BLEAK MARCH WINDS

Have a Bad Effect on Trade, According to Bradstreet and Dun.

IRON IS STILL IN A BAD WAY.

Some of the Features Which Are Now Depressing Wall Street.

CLEARINGS AND BUSINESS PAILURES

PERCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, March 18.-Rain and cold weather in the South and Southwest, a low range of temperature, with snow West and Northwest, and the bad condition of country roads in the same range of territory, as per special telegrams to Bradstreet's, have checked, to some extent, shipments of seasonable goods, prevented the free marketing of farm products, and resulted in further delay of mercantile collections.

The most active general trade, relatively, is reported from Omaha, Chicago and Kansas City. New Orleans sends word that interior buyers are not anticipating wants much. Baltimore is pushing trade less in the South and more in fields not hitherto sought by travelers from that city. Most other centers of Southern trade report business quite dull or only moderately active.

Pittsburg reports increased demand from country merchants, but no improvement in iron. Cincinnati reports business very dull in some lines, but a fair trade in clothing, shoes, groceries and provisions,

Unfavorable Iron Markets Continue. The latter feature is true at most of the larger cities North and West. Many Ohio pig iron furnaces are planning to go out of blast by the end of March. Philadelphia admits lower prices for iron, a fair demand but low prices for knit goods and increased interest in leather. New England shoe factories are quite active, and rubber prices

Live stock at Western centers are 5@10c lower. Chestnut coal is 25c higher per ton. Reports of January net earnings of 108 railway companies show a decrease of 7.4 per cent, contrasted with January a year ago. In December, 1891, the increase of net over the total in that month in 1890 was 15 per cent, and in November 13 per cent. The Pennsylvania and Northern and Southern Pacific systems, New York, Lake Erie and Western, East Tennessee and Louisville and Nashville show heavier declines in net earnings for January.

Woolen goods have not been strong, but manufacturers evidently regard present prices for raw wools as low, having bought reely at some concessions as to price during the week. Carpets are in improved re-

The State of the Cotton Trade.

Haw cotton loses 1/3c after fluctuating with foreign coal strike prospects and reduced home receipts. Cotton goods ship-ments from Eastern mills and jobbers continue heavy. Exports to China are in-creased. Print cloths are firm and higher. Speculation in the stock market is ex-cessively dull and narrow, but prices are cessively dull and narrow, but prices are comparatively well sustained, and even strong in some instances. The expectation of a "spring rise" seems to influence the disposition of operators, while, in spite of a banking failure at St. Petersburg, the passage into liquidation of a house which has been in difficulties for over a year and the announcement that Baring's assets will remain with the Bank of England, appear to create a better prospect for foreign buy-ing of "Americans." The Richmond Terminal reorganization plan was the chief financial event of the week, although the magnitude of the task thus undertaken seems to create some doubt in Wall street about its success.

The bond market has been lifeless. For-ments have been impossible.

The Export Movements of Wheat, Considerable dissatisfaction is heard at the refusal of prices of wheat to advance, though the statistical basis for materially higher quotations is not apparent. Exports, including flour, both coasts, this week, equal 3,818,600 bushels, a little in excess of the week before, a gain of 40 per cent over the total shipped in the like week

R. G. Dun's Complaint of the Weather. R. G. Dun & Co,'s weekly review will

Storms had weather and had roads have much retarded trade during the past week, premises, reducing the movement of grain and curtailing retail trade in many cities; but, nevertheless, reports indicate, on the whole an improvement in the distribution of goods and a fairly sustained demand, in some branches increasing, for manufactured

There is no trouble anywhere about money, even the Southern markets being fairly supplied, with a light but rather bet-ter demand, while at the West the demand ter demand, while at the West the demand is still met by an ample supply. While imports of merchandise show a large increase over last year for half of March, 10.4 per cent, there also appears an increase in domestic exports for two weeks of March about 6 per cent; but vast supplies of some great staples have produced phenomenally low prices during the past week. These low prices cause not a little disheartenment in some branches of trade, although the moveprices cause not a little disheartenment in some branches of trade, although the movement of products continues active.

Beports from interior cities are generally more encouraging. At Boston a steady increase is seen in the drygoods trade. Shipments of boots and shoes slightly exceed those of last year for the week. At Philadelphia excellent distribution of drygoods is seen.

At Pittsburg reports are of a poor demand for manufactured iron, but a good trade in plass. At Cleveland trade inproves and exceeds last year's, though pig iron and ore are dull. At Cincinnati the above manufacturer is busy, but a strike has stopped the namess and saddlery business.

At Chicago and the West.

At Chicago and the West.

At Chicago excellent trade is seen in drygoods and shoes, though the clothing trade falls behind on account of the weather, but for the year exceeds that of last year. Receipts of wheat are three times, of barley and dressed beef twice that of last year, and an increase of two-thirds is seen in flour, a third in rye and cattle, and some increase in butter, with a slight decrease in hides and wool and large decrease in hogs, cured meats and lard.

At Milwaukee jobbing trade equals that of last year's, in spite of bad roads, and at Omaha business is very good in all lines. At st. Paul and Minneapolis jobbing trade was never so active for the season, though wheat receipts are reduced by the storm. At Kansas City trade is fairly satisfactory and cattle receipts heavy at lower prices. At st. Louis wholesale distribution in all lines much exceeds last year's, and collections are unusually easy, country merchants buying not only more goods but better qualities.

At Louisville weather retards, but trade
at Montromery is fair; at Sayauunah good

At Louisville weather retards, but trade

at Montgomery is fair; at Savaunah good, with bright prospects, and at New Orleans slightly improved, sugar being strong, though cotton declines with heavy receipts. The Changes in Produce Markets.

Speculation in breadstuffs has been dewassed by the official report of wheat in farmers' hands, and on moderate sales wheat has declined 3%c; corn, 1%c, and oats, 2c. In pork products no change appears, nor in coffee, but oil is 2½c lower. In cotton a decline to 6½c has been followed by a recovery to 6.81c, but receipts and exports for the week both exceed last year's.

In the great manufactures there is a general activity. Sales of pig iron at low figures continue, some makers even contracting for such prices for the whole of this year. The demand for bar iron is dull, but for plates a little better, though prices are demoralized. The market for copper seems to indicate some agreement, and is stronger, but coal is dull.

A Gitt-Edge Investment.

The bond market has been lifeless. For-eign exchange is inactive at a slight decline. The absence of foreign participation in the securities makes the cutting off one of the usual sources of activity. So narrow is the market that sales of bills against gold shipbefore the lots are sold, instead of selling lots and expecting to locate manu-factories afterward. The Aliquippa Steel Company, employing between 400 and 500 men, and the big shovel works of the J. C. Russell Company are already on the ground, a big tin-plate mill will be started shortly, and negotiations are pending for several other factories to locate. The comfoundation of a prosperous town.
