A SINGULAR OIL REGION CASE.

Lockjaw Claims a Small Wheeling Boy After Jumping the Rope.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NEARBY TOWNS

SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. OIL CITY, PA., March 14 .- A Venango county divorce case of a peculiar character was called up for argument at the last Argument Court on a petition of record. The case was not considered by the Court, but continued until a future date. Your correspondent has been investigating the matter and reports upon examination of the records in the case he finds the tollowing remarkable state of facts:

On the 6th day of July, 1878, Dr. Benjamin Nice, a prominent physician of Berks county, Pa., was married to a young and beautiful girl, and the union was a happy one until March, 1886. About this time a coolness arose between them and the Doctor went to Florida, ostensibly for the benefit of his health, as alleged. Not long after this a prominent attorney of Reading, Pa., wrote a letter to the deserted Mrs. Nice, offering her a large consideration if she would proceed to get a divorce on the grounds of her husband deserting her. This she refused to do, the last letter being written to her by the above attorney on May 28,

Negotiations then ceased and the wife heard nothing more of the matter until October 8, 1891, when she received a letter from Prothonotary Evans, stating that the doctor had procured a divorce in Venango county on December 13, 1888, less than seven months after she had refused his offer to become divorced for a money considera-

A Remarkable State of Affairs.

Upon investigating this remarkable state of facts, it was discovered that the doctor had come to Venango county within 30 days atter his wife had refused to entertain the proposition of the attorney. He had no grounds for obtaining a divorce on the plea of desertion. On arriving in Franklin on June 8, 1888, the doctor filed his petition for a subpœna in divorce against his wife. His allegations in this petition are of such a character that they are unfit for publica-A subpœna was awarded, directing Mrs. Nice to appear before the court in county and answer his The Sheriff returned this writ, charges. The Sheriff returned this writ, saving he could not find her. Another subpœna was ordered and the same return made of this writ, when the Court then ordered notice to her published in the county papers, which was duly made. Of course, being in a local paper, the notice did not reach much further than the boundaries of the county, and the wife had no notice whatever. In November, 1888, Hon. Judge McCormick, who had been appointed examiner, returned the testimony, which, by the way, consisted wholly of the evidence of the doctor himself. There was no testimony given by any other person. evidence of the doctor himself. There was no testimony given by any other person. Under the law, as alleged in the petition hereafter reterred to, the doctor was incompetent to testify against his wife as to any matter occurring during their marital relations, except the bare lact of marriage, and the evidence as recorded shows that he even failed to testify to this fact. The doctor was granted a decree in divorce, and hastened back to the eastern part of the State and married another woman.

The Worried Wife's Revenge. As above stated, wife No. 1 did not hear of this proceeding in divorce until October 8 1891, nearly three years after the decree had been granted, although the husband, it is averred, knew all the time where she lived and could easily have given her an opportu nity to have defended her good name and character. Soon after bearing of her husband's divorce and marriage she had him arrested at Reading, Pa., for bigamy, and immediately filed her petition upon the record of this county, setting forth distinct-ively and minutely the facts as above cited, record of this county, setting forth distinctively and minutely the facts as above cited, and praying the court here to annul the decree granting her husband a divorce, maintaining her innotence and alleging that all the acts of her husband were fraudulent. This matter was brought up for argument on Thursday, the last day of argument court, and was adjourned by the court until the end of the jury trial next week.

As above stated, Nice was arrested at Reading, Pa., for bigamy several months ago, and should the court here annul the decree of divorce, he will immediately be tried for the crime of which it is alleged he is guilty. It is said that public feeling in Berks county is worked up to fever pitch over the matter, and as the libellant's father is worth a cool $100,000 every available means will be brought into play to clear the defendant of this charge.

Not Accident, but Murder, Alliance, March 14.—[Special.]—An investigation into the cause of the death of James Miller, whose body was found in Yellow creek a few days ago, shows that he met death from an assassin's hand. It was at that from all assassins and, it was at that thought that he fell from the bridge while intoxicated. He was a boss miner, and before starting for home showed a roli of bills. When found he had an ugly wound on his head, while there was not a penny in his pockets. His friends are hunting down the murderer.

