THE CHURCH AND THE MINISTRY.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NEARBY TOWNS

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. BEAVER FALLS, March 1 .- Rev. J. W. Bristol, formerly pastor of the Baptist Church at this place, whose troubles with his charges at Cherubusco and at this place within the past year have been so well ventilated through the press, was again brought to public notice by the action of a council regularly convened in this place this aftermoon by the Pittsburg and Beaver Associa-

It will be remembered that shortly after Rev. Mr. Bristol took charge of the Baptist church letters from members of his former congregation at Cherubusco very damaging to the reverend gentleman were received by members of the Raptist church here, which caused many of the members to withdraw and eventually resulted in charges being preferred against him. He was tried at a meeting of the Pittsburg and Beaver Baptist Associations and was fully exonerated.

To the astonishment of everybody, however, on the third Sunday of last No-ever, on the third Sunday of last No-vember he resigned his pastorate and preached a sermon in which he renounced his allegiance to the Baptist Church. In vehement terms he declared his disbellef in the doctrines of that denomination. To others he said publicly that he did not believe in close communion but he did believe in the sprinkling of infants in baptism.

Since his resignation he has been living in Beaver Falls and engaged in canvassing for an encyclopedia, but has taken no part in church affairs. It having been learned that he was about to remove from here and would ask for a letter of dismissal and recommendation from the Baptist Church the council that convened to-day was called at the Baptist Church The charges preterred against Rev. Mr. Bristol were:

First-Falsehood; this was afterward with drawn. Second-Holding views contrary to the teachings of the flaptist Church.
Third-Disturbing the peace of the church.

The testimony was very voluminous and occupied considerable time. Although Rev. Mr. Bristol had been legally cited to ap-pear he was not present and no de cuse was offered. At the conclusion of testimony a committee was appointed to draw up resolutions indicative of the sense of the council. The committee retired, and in a short time returned and read the following:

Resolved. That it is the judgment of the council that charges second and third are fully sustained by the testimony, and that we recommend the church to withdraw the hand of fellowship from J. W. Bristol, and to not recognize him as a minister of the Grapel. It is also the opinion of the council that J. W. Bristol is unfit to remain in the Baurist minister. Baptist ministry.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by the council, after which it adjourned. Immediately a meeting of the congregation was called, and it also unanimously adopted the resolutions. This action forever ex-cludes Rev. Mr. Bristel from the pale of the Baptist Church. The members who with-drew from the church last summer will be seked to return to the fold again, and a new pastor will be called.

A Ripper Bill for City Governmen Drafted-Unsuccessful Bank Hobbers. YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 1 .- [Special.]-Secret session of the City Council has resulted in the drafting of a "ripper" bill that will be forwarded to Representative John K. Davis. It is modeled after the Federal bill governing Cleveland, providing for the election of a Mayor to serve for one term of three years, who, with the concurrence of Council, shall appoint heads of departments for the city and fix their salaries. Every-thing is to be subordinate to the Council. Under the bill the tax levy must not be more than 8 mills on the dollar, which the sponsors of the bill claim will result in a saving of $25,000 to the city. The Mayor is to receive a salary of $2,500, and all fees are to be turned into the city treasury. The object of the bill is to oust the present Board of City Commissioners. The bill further provides that no city officer or employe shall attend any political meeting in

NEEDHAM WINS A LIVELY BATTLE

" FERCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, March 1 .- The first meeting of the National League and American Association of professional baseball clubs, began to-day at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The rival League and Association magnates, who less than a year ago were clutching each others throats, clasped hands cordially. National agreement committee, John L. Rogers, Zach Phelps and N. E. Young went into session early in the morning and did not finish till in the evening. The committee had taken the old National agreement and the Rogers plan as a basis to work upon, and some radical changes were made. The minors will be charged for protection to players at the rate of $150 for clubs in Class A, composed of the Western League and Eastern Association, and $75 for clubs of Class B, composed of all other minos organizations. In regard to the draiting privilege, the proposal is to give the major League the privilege of drafting from the minors during a period between October 1 and February 1. In Class A the drafting is placed at $1,000, and $500 for Class B clubs. The minor leagues have the right of presenting a reserve list on or before October 1.

Instead of a bond as formerly, each league will be compelled to furnish a writleague will be compelled to furnish a writ-ten agreement that it will live up to all the obligations of the agreement. It was 8:30 o'clock when the League went into its first formal session.

