

Harrison and His Friends Alarmed. He is frightened. His nearest friends and supporters are frightened. They are all the Recognizing the presence of these antagohe has been at any time heretofore.

more frightened because they have no idea of the able preparations that are in progres

Jimmy's Conduct Reprehensible. It seems that young Blaine's conduct under the circumstances is

That Cannot Be Solved Without Deep Study, Says Minister Bowell,

Feb. OTTAWA, ONT.,

RECIPROCITY A PROBLEM .

rumbling of the engine over the ties and the shrill grinding of the train upon which the irbrakes had fastened when the engine broke away sent out into the dismal night a horrible sickening sound.

Whan the TPA

was in the lead, with Oliver a rison and Secretaries Foster, Noble, Rusk close second. The proposition was made by some of the members that on account of and Elkins-would be present, but they sent regrets. Two hundred and forty other Buckeyes were there, including Calvin only about half the Councilmen being present, it would seem too much like factional S. Brice and Congressmen Outhwaite, Hark to determine what they wanted to do.

Council meeting.

that therefore, three names be agreed on and that a selection be made from them in

Mesars, Henricks and Drum championed

the move which they claimed was in the interest of harmony, but the advocates of individual candidates wanted to end the fight at the caucus, and in vigorous language asserted that they intended to do just Wanted an Early Settlement,

Mr. Gilliford insisted on a selection at once and after he and several others had favor of a caucus choice. The other side still objected, however. It was argued that such men as Messrs. Wertheimer, Neeb, Dahlinger and Lindsey, who have not been in favor of the Auditing Committee, were still members of Councils, and that next Tuesday they might object to be-ing frozen out entirely. The arguments were furious for a short time, and resulted in the withdrawal of Henricks, Simon, Pauline, McGearey, Roderick, Han-nan and Harbison. While they were out a resolution was passed requiring a two-thirds were not invited to the caucus. Mr.

Voegtly can be side-tracked and some new man taken up. The factions are now Voegtly and anti-Voegtly, with little doubt that the former will win.

The first ballot was as follows: Oliver, 6;

Gilliford wanted the privilege to be given members to give a complimentary vote to whoever they pleased on Tuesday night.

His proposition met with such hot objection that it was withdrawn, only to be followed porting Mr. Voegtly from the start, but be-tween now and next Tuesday there is time enough for each member to change his mind enough for each member to change his mind a hundred times. Those present at the caucus last night were: Messrs. Bothwell, Cruikshank, Drum, Eshelman, Henderson, Parke, Gerwig, Harbison, Simon, Stauf-fer, Lewis, Knox, McGeary, Thomas, Schondelmeyer, Neabit, Pauline, Armstrong, Millard, Roderick, Hannan, Freinstein, Framer, Gilliford, McAuley, Patton, Albright, Lang, Stockman, Koehler, Stacy, Goettman, Henricks and Einstein. A Canadizate for Election. Teo.

A Canaldate for Election, Too.

If Mr. Voegtly is elected for the short term, it was announced at the caucus last night that he will be a candidate for election to fill the unexpired term. He is an er-

The First Formal Ballot.

to defeat his ambition for a second term.

To a triend the other day Mr. Harriso said: "I wish to heaven a constitutional amendment had been long ago adopted making a President ineligible for a second While second terms are possible no term. President can well avoid expecting and asking the indorsement of his party, and all the more for the reason that he is compelled to create enemies within his party who seek his humiliation and overthrow. No man with the pride of manhood in his bosom can surrender to the clamor of the disappointed. and yet he may not desire a second nomination at all, but, on the other hand, may want with all his soul to avoid the strain of a contest, which, even if successful, can add little or nothing to the honors already conterred upon him, and which will certainly afford him new opportunity for mistakes which he may successfully have avoided during his first term. I would readily abandon the field if I could, but you can easily see that it is impossible to retire in the face of the enemy."

Exact Language of the President

I am assured by the gentlemen to whom they were spoken, and who has seen these words since they were written, that they are the exact language of the President as he remembers it. How much of this despondent utterance is due to a substantial wish to avoid the contest for a second term, and how much to the fact that he knows there are powerful influences at work to encompass his defeat for the renomination, I am not able to say.

The scheme which has cropped out within a few days to defeat Mr. Harrison's renomination originated, possibly, with shrewd and influential politicians of national repute, but it is not now confined to them, by any means. They are joined, in the first place, by friends of rival candidates like Culiom and Alger.

