

NOT A FINE ART YEAR.

There Will Be No Gallery at the Exposition This Season. TWO BANDS ALREADY ENGAGED, Including the One Headed by Levy, the Celebrated Cornetist.

OTHER CHANGES THAT ARE ANNOUNCED

There will be no art gallery at the Exposition this year, but sensational stories printed yesterday to the effect that the society was unable to secure music for the coming season were disproved the same day. Last evening Manager Johnson, in speaking of the subject, said: "After careful consideration the board has determined to employ Levy, the great cornetist, and his band of 40 musicians, for the first 22 days of the Exposition season. For the remaining 18 days, Liberal's band is secured. This feature of engaging two bands instead of one as heretofore for the entire season, will, I think, be a pleasant departure from the plan usually pursued. It will enable the management to present something new from time to time. Our aim has constantly been to engage the best talent obtainable for the pleasure of our patrons, and the plan will in addition put each band on its mettle, and the public can intelligently decide which is the best organization. Each conductor has his own ideas in the manner of preparing his programme, and will introduce many new features in the musical line. We think there is no question that the idea of the two entirely different bands cannot fail to be a pleasant innovation, besides being an additional attraction and drawing card.

Friend of the Selection. "I have heard several of the bands play during my visit in New York, and I think the selection made will meet with the approval of our patrons. We have only one object in view, that being to contribute to the enjoyment of our visitors, and we believe we are taking a step in the right direction.

"I see the local musicians are not pleased with the selection of outside musical talent. This was expected and it makes no difference to us. We have decided it is for the best interests of the Exposition to engage foreign bands. The board is unanimous on that point, and the decision was made from a business standpoint. The directors are not men who are easily prejudiced or warped in their judgment and when they make up their minds that a certain course should be pursued or a line of policy adopted they do so fearlessly. Opposition will not change their plans or affect them in the slightest degree.

No Fine Art Department This Year. "It has been decided to do away with the fine art department this season, take down the partitions in the art galleries and throw the several rooms into one. This will make a hall about 54x112 feet, which will comfortably seat from 800 to 1,000 persons. A stage will be erected at one end, and entertainments of various kinds, pleasing and strictly first-class, will be given several times a day. Just what these performances will consist of has not been decided upon, but something in the nature of illustrated lectures, readings, concerts and other features of a similar character will be introduced. This plan is an innovation, and cannot fail to be an instructive, attractive novelty, which I think will be appreciated by those who attend the Exposition. Details of the scheme will be given out later.

"It has also been decided to erect a carousal merry-go-round, for the pleasure of the young folks, on the park at the west end of the main building. This carousal will be speedily contracted for, and will be one of the best in the country. We think young and old alike will patronize it.

An Exhibit of Sanitary Appliances. "I had a committee from the Plumbers' Association meet this morning in reference to preparing an exhibit of sanitary appliances. The exhibit will show in detail many points at present unimportant. It is an exhibit which is deserving of the greatest attention. I hope the exhibit will be made from the fact the gentlemen composing the committee are heartily in favor of it and will so advise.

"I am instructed to ascertain what certain changes in the main building will cost with a view to securing a general betterment and increased accommodations for the comfort of visitors. I will proceed with this at once. I am hoping to receive word at an early day that the florists association of Pittsburgh and Allegheny will co-operate with us in making a handsome floral exhibit. That is something which is always attractive."

MELLIN'S FOOD

MELLIN'S FOOD not only contains in itself all the elements of nutrition, but presents them in such form that the infant can digest and assimilate them with perfect ease. "I have had more and better success with Mellin's Food than with any and all others I have tried," says a physician.

ACTORS HAVE PAREISIS.

The Disease Which is Popular With the Profession Attacks Two More—Harry Woodson and Eugene A. McDowell the Latest Victims. CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—[Special.]—Harry Woodson, the well-known minstrel performer, who has been on the stage nearly 20 years and has traveled all over the country, has become insane, and is now in the Detention Hospital in this city. About a fortnight ago he was straggled with a minstrel troupe in Nebraska, but managed to make his way to Chicago. At the Clifton House, where he lodged, his strange demeanor attracted the attention of the guests, and a physician pronounced Woodson insane.

Woodson is a native of Richmond and about 37 years old. His wife is Laura Bennett, the sobriquet now with Pat Rooney's troupe. She was in this city when her husband reached here, but could not afford to remain idle and was forced to continue on the road, leaving the unfortunate comedian in care of the Elks. It is likely that Woodson will be removed to the Flatbush (L. I.) Insane Asylum. Several years ago he was accounted one of the cleverest negro impersonators in the vaudeville. His wife traveled with him, and they were once quite popular at Tourist Pastor's Theater, where they played long engagements. Woodson's friends attribute his insanity to a blow on the head from a brick, received during his childhood, but his habits of late years have been entirely correct. It is well known. It was made known in theatrical circles yesterday that Eugene A. McDowell, a well known actor, had become insane as a result of a long illness, and that he had recently been placed in a private asylum in the vicinity of New York. Mr. McDowell is a brother of Melbourne McDowell, who is married to Fannie Davenport. He went on the stage as an amateur in 1888 in Washington, and soon became proficient as a juvenile actor. During the '70's he was in the stock company of the Boston Museum, and since then he has traveled widely, generally on tours accompanied by his wife, Fannie Reeves, whom he married in 1877. Miss Reeves is a niece of Sims Reeves, the English tenor. She and Mr. McDowell have starred at the head of their own company, and about half a dozen years ago they took a troupe to the West Indies.

THE INSPECTION OF MINES.

President Harrison Says It Cannot Be Made Too Carefully. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16.—The following is the text of a message transmitted to Congress to-day, by the President: There was passed by the last Congress an act for the protection of the lives of miners in Territories, which was approved by me on the 3d day of March, 1891. That no appropriation was made to enable me to carry the act into effect resulted, I suppose, from the fact that it was passed so late in the session. This law recognizes the necessity of a responsible public inspection and supervision of the business of mining in the interest of most of the States. The work of the miner has its unavoidable incidents of discomfort and danger, and these should not be increased by the neglect of the owners to provide every practicable safety appliance. Economies which involve a sacrifice of human life are inhumane.

I transmit herewith a memorial from several hundred miners working in local mines in the Indian Territory asking for the appointment of an inspector under the act referred to. The recent frightful disaster at Krebs, in that Territory, in which 37 miners met a horrible death, gives urgency to this appeal, and I recommend the speedy appropriation be at once made for the salaries and necessary expenses of the inspectors provided for in the law.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Which binds up the whole system, purifies the blood and prevents relapse and attacks of other diseases. Be sure to get Hood's. Never Struggle with the Grip—Postmaster Foster, Of Lubec, Me., says regarding Hood's Sarsaparilla: "Last spring I had a severe attack of the grip which left me in a very feeble condition. I had no appetite, was nervous, and was in a poor way generally. I was advised to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. And in a few days I began to improve. My appetite increased till it seemed that I could not get enough to eat. When I had taken three bottles I felt well as ever, and I may say better than ever. I heartily recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

HOOD'S PILLS are purely vegetable and are the best family cathartic. The Weakness. And prostration, like that tired feeling, so sure to follow the Grip, is really the most dangerous stage of the disease and can only be overcome by taking a good tonic medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.
