OFFICERS DALZELL AND HILL TALK

Following in the wake of the injunction granted by Judge McClung to the Pittsburg and Manchester road against the strikers enjoining them from trespassing on the property or interfering with employes, comes the following proclamation from the Sheriff of Allegheny County:

A PROCLAMATION! TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

WHEREAS, Numbers of persons have been congregating on the highways of Allegheny City, on the lines of the Pittsburg, Allegheny and Manchester Passenger Railway, and such assemblies have caused disturbance disorder and breaches of the peace; and Whereas, If such assemblies continue they are liable to provoke further disorder and serious breaches of the peace; Now therefore, I, William H. McCleary, High Sheriff of the county of Allegheny, do hereby make known, that all persons in any manner participating in such assemblies are liable to proscention and punishment. *

And I bereby command that all persons abstain from any acts which may tend to produce disorder of any kind and particularly from assembling on the highways on the lines of said railway. And in case of failure to observe these instructions persons offending will be dealt with according to law.

WILLIAM H. McCLEARY, Sheriff.

Strikers Did Not Make a Move.

This important and significant action of the part of the high authority created a sensation among the strikers and their friends. It had its effect, judging from the peaceful status of affairs down in the turbulent districts of Allegheny. In the face of much sensational talk on the streets that trouble was imminent and that the strikers and friends were spurring themselves up to make a decisive move, last night not a serious feature characterized the strike. Down at Woods' Run the people are more bold and some loud talking from gathered crowds, along with a few cases of stone throwing, were the only overt nots reported tending to breed disturbance. Twelve persons, including three or four mere boys, were arrested for disorderly conduct. None of these, how-ever, were old employes of the road, but sympathizers who were urged on by older heads. In some cases mothers and sisters were responsible for trouble.

One non-union conductor who refused to bave police ride on his car for protection was dragged off and ducked under a hydrant by the strikers. He was handled roughly, but not hurt seriously.

The County Liable for All Damages.

Yesterday afternoon Sheriff McCleary and Chief Murphy made a tour of the whole district, and had the proclamations posted up all along the line warning the strikers to desist from producing disorder of any kind or assembling on the highways of the railway line. This, of course, places the course of the course railway line. orporation's property in the hands of Allegheny county authorities, and if any destruction thereof, the latter will be held responsible for its loss Some strikers are aware of severe penalty for riot, or inciting a riot, but a number of the most active and per-nicious meddlers are not. If anyone is convicted of riot or aiding and abetting the crime, the person doing so is liable to a punishment of three years' imprisonment and heavy fine. This is, in all likelihood, the reason that a radical change has taken place and such uniform good order prevailed all along the line. The wise move of Chief Murphy in requesting all saloon keepers on Beaver, Pennsylvania, McClure avenues and Rebecca street to close also had a quieting influence. A DISPATCH reporter traversed all these thoroughfares at 11 o'clock last night and not a whisper of disorder was to be found. It was as quiet as a country lane.

May Recover for Loss of Traffic. The cars ran all day with great regularity, but the paucity of passengers was a noticeshle feature. In this connection a pertinent point is raised by the street car company. The loss by the menaccaused a great falling off of patronage and which will probably amount to a finan-cial loss of $1,000 to $1,500 a day. This, from the opinion of an officer, can be recovered from the county, all of which must necessarily come off the taxpayers. The company has legal advice to this effect. Especially so can this be effected since the Sheriff's proclamation has been issued. the car barn officers were stationed, and outgoing cars were manned with officers until dangerous points were passed, when they would board the incoming ones and perform their duty back to the end of the line.

Chief Murphy ordered his men to arrest all vagrants and "sleepers" down about the gas house on Rebecca street. This strike, the Chief says, has been the means of drawing a raft of worthless characters into the city, who congregate about the centers of excitement, ready and willing to do any deviltry which would gain for them some slight gain to further their ends in thieving and outraging public property. Many Fears of an Outbreak.

Notwithstanding the comparatively placid feeling noticeable on all sides, there is an undercurrent of nervousness which pervades the whole lower part of the city. The law-abiding citizens are expectant of an outbreak, following the calm situation.