Allison, of lowa, has hardly been mentioned as yet, but there is almost nothing more certain than that the Iowa delegation will come to Minneapolis instructed for the great Senator who embodies a larger quantity of the combined qualities of wisdom, caution and shrewdness than almost any other man in the country. Never sensational or spectacular, he is one of the most admirable figures, physically and mentally, that ever sat in a Senatorial chair, and his cenius for conservatism, without loss of Republicanism, would make him a candidate capable of nolding the East and the West together for Republican principles far beyond any other man between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

Beginning of a Formidable More.

Add to the great politicians who are at odds with Mr. Harrison on the question of patronage, and for other reasons, the friends of the candidates named, and others who will be in the field, and further add a most powerful contingent of men high in private and in public life who are not satisfied with the administration as a part of the great party machine, and you have the sum of the beginning of what is a very quiet but no exceedingly formidable movement to nominate another than Harrison as the "standard bearer" of the "Grand Old Party" in the national campaign of this Little fault is found with Mr. Harrison in matters of real statesmanship. While he stumbled in the Chilean affair and plainly attempted to use it as a lever to lift him again into the Presidency, he has made lewer mistakes than almost any of his predenessors, and criticism of him in regard to the larger affairs of state have been for the

to placate them? All sorts of reports are in circulation about "deals," but they must be taken with many grains of salt. Harrison is not the kind of man to make overtures and much of the opposition cannot be affected by a deal with the few whose quarrel with the President is largely based on disputes in regard to patronage. While two weeks ago the indications were that the President would have little opposition of importance, the prospects are now that he will be met at the Minneapolis con vention by a great force determined upon his defeat, and composed of leaders who can-not be placated with deals or drawn off with promises of any kind, but which will oppose him to the end, believing that his nomination will meet with a lukewarm respons that will be prophetic of defeat at the polls if not at the convention.

Senator Onay Getting Well.

The reports telegraphed from Jackso ville this morning in regard to the health of Senator Quay might have had a semblance of truth had they been sent a week or ten days ago, but happily they now have no foundation. While in attendance at court in Pittsburg the Senator caught a bad cold, and for a few days after his arrival at his cottage near St. Lucie was afflicted with a terrible cough, which, it was feared, might result in pneumonia. A party of his Pennsylvania friends who accompanied him on his trip South arrived in this city to-day on their way home, and say that when they left St. Lucie, on Tuesday, the Senator was in fine health, and that at Wilmington, N. C., on their way northward, last evening, they received a telegram from PINEVILLE, KY., Feb. 20.-[Special.] Richard E. Quay, the Senator's son, who remained at St. Lucie, giving them goodspeed, and saving the Senator was well

A telegram was also received by the Senator's family to-day, which stated that the Senator and Mrs. Quay were both well. Hon. Richard R. Quay will reach here next Tuesday, and the Senator and Mrs. Quay will come on later in the week. The Senator's Florida Cottage

The Senator's Florida home is delightfully situated on the Indian river, four miles from St. Lucie and a telegraph office, and 1.700 miles from the Senate chamber From Titusville, the nearest railway station, 24 hours are required to "sail" 90 miles in a a freight steamer which goes zigragging across the river from tish station to station, and occasionally sticking in the mud for a day or two.

The party of friends who have been en-tertained by the Senator for the last two weeks enjoyed themselves inexpressibly with all the noveities of the region, the mosquitoes, the sharks, the moccasin and rattlesnakes, and not the least of their enjovment was the splendid fishing and the eating of the fish with new potatoes, green peas, strawberries fresh from the vines, with oranges and pineapples to infinity. Moreover, grand excursions were made Moreover, grand excursions were made upon the dreamy waters of the Indian river and out into the ocean in a graceful little launch owned by the Senator and his son, the motive nower of which is furnished by the use of naphtha. Dick Quay and His Lost Deer

During their stay Representative Quay sught to give his guests a change of diet, and sallied out to shoot a deer. He brought down a fine buck at the first shot and returned to the cottage to get a horse and cart bring in the spoils. Making his way back to the spot where he had left the buck lying, as he thought, in the throes of death, he tound that the animal had recovered breath and legs, and had lost itself in trackless pine woods. The guests therefore dined on duck, which are so numerous thereabouts that they can be bagged by the hundreds in a few hours' shooting. Fish can be hauled in as fast as the hook is baited. Chief Heary, of the Division of Indian Accounts in the Treasury Department, a Kittanning young man, tells me he caught 18 fish within an hour and a half. not one of which weighed less than ten pounds, beside many smaller ones. The party which arrived in Washington this morning from St. Lucie included Judge and Sent to the Island.

