District Attorney Burleigh spoke when court reconvened in the afternoon, and at 2 o'clock Judge Kennedy charged the jury. Mr. Burleigh told the jury that it should not bring in a first degree verdict because the case did not warrant it. Judge Kennedy also made this statement and defined the verdicts possible for the jury to agree upon. At 4 o'clock the jury returned a verdict of voluntary manslaughter, and the prisoner

But a few provisions of the military academy appropriation bill remained to be passed and respected residents. Not one is obscure, not one is unknown. In every case is the upon this morning but when the committee full name given, and the residence, with street and number, and to this is added in of the whole reported the amended measure to the House the Republicans demanded the many instances the place of business. Not only this, but the people who have thus yeas and navs on one or two of the Democratic amendments reducing various items willingly offered their testimony, have done so from a feeling of gratitude for benefits of appropriations. They were voted down, however, and the bill as finally passed con received, and all will be glad to have any nowever, and the bill as intally passed contains various reductions, aggregating in the total about $65,000.

On motion of Mr. Belknap, of Michigan, April 2 was set apart for culogies to the late M. H. Ford, of Michigan. The House then went into committee of the whole on the calendar. The first bill on the calendar one who doubts the genuiness of the statements, or who desires to inquire more par-ticularly into the details, to call and satisfy his mind on every point. Every day persons call at the offices of Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers to be examned and take treatment who make remarks

"I know Mr. O'Donnell well (or Mr. Nick-aids, or Mr. Buckley, or some of the others who have offered testimony), and when I saw his statement I knew it was all right, for he is a reliable man."

Do Brs. Copeland, Hall and Byers ask any-thing unreasonable when they solicit belief in the statements of Pittsburg's old and re-liable citizens? When they court the fullest, freest and most searching investigation into the character of the evidence, is there any-thing more to be desired by truth-loving people?

the character of the evidence, is there anything more to be desired by truth-loving people?

Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers do not profess to be performing miracles; they are not doing anything so unusual or extraordinary that it is beyond belief. They are simply doing that which they have spent a lifetime of study and investigation to equip themselves to do well—and that is curing catarrh and its protracted train of painful and fatal ills. Is their success incredible? On the contrary, is it not rather to be expected? If any intelligent person should spend as much energy, as much industrious effort, as much persistent mental application and original investigation upon any other problem in the sciences or arts as Dr. Copeland and his associates have spent on this subject of curing catarrh would he not be expected to succeed? He most assuredly would. The failure to accomplish great undertakings is what excites comment and remark in these days of rapid progress; not success, for which everyone is looking.

Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers are as certain that they can cure catarrh as Edison is that he can reproduce sounds through the phonograph, or as any scientist is or can be of the results of his studies, and all they ask is that not only the character of the testimony presented be investigated, but also and especially that their oredentials and the years of study and training they have gone through to specially prepare themselves for this work, be looked into with equal rigor and exactness. They are willing to stand or fall by the result. The next measure in order was one auhorizing the Postmaster General to credit A. J. Jones, Sr., late Postmaster of Indian-apolis, in the final settlement of his acapoils, in the final settlement of his accounts, with the sum of $2,438, the amount of loss sustained by him by robbery. Mr. Bynum, Indiana, advocated the bill, contending that the loss occurred through no fault of Mr. Jones. This measure was mainly discussed all the atternoon, and Mr. Bunn, of North Carolina, finally moved that the bill be reported to the House with the recommendates that it he hid on the the recommendaton that it be laid on the table. On motion of Mr. Pickler, of South Dakota, March 12 was set apart for the delivery of eulogies upon the late J. R. Gamble, of South Dakota. The Aquilla Jones bill then came up again, but without action the House adjourned until to-morrow. The Different Seasons Bring Their Different Diseases and Symptoms Peculiar to Each Disease-Mrs. Burns' Case.

The observing specialist notices at this season a predominance of neuralgic pains in conjunction with catarrhal troubles. These neuralgic pains are generally located directly above each eye and through the tem-ples-super-orbital neuralgia they are known to physicians—and they are so se-vere at times us to cause the most excruciating agony. These pains are also fre-quently observed in the chest and more particularly the left chest, shooting through to the shoulder blade, and when accompanied by congle cause considerable anxiety on the part of the patient.