The meeting was a short one, and ad-journed at 11 o'clock until 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The only business transacted was the appointment of a Committee of five, consisting of Messrs. Byrne, Day, Elliott, Stucky and Howe, to go over the national agreement as completed by the original committee and put it in shape for presentation at the League meeting to-mor-row. Colonel Rogers was careful to explain that this move was in no way antagonistic to the new agreement. The Richardson matter was brought up by President Day, and a warm discussion fol-

He Knocks Jack Burke Out in Ten Rounds at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, March 1 .- A meager assem diage of sports congregated in the Metropolitan Club rooms to-night to witness the welter-weight fight between Needham and Jack Burke, the latter taking the place of Tommy Ryan, who was still suffering acutely. The disappointment manifested throughout the city last night because of the postponement of the Ryan-Needham match, was still apparent in the crowd present. Burke had consented to take Ryan's place about 1 o'clock this morning, and place about 1 o'clock this morning, and President Cooper hastily made arrangements to have the contest come off to-night. Jack Burke is the boxing instructor of the Young Men's Club, where he also put Tommy Ryan in condition. He is a well-built young fellow of good manners and good address, fairly clever as a boxing instructor and with a good string of victories tacked on to his career. He is in very good condition having trained himself in training Ryan in the hope of being taken on as an emergency or for anything that might turn up in line of a fight. Needham is in first-class condition, ruddy of face and elastic of form. He was seconded by Mike Connelly, the Utica Giant; Tom Manning, of San Francisco, and Hogan, of Chicago. The gloves weighed at 6:30 were of the regulation weight. President Cooper made an address and was cheered. Prof. de an address and was cheered. Prof. Duffy acted as referee.

The fight was a rattling one. Needham had all the best of it and knocked Burke out in the tenth round. There was tolerably good boxing by both men.

Braddock, March 1.--[Special.]—The Young American Baseball Club, of Braddock, which made such a leading showing last season among the best amateur clubs of the west ern part of the State, has already applied for the place in the County League that may be made vacant by the resignation of the Chartiers club. The directors of the Young Americans are now almost dead sure of getting the enclosed grounds they want part of the Union Driving Park at Bessemer,

An important meeting of the directors and members of the club will be held tomorrow evening at Braddock to talk up the question of moment—enclosed grounds: other matters of interest to the club, and especially to lay plans for the organization of an athletic club. John Dick, better known as "Scotch Jack," one of the directors, is the projector of the scheme. He is well-to-do, has been the backer monetarily, and a director of the Young Americans since its organization seven years ago. He is well-known hereabouts, and was quite active in sporting circles a couple years ago. As John Dick said yesterday to the writer. "The new athletic association is going to be a sure thing, and we are going to have it after the plan of the East End Gymnastic Club."

PITTSBURG CALLED DOWN.

The New Custie Football Players Say a Few

The Secretary of the New Castle Football Club writes this paper to the effect that the Pittsburg team are bluffing more than anything else. The New Castle team claims that the Pittsburgs' record is faulty and that their forfeit of $50 has been covered. that their forfeit of 300 has been covered. The New Castle players do not want to play for medals, and argue that they have won the championship of Western Pennsylvania. They want toplay the Pittsburg team.

Whatever may be the notions of the New Castle players, the fact remains that there is at this office a forieit in behalf of the Pittsburg team uncovered. The forfeit of the Pittsburg team is up as a guarantee that they will play any team in Western Pennsylvania. Pittsburg team is up as a guarantee that they will play any team in Western Penn-sylvania, and until the forfeit is covered it s useless to make any controversy.

seems to have just been struck with an ath-letic and gymnasium fever. For some years it has been aching to get a training school for the healthful development physically, of its young men. Now it promises to have a plethora, and two at least that will stay, for both will have good backing, financially and in regard to skill and knowledge in athletics.
The remodeling of the Carnegie Free

A training school, as it were, has been the only thing wanting there for the success of such a scheme.

NEW SCORING SYSTEM.

President Young Approves a Scheme That Will Make Them Play Ball, WASHINGTON, March 1.—[Special.]—President Young has sent to Chairman Reach of the playing rules committee of the Baseball

the playing rules committee of the Baseball League, with his, approval, a scheme for a new system of scoring victories in championship games, by which a club's percentage will be determined by an aggregate of points, depending on the lead it has over its opponent at the end of the game.

The scheme is the device of H. G. Patter, Chief of the Mineral Division of the General Land Office, an enthusiast on the game. He was led to the study of the subject by the indifference and listlessness of members of a club, when its antagonist secured in the early part of the game what appeared to be a winning lead. To overcome this and inspire the players to do their best for the full nine innings of a game. Mr. Patter proposes to credit winning clubs with points according to the following table:

A lead of 1 run and less than 3, 1 point.