FOUR NEW CASES OF TYPHUS Found by the New York Health Authoritie

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 .- [Special.]-Four new cases of typhus fever developed to-day at 5 Essex street. The patients are Isaac Mermer, husband of Fayer Mermer, who died of the disease on Wednesday; his children, Celia and Sarah, aged 16 and 17 years, and Ella Lebof, aged 10. All were removed to North Brothers Island. There are now 96 patients on the island. Seven are reported to be practically well, and a large proportion are convalescent. None of them will be permitted to leave the hospital confines until all danger of further spread of the fever is over. The man sick in Bellevue Hospital, whose illness the doctors have been unable to was the result of the machinations of his mother, and the treatment that this plaintiff received from his hands was reprehensible and bad, very bad, in every respect. The evidence shows that soon after she left Au-gusta she lay upon a bed for 10 months; suf-fering with the most acute and extreme suffering, and that during all this time he never gave her any recognition whatever, not even writing to her, or visiting her, or sending her anything in the way of support. The Court's Extreme Indirantion liagnose, is Max Busch, a stage hand at the Thalia Theater. Inspector Blauvelt ex-smined Busch and said he did not believe that Busch had typhus. He advised that Busch be isolated, to avoid any possible danger. Dr. Edson said that, while he did net believe Busch had typhus, he would not say that he had not. As far as can be asceftained, Busch had not come in contact

Swears He Will Starve.

Who Will Succeed the Late Adjutar

General McClelland.

pose is not likely to be changed.

minutes.

his capture.

The Court's Extreme Indignation. with any of those known to be affected. It is hard for the Court to find language to describe its feelings against a young man who would act in this way. The evidence HORSEHEAD BILL AT BAY. shows that the conduct of the plaintiff was A Colored Murderer Hides in a Mine and everything that could have been from to her husband. She followed him under the roof of his parents as long as it There is a serious state of affairs at one of was bearable, and when she left, in one of the big coal mines at this place. A negro her letters which was introduced in evidence, she says: "I am going to leave Au-gusta, not you, Jamie." And then again, in a letter which appeared here in evidence, and which I will read and make a part of murderer, Bill Davis, alias "Dick Gunn," who was under sentence to be hanged in Virginia, subsequently made his escape my remarks, she says:

from jail, and has taken refuge in the mine, refusing to come out. Officers are guarding the entrance, and the miners are all thrown The negro is desperate and is armed, and

"New Yosk, Sept. 9, 1888. "New Yosk, Sept. 9, 1889. "Drar Janzs-Indoed, I am so wretched without you that I can bear it no longer. For the sake of our child, and the one to come, I will go to whatever home you provide, even under your parents' root. I want to do what is right for us both, and on receipt of this letter, if you will say come, I will come. Think of all the future of our child if we live apart: If you could only see the bright little fellow-he has grown so cunning. Do write me at once. I shall watch every mail. We go to the New York Hotel to morrow. Until I hear, always affectionately." "MARY." The man must have been given over to has declared he will die before he will surrender. It is thought the only way now in to starve him out, and that will take a week to starve him out, and that will take a week or so. He went by the name of "Horse-head Bill," on account of the peculiar shape of his head. He murdered a policeman at Pocahontas, Va., and came here, and has been working in the coal banks of the Southern Land Improvement Company for three weeks. There is a reward of $600 for

"MARY." The man must have been given over to hardness of heart to resist such an appeal as that, and all the testimony in the case goes to show that she did everything within her power that was incombent on a good wife in order to make her husband return to her. He seems to have been estranged from her by his mother. STREATOR CALLED THE MAN v his mother.