SOME BRADDOCK BREVITIES.

A Preacher's View of the Stage-Portraits

in the Carnegie Library. Braddock, March 14.—[Special.]—Rev. T. N. Boyle, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church here, spoke strongly last night on "Emotion and Morality." He talked of the stage and drama, but condemne neither. He said he knew the drama awoke an upheaval of the emotions, but it hardly reached the moral nature beneath. None were ever converted by the stage, and a drunkard might see himself pictured there, but the portrayal never lifted him from his

The Carnegie Free Library here to-day received fine oil portraits of Andrew and Thomas M. Carnegie, painted by a well-known Pittsburg artist. They are presents from the Library Association, and are of life size and strikingly natural portraits. H. C. Frick recently presented the same library a handsome oil portrait of the late Captain W. Shortly after he was taken violently ill with something like a congestive chill. Yesterday morning he could not rise and could not speak. A physician found the child suffering with lockjaw. The boy got weaker and weaker till he died in convulsions this afternoon. The case is said by local physicians to be without precedent.

READY FOR THE DOGS

Everything in Order for the Opening of To-day's Local Show.

EXCECLENT ARRANGEMENTS MADE

Sullivan and Corbett Representatives to Meet To-day at New York.

MORE QUEER RUMORS ABOUT TENNY

Everything and everybody is now ready for the big dog show that commences this morning in the Auditorium, Penn avenue, under the auspices of the Duquesne Kennel Club. Judging from the extensive arrangements which were completed last evening it is likely to be the biggest and best show ever held in this city. Those who saw last year's show will see a vast difference between the arrangements then and the arrangements now. The benches this time are laid out excellently and much credit is due Superintendent Reed for the able way in which he has managed matters. President Boggs and Secretary Lettell, too, have been untiring in their labors in getting things in order, and when the show orens this morning visitors will at once see how conveniently everything has been arranged. A Big Entry List,

It was thought that there would not be room for all the dogs, the entry list being such a big one, but considerable space has been utilized this time that was wasted at the last show. Besides, benches have been erected in the gallery for pet dogs, and this is a new feature. Every class will be well represented, par-Livery class will be well represented, par-ticularly the St. Bernards. They will be located to-day about the same place as last year and they are sure to be one of the great centers of attraction. The dogs of the Dutchess Kennel, Poughkeepsie, arrived last evening and they are about as handsome St. Bernards as have been in Pittsburg. They are, indeed, worth journeying a long distance to see. Aristocrat, for which Colonel Rupert, the owner, paid a very large sum, is certainly a noble animal. Altonette, Ellen Terry, Empress of Contoo representing the kennel. The Maryland Kennel of St. Bernards has also arrived. It is also interesting to know that among the local St. Bernards that will be shown are dogs owned by Herbert Hostetter and James Piatt. The Niagara Kennels will also be represented, together with kennels from

A large number of Great Danes arrived last evening, among them being dogs owned by W. H. Shephard, of Brooklyn; C. Morris, Philadelphia; the Wolverine Kennels, Detroit, and a kennel from Iowa. The Great Danes this year are likely to be good.

A Wealthy Man's Dog. Colonel Thayer's deerhounds were on hand last evening, and they are withou doubt a first-class sample of the deerhound Colonel Thayer is one of the wealthiest me in Boston, and certainly it must have cos him lots of money to get together such a splendid lot of dogs as he has at this show. George McKinney, of the Hotel Ander-son, has what may be termed here two novelties. He will show two German Al-mars there, in many respects similar to a Great Dane, and they are the only two in the show. The greyhounds from the Salem Kennels

The greyhounds from the Salem Kennels have arrived, and those of the Chicago Kennels will arrive this morning. They are tolerably good looking dogs.

But there is a very big entry of pointers and English setters. There will be close and exciting contests in these classes. Among the pointers will be Lord Graphic, of the Westminster Kennels, and Tempest, from Bath. Me. So far these dogs have carried from Bath, Me. So far these dogs have car ried everything before them, and they are looked upon as sure winners here. There are more setters this time than there have been here before. And the list of local dogs, particularly those of the pet kind, is nearly three times larger than it has ever been been. There is certainly a great amount of interest cen-tered in this class, and the awards, no matter how they go, are sure to cause lots of talk among the owners.