The officers complain most of the vicious tempers of women sympathizers. Last night on Beaver avenue and Rebecca street the female end of the trouble was particularly obstreperous, and only upon orders from Superintendent Muth to lock women up for disorderly conduct were they constrained and made seek their homes. Those women who have children tell their offspring to jeer at the non-union men. An instance of this was witnessed when the Fifth ward school was dismissed yesterday evening. The great crowd of boys came rushing into the streets shouting ""Scab" at the conductors motormed on all passing Some of them threw snowballs and otherwise made trouble. In the Woods Run district boys rolled stones on the car tracks. Three of them were arrested and locked up. Their names are William C. and T. Davis, brothers, and J. Donch.

President Dalzeil, and Director George B. Hill were both seen late last night They wish it plainly stated that they have no enmity against strikers, and as officials, are perfectly willing to take back all old men without any questions. They say the old men have the preference, and notices are posted up to this effect. The young unmarried men, many of whom were instrumental in causing the disturbance, have left town seeking Condensed Milk. Di other positions, while the old ones with Sold by your grocer.

Some Are Ready to Come Back One striker approached Mr. Hill vester-day and said he was sorry the strike had occurred, and was willing to go back to work, but was afraid on account of the threats of his fellow workmen. The most excitable incidents of the night were the shooting at a motorman on a Rebecca street car, with no serious results, and the row over the arrest of Frank May, in which 500 strikers, police and depu-ties participated. May had been accused of "scabbing" and was arrested for pointing firearms and carrying concealed weapons. He had a hearing before Alderman Shellman and was held in $1,500 for court. Fred Grimmer, Jr., offered to go his bail, but was objected to. Four officers then started with May to the jail. Three hundred strikers followed them, yelling and cursing, and finally to shove and club them. May was hit, while Officer Roll was badly cut on the face. Threats were made against Mav's life, but a detachment of officers held the erowd at bay until a patrol wagon arrived and he was taken to jail.

At 1 o'clock this morning a meeting of the strikers was being held in Dietrich's Hall, but what was the object and result could not be learned. No excitement, however, was reported at this hour and no trouble is anticipated until the cars are running to-day, at least.

Witherow's Works to Start Up.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Jan. 25.-In court at New Castle yesterday afternoon Alexander Thompson was discharged from the receivership of Witherow's works, and the property was turned over to Alexander Thomas, the assignee, who resides in Allegheny County. Mr. Thomas will make an effort to start the works soon, as there are many orders uncompleted that must be filled at once.

A Lecture on Organization.

Joseph F. Valentine, of San Francisco, First Vice President and organizer for Iron Molders' Union of North America, will address the molders of Pittsburg and vicinity on "The Benefits to Be Derived From Thorough Organization," at Lafayette Hall on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of Local Unions Nos. 14, 46 and PERILS OF THE BOYS.

Coroner McDowell Gives a Pointer for

& O. Ministers. The Coroner's jury in the case of James Kinney, the boy killed at Brown's shooting gallery, No. 110 Wylie avenue, returned a verdict yesterday that death was due to the criminal negligence of James McCaffrey. The latter was ordered to jail for court

The latter was ordered to jail for court trial. The testimony developed the facts already published.

In addition the jury condemned the practice of allowing small boys to frequent shooting galleries, and recommended that the police take steps to prevent this. Coroner McDowell said last night:

"I heartily approve of the jury's action. This case was a sad one, attributable alone to the encouragement thrown out to children to frequent shooting galleries. I don't suppose there is much law on which the to sallow boys in places. They are nothing more or less than disorderly houses. It is all right for young men to learn to shoot, but not until they are old enough to join the National Guard. There is a law against selling firearms to children, and there should be one to pre vent them using such things. If those who are preaching against Sunday newspapers for doing the boys harm would turn their attention to shooting galleries they would be better employed.

PROMPTED BY JEALOUSY.

Clarence E. Tarr Deliberately Sends a Bullet Through His Brain.

Clarence E. Turr, 26 years old, an oil pumper by occupation, committed suicide Sunday night at his house, a short distance back of Gregg Station, in the presence of his wife, his sister-in-law and a boarder. Tarr has been employed since last August on the Fitzgibbens, Kennedy & Gardiner lease, Mertz farm, Southwest McCurdy. According to the testimony before Squire Robb, Tarr and his wife did not get along well together on account of his jealousy. Sunday evening they had a quarrel and the husband called Thomas C. Hew-itt, the boarder, into the room. The latter, on entering, remarked: "You people should quit this continued jangling and try to be happier together." At this Tarr went to a trunk in the corner and got a large revolver. Walking to the door he raised the weapon to his head and said: "Tom, do you see this? I can be fooled once, but not twice." Before Hewitt could prevent it Tarr pulled the trigger and the ball went cracking through his right temple, killing him instantly. A verdict of suicide was rendered. Tarr was well-known all through the oil region. He leaves two children.