A Divorce Granted Mrs. Blaine,

As I said before, it may be natural for his HARRISBURG, Feb. 20.-[Special.]-The parents to object to a marriage of this kind. would be natural for any parent to objec contest for the vacancy caused by the death to a young son of his age marrying a girl of of Adjutant General McClelland has been a her sge and under such circumstances, but having once married it was the duty of the warm one, but is likely to be settled early next week by the appointment of Lieutenyounger Blaine, the defendant in this case, to have stood up for his wife through good ant Colonel J. B. R. Streator, of the Tenth and evil report, through sickness and h Regiment. Colonel Streator is from Washfor better and worse. Therefore, I conclude from the testimony ington county, and was a ward advocate of

Therefore, I conclude from the testimony in the case, that the plaintiff has been not only deserted, ruthlessly and without justi-deserted, ruthlessly and without justi-deserted, ruthlessly and without justi-deserted, ruthlessly and without justi-sly the sense, but that the defendant has ab-play of the necessaries or conforts of the for the support of his wite and child. I am therefore us the opinion that the causes is forth in the complaint, that of desertion and the failure to provide, are clearly make to be the support of his wite and child. I am therefore us the opinion that the causes and the failure to provide, are clearly make out by the testimony in the case, and the plaintiff is entitled to a decree of divore to the failure to provide and influence on her husband, J. G. Elsine, Jr. There is another question presented to the four by the complainant—the custody of the child. The Court takes cognizance of the child. The Court takes cognizance of the child, and that were the child given into the custody and care of the father and nother of the defendant, they would sur-nother of the defendant, they would sur-ted affinence, but under the circumstances is sense to me that the court name no rights to book beyond the defendant and enter the trained of parents, and it concludes from the Pattison's nomination for Governor. Lieutenant Colonel W. W. Greenland, of Clarion, is undoubtedly the Governor's sec-ond choice, and it may be confidently stated that the appointment lies between the two, with Streator in the lead. There has been a strong pressure brought to bear in favor of Lieutenant Colonel Frank I. Rutledge of the Eighteenth Regiment, and Senator Hannibal K. Sloan, of Indiana county, but the Governor's first predelictions were in favor of Streator or Greenland, and his pur-Cocked to Death by Bolling Dye. GLOUCESTER, N. J., Feb. 20.-John Roby, employe of the Gloucester City Dy. ing Works, tell into a cauldron of boiling dye to-day. He was literally cooked to death, for by the time he was gotten out he was so hadly burned that he died in a few

"Whatever may be the result of our visit sible. He was not made out of that stern stuff we would expect, coming from the family he does. It is beyond my compreto Washington," remarked Minister Bowell to-day, "we have from the first refnsed hension how a young man who has placed his love to his fiance and married her on his most positively to talk on the subject, and therefore deprecate the attempt that has great insistence could be dominated by his mother, however much respect he might have for her, as to be willing to desert his wife. Under such circumstances as the evi-dence shows in this case, as a rule and so far as my observation goes, most young men who marry a young woman against the will and consent of her or his parents stands by her through thick and thin, however angry their parents may be, even when the parents disinherit and cast them off. But it seems to have been otherwise with young Blaine. He seemed to have been infatuated with his wife for the first two years, and was kind and considerate and affectionate in his treatment of her. As soon as he got under the domination of his mother he seemed to become greatly estranged from his wife, and treated her with neglect and instrention, and the evidence shows that his desertion was the result of the machinations of his mother, and the treatment that this plaintiff great insistence could be dominated by his been made to represent us as displeased with the manner in which we were received by President Harrison, tary Blaine and General Nothing could have been more Foster ordia than our meetings with Secretary Blaine and General Foster. I was highly impressed with their ability to enter into a discussion of trade questions. The question of recipro city is a broad one that cannot be dealt with in a cursory sort of way, as some of our opponents appear to handle it. Let an attempt be made to carry their theoretical ideas into practical effect and they will then realize the magnitude of the task they have undertaken. "To arrive at the true principle of reci procity mutually advantageous to both the ontracting parties offering counter-balance ing concessions that will insure to neithe an advantage over the other, and at the same time not interfere with the genera trade of the country, is not a matter that can be arranged in a day or in a perfunctor manner. Every conflicting interest has to be considered, and it is only after much thought and long deliberation that a satis-factory and practical solution of the ques-

EDISON SAYS HE'S ALL RIGHT.

ion can be reached."

f He Was Frozen Out of the Electric Com bine He Doesn't Know It.

