The John Wesley A. M. E. Church Dedicates a New Organ.

SERMONS OF COLORED DIVINES.

Rev. Dr. Sutherland Talks of Women's Work in the Modern Church.

KEENE ON WRONG RELIGIOUS IDEAS

The advent of a new pipe organ into the John Wesley African Methodist Church, on Arthur street, was celebrated yesterday with much song and prayer.

The decorations were quite elaborate. The pulpit was profuse with palms and flowers of all kinds, with several canary birds in the foliage.

All through the singing the birds' sweet voices could be heard to rise and fall almost in harmony with the swells of the organ.

Dr. R. S. Lous was introduced and preached the sermon. He said in part: "The wise fools of today are constantly arranging themselves against the teachings of the Bible. They are seeking to moderate the passages of the present time. It is folly. Paul understood himself and far more in the use of forceful law, whose lasting and precious truth no age can abolish."

"You can never destroy the name of Jesus which all the soft apostles make. It is hidden and to all through all ages it will be. All the writings of the great theologians of the age cannot make the dark night down to this awful place a pleasant one."

Dr. Lous here switched the subject and brought up on another tack. "Among the first things instituted was the organ," said he. "We do not care what may have been its form at that early day. Ace has altered it just as much as the Bible laws will have to be made them applicable to the present time."

Here the audience had become impressed by the speaker's fervent words, and a chorus of "Amen" went up to God. "Yes, oh yes," filled the church.

"You should not come to church," continued the speaker, "unless you do not love God in your hearts. Church is not the place for vanity and show. You are out of place and have no business here, unless you come with love in your heart, money in your pocket, and a voice to praise God for the pretty organ. He has given you."

At night another special programme of song and scripture teaching was given by Dr. J. P. Sutherland, pastor of the Augustine Church, Salisbury, N. C., presiding there. There was a quartet of male voices present.

WOMEN IN CHURCH WORK.

Rev. Dr. Sutherland Talks of Her Place in Modern Religious Life—The Quotation From Paul That Is So Often Used to Silence the Sex.

Last night Dr. Sutherland, of the Second Presbyterian Church, preached the fifth of his series of sermons to young women. His special theme was: "Woman's Position and Work in the Church." In the course of his remarks he said: "It is not too much to say that for the advanced and aggressive attitude of the church to-day we are in no small degree indebted to woman."

The fruits of her devotion and zeal are seen in every department of Christian work, and in thus devoting herself so fully and unselfishly to the Master's service within the sphere of the church. She is fulfilling a most important part of her mission in the world. If, as some say, woman is more capable of religion than man, by that very fact it is obligatory upon her to be religious. Her very capacity is the measure of her responsibility. And there is no duty or privilege within the church which she should neglect. What were the facts? The religious girl of today is bestowed upon men and women alike. Each were anxious to speak, and they led to confusion because several got up to speak at once. Paul asks them, 'How is it then, brethren, when ye join together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an organ, hath a psalm, hath a tongue, hath a revelation. Let all things be done unto edifying. If any speak in an unknown tongue, let it be two, or at most by three, and by course, and let one interpret. But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church, and let him speak unto himself and to God.' Now having said so much to the women, Paul turns to the women present and says: 'Let your women keep silence in the church, as the Lord has commanded unto the church. Having silenced the men, he goes on to say that even the women, who then as now had no certain privileges, must not have the privilege of talking at random.'

WRONG IDEA OF RELIGION.

Rev. J. B. Koehne Tells How Many People Grasp the Question—The Shouter Not the Man—The Duty the Church Should Perform.

The first of a series of sermons conducted by the People's Church Association was held in the Grand Opera House last evening. Rev. J. B. Koehne preaching the sermon. The house was filled to comfortable capacity, and the sermon was worthy of it.

"The people do not seem to grasp what religion is," said he. "They think it is not in the hands of the busy man of the world, but only for the old and young, who have either passed that bustling stage or have not arrived at it. Then again some for an idea that religion is a sad, sorrowful thing and must be attended by doleful faces and weeping eyes. With others the opposite extreme is employed and the man or woman thinks God can not be worshipped unless fancy god can not be prayed. These people always remind me of a parrot, whose only utterance is, 'I love God.' They are very noisy, they always ask for some physical 'want,' forgetting all the time of moral needs."

The speaker then told what religion was and how a person should conduct himself to be religious. He then branched off on another line, and said: "There are two words which should be wiped off the category: 'Slave' and 'outcast.' Even though the days of Southern slavery have passed, the name slave is still retained, and it now covers more than it did in those days. In fact, there is nothing in the category that the words slave and outcast do not cover. The latter is a little the most terrible of the two. On every hand we hear of or have someone pointed out to us as outcast from society. What is society? It has the right to drive anyone out of the walls. This no one who claims to be in its narrow confines can answer. If the church of the land was to open its arms to the world as it should, society would be relegated to the rear, and these two awful words would forever be banished."

THE SECRET OF STRENGTH.

Rev. Dr. Purves Discourses on a Casually Large Congregation. Rev. George T. Purves, of the First Presbyterian Church, took for his subject last evening, "The Secret of Strength." The text was from Joel, chapter II, verse 12. In the course of his remarks he said: "The secret of strength lay in listening to the word of God, and obeying its mandates. Everyone who set up to fight God lost everything. King Saul was a most magnificent specimen of humanity, and when he ascended the throne of Israel, he was a young man when he began to listen to the word of God and began to rule for himself alone he lost the respect of every man and finally ended his career on his own sword. The word of God must be obeyed and its teachings followed to the letter."

CONFERENCE ON RECIPROCIITY

Arranged to Take Place in London, to See What Was Wrong.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 6. [Special.]—A conference has been arranged to be held in London, England, between representatives of Canada, Newfoundland and the British Government, with a view to a settlement of matters of dispute between the colony of Newfoundland and the Dominion, arising out of the interference of Sir John Macdonald in preventing the ratification of the treaty of reciprocity negotiated between Newfoundland and the United States by Secretary Blaine and Hon. Mr. Bond, in 1859. Sir Charles Tupper has been requested to represent Canada at the conference, while Hon. Mr. Harvey, of Newfoundland, will represent that colony. The representative of the British Government is yet to be named.

The Dominion Government submits a proposal that Canada be exempt from the ban which has been prohibited from purchasing bait in Newfoundland ports, which gave rise to the subsequent acts of retaliation adopted by both Governments. It is further proposed that the high and almost prohibitory duties on Canadian products imported into Newfoundland be lowered to their normal condition, in consideration of which Canada proposes to abolish the duty on fish imported from that colony. This arrangement to take effect at once, pending the final decision of the conference on all matters of controversy and reciprocal proposals between the two countries.

An Important Difference. To many appearances to thousands, who think themselves ill, that they are not affected with any disease, but that the system simply needs clearing, is the danger of home to their hearts, as a positive condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Not Responsible.

As regards food adulteration, the grocer is in no wise responsible for the acts of the manufacturer. If people want goods at cheap figures they must expect quality to correspond. Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts, Vanilla, Lemon, etc., come a few cents higher than other extracts in the market, but they contain no poisonous or hurtful matter as an adulterant; their quality is the highest; their flavor the finest and their perfect purity established.