Prize for St. Bernards.

J. B. Vandergrift gives a solid silver collar to the best St. Bernard in the show and Colonel Rupert is confident of getting it with one of his dogs.

John Davidson, of Monroe, Mich., Judge of the sporting dogs, arrived last evening.

"Honest" John, as he is called, was all smiles "Honest" John, as he is called, was all smiles last night, and during a conversation he said the show would be a good one, as some splendid dogs will be here. He had a quiet walk round among the canines last evening and thought well of them. Miss Whitney, judge of the large dogs, and George Raper, of Sheffield, Eng., judge of the non-sporting dogs, will arrive this morning from New York. Judging will commence about 9:30 this morning, as it is intended to get through with it as soon as possible. Prof. Burton's trick dogs will perform this evening, and if the weather is fine it is safe to predict that the crowd at the show to-day will be a big one.

A CRANK'S OBJECTION.

The 25-Cent Seats Cause a Kick by Local Patron.

The following letter, which explains itself, was received at this office last evening: To the Sporting Editor of The Dispatch: I want to make a protest through you against the Pittsburg Baseball Club in regard to 25-cent seats they are to impose on us people. The idea of creci-ing seats in center field. When I wish to see them play I want to be in Pittsburg, not on Southside. Why a person can see as well from a box car on the railroad, free of charge, or even from a telegraph noise.

railroad, free of charge, or even from a telegraph pole.

I want to make a suggestion, viz: Divide the bleachers roofing the division nearest the grand stand, charging 35 cents for them, and 25 cents for those uncovered. In this way they can draw a much larger crowd, as I don't think the center field seats will pay to erect them. As far as room is concerned they have any amount of it. I never saw the seats fully occupied but once, and that was a year ago last Fourth of July, when there were two games for one price of admission. Fifty cents is too much to pay to see a pennant-winning club such as we had last year, and people don't go to see the other club play.

I am willing to fight before the Olympic Club, but I am Sullivan—and here the champion smote his brawny chest with his hand—"the champion of the world, and I will not allow any set of horse-shoers to draw up articles for me. Of course, if the Olympic Club articles suit me I will sign and stand by them, but no one outside of Johnson, who is my backer and knows exactly what I want, and myself has any power to say I shall do this or that. a few good judges of fighters, however, think that this battle will be Sullivan's Waterloo. Wakely telegraphed Sullivan last night to ascertain the route of the combination so that he can be in communication with the champion all the time.

Dick Roche set the sports to thinking by offering to bet Wakely $100 that Corbett would not make the match. Sullivan's backer did not take the bet. "If Corbett fails to put up his money," said Wakely, "he will be classed with Mitchell, Slavin and the other champion bluffers. I do not think he can afford to back out now after all he has said about being pleased at Sullivan's offer to meet him. As for Mitchell, why you could not drag him into a ring with John without using a derrick, and even then he might squirm out of the ropes."

Corbett's intention is to be at the appointed place between the hours of 1 and 3 to-morrow. Wakely will be on hand, he says, no matter what happens.

Both men have been practicing diligently at their respective rooms, and a comparison of their respective rooms, and a comparison of scores brings "The Young Napoleon" into strong light, and strengthens the impression that he will give "The Wizard" a tight race, if he does not actually succeed in bringing home what he is going after.

The records for the week's practice give Ives the better grand average and single average, and a big run but four points shorter than Schaefer's best, which was 196. In his last seven practice rames of 600 points each his averages were 26, 29, 26, 27, 53, 41 and 40, and in every one of these seven games he made two runs of 100 or better, never going above 192. This shows that his game has been remarkably uniform. At the same time the champion has made averages of 40 and 26 in 600 points in a 600-point game he has made an average of 90. His best runs for the week were 196, 187, 189, 171 and 169.

TENNY IN BAD SHAPE,

Once More Rumors Are Current About the Famous Race Horse.