NEWYORK, Feb. 20.-[Special.]-Inventor Thomas Edison says the story published yesterday, that, by the consolidation of the Edison General Electric Company with the Thomson-Houston Electric Company, he has been frozen out of the management of any electric company, is all "rot." "Why I know a good thing when I get it, don't I?" He asked to-day. "Well, then, I'm not He asked to-day. "Well, then, I'm not opposed to any scheme that is going to increase my profits. The idea of my being disantisfied with the joining of the Edison General and Thomson-Houston Company is utterly ridiculous. Why, go to the books of the Edison company and you will find that I was the first man to transfer my stock in the Edison company and take stock in the joint company, for my name is the first on the list. "I see that I had a controlling interest in a lot of electric companies and that I have been gradually frozen out. Well, well, well. I did not know it. I never owned well. I did not know it. I never owned more than 10 per cent of the stock of any of the companies, and I've got that yet, and it's a mint, compared to what it was. I was elected a director of the big company. I don't know what for. I never attended a meeting. Maybe they'll elect me a direc-tor of the person of the set of the set. tor of the new company. I don't know. I won't object.'

THREE CHILDREN CREMATED.

A Kerosene Explosion in a Michigan Town With Fatal Results.

IRONWOOD, MICH., Feb. 20.-[Special.]-A store building whose first floor was occupied as a saloon and the second floor as a residence by Charles De Longcamps, was burned last night, and three children were rned to death. The fire originated in the kitchen, from an explosion of kerosene and spread like a flash through the build-

The mother, with a 2-weeks-old babe in her arms, and the two eldest children were rescued with gr. at difficulty. Albert, Marin and Charles, aged 7, 5 and 3 years, were burned with the building.

A Polygamy Victory in Utah.

roper it seemed to stop suddenly, and lunged down the embankment. The train grinding out flashes of fire from the rails, swept by it sately, being stopped by the air-brakes at the other end of the trestle. As the engine toppled over Engineer Mahan was thrown out. He was found ome 40 feet away from the engine in the deep ravine. He was unconscious when found. Part of his clothing and one of his overshoes were found some 50 feet away from him. The engine was crushed into a mass of warped and shattered iron. When the engine stopped before its plunge into the ravine it threw Fireman Lindsey high into the air through the cab roof. He alighted on the embantment. His houlder was dislocated and he was other wise injured. He was brought to his home in Glenwood. The engineer was brought to the Homeopathic Hospital. Both are single. The tender left the track when the train stopped on the trestle, and plunged nto the chasm below, without taking any f the cars with it, making a second miracuus escape.

The Passengers Panic-Stricken. The passengers were horrified. They knew something had happened, and for a time all were unable to move. They finally attempted to leave the train, but were stopped by the train men, who notwithstanding their fright were able to control the panic-stricken ones. After the first fright passed off the passengers left the train and busied themselves in arranging for the safety of all. Fires were built in the rear and in front of the ill-tated train to prevent other trains from approaching

Another engine was sent to the scene and the train was brought to Pittsburg. The groans of Mahan when he was tenderly carried into the parlor car, a bleeding, unconscious mass of flesh, were sufficient to sicken the lady occupants, whe sumicient to sicken the lady occupants, who waited in suppense for the renewal of the jour-ney. Dr. Schultz, of Whitehall, was summoned by a man who made his way over the hills by the light of a torch. He said it was miraculous that the man ever lived a moment after his tremendous plunge down the mountain side. He gave it as his opinion that Mahan had but a short time to live. The accident is pronounced by railroad men and travelers to be one of the most marvelous ever known to them.

OHIO FOR GOVERNOR M'KINLEY.

The Major May Get His Own State's Delegation to Minneapolis.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.-[Special.]-Representative N. A. Taylor has just returned from a visit to his home in Ohio, and he reports that the political pot in the "Buckeye" State is rapidly reaching the boiling point. He says the Repub-licans in Ohio are talking more about Governor McKinley than any other man at the present time, and from the present outlook it seems as though he might get the State delegation to the Minneapolis Con-

There was a bitter feeling of disappointment among the rank and file of the Ohio Re-publicans when Blaine's letter came out, and in spite of his declination, there is a strong sentiment in favor of forcing the nomina-tion upon him. With Blaine out of the way, Governor McKinley is probably the first choice of the Ohio Republicans. Mr. Harrison has many warm friends in State, but there is no disposition in Ohio to nsist upon his serving another term.

DISCOURTESY AT SEA.

Steamer's Captain Refuses to Throw A REVIEW OF SPORTS.......John THE W. R. C. CONVENTION.

SALT LAKE, UTAH, Feb. 20.-In the lower House of the Legislature yesterday a memorial that had passed the Council, favoring an anti-polygamy amendment to the United States Constitution, was killed.

Pattison and Taylor. Ex-Governo Campbell, in a speech an hour long, told something of the 36 different governors of Ohio. Speaking of the war governors he said that none of them were renominated, because the great war patronage of the office politically killed them.

