

WIGGORS PROTESTS

Entered Before the Finance Committee by Property Holders Who Are

OPPOSED TO THE ARMOY.

Chief Bigelow and Controller Morrow Join Mayor Gourley in GUARDING THE CITY'S INTERESTS.

A Very Lively Discussion Upon the Fifth Avenue Market House.

THE MATTER TO GO BEFORE COUNCILS

The meeting of the Finance Committee yesterday afternoon was the most interesting held in many months. The business for which it was called was of an important character to the people, and the discussion among the members took a highly interesting turn at several stages.

Even if the citizens fail to prevent the lease being entered into, it cannot become a law with the present Councils unless there should be a special meeting called for the purpose. There will be only one more regular meeting before the new Councils are sworn in.

Bigelow Standing With Gourley. The only chance therefore of making it a law is in a special meeting next week.

It was learned yesterday that Chief Bigelow has taken a stand with the Mayor in regard to the lease and declares that the property should be turned to account for the city instead of giving it away.

Not the Place for an Armory. George Smith, the Fifth Avenue grocer, was next called on and in a general way commended Mr. Sheffer's proposals.

Another Argument. This proposition met with the approval of Messrs. Paul, Angloch and Maguire, of the committee, and Controller Morrow went to the City Clerk's office for the document, but returned in a moment without it.

Eastbound Train Rates Reduced. The Pittsburgh freight agents were busy yesterday checking up iron rates to Eastern points.

Mr. Paul seemed skeptical about the lease and wanted to see, in his desire being shared by others present, but it was not produced. Mr. Paul then wanted to know where the money was.

Mr. Keating—When this proposition was approved by Councils in 1889 subscriptions numbered to over $100,000 were secured. Everything visited subscribed. But the panic of 1890 caused the parties having it in hand to stop, preferring to wait until the trouble passed in 1891.

Mr. Keating—The gentleman probably does not know that the money is ready to pay off these bonds when they come due next year.

Division of Honors

Between the Democratic Fractions in Yesterday's Primaries.

THE NORTHSIDE FIGHT IN DOUBT.

With Full Returns from the Seventh District Needed to Settle It.

GUFFEY AND FLEMING HAD NO TROUBLE

The Democratic primaries to elect State and National delegates from the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congressional districts embraced in Allegheny county, passed off last evening very quietly, and from the returns received up to midnight the indications were that the public vote would be divided about equally between the two factions.

The Democratic primaries to elect State and National delegates from the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Congressional districts embraced in Allegheny county, passed off last evening very quietly, and from the returns received up to midnight the indications were that the public vote would be divided about equally between the two factions.

Points of the Contest. Three State delegates were chosen from each of the two legislative districts, and the nine State delegates will determine who of the five candidates shall be National delegates.

The fight in the First Legislative district was uninteresting, and it was practically over before the polls were carried nearly everywhere in the district, save that in which Mr. Huckenstein lives.

The fight in the Second Legislative district was interesting, and it was practically over before the polls were carried nearly everywhere in the district, save that in which Mr. Huckenstein lives.

The fight in the Third Legislative district was uninteresting, and it was practically over before the polls were carried nearly everywhere in the district, save that in which Mr. Huckenstein lives.

HAILED WITH DELIGHT.

The Annual Moving Vacation of the Children Commences on Friday.

Friday next will be a day of events in the Pittsburgh schools, in fact it will be a red-letter day for the pupils inasmuch as it marks the beginning of a week's vacation.

Speaking of his fight last night, Mr. Huckenstein said: "I have carried the seventh district just as I would expect. It was a matter of a few figures, however. Mr. Osborne could not be found last night."

HATCH FOR CLEVELAND.

He Says the South and West Want Him to Say That He Will Carry Out the Party Platform—This is His Only Condition.

Congressman Hatch, of Missouri, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, spent an hour at the Union depot last evening. He had been home for a week, looking after his farming interests, and was on his way back to Washington.

NO MORE QUAIL THIS SEASON.

"Squab and teal and mallard ducks are about the only game left for the season," remarked Hans Douglas, the Duquesne steward, last evening. "It is impossible to buy quail or pheasants here now. I think I bought the last two dozen quail that came to the Pittsburgh market on Tuesday. I haven't seen any since. Venison also is out of the market."

LOYAL TO HARRISON.

Ex-Attorney General Michener Thinks Ben Will Be Renominated.

L. T. Michener, the ex-Attorney General of Indiana, was at the Duquesne yesterday. William Campbell, a prominent Chicago lawyer, spent the day with him, and they conferred most of the time in Mr. Michener's room.