New York, March 14.-It is stated here that Mr. David Pulsifer is quoted as writing to his friends that Tenny is doing well and will certainly be a starter in one or the othe big handicaps. That veternn jockey and level headed horseman "Billy" Donohue is quoted as having said: "Tenny is in a bad way. His forelegs are in bad condition." "Come along and see the horse yourself," says the trainer, "Snip" Donovan. "There's says the trainer, "Ship" Bonovan. There's the horse, sir," said he, throwing open Tenny's stall. Tenny's forelegs are twice their ordinary size. Below the knee joint they are as rough as though covered with burrs. "He has been blistered three times this winter," says Kerrick. "He has not been fired. His forelegs were even larger a week ago than now. There are reducing in size. No, I don't think he is as heavy as when I showed you the old horse a year ago. You see, he has suffered with his old complaint, colic, and we have had to physic him, besides starving him to keep the fever down."

"How do you starve him?"

"Oh, he gets no oats or hay, but simply hot bran mashes. He gets all the water he wants, but none of the good things in horse food. We strive to keep the fever out of his legs as much as possible. While he stands there inactive in the stable we have got to stint his stomach. I should judge now, however, that he weighs in the neighborhood of 950 pounds." the horse, sir," said he, throwing open Ten-

Berger Not Signed Yet.

During a conversation yesterday John Berger, the catcher, said: "I have not

Berger, the catcher, said: "I have not signed with the Memphis club yet. I had a letter from the club to-day and they want me to get another catcher, a pitcher and a second baseman for them. I may not go to Memphis. I have also had a nice letter from Manager Selee, of the Boston club, and he says he will engage me at the first opportunity. I will not go to the Western League and I have not sent my terms there. I am prepared to wait for a week or two."

Baseball Notes.

EASTON is to be signed by St. Louis to take the late Pitcher O'Brien's place. MANAGER BUCKENBERGER has arranged a gam for the local team at Ft, Wayne. BROOKLYN now has three Western League pitchers, viz: Stern, Hart and Kennedy, PRESIDENT BYRNE signed pitcher Kennedy, of Bellaire, for the Brooklyn club yesterday, MANAGER BUCKENBERGER thinks Kennedy, signed to pitch for the Brooklyn club, is a good man.

PRESIDENT BYRNE, of the Brooklyn club, was in the city yesterday. He thinks well of the pros-pects of the season and he also thinks he has signed a good man in Kennedy. PRESIDENT VON DER AHE sent Darby O'Brien a check for $100 last Tuesday in a letter teilting him to report at St. Louis by the 15th. He had no idea Darby was sick, as he heard from him less than

J. M. THOMAS, of Port Townsend, Wash, writes a Cleveland paper saying: "I see that Pittsburg thinks they have a great and in 'Kid' Camp. I think Cleveland has a greater one in Rettger, insomuch as he is cooler and not so liable to get the swell nead."

DIRECTOR CONANT is about the only one of the Boston directors who still sticks out for Kelly. He does not want him to go to New York. He claims that Kel will still be a drawing card in the other towns, if he has lost his charm at home. It is evident that John B. Day would like him, but Walter Spaiding just as evidently is not breaking his neck running after him. MRS. CLARKSON even complained to the Boston club owners about her husband's dissipation. She said all her husband had saved was in the big house they have out in Cambridge, and he hasn't a cent beside that. Mr. Counnt suggested that they mortgage the house and get $3.50 to recompense the Boston club and he would release Clarkson, and she went away to see if it could be done.

General Sporting Notes, It is stated that Tenny is in very bad shape. SUBSCRIBER-Sullivan is 5 feet 1014 inches tall.

C. W. WILLIAMS is again trying to arrange more between Axtell and Allerton. CORDETT says it is not the money he is after in fighting Sullivan. It is the fame. He is sure he will win. BILLY THOMPSON, the manager of Slavin and Mitchell, is in New York prepared to match Mitchell against John L. eth against sonn L.

H. KRAMER (1)—Your conjecting for $50 disqualifies you as an amateur in all respects. You cannot compete in amateur contests of any kind. LEW SHAW and Frank Bay are matched to play a 14-inch balk line game of billiards, 400 points up, for a purse of 8100. The (contest will take place at the Monarch Billiard Hall, Merchants' Exchange building, to-morrow evening, March 16.
