THE PERIL OF PARKER

Has Not Been Exaggerated by the Reports of the Big Ice Gorge.

THE BUSINESS PART AN ISLAND,

In Case the Mass Breaks Up and Floods the Allegheny Valley.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NEARBY TOWNS

INFECTAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. PARKER, Feb. 18.-Various reports have appeared as to the ice gorge situation here. None have overdrawn the situation. A solid mass of ice, packed to the bottom for ten or more miles in an unbroken stretch, in many places 20 or more feet thick, is something unknown to our oldest inhabitnot. Along River avenue's entire length the ice is gorged from the bottom of the river to the top of the bank, and even to the foundations of many buildings. It is, therefore, apparent to experienced rivermen what an additional amount of rise will be necessary to move it. No current is here to assist the removal by blasting with explosives.

The extreme north end of what is known as "The Flats" is lower than in the main or central part, and even somewhat lower at the base of the hill, so in a flood the business section is an island. No way has been provided to prevent the overflows from surrounding this central higher ground. As in the entire history of Parker she has been the target of both fire and flood, many now tear the completion of this his-tory by the total destruction of what is known as "The Flats."

how as "The Flats."

At this writing gorges are forming in the Clarion river, which empties into the Allegheny one mile above here. As the Clarion river is a narrow and deep stream it generally breaks up first. This is where our first and greatest danger lies. The bridge at this place is 800 feet long and for five miles below the average width of the river is about the same. The whole distance is gorged from bottom to top.

At the water works the pumps are entirely submerged, but are still running. If no break occurs they can be kept in motion until the water reaches the fires, but they are nearing this point now. The river feel about 2 feet to-day. There is no change in the gorge. It will take two days' good rain to start it. The weather is foggy, with indications of rain.

BUNKOING A PAINT INVENTOR.

The Alleged Victim Secures the Arrest of Three Men for Conspiracy.

WASHINGTON, PA., Feb. 18. - [Special.] - A well-laid plan to raise money was uncovered here to-day, and as a result John Decker, John Duffey and George Swingle were arrested and held in $2 500 ball for a hearing on Saturday. John Decker recently patented a paint made of crude and linseed oils. He was unable to put his patent on the market, and he arranged to raise a company. He and he arranged to raise a company. He first enlisted Swingle, who later enlisted buffey, P. Connors and Thomas Fall. The two last mentioned are well-to-do oil men. Each of the five was to put $100 into the scheme, and Duffy and Swingle were to travel and sell the maint. Decker gave Swingle a receipt for $400, the amount to be put him by his associates. The receipt was shown to Connors and Fall, who paid Swingle $200. He deposited the money to his Swingle $200. shown to Connors and Fall, who paid swingle $200. He deposited the money to his own account. Decker complained but could get no satisfaction. To day he visited a lawyer and related that the whole scheme had been planned to get money from Connors and Fall, and that Duffey and Swingle were to travel for a couple of weeks, send in a great many bogus criters and then get $5,000 from Connors and Fall to build a paint factory. After getting the money they were to leave the country. The three were arrested charged with conspiracy.

TWO DELAMATERS GO FREE.

The Court Will Probably Allow George W,'s Case Go to the Jury

lised the time of the court until time for adjournment this forenoon, in proving by sundry depositors the indebtedness of the elamater bank at the time of the failure. At the opening of the court Joshua Douglass, one of the counsel for defendants, moved that the Court take the case from the jury. that the Court take the case from the jury, and decide for the deferidants upon the round of insufficient evidence.

At the conclusion of the debate which followed, the Court decided that there was not sufficient evidence showing that G. B. Delamater and T. A. Delamater had knowledge of insulvency. As regards the defendant, G. W. Delamater, there was, perhaps, some evidence that might go to the jury, the Court reserving the right to render a decision on the points mised by counsel for G. W. Delamater at some future time during the trial.

The Beed Murder Trial Nearly Ended. Wagnixorox, Pa., Feb. 18.-[Special.]-The afternoon session of the Reed murder trial was occupied by the address of the attorney for the defense. In the morning District Attorney Parker will speak and the case will be given to the jury at noon. Both the will be given to the jury at noon. Both the delense and the prosecution have their evidence all in. Reed, the defendant, said he saw two men put the bottle of whisky near where his horse was hitched. It was this bottle that he told Chappel about when he taked defendant for a drink. Reed denied that he knew that Chappel was jealous of nim, and denied riving Mrs. Chappel presents. The witness was subjected to a lengthy and rigid cross-examination, in which he contradicted a large number of the prosecution witnesses.

He Married the Wrong Girl. Mansylein, O., Feb. 18 .- [Special.]-In the breach of promise case of Irene Hout versus Calvin Balliett this morning, the jury re-turned a verdict for the plaintiff for $5,000, throad a verdict for the plaintiff for $5,000, the amount claimed. Baltiett is a young farmer. In the spring of 1830 he agreed to marry Miss Hout. On September 2, 1890, he instead married another grif. Miss Hout brought action, when Baltiett transferred his property to his lather-in-law. Yesterday a settlement had been effected by the afterneys, the plaintiff agreeing to accept $200. Eathert refused to rathly the settlement.

THE Pennsylvania Railroad is building an extension to the colliery district about Minersville to compete with the Reading. THE friends of Thomas Brown, who made his home with J. H. Hamilton, near Murraysville, Westmoreland county, whose barn was burned about ten days ago, are convinced now that he perished in the flames. Being an inveterante smoker, it is thought he set fire to the barn and was burned to death, as he has not been seen or heard of since.

Manion Rounevans, a Hungarian miner, was brought to Steubenville from Long Run Coal Mines yesterday by township officers. He was taken sick with grip last Friday, and has been steadily growing worse, and it is believed he will die. He was a boarder in a shanty with a dozen Hungarians, who gave him no attention, and from Saturday noon till Monday morning they kept up dranken orgies, in spite of the protests of the mine orgies, in spite of the protests of the mine boss. When the Hungarians were asked to give money to pay for medicine the man was needing, they said: "Let him die."

Millions.

Every one, no doubt, has heard of Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts, but, although millions of bottles of them are annually manufactured, there are yet hundreds of housewives who know nothing of their excellence from actual use. These flavorings are without question the finest and purest of their kind manufactured in the world, and they will eventually be used as a luxury from one end of the country to the other. The grocer who encourages the sale and use of such pure and wholesome articles, is doing his duty to his patrons and making his business a success.