Changing the Observatory Hill Ordinance The sub-committee to revise the Observatory Hill Street Railway ordinance met in Allegheny last night and recommended a number of changes. One was that the com pany shall run through cars from Pittsburg to the terminus of the line and charge but one fare of 5 cents, instead of making passengers change cars at Charles Also to remove the wooden poles along streets and replace them with iron ones, and to remove two of the tracks from Ohio street, on which the Pleasant Valley now has four tracks. Propositions to raise the car tax from $30 to $130 per car per year and to compel them to pave between the rails and a foot outside on Perrysville avenue were laid over for further consideration.

Thought to Be Fitzsimmons

Detective P. J. Murphy yesterday re ceived a telegram from the police authorities at Ft. Worth, Tex., giving a description of one of the train robbers killed there recently. The description is in detail a perfect description of Fred C. Fitzsimmons, the escaped murderer of Detective Gilkinson. Detective Murphy will at once take steps to ascertain if the dead robber and the escaped murderer are the same.

Had His Daughter Locked Up.

A daughter of Morris Dietrick, who lives on McDonald way, started to go to a ball with Samuel Hoffman last evening. The father met the a and tried to get her to come The trio were arrested, and the girl was locked up on a charge of incorrigibil-ity, made by her father. Hoffman escaped. Districk claims his daughter is wayward.

REDUCTIONS DECIDED IN TWO WARDS

The rush of appeals at the Assessor's office yesterday kept up to the pace that has been maintained for the past week. Being the last day for the filing of appeals from the Twentieth and Twenty-first wards there was an immense number from those districts, particularly the former. The class of appellants was different from that of Saturday, and more of the wealthy East Enders were represented than on any day since the assessment began. The complaints of the appellants were often demonstrative, and the clerks had several lively dialogues with appellants who insisted on immediate consideration of their appeals.

Several transcripts came in yesterday that staggered the clerks. One was from Dr. Rex, who made no appeal, but expressed satisfaction at his assessments. Three others were of the same character, but not so strongly worded. The Seventeenth ward appeals began to come in pretty lively and a rush is expected from that big district to-day.

An examination of some appeals passed on by the board shows the necessity for carefulness in preparing them. On some were written, "Don't know what this party wants;" "unintelligible;" or "what does this party want?" On several was the note "No cause assigned here for a reduction. Can't find reason for any," and others still, "Send for this man and ascertain the conditions in that vicinity."

Long List of the Changes Asked. The following reductions from the original assessments were made by the Board of Assessors yesterday in the Fifteenth ward: On Thirty-eighth street, from South street to the river, both sides, 15 per cent off; Thirty-seventh street, from Smallman street to Mulberry alley, right side, to $79 per front

Thirty-seventh street, from Smallman street to Mulberry alley, right side, to $79 per front foot; Penn avenue, from Thirty-second to Thirty-third street, reduced to $160 per front foot, right side; Thirty-seventh street, from Mulberry to Charlotte, to $70 per foot.

In the Frst ward reductions were made as follows: Market street, from Third to Fourth avenues, reduced to $990 per foot on right side; left side, $1.150 per foot for 111-foot depths, $1,600 for 175-toot depths, $1,300 for 108-foot depths on the right side: Market street, Fourth avenue to Diamond Square, left side, 70 and 80-foot depths reduced to $1,200 per front foot; from Diamond Square to Fifth avenue, left side, through to Union street, $2,800 per foot: from Fourth avenue to Diamond Square, right side, 73-foot depths, $1,200 per foot front; Ferry street, from Second avenue to Liberty street, both sides 15 per cent off. On Wood street, from First to Second avenues, 80 foot depths, reduced to $1,000 and from Third to Fourth avenues, $1,200 per foot front. Water street from Wood to Market, through depths, reduced to $1,000 and from Third to Fourth avenues, $1,200 per foot front. Water street from Wood to Market, through depths, reduced to $1,000 per foot depths, $600 and 100 foot depths, $600 front foot. Penn avenue, from Market to Ferry street and westwardly $50 off per front foot. Penn avenue, from Water to Third street, $60 and 100 foot depths, $50 off per front foot. Penn avenue, from Water to Third street, 60 and 100 foot depths, Water to Third street, 60 and 100 foot depths, reduced to $250 per front foot.