A lead of 1 run and less than 3, 1 point, A lead of 3 runs and less than 5, 2 points, A lead of 5 runs and less than 7, 3 points, A lead of 7 runs and less than 9, 4 points, A lead of 9 runs or more, 5 points.

THE DEVICES OF NATUEE. How Some Mechanical Ideas Are Applied

Without Man's Aid. Most of the skillful devices invented by en for doing fine work rapidly can be traced to nature, where for countless sges they have been operating. The discoverer of each new appliance of mechanism might be shown that his idea was as old as the hills. It is suggested that the inventors of the future will be those who carefully study the natural world. The stones of the mills are another style of the molar teeth, which grind all the grist that feed men and beasts. The hoofs of horses are made of parallel plates like carriage springs. The finest file of human manufacture is a rough affair compared with the Dutch rush used by cabinet makers. The jaws of the tortoise and turtle are natural scissors. The diving bell imitates the water spider, which constructs a small cell under the water, clasps a bubble of air between its hind legs, and dives down to its submarine chamber with the bubble, displacing the water gradually, until its abode with fishes contains a large airy room surrounded by contains a large airy room surrounded by water. In leaving its eggs on the water the gnat fastens them into the shape of a life-boat, which it is impossible to sink without

The iron mast of a modern ship is strengthened by deep ribs running along its interior. A porcupine's quill is strengthened by similar ribs. When engineers found that hollow pillars were stronger than solid ones they only discovered a principle that is very commonly seen in nature.

A wheat straw, if solid, could not support its head of grain. The bones of higher aniits head of grain. The bones of higher animals are porous; those of birds, where lightness and strength are most beautifully combined, are hollow. The framework of a ship resembles the skeleton of a herring. Aeronauts try to copy the structure and movement of birds. The shipworm is an admirable tunneler, boring his way through any submerged timber and lining the round passage with a hard casing. The engineer Brunel took a hint from this animal, and was the first to succeed in tunneling under was the first to succeed in tunneling under

The most superb of fur rugs are made from the skin of the lion. When the lion is five years old his mane has attained its full growth, and he is then ready to be sacrificed at the altar of civilization. Next in beauty comes the tiger. The graceful, catlike neck and sleek, glossy skin make a truly effective rug-indeed, many prefer it to the lion skin. The bears, and especially the grizzlies, are very popular. The white polar bear is arranged in a very realistic polar bear is arranged in a very realistic manner, with his great mouth open and formidable claws projecting grimly from the soft fur. Very effective rugs are made of the white Iceland sheep—the hair is long and fluffy, and perfectly white. Black sheepskin rugs are also seen, when we have made of the senning black Ice. some being made of the genuine black Ice-land sheep, while others are dyed. Rugs of brown bearskin bordered with black, or black bear edged with gray wolf, or white bear trimmed with black, and of bearskin wholly of one color are much liked, and their long hair gives a room a wonderful air of comfort. The skin of the axis deer is of a tawny brown color, showing white spots, and is not long-haired, but very smooth; it is bordered in colored wool seal, making a rug that is especially suitable for a bath-room, since neither of the nelts is affected

THE RED HE WORK

Was All on His Head, but He Was Not

Ashamed to Own Up. Mrs. Van Wagonner, while on her recent supervising visits to all the Pittsburg schools to note the progress of drawing was catechizing the scholars of an East End room on their ability to distinguish color. Said she: "All stand who wear red to-day. A number arose, among them a boy on whom the lady could not notice anything of carmine tint. So she asked: "What do you wear that is red, little boy?"

And his answer shows that there is one youngster not ashamed of his Tittan-dyed locks, for he replied unflinchingly: "My hair is red." His bair did surpass in color any of Titian's famed beauties.

LUCKEY IN A COUNTRY SCHOOL How Twin Girls Managed to Keep Him

From Distinguishing Them. Superintendent Luckey tells a good story about his experience as a country school teacher. He had in his school twin sisters, who were as like each other as the proverbial two peas in a pod. One day one of the barefoot twins stubbed her toe and blackened it. On inquiry Mr. Luckey found it was Mary. "Well," said he, "Mary, as long as your toe is black I will know you." But that afternoon there were two blackened toes, for Mary's sister had blackened her toe with stove polish, and for that afternoon the old trouble of distinguishing them continued.