Mr. Michener is still loyal to Harrison, and he thinks the President will be renominated and re-elected. He says the Indiana Republicans are in line, and the reports of dissatisfaction in the ranks are untrue. He believes that with Harrison the Republicans will carry Indiana again.

THE KICKER AT WORK ON FIRST AVENUE.

The police were notified last night that Lottie Phillips, living at 78 First avenue, had been kicked by an unknown man there in the afternoon, rendered insensible and had lain in that condition for an hour.

TRUSS CAREFULLY TESTED AND SATISFACTION GUARANTEED AT ARTIFICIAL LIMB MFG. CO.

SOLVING THE BRIDGE QUESTION.

A Proposal to Build Direct From the Southside to the Bluff—Great Saving in Time With New Sections Connected—Difficulty of Buying a Bridge.

Since the appropriation of the additional $100,000 to the Southside free bridge project—making $300,000 in all—public interest on both sides of the river is directed to the early adoption of the plans for the work. At the start an objection has been raised in some quarters that it will be impossible to find a location for the bridge letting the traffic out on Second avenue or Water street that will not interfere with existing toll bridge companies, diminishing greatly their earnings.

Meanwhile, another proposal is now meeting favor on the Southside which would be measurably free from this difficulty, and would serve to give better bridge service than could be had in any other way. The substance of it is that the bridge should be built, not to Second avenue, but direct to the bluff above the toll bridge.

At the Public Works Department this idea is well thought of. Two points have been particularly considered for the connection between the Southside and the bluff, one at Brady street, Soho, the other at the end of Chestnut street. The latter would require a short tunnel, but in other respects it would have great advantages.

It has been objected that a landing at Chestnut street would make the Pittsburgh end of the bridge too high; but investigation has shown that a short tunnel, which is the best plan, would be a better solution.

The heavy frost for years. Pittsburgh is given an inch of the beautiful in 30 minutes—A woman, blinded by the storm, falls and is hurt.

At 8:30 last night the stars were shining down on the city, but five minutes later the stars had been lost to view in one of the heaviest snow storms perhaps Pittsburgh ever had.

The scenes on the streets were novel ones. Men and women, slipping and falling, the blinding storm and the street cars looked like great white birds. At that hour the streets were filled with shoppers and they presented a very pretty picture.

From every hand could be heard comments on the storm's severity. "Cold gray—the best I ever saw in this city," said one. "I never seen such a fall in Pittsburgh. The men who are always going back into the 40's were also on hand."

The only other damage caused was to street cars. They were delayed, and on several of the lines the sweepers had to be used. The trains from the East were also delayed.

THE TROUBLE NOT SETTLED.

A Committee Will Look Into the Grievances of the Marble Workers.

The Trade Assembly last night did not take definite action on the trouble among the workmen on the Times building, but referred it to a committee, which will meet Wednesday night. The same committee will also discuss the other grievances existing between the marble cutters and polishers.

Last Friday night L. A. 300, window glass workers, adopted resolutions indorsing the national eight-hour bill. The assembly met last night also passed resolutions asking for its passage.

The Saturday and Sunday Hospital Association scheme was talked over, and the assembly requested all the different labor organizations to contribute.

O'MARA ORDERS SOME ARRESTS.

By direction of Superintendent of Police O'Mara three parties were arrested yesterday on information alleging that they kept a disorderly house at 2012 Penn. avenue. Dr. I. Knox was also arrested in connection with the case, it being alleged that he made his home with the woman. Superintendent O'Mara says a number of citizens on Butler street, who were in the woman's house, had rented a house in that vicinity and they feared she intended establishing herself there.

Magistrate Succop's Docket. As a result of a Polish war on the Southside there are numerous cross suits before Magistrate Succop. Joseph Karanicki is sued by John Hogan for assault and battery. Andy Wilkowsky is sued by Susan Grubicki for disorderly conduct, and there are cross suits between the latter for assault and battery. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of all the parties.

WILL BE A GREAT SAVING.

Henry W. Fisher Illustrates How an Electric Current Can Be Immediately Cut Off When the Wires Become Crossed or Grounded—No Damage to the Dynamo.

A new invention in the electric line was exhibited yesterday for the first time. The inventor is Henry W. Fisher, electrician for the Standard Underground Cable Company. A practical test was made at the works yesterday to a select few and everything proved entirely satisfactory. The machine is called an automatic cut off and is used to immediately cut off the current the instant anything goes wrong with the line.

When anything goes wrong with the line, such as a crossed wire, the increased voltage causes sparks to fly from the needle points which burn the thread holding the spring, and the current is cut off. The inventor claims, however, that the time to set either on the dynamo or lights.

