HARRISBURG, Feb. 29.-Juages Simonton and McPherson, of the Dauphin County Court, held a special term of court beginning to-day for the trial of State tax cases. Among the most important were three against the Westinghouse Airbrake Com-pany, being claims of the State for taxes on pany, being claims of the State for taxes on capital stock for 1889 amounting to $39,788 40; for 1830 amounting to $44,841 15, and for 1891 amounting to $25,214 67. M. E. Olmstead, of this city, counsel for the company, argued that the company was not liable to any tax whatever, being exempt as a manniacturing corporation. Attorney General Hensel and Deputy Attorney General Hensel and tended that the act of 1868 exempts only companies which are organized exclusively for manifacturing purposes, and that the Airbrake company owns some property not immediately connected with its manu-incturing plant.

Duties were assessed on various articles im-ported by the appellants under the McKin-ley bill, and they protested against paying them on the ground that the act was not the law of the United States for the reason that section 30 of the act, as it passed both Houses and was agreed to in conference, was omitted from the enrolled bill signed by the presiding officers of the two Houses, and by the President, and that therefore, it did not comply with the requirements of the Constitution. Airbrake company owns some property not immediately connected with its manu-in-turing plant. The next cases called were against the Westinghouse Electric Company, involving similar taxation for the years 1888, 1899 and 1990, for large amounts. The grounds of con-test are the same as in the Airbrake Com-pany case. In addition the Westinghouse counsel contend that this was a business which could just as well be carried on in New Jersey, where the tax is 1 mill, as in Pennsylvania, whore if hable at all, the company is lable to 3 mills, and he thought it is the intention of the Legislature to exempt just such companies as these and encoura, e them to maintain their operations in this State. If this company is to be taxed and other manufacturing companies ex-empted, then the act is unconstitutional, because it does not impose uniform taxation. The same counsel also argued several cases involving the taxation of Pullman's Palace Car Company and the Woodruff Palace Car Company. In all the above cases the Court took the papers and reserved its decision.

JOHNSTOWN, Feb. 29.-[Special.]-A move-ment is now on foot by which the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will penetrate the rich bituminous coal fields of the northern part of Cambria. Some years ago the Pennsylvanin Railroad, in consideration of track room privileges, transferred to the Cambria Iron Company its rights in the Old Portage Rail-Company its rights in the Old Portage Rail-read from this place to a point above Cone-maugh, retaining only the privilege of lay-ing a side track to the Gautier Steel Works. Now, by an amicable agree-ment between the Cambria Company and the Baltimore and Ohio, it is said this route will be used by the latter, crossing the Pennsyl-vania by means of an overhead bridge near the viaduct at South Fork. The extremely iriendly attitude of the Cambria Company to the Baltimore and Ohio is explained by the fact that the from-

An Old Resident With a Large Family Arrested for Bigamy After 26 Years.

GREENSBURG, Feb. 29.-[Special.]-A sensation was created here to-day by the arrest of Samuel Bair, a wealthy man of Mt. Pleas ant township, who is charged with deserting his wife and child at York, Pa., 26 years ago. his while and child at fork, ra., 25 years ago. An officer arrived from York to-day and served the warrant on the astonished man. Many years ago after he came here Bair married a Miss Jones, of Ligonier township, and since that they have raised quite a fam-ily. In that time he has acquired consider-able wealth, and is considered a good church member and a model man in his neighbormember and a model man in his neighbor-hood. Bair was seen after his arrest, and claims it is a blackmailing scheme in which two or three parties of this county are inter-ested. He at once gave bail for a hearing at York and was released. The information charges him with desertion and bigamy. He refused to give the story of his life.

A Runaway Bull Frightens People.

A bull escaped from Hoffman's slaughter house on Spring Garden avenue, Allegheny, vesterday afternoon, and caused a stampede in certain parts of the city for a short time. The animal raced up the street, frightening people and causing terror wherever it went. The bull was wild with fear and many per sons had narrow escapes from being gored. At the corner of Sandusky and Lacock streets, however, its race was ended, a po-liceman, by a fortunate shot, succeeding in bringing it down and killing it.