"This shows," he continued, "that the vice of patronage will destroy the greatest statesman the country can produce, if some remedy be not applied." Mr. Campbell said that ex-Governor Hoadly in scholar-ship, character and ability was not excelled by any Governor of Ohio, and that Forake was a "gallant young soldier of mercurial and vigorous temperament, and not espec-ially struck on the senior Senator from made characteristic Allegheny Council-Ohio." Congressmen Outhwaite and Har ter and Murat Halstead also spoke. manic speeches, the question was put to the house and resulted in a vote of 21 to 13 in

CONSULTING WITH CLEVELAND.

Many Democrats of National Importance Visiting the Ex-President,

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.-[Special.]-Politicians from all over the nation have been in consultation with ex-President Cleveland. Among those who are said to have had a long and earnest consultation with the ex-President is J. M. Guffey, the oil and gas magnate, and Democratic politician of estern Pennsylvania.

vote to nominate. For a time it was supposed that J. M. Immediately afterward, on a motion made by Mr. Lewis, it was decided to invite the seceding members back. On the wording of the res-Guffey was opposed to Cleveland, but his presence in this city at this time has rather dissipated that belief. Mr. Guffey has been at the Fifth Avenue Hotel for nearly week. He left for his home to-day.

THE DISPATCH DIRECTORY.

Contents of the Issue Classified for Convenience of the Reader.

The issue of THE DISPATCH to-day consist of 20 pages, made up in two parts. The live news will be found in the first part. Special literary features and class news will be ost readily by reference to the table here given:

Page 9.

THE SUN MAL GONEY. LIES NEW PAPER MONEY. LIES Page 10.

ISAIAH AS AN EDITOR...... EDUCATIONAL NEWS.

Voegtly, 19; Bothwell, 8; McKelvy, 1, Seven others were taken without a choice Page 11. being made. In the meantime all but the names of Voegtly and Bothwell were withdrawn. The final ballot was Voegtly, 22: Bothwell, 11. As soon as the THE WANTS, TO LETS, FOR SALES, MISCELLANE-OUS AND REAL ESTATE NOTICES. Page 12. result was announced there was a flood of resolutions introduced so rapidly that only an occasional one could be considered. Dr.

THE MARKET REPORTS

....John D. Pringle

GENERAL GOSSIP.

Page 13.

...Dr. Frank Helen Wat A HEATHEN COMFORT. Page 14. GOSSIP.

by another supported by Messrs. Lewis, Gerwig and Stauffer, in which it was proposed to bind the members to the caucus nominee on the first ballot and ever after. This was voted down. What the final de-V. Gribayedoff PANINE IN RUSSIA. Fannie B. Ward ...Rudolph Bauman Mark Twain REPUBLIC OF UBUGUAY WIZARD OF STOCKHOLM cision was is in doubt. All but the six members who withdrew seem to favor sup-THE AMERICAN CLAIMANT ...

Page 16. WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY Bob Burdett

MOONS OF JUPITER. Page 17. PROGRESS IN ENGINES

The

Line to a Life-Saving Crew.

NORFOLK, VA., Feb. 20.-[Special.]-The Neptune Line steamer Bellina, from Sunderland to Baltimore, to load for Rotterdam, went ashore in front of the weather bureau office at Cape Henry, during a fog at 7:10 o'clock this morning.

olution there is now a question of dispute as deep and mysterious as Allegheny Counas deep and mysterious as Allegheny Conn-cils itself. The men who withdrew claim they came back with the understanding that they were only to express a preference and that next Tuesday night they will be at liberty to support whoever they please. Mr. Lewis says they came back with the understand-or that they was to able by the desirior ing that they were to abide by the decis of the cancus. If they should do so Mr. Voegtly's election would be assured but if the seven refuse and join with the members who stayed away from, or

THE MUSIC WORLDC. W. 8 Rev. George Hodges PERSONAL MENTION.

BEAUTIES FOR SPRING...... Ada Bache Cone MONTALITY AMONG INFANTS...... Dr. Frank

Page 15.

SPRING FASHIONS FOR MEN.

A WASHINGTON JAM ... Bessie Bramble

FELTON'S UPS AND DOWNS,F. G. Carpenter

Page 19.

Page 20.

AMUSEMENT NOTICES.

.George He

Page 18.

SAILING IN VENICE.

SECRET SOCIETIES.

OIL FIELD NEWS.