John F. Wallace, 25x100 feet, Forty-fourth street, $1,575; owner's value, $1,400. Alexander Gray, 20x75 feet, Fortieth street, $1,375; owner's value, $3,500, 3x100, Main street, $2,135; owner's value, $990. R. P. Houston, 41x100, Butler and Forty-ninth street, $4,374; owner's value, $3,500, also 20x100, Butler street near Forty-ninth, $2,500; owner's value, $2,000. P. A. McClafferty, 40x100 feet, Penn avenue near Forty-fourth, $4,000; owner's value, $2,400, John Seibert, 60x60, Forty-eighth and Harrison streets, $2,205; owner's value, $2,100; also 89x131 feet, Foster and Forty-second streets, $6,300; owner's value, $2,400, also 89x131 feet, Foster and Forty-second streets, $6,300; owner's value, $5,400. R. P. Houston et al, 21x150 feet, Butler near Forty-eighth street, $3,425; offers to soil at $2,800.

Willing to Sell at the Assessors' Figures. Among the Seventeenth ward appeals were the following: Mary L. Paxson has three lots on Forty-second street, 25x105, 25x88 and 20x76 feet, aspessed at $1,450, $1,125 and $900, 20x76 feet, assessed at $1,450, $1,125 and $900, respectively. Her valuation is $350 each for the lots and offers them at that figure.

G. C. Gerwig, lot $5x100 feet, Forty-fourth street, is assessed $5,275, his valuation being $5,000, which he says he paid for it in 1885. Since that time it has not appreciated any in value, according to his statement.

The Duquesne Company offers to sell on easy time payments, five 25 foot lots on Forty-second street, valued as follows: one assessed at $1,350, will sell for $175; one at $1,070, sell $900; one at $1,575; and one at $1,175, sell at $400.

J. P. Murphy, owner of the Lawrence Turner Hall, $60x100 feet, on Butler street, assessed for $17,000 on lot and building, appeals and says he will sell willingly for $15,000.

Among other Seventeenth ward assess-

$15,000.

Among other Seventeenth ward assessments are the following: John Floetich, 100x 100 feet, on Forty-fifth street, $7,210, owner's value, $6,500.

C. J. Schode, 24x135 feet, on Forty-third street, $2,610, owner's value

Forty-third street, $2,610, owner's value $2,000.

Twentieth ward—The valuation fixed on 5½ acres owned by E. G. Mooney, on Ellsworth avenue, between College and O'Hara streets, was $114,313. In his appeal Mr. Mooney states that he bought the property from the William White heirs two years ago for $33,750. Since then he has subdivided it into lots and has been trying to sell them on long time payments at a price that would not aggregate half the amount of the assessor's valuation, but has been only successful in selling three or four. He argues that, considering the interest on his investment and taxes he has to pay, his valuation should not be greater than $33,700.

W. H. Denniston is assessed $75,000 for 2½ acres at Elisworth and Aiken ayenues. His valuation $10,912 feet on Arabelia street from the assessor's figures, $2,250 to $3,000.

tion of 50x120 feet on Arabelia street from the assessor's figures, $2,200 to $3,000. Alex Bradley, assessed $250,000 on 10 acres on Center avenue, asks a reduction to $200, 000. On $3/4 acres lying along the Pennsyl-vania Railroad, which he values at $50,000, the assessor's figures are $22,187, but he says it is almost worthless and he could scarcely give it away except for the building of inferior houses or charities.

Ruined by the Street Car Line. J. M. Schoonmaker is assessed $24,999 on 140x268 feet on Elsworth avenue and Bidwell street. His appeal is that the Duquesne traction cars have affected the property and it should not be assessed at over $150 and it should not be assessed at over $150 per front foot.