Death Due to Heart Failure.

Coroner McDowell held an inquest yesterday afternoon over the body of Thomas Healy, the Connellsville coal miner who died at the West Penn Hospital on Saturday. Healy had received a broken leg by a fall of slate. The physicians at the hes-pital intended to amputate the limb and gave the subject an anæsthetic from which he died. The cause was assigned to heart failure and exhaustion.

Chicago friends proceeded with him in a car-riage to the Hotel Dieu. We found the phy-sician outside, but we repaired to the Charity Hospital and called for Dr. A. B. Myles The doctor being out we drove to the office of Dr. J. D. Hunter, where, an examina-tion of Tommy Ryan was made. Dr. Hunter examined Ryan's throat and found that he was suffering from a sore throat and found that he was suffering from a sore throat and fever, his temperature being 101. Being asked for an official certificate of Ryan's condition, the doctor handed me the following:

ings of Congress, the Court says:

Signatures Guarantee Accuracy. The signing by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and by the President of the Senate, in open session, of an enrolled bill is an official attestation by the two Houses of such a bill as one that has passed Con-gress. And when a bill thus attested re-ceives his (the President's) approval and is deposited in the public archives, its au-thentication as a bill that has passed Con-gress should be deemed complete and unim-peachable. It is admitted inat an enrolled act thus authenticated is sufficient evidence of itself-nothing to the contrary appearing upon its face-that it passed Congress. But the contention is that it cannot be regarded as a law of the United States if the journal of either House fails to show that it passed in the precise form in which it was signed by the presiding officers of the two Houses and approved by the President. It is said that under any other view it becomes pos-sible for the Speaker of the House of Bepre-sentatives and the President of the Senate to impose upon the people as a law a bill that was never passed by Congress. Not a Serious Consideration. of such a bill as one that has passed Con

Not a Serious Consideration.

But this possibility is too remote to be seriously considered in the present inquiry. It suggests a deliberate conspiracy, to which the presiding officers, the Committee on En-rolled Bills and the clerks of the two Houses must necessarily be parties, all acting with must necessarily be parties, all acting with a common purpose to defeat an expression of the popular will in the mode described by the Constitution. Judicial action, based upon such a suggestion, is forbidden by the respect due to a co-ordinate branch of the Government. The evils that may result from the recognition of the principle that an enrolled act in the cus-tody of the Secretary of State, attested by the signatures of the presiding officers of the two Houses of Congress and the approval of the President, is conclusive evidence that it two Houses of Congress and the approval of the President, is conclusive evidence that it was passed by Congress according to the forms of the Constitution would be far less than those that would certainly result from a rule making the validity of Congressional enactments depend upon the manner in which the journals of the respective houses are kept by the subordinate officers charged with the duty of keeping them.

In support of this view numerous deci-sions are quoted. The judgments of the courts below sustaining the validity of the act were affirmed.

Anarchists Must Remain in Jail.

The Supreme Court extinguished the last hope of the two imprisoned Anarchists by affirming the decision of the Supreme Court of Illinois and the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois in the cases of Samuel Fielden and Michael Schwab versus the Warden of Joliet Penitentiary. These two men were sentenced to be hanged with Spies and the other Anarchists for com-Spies and the other Anarchists for com-plicity in the famous Haymarket riot in Chicago, but their sentences were commuted to life imprisonment bd the Gov-ernor. In the application for writs of habeas corpus which the court to-day denied ounsel cfor the two men alleged that their sentence was in violation of the Constitu-tion berefine the men were not in court in tion because the men were not in court in person when the Illinois Supreme Court rendered judgment sustaining the decision rendered judgment sustaining the decision of the trial court and re-sentenced them, and that their right to say why sentence should not be passed upon them had been denied. It was also contended that while the Governor of Illinois had power to com-mute the sentence no warrant was given by law for the execution of that commutation. Certain other minor points were also brought in question.
