Allegations are made that the agreement is null and void for want of conderation, but, also sets forth that rather than have litigation the respondent offered $175 in satisfaction of judgment, but her offer was refused.

Mrs. Gavena and Mr. Breil were put to much trouble when notified by Martini of his judgment as the records showed nothing against the Gavenas, and not until the Sheriff had billed the property did they discover the trick. Had they not learned enough to look for Ravera instead of Gavena the property might have been dis-posed of and further trouble made, as to-morrow was fixed as the date of sale.

IN CRIMINAL COURT.

Many More Pleas of Guilty Entered-Sev eral Severe Sentences Pronounced-The Work of the Grand Jury.

Yesterday was another eventful day in Criminal Court. If the present gait could nly he maintained the term would end in week at the Aivin Theater, and in a very amusing musical comedy called "Miss Helyett." The play has a new and adda-ciously French plot, and contains a very funny if not very true picture of a sancti-monious Quaker, who is continually getting off shrewd sayings like this: "A wise man will accommodate himself to circumstances, and take what he can yet." The cast conent and take when he was get an ark Smith, M. A. Kennedy, Harry Harwood, Laura Clem-ent, Kate Davis and Mrs. Leslie Carter.

about three weeks and the court officials would be a happy set of men. But it is customary at the beginning of each term to dispose of the cases in which the defendants desire to plead guilty, so that those who are imprisoned may run through their sentences as soon as possible. There were a number of rather severe sentences yesterday, and some of those yet to come have about made up their minds that it does hot about made up their minds that it does not pay to plead guilty. George Sanford pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny on oath of H. Newman, and was sent to the penitentiary for three years. Fred Mechelus, John Harrington and George Courtney got a year each to the workhouse on a charge of larceny. James Mechan, for the same offense, was sent to the penitentiary for three years. A. A. Allen, who was charged with collecting money from a number of people on the promise of securing them employment, stood trial. The charge against him was false pretense. William Reardon defended him. The case excited considerable attention. There were a number of persons present who The case excited considerable attention. There were a number of persons present who claimed to have paid Allen money for situa-tions, but never got them. It seems that Allen had taken precautions against render-ing himself liable for prosecution and the Court so instructed the jury. A verdict was rendered acquitting Allen, but ordering him to pay the costs. him to pay the costs.

William Stoner was acquitted on the charge of assault and battery. George Mar-ques, charged with larceny, was acquitted. George Martzen plead guilty to felonious assault and battery on oath of Stephen Hor-net, of McKeesport, and was sent to the workhouse for six months. Danko Macko-witz got nine months for cutting Stephen Youschack. Patrick Cain plead guilty to larceny, and was given eight months. Al Ferguson was sent up for 18 months for en-tering the building of Annie Blanchfield on the Southside. Mary Duffy plead guilty to illegal liquor selling, and was fined $550 and sent to the workhouse for three months. The grand jury made two returns yester-day. The true bills were:

The Duquesne Petition Dismissed.

Judge Stowe yesterday handed down an opinion in the matter of the petition of George Estep and S. H. Young for writs of mandamus against the Election Board of Duquesne borongh to compel the board to issue to them certificates of election as Councilmen for the borongh. The petitioners claim that there were to been elected two Councilmen for three have years in addition to others for one and two years. The board contended that there were no Councilmen to have been elected for three years, and would not issue the certificates. Judge Stowe in his opinion said that the law did not require the election of the three-year Councilmen, and dismissed the petition.

The Sheriff After the Children, *

A hearing was to have been held yesterday in the habeas corpus' proceedings brought by George Keisling against Willbrought by George Activing against will-iam Schedel, Jr. to secure possession of his two children. No one appeared for the de-fendant, however, and the children were not present. Judge Stowe therefore made an order directing the Sheriff to bring the

"JUDAH" will take the place of "The Middleman" at the Duquesne Theater Thursdleman" at the Duquesne Theater Thurs-day evening. It is also by Henry Arthur Jones, and must certainly be a play of considerable force and interest, according to all accounts. Mr. Willard as-sumes a more youthful character than the old potter Cyrus Blenkarn, and shows, it is said, in the role of a young clergyman, who is the hero of the play, a new side of his art. Miss Marie Burrouths, also, it is said, has a larger opportunity to shine than she had in "The Middleman."

BILL NYE's dramatic effort, "The Cadi," is destined to burst upon a bewildered public next week at the Duquesne Theater. If the next week at the Duquesne Theater. If the play is as funny as what Bill Nye has written about it from time to time, it ought to be laughable enough. It is a farce of a new sort; consisting chiefly of Nye's peculiar humor done up in dramatic parcels. There are many special features, and the company is said to be uncommonly good.

THE coming of Bernhardt is so near at hand, for she begins a week's engagement at hand, for she begins a week's engagement at the Alvin Theater on March 21, that her repertoire will prove of interest. Here it is: Monday, "La Tosca:" Tuesday, "Leah;" Wednesday, "Fedora;" Thursday, "Camille;" Friday evening and Saturday matinee, "Cleopatra." Saturday evening's bill is not determined yet.

STEELE MACKAYE'S powerful drams of the F.ench Revolution, "Paul Kauvar," with Edward F. Snader in the title role, will be the straction at the Grand Opera House next week. The leading lady in the cast is Miss Roselle Knott, who plays the character of Diame, and is suid to be very effective in the part.

THERE are very few freaks of nature that have such genuine scientific interest as Krao, the girl who has so many of the char-Krao, the girl who has so many of the char-acteristics of the monkey. The World's Museua-Theater is being crowded day and night with people who want to see what is not unfairly termed "the missing link." EUGEN D'ALBERT, the planist, of whom the great critic Krehbiel says that he is the greatest player heard here since Bubinstein, will give a concert here on Monday even-ing, March 21, at Old City Hall. He is under the management of C. A. Ellis.