Before the first month's treatment expired I feit almost as well as ever, and all my friends noticed and remarked the great improvement in my voice. It is now two months since I began treatment. I haven't an ache or pain about me and feel that I am entirely cured. I want to publicly express my gratitude towards Drs. DEAR SHEE—I desire to give you a history of my case. I have suffered from catarrh for a number of years, just how many I don't know, but for the last five years I have been troubled a great deal. I have tried other doctors and got no relief. I had become a nuisance to myself as well as to my family. I need to go around coughing, hawking, and spitting until they would beg me to leave the house.

An Important Fifth Sander. Guckert & Steele's No. 2, on the Burlinal lot at Willow Grove, did not get into the sand yesterday as expected, but it should be in early to-day. It is an im-portant well, as it is southeast of Aiken & Co.'s well, on the Patterson property, and northeast of Stafford, Clark & Co.'s big well on the Faraday lot.

The latter well was reported to have been drilled deeper into the sand yesterday and last evening it was reported to be flowing at the rate of 1,000 barrels a day. Whether this is true or not, there is no question but that it is a good well and will bring its owners in many thousands of dollars. Hussel & McMullen are drilling No.'s 5, 6, 7 and 8, on the Wettengell farm and they are building a rig for No. 9. The wells

The Devonian Oil Company is building a rig for its No. 6 on the Elliot farm, and for No. 4 on the J. H. Robb farm. Greenlee & Forst expect to get into the sand to-morrow at their No. 3 on the Wade farm at McDonald, and they are also hopeful of getting the tools out of their No. 1 Gladden. Smith & Co.'s well at Sistersville, located on the Stocking farm, is reported as dry and filled up with salt water. Outside Operations. A correspondent at Nineveh, Greene county, sent in a telegram last evening that the Smith No. 5 had been shot and was making 45 barrels an hour. It was reported to have broken the connections. AFTER THE GRIPPE. The Grippe Responsible for More Deaths

It is sad to think how many people have died who might have been saved it nature had been properly assisted and fortified after the Grippe had been driven from the system. Many physicians realized this fact, and assisted their patients over the danger ous after effects by bracing up and stimulating their systems. This was, and can be done in but one way, and that is by the steady and moderate use of some pure yet powerful stimulant. There is but one absolutely pure and medicinal stimulant known to the profession and to the public, and that is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. The most prominent scientists and physicians of the land endorse its purity and value. It is not a new whiskey, it has been before the public for years. It is not a cheap decection, but

The consummation of the deal by which the Reading leases the Lehigh Valley and Jersey Central properties, the Lackawanna becoming an ally of the combination, to control and regulate the anthracite coal trade, was preceded and attended by intense activity and rapid advances in that group of stocks and those of some allied concerns. The speculative share market now exhibits a subsidence of the excitement, although the anticipated favorable effects of the arrange ment will, it is urged, have in time a stimulating influence on the general market. Masland—Robert Masland, 25 years old, a farmer who lived with his parents on the Butler plank road, near Saxonburg, was almost instantly killed by falling from a load of hay on Forbes street yesterday morning. Masland was on his way out to the stable of Charles Clarke to deliver a load of hay, and in turning off the tracks on Forbes street, near the top of Sono hill, to allow a car to pass, he slipped and fell from the wagon and, his head striking on the curbstone, was injured so badly that he died a short time after in the Mercy Hospital. An inquest will be held to-day.

HOULTER—John Houlter, an employe at Carnegie's Thirty-third street mill, was struck on the head by a piece of flying metal last evening and sustained a severe scalp wound. He was removed to his home on Liberty avenue.

Bruchler—Fred Beuchler, aged 10 years, was struck and almost instantly killed at 10:45 o'clock last night by Troy Hill car No. 141, of the Pittsburg, Allegheny and Manchester Traction Company, at Federal and South Diamond streets, Allegheny. The boy was the son of Fred Beuchler, the Allegheny saloonkeeper. From the statement made relative to the accident, he had gotten off a Western avenue car of the Manchester line and attempted to cross Federal street at South Diamond. As he did so car No. 141, Troy Hill branch, struck and knocked him down, injuring him internally and crushing his bead. Patrol wagon No. 2 was called and the lad was removed to the Allegheny General Hospital, where he died at 11 o'clock. The names of the motorman or conductor of the car could not be learned. The parents of the boy reside at No. 35 West Diamond street, Allegheny.
