the consumers, who have been waiting until after the turn of the year, believing that should a change in the condition of prices take place, it would have been about this take place, it would have been about this time, but as there is no indication of iron selling for lower prices, and many things to influence an upward tendency, some heavy orders have been placed recently. During the jast two weeks a number of large Southern furnaces have blown out for repairs, and stocks on hand are either very low at these furnaces, or sold for early and forward delivery. This will heavily diminish production and affect the market more or roduction and affect the market more or ss. It is reported that one of the largest Southern companies operating many stacks is sold upon foundry grades.

Business Not Bad at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15 .- [Special.]-Rogers, Brown & Merwin say: "The past week has shown a continuation of the conditions last reported, a good amount of business still going on, this being for the most part for coke brands, charcoal being in little demand. Prices recharcoal being in little domand. Prices remain unchanged. Large consumers who have been carefully watching the situation, take the position that on account of the continued accumulation of stocks there is no probability of any change during the next two or three months. On the other hand, consumption is going forward heavily, and the outlook promises a very heavy melting of iron during the year. While a general advance of prices is not imminent, a decided stiffening may come at any time.

A deal in real estate of considerable imortance was brought to a head resterday by Liggett Bros. They sold 150x140 feet on the corner of Denniston avenue and Arabella street, for Joseph F. Denniston to Bell & Caldwell, contractors and builders, and also for W. H. Denniston, to the same firm, 50 feet on Arabella street, adjoining the above, for $15,000 for both parcels. The purchasers will at once begin the erection of three handsome brick dwellings on Denniston avenue and three of a similar character on the Arabella street front, to be controlled by Liggett Bros. This property was originally part of the old Denniston farm. It was sold by the Dennistons to Alexander Bates, well known in the East End drygoods trade a decade or so ago, by whom it was plotted in 1870. Subsequently, by purchase, it again became the property of the Dennistons, who have now parted with it for good.

An Important Enterprise. Wilkinsburg, in conjunction with Edge-word and Brushton, and perhaps the city, has an important improvement project on foot. The borough is growing so fast that the sewering of Mine Mile run has become a necessity. For some time the authorities of the first-named place have been figuring on the practicability and cost of this work, and have decided that it can and ought to be done. Details have not been entirely completed, but in a general way the plan proposes a brick sewer of capacity sufficient to drain the entire district, extending to the Monongahela river, a distance of about two miles. It is estimated that the cost will be been $200,000 and $300,000. It is thought work will be commenced next spring, The completion of this enterprise will reclaim a large amount of real estate and en-hauce values more than enough to meet the

A Lively Bit of Property.

Liggett Bros. bave sold a piece of downtown property three times within the last three weeks, each time at an advance. The last sale was closed yesterday. The reason for this quick change of ownership is that the property is located on a street where the supply is away below the demand, and where, consequently, there has been little movement for several years.

This brings out an important fact in con-nection with realty—that backward distriets are beginning to show signs of aclike this for dead stock in real estate.

BIRMINGHAM TRACTION STOCK JOINS THE PROCESSION

Less Snap to the Market, but the Tone Still Bullish-Gains the Only Important Changes-Outside Centers on a Par With Pittsburg.

There was little enthusiasm in stock circles yesterday. It was hard to fill orders, owing to the bullish temper of holders. Outside centers exhibited about the same characteristics as Pitt-burg.

Pittsburg National Bank of Commerce advanced in the bidding to 350, high water mark for it, and New York and Cleveland Gas Coal to 4%. The par of this stock is 50. Luster and Citizens Traction were weaker as compared with the previous close. Central and Pittsburg Traction and Switch and Signal were stronger. There was no change in Philadeiphia Gas and Pleasant Valley.

Of the unlisted Tractions Birmingham improved its position and the rest were steady. The advance in Birmingham was in synpathy with the improvement in the other members of this group. Professionals Again Almost Monopolize the Market-Large Interests Holding Off in Hope of a Rise-Sugar the Weakest, Lake Shore the Strongest,

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 .- The stock market continues to show a diminishing volume of business and the trading grows more and more into the hands of the professional element from day to day, while prices are held within comparatively narrow limits, as a rule, and quotations slowly declined under the pressure brought to bear by the advocates of lower prices. The larger interests in the market are evidently downcast or waiting for new developments, and the professionals, to some extent, again have the making of prices. The party looking for a decline, however, is not strong enough to force the market, and only here and there the list, as a rule, showing the most pronounced strength when the limited demand nounced strength when the limited demand is taken into consideration. Holders of stocks are confident that the steadily increasing business shown by the railroads must in the near future result in another material upward movement, and they, therefore, cling tenaciously to their stocks.

To-day there was little feature in the dealings, and the few marked movements were the results of special pressure at special times. Sugar was the weakest point in the market. It sold down from 85% to 80, and after a raily to above 81 it yielded again to the lowest price of the day. On the other hand, Lake Shore was run up 1½ per cent in the same manner and retained most of its gain. There was large trading in St. Paul again, but it was held fairly stendy throughout the day within an extreme range of only ¾ of 1 per cent, most stocks being traded in over a like small range.

Northwestern was still strong, but the Northwestern was still strong, but the temper of the market did not permit any material change in its price, while Rock Island and the Gould shares were inclined to weakness. The cordage shares were sold ex-dividend, and displayed a very strong tone in the final dealings, in sharp contrast to the rest of the itst, and especially the other Industrials. The Chesapeake and Ohios were still active, but the new developments in regard to the property had no influence to advance the quotations, while the common fell away more than any stock except Sugar.

common fell away more than any stock ex-cept Sugar.

The opening was very active and strong, but notwithstanding some buying by Lon-don and scattering purchases by domestic operators, prices were brought below the level of the opening figures during the first hour and kept there during most of the fore-noon. A slow raily was followed by further depression in the late dealines and the warlepression in the late dealings, and the mar-

DEMORALIZED GRAINS.

Wheat Getting No Better Very Fast These Days, While Corn and Oats Closely Follow Suit-Provisions Open Well, but Soon Fall Off Again.

CHICAGO-Wheat was decidedly weak today, and though there was some recovery from the lowest points touched, the close shows a loss of 11/2 compared with yester-day's final quotations. The foreign markets showed more discouraging features than for some time past, and private messages were panicky. The short selling did not seem to be aggressive, but the longs seemed to be thoroughly demoralized, and the liquidation was general, and the market in such a condition that the heavy offerings could not be absorbed without a snarp break in values. Most of the long wheat taken on yesterday, when the market exhibited much strength, was thrown over to-day.

The start was made at a decline of %c from yesterday's quotations, but after a brief advance and a reaction the buyers were scarce and sellers plentiful. There 200-20: common country butter, 15@15c: choice country roll, 186-20c.

Corn very dull and weak throughout. At the lowest May showed a recession of %c compared with the close yesterday, and final figures are %c off.

Outs dull. May showed a loss of %c at the finish.

Hog products inclined to strength at the start because the receipts were lighter than had been anticipated: but the brenk in wheat caused sympathetic weakness in the provision pit, with a downward tendency, relieved by only one or two feeble railies during the remainder of the session. The close shows a loss of 12½c.