D. W. C. Bidwell, assessed $105,000 on 3½ acres on Ellsworth and Bidwell street, appeals for $47,500 or $125 per foot which he says is the rate of a sale made on the opposite side of the street last month.

Christopher Zug, assessed $61,500 on 23% acres at Center and Negley avenues, with dwellings, etc., in his appeal says: "I will sell for $40,000 any time."

E. M. Farryusan appeals as follower. The dwellings, etc., in his appear says: "I will sell for $40,000 any time."

E. M. Fergusan appeals as follows: Two acres and 24 perches, Fifth and Morewood avenues, assessed $53,760—owner's valuation, $43,000; 77x180, Morewood and Castleman avenues, $11,600—owner's figures, $10,780; 240x 180, Morewood exenue, $30,188—owner's figures, $14,784; 79x200 feet, Bidwell street, $11,550—owner's, $11,600; 225x212, Bidwell, $33,750—owner's value, $17,440; 195x200, Bidwell street, $15,450, and ISSx210, in rear, $10,125—owner's value of both, $3.480; 112x200 feet, Noville street, $7,858—owner's value, $11,200.

G. W. Hailman, assessed at $31,750 on 1½ acres, Walnut street, near Shady Lane, asks a cut to $20,000.

acres, Walnut street, near Shady Lane, asks a cut to $20,000. D. H. Hostetter and E. M. Ferguson are assessed $15,000 ou 120x300 feet on Fifth ave-nue near Pitcaira street. They value it at $12,000. Dr. T. A. Rex. assessed $10,360 on 120x219 and $13,000 on dwelling, at Ellsworth avenue and $13 000 on Gwelling, at Ellsworth avenue and Nevillie street, returns his assessment with this rare note: "I am very well satisfied with this assessment—I believe my property worth that much."

E. H. Myers asks a reduction from $42,775 to $17,500 on F% acres at Roup street and Ellsworth avenue, and from $22,500 to $18,750 on 180x225 feet on Roup street.

The Shadyside Academy, assessed at $60,000 for two acres at Ellsworth and Bidwell streets, ask for a reduction to $25,000. They also ask that the building be reduced from $17,395 to $12,000 and that the assessment be classified "rural."

Reductions of One-Half Wanted.

Reductions of One-Half Wanted. Other Twentieth ward assessments are Mary Rees, 21/4 acres, Fifth avenue near Amberson, $62,500; appeal, $37,500. Thomas J. Stevenson, 99x268, Aiken avenue and Dahlia street, $14,700; appeal, $11,880. Thomas Liggett, 174x147. Walnut street, $8,733; appeal, $6,025. Her valuation is $4,000.

Thirty-fourth ward—Thomas Wightman & Co.'s glass plant, on the river front, is assessed as follows: Seven lots, $145,000; improvements, $30,000. D. G. Stewart, agent, makes an appeal for $30,000 valuation of the improvements, and says: "The ilrm of Thomas Wightman & Co. is dissolved, and we do not ever expect to start factory again, as the expense of chancing it from gas to coal would cost more than would be justified by the investment."

J. W. Friend, agent for E. H. Reath's trust, appeals for a cut from $22,300 to $13,000 on

J. W. Friend, agent for E. H. Reath's trust, appeals for a cut from $22,300 to $13,000 on 140x170 feet on Main street, near the Panhandle railroad, and from $5,340 to $3,000 on 33x273 feet on Carson street. Mr. Friend also appeals on the old rolling mill plant on Carson street, tronting 450 feet and running back to the river, assessed at $40,500 on ground and $30,400 on mill and machinery. The appeal says: "The plant has been for sale for six years, and has decreased in value since last assessment, as has all property surrounding it in Thirty-fourth ward. The mill improvemements would only sell for scrap iron." R. J. Friend, assessed $21,556 on lot 130x177 feet and $2,500 on 20x80 feet on Main, near Carson streets, values both at $15,000. Marthn Friend, assessed $5,760 on 96x 95 feet on Main street, wants it reduced to $1,500 became the Panhandle Railroad has a right of way over it.

The Pittsburg and Lake Eric Railroad asks a cut from $48,600 to $32,400 on 648x118 feet on Carson street and say they only paid $35,000 for it which was more than its value.

