MANY ACCOUNTS ARE OVERDRAWN

The Last Complication of the Celebrated Paker Case Settled.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NEARBY TOWNS

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. CHICORA, Feb. 2.-New developments in the case of the Hoyt bank failure are so sensational that an expert accountant has been sent for. This morning the appraisers started to investigate the books. The appraisers found a number of accounts largely overdrawn. Some are for comparatively small amounts, while others run away up into the thousands. The account of one person, for instance, who is prominent in the county, and superintendent of several oil concerns, is overdrawn between $8,000 and $9,000, while others also run up into the thousands.

These overdrafts are certain to bring trouble to those concerned in the oil companies, as it is the stated intention to collect every dollar, if possible. The result of to-day's examination shows the assets to be not more than $10,000, and liabilities three times that sum. Among the books and papers were found a number of dead and worthless notes aggregating several thousands of dollars, which are not worth a penny on the hundred. Owen Brady, who made an assignment last fall, is overdrawn to the extent of $4,000.

People here are greatly agitated, though it

People here are greatly agitated, though it is not believed any business firm will be pushed to the wall. The books will be examined for years back, and an effort will be made to have the original stockholders set-

LAST RESULTS OF A TRAGEDY.

The Final Complications of the Old Baker

Murder Case Now Settled. STEUBENVILLE, Feb. 2 -[Special.]-Another and probably the final chapter in the cole brated Baker case, was written to day in the Circuit Court of Hancock county, W. Va., when Robert P. Patterson, executor in the estate of Drusilla McWha and Eliza J. Baker turned over to the guardian of Albert Lee, residuary legatee of both victims of the awful tragedy, the sum of $10,000. The executor purchased the claim of murderer Van Baker, which had been assigned to his attorney after he had been convicted and sent to the penitentiary for life for the killing of to the penitentiary for life for the killing of Mrs. Baker and her mother, Drusilla McWha, This ends the last complication of the estate which grew out of the murder. While Van Eaker was in Wisconsin his wife wrote that her mother had made a will bequeathing her property to her (Mrs. Baker), and in the event of her death, to the grandson. Mrs. Baker had also made a will bequeathing her husband $1,000 and making the same grandson a residuary legatee. Baker wrote so a lawyer asking for information recarding inheritance. He was answered that if the mother died first the daughter would inherit under the will, and if the daughter died without a will her husband would inherit all. That was the motive of his double crime, which was committed in 1887.

ERIE'S CORONER MISSING.

He Leaves His Wife Penniless, and Mental Aberration Is Surmised,

EHE, Feb. 2 .- [Special.]-David A. Hendrick, Coroner of Erie county, has disap-peared. He is also a life insurance agent, and stood high in the Grand Army and church circles. Sunday he left the city, buying a ticket for Cleveland, and had his trunk shipped after him. The only information shipped after him. The only information given his wife was that contained in a card, stating that he had left for parts unknown. Mrs. Hendricks has been left penniless. It transpires to day that Hendrick, who had been Trenspirer of the Golden Cycle Saxon Mail League and one or two other beneficiary organizations, was short in his accounts, but the amounts in no instance exceed $30, and his friends are unwilling to believe that he left on that account. He had been in ill health for some time, and the charitable construction of mental aberration is put upon his conduct by many. His accounts as Coroner are straight.

WILBUR FOLSOM COMMITS SUICIDE.

A Relative of Mrs. Cleveland Shoots Him-

An effort was made to suppress the real cause of death, and the facts in the case were not known till last evening.

The creek at not found until the afternoon. The creek at this point is only 18 inches deep, and Mack-ey's ince was barely under water. Coroner Johnson was summoned and an investiga-tion is now in progress. It is believed he fell into the creek and was unable to rise, as he was drunk.
