NEW YORK, March 2 .- [Special.]-Some where in this big city Mrs. Hattie White, a pretty young woman whose mind is deranged, is hiding to escape imaginary evils. She has her two little daughters with her, and there is reason to believe that in her anxiety to escape her husband's supposed fury, and to prevent him from finding the little ones, she is slowly starving them to denth. Mrs. White 1s 29 years old, and has been married 12 years. Her oldest daughter, Stella, is 11 years old, and her youngest, Effic, 18 9.

Mrs. White left her home with her two children. When last heard from she was living in a room rented from a Mrs. Ma-honey. Mrs. Mahoney said to-day she had not taken Mrs. White for an insane woman, but thought she was a woman of good breed-ing in poor circumstances. "The children certainly did not have enough to eat," she said.

There is absolutely no track of the woman or children atter they left Mrs. Mahoney's on Monday morning. To-day Mr. White appealed to the police, and a general alarm was sent out to look for them.

The mileage of railroad that will be constructed in West Virginia this year will probably be more than three times as much as that of any previous year.

NEW YORK, March 2.-[Special.]-Mrs. Lucy Ridley, who was undoubtedly the oldest person in New York, died yesterday, at the residence of her granddaughter, 758 Greenwich street. According to the record of the family Bible and her own recollection she had passed her 118th birthday. She had lived in New York for 14 years, but had spent all the rest of her life in Oxford. N. C., where she was born. For seven years she had been unable to walk unassisted outside her room, but there, until about two weeks ago, she could get about all right.

Mrs. Ridley attracted attention when the Porter census was taken by announcing that she was born two years before the Declara-tion of Independence. Her husband died at an advanced age 25 years ago, and the youngest of her seven children was 59 years old when she died, 16 years ago. There are lour graudchildren in New York, all middle aged, but there are many more in the South, beside lots of great-graudchildren. Before Mrs. Ridley reached her 100th year she was a very large woman, but after that she became thin. She grew childish several years ago. Mrs. Ridley was a slave up to the emancipation. WASHINGTON, March 2.-Arrangements have been made by the friends and relatives of Riggin and Turnbull, the two sailors who were killed in Valparaiso last October, to bring their remains to the United States for interment. In accordance with their request Secretary Blaine has cabled Minister Egan to use his good offices in obtaining the necessary permission from the Chilean authorities for the disinterment and removal of the bodies. It is believed that no ob-jection will be offered to the plan, and that it will be carried into execution in a few days. It is understood that the various transportation companies between Val-paraiso and the points selected for final interment have tendered free transportation of the remains and escort.

The State Department to:day received the claims of five more of the Baltimore's crew who were injured in the riot at Valparaiso, aggregating $225,000.

THE SEA INVADING NEW JERSEY.

Additional Inroads Made by the Sea A! Along the Atlantic Coast,

CAPE MAY, N. J., March 2 .- The effects of the continuous northeast storm are being felt here. The new portion of the beach drive, built last summer to connect Cape May City with Mount Vernon, affording a beach road to Cape May Point, gave way before the fearful beating of the surf this morning, and the sea sweeps through it to the mendows. It is feared that the Mount Vernon bulkhead will yet yield to the tremendous lashing of the surf, which is sending the spray to the top of the beach pavilion. Additional inroads are making daily upon the Cape May Point front. Several feet of bluff have gone down at the foot of Cape avenue, and an inroad is also being started near the President's cottage. The new beach drive running cast is badly washed down by the sea, which repeats its furious attack at every high tide.

A curious thing is that, while all other towns in the county have good sleigh-ing, not a cutter is seen in Pottsville. The l8 or 29 inches of snow which has fallen there has only made deep mud.

Smaller Chicago Packers Seeking an In junction Against the $3,000,000 Deal.

NEWARK, N. J., March 2 .- Two Vice Chancellor's sat to hear arguments in a suit in the Court of Chancery this morning. Charles L. Willoughby sceks an injunction restricting the Chicago Junction Railway Stock Yards Company from executing an agreement to purchase lands of the stock vards from the Chicago packers, Armour, Swift and Morris, for what is alleged to be a price greatly in excess of the value of the property.

This property is the yards at Tolles ton, Ind., and the Central Stock Yards in Chicago, and the price to be paid therefor is over $3,000,000 worth of stock. The possession of this block of stock would give those three packers control of the Chicago yards, in which about 20 other packers are interested. Power would thus be given them to discriminate against others, to make rules and regulations by which consign-ments of stock to them and its subsequent shipment would be made at rates that would be untair to smaller packers. A number of affidavits from Chicago were read.
