GAS GIVES OUT AGAIN.

Freezing Was Again the Fashion All Over the Two Cities.

An Expert Says the Natural Fuel Will Play Out This Year.

COLONEL SELLERS' TALLOW DIP BEATEN

It is like leaving the "warm precincts of the cheerful day" and going out into gloom and damp fog to most people to think of giving up natural gas fires, but yesterday seemed to convince the most skeptical that by another winter they must go back to coal, and some thought it as well to get there at once, stating that they would shut off the stuff at furthest at next settlement day. After the first shiver is over most people come to the conclusion that after all bituminous coal isn't such bad fuel-much etter than corncobs and buffalo chips.

Those who had taken the precaution put in asbestos fronts in their grates or sheet fron stoves in their rooms were in tolerable shape, but a gas fire in an open grate yesterday was a "barren ideality" worth no more than Colonel Sellers' tallow dip behind a worst one yet, but fortunately the weather very cold. At the Central Stock Varies the was fixtures were taken out for od. Mr. Korte, restaurant keeper, comthe Philadelphia Company to pay his gas bill and ask why, as in the world of chance, water when put over a gas fire was as like to freeze as boil, and the Superintendent reelied that he ought to be thankful that he and any gas at all.

In most of the restaurants about the Diamond Market the cooks were using store boxes to roast meat and bake bread, a seldition to what little gas they could get. In some law offices coal and natural gas combined kept Blackstonians from freezing. The Court House boilers were mainly heated with coke. The Citizens' Insurance people and Arbuckles & Co. had added coal stoves and were using both kinds of fuel in separate stoves. Attorney C. K. Yesger stated that there was gas in the morning, but at noon the Allegheny Heating Company's supply had come so short that on Stockton avenue if a woman turned suddenly the disturbance of the air by her skirts would extinguish all the fires in a house, and these instances were amples of what could be heard in all di-

The trouble seems to be, as George I. Whitney says, that while the Philadelphia Company has considerable gas, it hasn't enough to make much pressure on 700 or 800 es of pipe. He exhibited the daily records f pressure on the Bridgewater Gas Com my's nines where there is sufficient for all urposes. The pressure varies there from 50 5 pounds, and as five ounces make ference of supply between that company and the Philadelphia Company is very strongly marked. The latter hadn't a dram pressure in some houses. Mr. Whitney this winter and will have a sufficient sum-mer supply, but the jig will be up by next He also stated that it was the settled policy of the Bridgewater Company to have a fresh well come in every 60 days during the winter, as it not only contributed to keep up the pressure, but the demonstration made by letting a new roarer n occasionally had a beneficial action of

For Lung Troubles - Always Reliable. UPPER BLACK EDDY, BUCKS Co., PA., November 24, 1891.

GENTLEMEN-I was a boatman for a good many years on the Delaware and Lehigh Canal, and being continually exposed to all kinds of bad weather, frequently contracted severe colds which would lay me up for weeks. The most severe cold I ever got citied on my lungs. I had very severe pains all through my chest and under my shoulder blades. My throat was sore, and it seemed that the air passages were all closing up. I could not sleep at night owing to the distressing cough. My misery was so great I did not know what to do with myself. All medicines failed to bring me any relief. A friend who had been similarly afflicted and cured by Dr. D. Jayne's Ex-I had finished taking the second bottle I was a well man, I think Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant is the best medicine in the world for coughs and lung diseases, and I do conscientiously recommend it to all that are afflicted as I was. A. F. HARWICK.

Underground Cable Company held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon. A divi-dend of 1½ per cent was declared. The an-MORE CONSUMERS RETURN TO COAL | nual report of the Vice President and General Manager, J. W. Marsh, was read. pany of Minneapolis, which amounted to over 425,000 feet of cable. There was no contest, and Mr. Georg Westinghouse, Jr., was re-elected as President, and the old Board of Directors were also re-elected as follows: George Westing house, Jr., Mark W. Watson, John H. Dal-zell, James H. Willock, John B. Jackson, George B. Hill, John Moorhead, Jr., Robert Pitcairn and Joseph W. Marsh.