A Kick From Charity. Eighth ward-Charles Donnelly is assessed $15,400 on 75x265 foot lot and $20,000 on building, occupied as the Rosalia Foundling ing, occupied as the Rosalia Foundling Asylum. His appeal states that the property was purchased four months ago for $23,000, and the best offer ever made for it by real estate dealers was $18,500. He says that being a strictly charity institution it should be exempt from taxation.

Thomas Hill's heirs, assessed at $2,500 on 24 x80 feet on Center avenue near Tannehill street, appealed for a rating at $1,500, and on 24x133 feet on Tannehill street, assessed at $1,920, their value is $1,800.

George Yost, assessed at $5,170 on 22x124 feet on Wylie near Fulton street, asks a cut to $4,840.

James Harrison asks a cut from $1.867 to $1,800 on 13x69 feet on Webster near Fulton street, and from $2.800 to $1,500 on 20x60 feet on Webster near Townsend street.

A. J. Beny assessed at $2,100 on 22x130 feet on Clark street, asks a cut to $1,200.

Thomas Jones, Jr., offers to sell gladily for $30,000 448 feet fronting the river and extending to Grandview avenue, which the assessors valued at $47,040.

W. C. & J. M. Taylor's salt works lot, 300x 155 feet, on Wabash avenue, Thirty-sixth ward, is valued at $13,500 and the building at $6,000 They appeal for $12,000 and $6,000 respectively. to $4,840.

A New Cemetery at Millvale. The St. Augustine congregation at Lawrenceville has purchased 14 acres for a new cemetery in Shaler township for $4,100. The property joins the new cemetery purchased a little more than a year ago by the St. Antonius congregation at Millvale, and the St. Stanislaus (Polish) of Lawrenceville. Both cemeteries are located only a short distance from Millvale. Some time in May it is the intention to have it blessed. The work of purchasing lots and removing a great many of the dead from other cemeteries will then be commenced.

A Heavy Shipment to the West. W. M. Clark, commercial agent of the Missouri Pacific road, went to Springfield yesterday to see about a large shipment of agricultural implements to the Southwest, A special train of 52 cars will be run. Mr. Clark says they have all been sold, and will be distributed at various points in the Western States. The train will start from Springfield this morning. The farmers are certainly feeling better when they buy reapers and mowers, and it is an indication that business is reviving.

Not the Fault of the Firemen. John A. Crawford, whose house at 395 River avenue was destroyed by fire Thursday night, yesterday said the delay of 25 minutes before the engines reached his house was caused by a thick-headed watchman at Herr's Island stockyards who forgot to turn in an alarm. He says the Ellsworth En-gine Company responded as soon as the alarm was sounded.

D. W. Lowler, a Party Leader, Tells of a Democratic Trick

TO DEFEAT HIS CITY AND GROVER.

Hill-Gorman-Brice Combination After the Ex-President.

THE NORTHWEST FOR TARIFF REFORM

Daniel W. Lawler, of St. Paul, a prom inent lawyer and one of the acknowledged leaders of the Democratic party in Minne-sota, is with his wife visiting James H. Fahenestock on North avenue, Allegheny. Mr. Lawler graduated from Yale College with George Shiras Third. He married a Pittsburg lady shortly after his graduation and the two are making their first extended visit to this city since their mar-

Mr. Lawler was at Washington last week at the head of a delegation of St. Paul Democrats urging upon the National Democratic Committee the importance of selecting St. Paul in which to hold the approaching National Democratic Convention. Mr. Lawler, in a brilliant speech, recited the claims of his city. When Chicago was chosen as the convention city the St. Paul people were surprised and disgusted. The claims of Chicago had not been presented to the committee. On the contrary, the committee had been notified that Chicago had no desire that the convention should go there.

Brice Is Accused of Trickery. "That is what surprised us," Mr. Lawler said last night. "Our people had made an arrangement with the Chicago people, and, while Chicago did not want the convention, we did want it. I am satisfied we were tricked out of it by Brice, Gorman and probably Hill. It was a scheme of the Hill crowd to defeat Grover Cleveland and to keep the convention away from a Cleve-and State."

"Will Mr. Cleveland be knocked out?" "That is a hard question. I can say he should not be knocked out."

