DISPATCH, THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1892 THE PITTSBURG

said to be clear and unequivocal. Nothing whatever is left of the Matta note, which is not only withdrawn but apologized for. The Answer Londed With Regrets.

The most sincere regret is expressed for the Baltimore incident, and the offer to refer it to the Supreme Court is said to be more than a proposition for a settlement-that it is made as an illustration of the friendly feelings of the Ghileans toward the United States, beside showing their willing-ness to leave the matter to our courts for settlement. The expressions of cordiality toward this country are profuse.

It is said that the whole tone of the docu-ment is apparently so sincere, friendly and manly, and leaves the matter in such shape that it is hardly possible to fail to bring the two countries closer together, and re-sult in an amicable adjustment of the whole difficulty. The dispatch is especially clear and vigorous in repelling the charge of hostility on the part of the Chileans to the American flag and the American uniform. In effect it says: "Chile hate the American uniform? No! Too well does she remember that flag and that uniform in her ports and harbors aiding her in her struggle for independence." (Referring to Chile's straggle years ago to achieve independence.)

The prospect of war, it is thought, is now over, and that while considerable remains to be done before the controversy in its entirety will be closed and simply a matter of history, yet the affair is in such a shape as to bring the two nations closer together. and make further proceedings a matter of comparatively easy adjustment.

Chairman Blount Well Pleased.

In order to relieve the public mind as to the exact status of the Chilean controversy, Chairman Blount, of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives, this afternoon gave to the Associated Press all his knowledge of the latest phase of the

"All my information," said he, "was im-parted to me to-day by Secretary Blaine, and I specially asked him if I was free to convey my knowledge to others. He as-sented, and therefore I suppose there can be no objection to a statement of my part. As I understand, the telegrom which the State Department has received is from Senor Pereira, the Chilean Secretary of Foreign Affairs, and is perfectly satisfactory to this Government. Mr. Blaine seemed to be very much elated over the dispatch, as indicating that the whole controversy is now at an end. I do not mean at an end as to minor details, but at an end as a grave international question.

"You mean that the apology was ample," interrupted Congressman Springer, who was among the little coterie of Congressmen that had gathered around during Mr. Blount's statement.

Complete Compliance With All Requests. "No, I don't say that at all, in so many words," said Mr. Blount. "I mean simply as far as the whole question is concerned there is complete compliance with our wishes as expressed in the final demand of the State Department. I cannot quote the exact language of the dispatch, a translation of which, I will say, was shown to me by Mr. Blaine. I read it hastily, to see the spirit of it. It covered six or seven sheets of fooiscap, and there was in expressed terms great regret-indeed, the whole spirit of it was regret - at the Baltimore occurrence, and utter disavowal of any ill feeling toward the American uniform worn by our sailors on that occasion. To give you a sample, it says about this: 'Chile hate the American uniform? No! Too well does she remember that uniform in her ports and harbors anding her in her struggle for independence. To illustrate the feeling we entertain toward the American Republic we are willing to submit the whole matter of the Baltimore affair to that august body, your Supreme Court.' I do not quote per-haps the exact words of the dispatch, but years. the effect of it all was to say: 'It is not necessary to submit this thing to the Supreme Court, but, in order to show you our Park Female Seminary of Rochester, N. Y., a feeling toward you, we are willing to sub-mit it to your Supreme Court.' They withfeeling toward you, we are willing to sub-mit it to your Supreme Court.' The treatment at the hospital failed of immediate effect, and he became convinced that his complaint was incurable. He grew manifestly more and more despondent. He seemed, however, more cheerful than usual when breakfast was brought to him in his room on the third floor to-day, and when he had eaten all that he wanted the attendant left him alone.

an error of judgment, and they are to meet the American demands."

Not a Bit of Apparent Hostillty,

"But what about the apology we de-manded?" again interrupted a member of Congress. "I cannot say that it is made in specific form," replied Mr. Blount, "but the whole argumentation and declaration of feeling and regret, the action taken by the Government to have the guilty parties arrested-all these illustrations are given as to their feelings in the attempt to exhaust the idea that there was any hostility toward us." "Mr. Blaine regarded the question as settled?" "He seemed very much elated over the dispatch, and to regard it as an assurance of the end of the controversy. While the apology may not be put in diplomatic lan-guage, the dispatch is just as full and comin its regret of the whole affair as could be."

Turning to Mr. Springer Mr. Blount said: "I tell you the bottom is out of it-that is sll. The administration would not have a straw to stand on, if it continued to make demands with that dispatch in its face. But I have no idea that they are going to force it any further. No one can read that entire correspondence, gentlemen, without feeling the utmost sympathy at the almost humil-iating attitude of the Chilean Government." The Document to Be Published To-Day.

"Will your Committee on Foreign Af fairs meet to-merrow?" Chairman Blounwas asked.

'Yes, but we will have nothing to do now. of course. Mr. Blaine informed me that the President would send Chile's answer in to-day or to-morrow, so I suppose it will come in to-morrow.

Mr. Cable, of Illinois, a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, was present during Mr. Blount's statement. "The war is over," said he, laughingly to the Associated December 2017 Press reporter. "I am glad at the very sat-isfactory turn matters have taken, and I think it is now time for the great American nation to be generous. Apology having been made and a willingness to submit the determination of indemnity to our own Supreme Court having been expressed, we need not be exacting as to the amount of the award. The principle is what we were alter, and that having been conceded, we will be too liberal, 1 am sure, to impose undue financial penalties on our already bankrupt sister Republic."

Private Secretary Halford said to-night that the additional correspondence between the United States and Chile would be sent to Congress to-morrow. It will be compar-stively brief, and will not aggregate more than about 2 000 mode. than about 2,000 words.

When the Apology Arrived.

When the Apology Arrived. There has been much speculation as to the time the administration received the first intimation of Chile's apology and con-cessions, and some members of Congress have even hazarded the statement that the President had received Chile's reply to the ultimatum before the executive message was communicated to Congress, on Monday. This false impression, which threatened to become general in some unarrest to might become general in some quarters to-night, Chairman Blount seeks to correct. "As I understand it," said he, "the dis-parch from Chile was received by the administration early yesterday (Tuesday) morning. At 10:30 o'clock I had information from the President by confidential message that a dispatch had been received from Chile at the Sinte Department, but that it had not been yet translated. So Chile's answer was not received until the following the transmission of the President's message to Congress.'
