We have received letters on this important subject asking for some definite information as to the proposed checker tournaments that are to be held during the progress of the World's Fair at Chicago. The Four C's Club has issued nothing definite yet as to the nature of these tournaments, whether it will be State against State, or a world's tournament of a few of the leading players of all nations. But as soon as the Chicago brethren announce their plans in some definite form, we then will be able to know how to organize. If there is to be no State team matches, the State representatives would not be called upon to organize. Pennsylvania can put a team of 19 to 15 experts in the field that would be willing to organize and go to Chicago to meet the same number of We have received letters on this important experts of any other State. We think this is a subject well worth considering by other States. We are well aware that New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin. Minnesota, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and a creat many other States could put good teams forward, and such a tournament would be of far more national interest than anything else. Nevertheless we would like to see a tournament of a few of the leading experts of England, Scotland, Ireland, Australia, New Zealand and any other nation desirous of being represented and a few of the leading experts of this country. Such a tournament would be a great event, and would command the attention of the checker players of the world. But for a purely national gathering we suggest the devisers to give the State team idea some consideration. We think this question should be taken up by our brother editors. E. A. Durgin, of Massachusetts; L. M. Stearns, of New Hampshire: Joseph Brown and Mr. Lewis, of Rhode Island: J. W. Keeney, of Kentucky: Dr. Hull, of Michigan; De Freest, M. F. Clouser, etc., of New York, and all of the representative chacker editors of other States should ventilate this important subject.

Though there is over one year before the great event, yet the getting of a representative team together and the practice necessary to be in condition for such an occasion, cannot be got into shape in a short time. With this in view, we start this agitation, so that State organizations can be made, with a view of taking part in such tournaments. We hope the Chicago Chess and Checker Club will soon be able to lay before the public their plans, and we assure them we will do all in our power to assist them in this great undertaking. We know that the Chicago brethren have their hands full in an undertaking of other States to help them as much as possible to make Dameth a grand success, and to make it an epoch in her history that will go down to generations as the greatest representative gathering that ever gathered at the shrine of the fair goddess. CHECKER ITEMS OF INTEREST. J. L. Richmond, one of the leading experts of England, visited Allendale January 9 and played all comers. After three hours' play the score stood: Richmond, 19 wins; lost, 1; drawn, 5. Afterward he was entertained at supper and a pleasant time was spent in songs and social intercourse. This latter is a great feature of all such occasions in England, and we Americans would not suffer from following the example.

A good story is related of the late Judge Warren, who had been in his day County Attorney of Bristol, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, President of the Masachusetts Senate, and President of the Boston and Providence Railroad. While acting in this latter capacity he was on board a train one morning, which was running down Sharon Hill at an unusually rapid rate, when the confuctor, one Ben G——, discovered that something belonging to the engine was that something belonging to the engine was that something belonging to the engine was out of gear.

A stop was accordingly made for a brief space to repair damages. The engineer did not know the President, and the latter, thinking that something out of the ordinary course of events had happened, left his seat and went out to the machine just as the engineer had finished the repairs and was remounting the cab.

"What is the cause of this sudden stoppage, Mr. Engineer? Was it anything out of the common?"

"Oh, no. Quite a usual occurrence just about here. It was only a couple of woodchucks playing checkers on the track, and I didn't want to break up the game too suddenly. All aboard?"

The Judge, who in his day enjoyed the reputation of being the wittlest man in New England, took in the situation with one of the broadest of smiles.—Globe.

Stearns, draughts editor of the Derry News. Barden and Cairns, late from Scotland, lead in the order named. Their per cent is very close, but as Barden has only played 9 games to Cairns' 20, it is hard to say who the victor will be. We think the example of Mr. Stearns speaks volumes, in comparison to some who think they are all that Dameth has left.