"Will Senator Hill be nominated?"
"No, I think not. If Cleveland cannot get the nomination, I think Senator Gorman, of Maryland, will be chosen as the candidate. Hill knows he cannot be elected, but I think he also knows that he can keep the nomination from Cleveland."
"If nominated, could Cleveland be "Beyond question. While Gorman is careful, conservative man, we recognize in Mr. Cleveland the author of the principles of the Democratic party, and, while the platform of the party might be formed for any other candidate from Cleveland's principles. ciples, we want the author of our principles as our candidate on his own platform."

"What has Cleveland or any other Demo-cratic candidate to hope for from the great Northwest?" Cleveland Can Sweep the West. Cleveland has everything to hope for With him as the candidate we can carry Minnesota and Wisconsin just so sure as an election is held. Our people are for tariff refiorm and the best evidence of our regard for our principles is shown in the fact that in the last Congress our State had a solid Re publican delegation and in the present Con gress the Democrata have a majority of the delegation in Congress from our State. "When the last Congressional fight in our State opened we were all confused and had but little hope of electing even one had but little hope of electing even one Democratic Congressman. Mills, of Texas, heard of our position. He came to St. Paul, made one speech. It was the keynote and it swept our State. Mr. Mills merely spoke for Mr. Cleveland and our people now want more of both Mills and Cleveland. That is what Mr. Cleveland has to hope for.

"Can Cleveland be elected without New York"

"I believe he can. If he can get the nom nation without New York I think that State will swing in line for him at the general election. If not, then he must be killed of at the nominating convention, and I believe an effort is being made to destroy him bevestments in Alabama The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Markle City Land and Improvement Company was held at Sylacauga, Ala., last Thursday. James W. Drape, a member o the company, returned to his home in Allegheny last night. At the annual meeting Major Vogleson, of Pittsburg, presided. The name of the company was changed to the Sylncauga Land Company.

The following directors were chosen for the ensuing year: William M. Caa, S. E. Noble, S. E. Roberts, and S. Katzenstein of Anniston, Ala.; Major Vogleson, W. W of Anniston, Ala.; Major Vogleson, W. W. Acheson, James W. Drape and I. D. Hailman, of Pittsburg, and H. A. Caldwell, of Kittanning, Pa. The report of the treasurer of the company showed gross assets in real estate, hotel, bank building and factories to be $660,000, free of all liabilities. The Penn Cotton Mills, of Allegheny, are to be removed to the Southern city, and a great amount of Pittsburg capital is expected to go there also.

Cannot Get a Forecast Official. At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, Colonel T. P. Roberts reported that in regard to the request for a local forecast official, he had received notice from Secretary of Agriculture Rusk that only 20 meh officials were allowed by law and that all have been assigned. The Chamber then passed a resolution asking Congress to pro-vide for the appointment of another official for Pittsburg.

Plans for the New Station.

Plans for the new central police station have been completed and the contract has been let. The old Oak alley church will be remodeled inside to suit the requirements of a prison. The lower floor will be fitted with 28 cells and a court room. The upper floor will be used for matrons' apartments, bath-rooms and sleeping apartments. Work will be started soon

ILLINOIS FOR BLAINE

Mr. McNulta Thinks Indiana Is Lost to the Republicans for Next Fall.

John McNulta, a prominent Chicago politician, registered at the Duquesne yesteritician, registered at the Duquesne yesterday. About three years ago he pressed Governor Fife, of Illinois, very hard for the Republican nomination, and he is slated for the place. "I am a Gresham man," said
Mr. MeNulta, "and one of the famous 306. Out in Illinois now we are all for Blaine. All the Gresham men are red hot for the Secretary of State. I am not posted on Democratic politics, but Senator Palmer is the strongest Democrat mentioned in Illinois for the Presidency. The fact that he carried a Republican State for the United States Senate gives him standing.
The impression is that Illinois would remain loyal to him. Morrison is spoken of occasionally, and he is a good man."

"Could Blaine carry Indiana?" was asked.

Mr. McNulta shook his head slowly and then said: "I don't believe there is a Re-publican who can carry that State next fall. The party leaders have gotten into a snarl there. For that matter things have changed in Indiana and Illinois. Neither party has much advantage over the other in either State. Illinois is no longer an as-sured Republican State. You speak of the Chilean trouble. Ah, that is another sub-ject. The Americans are very slow to go to war, but once hostilities are declared every citizen will support the Government. I think if the Presidental nominations had been made, the trouble with Chile could soon be disposed of."