The contrivance was discovered in an examination of the cable. He said that in making tests of the cable, he used as high as 10,000 volts, but owing to the high voltage they frequently burned out the fuses, which was very annoying and caused considerable expense. He said that the sparks flying from the needle points occurred to him to tie the switch by a thread and by attaching a spring to the other side of the cable, he would connect the two needle points the current was turned on, and the switch flew back and the current was cut off without destroying a fuse.

Among those who witnessed the experiments yesterday were Messrs. Painter, Mark Watson, Scott, Rinehart, Jackson, March, Conner, Pease and others. They all expressed their interest as being highly pleased with the results.

READY FOR VICTIMS.

All Prepared for the Annual Drawing of the License Lottery.

MORE REMONSTRANCES ARE FILED.

Attorneys Are Accused of Feathering Their Own Nests.

Arrangements are now completed for the annual license lottery which opens tomorrow morning at 9:30 in the big Criminal Court room. The wheel will be in charge of Judge Collier, assisted by Judge Slagle, and Judge Stowe will be the jury. None will be allowed on that side of the bluff until 10 o'clock.

ANOTHER INSPECTION

Of Allegheny's Postoffice Results in a Sensational Report.

JUST FILED AT THE CAPITAL.

The Recommendations Made by the Latest Official Visitor.

MYLER'S CASE IS NOT TO BE DROPPED

A special telegram from Washington to THE DISPATCH says: The last and probably the final inspection of the Allegheny Postoffice was completed yesterday, and the special Postoffice Inspector, who made the examination, arrived at the department this afternoon. The inspector had been sent to Allegheny under special instructions from Postmaster General Wainmaker, and it is now accepted that his finding will be final.

The inspector's report will confirm the various other reports made, but it will go extensively into details and will conclude by recommending the removal of Postmaster Gilleland, the trial of Assistant Postmaster Myler, and will recite the charges against him. The report has been received here at the hearing in Mr. Myler's case was postponed on account of the illness of United States District Attorney Lyon. It is authoritatively stated, however, that the case will not be allowed to drop, but will be tried at the proper time.

CHARGES OF NEGLIGENCE MADE.

The report of the Postoffice Inspector, who arrived here to-day from Allegheny, will say that for two days while the inspection was in progress the Assistant Postmaster was not at the office, and that the Postmaster has not only been negligent, but that he is incompetent. The report will also say that Postmaster Gilleland knew back as far as last October of the assistant's shortages, and while Gilleland is not found to be connected criminally with any of Myler's actions he is alleged to have been negligent in not reporting the offenses to the Government.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT FEATURE OF THE REPORT

will call attention to the mysterious disappearance of nearly 100,000 letters. Traces have not been found after the missing letters for several months, and it is hinted that the letters cannot be traced farther, either coming or going, than the Allegheny office. Many of the letters missing contained money, and while many of them were mailed in the Allegheny office several of them were mailed at other places and addressed to Allegheny business men.

REFERRED TO A PREVIOUS REPORT.

The disappearance of the letters were referred to in one of the other reports filed at the department, but no reference to the letters has been made public until the turn of the special report to-day. It is understood here in Washington that George W. Mackey, who was taken from the registry department of the Pittsburgh postoffice by the Allegheny office which has charged, to succeed Mr. Myler, is practically in charge of the Allegheny office and will so remain until the department acts in Postmaster Gilleland's case.

It was announced at the department to-day that Mr. Gilleland's case would be taken up soon. Investigation developed the fact that the many conflicting reports from the Allegheny office which has charged the repeated insubordinations have been caused by the political alliances of the inspectors.

MANY PROTESTS FROM WALLIS STATION

Arrangements are now completed for the annual license lottery which opens tomorrow morning at 9:30 in the big Criminal Court room. The wheel will be in charge of Judge Collier, assisted by Judge Slagle, and Judge Stowe will be the jury. None will be allowed on that side of the bluff until 10 o'clock.

Thursday was to have been the last day for filing remonstrances, but by a special dispensation of Court a number were admitted yesterday. This was granted to B. C. Christy, and in asking it, when he made the request, he asked the Court if he would be expected to furnish testimony in support of his remonstrances, and Judge Slagle simply replied: "We will have the first three weeks of the city of Pittsburgh on Monday." It was the general impression that the Court cared very little whether Mr. Christy was present with his evidence or not.

THE P. R. B. ENTERS SEVERAL KIEKS.

The Pennsylvania Railway officials came in with a protest against the granting of licenses to applicants along their line at Walls, Turtle Creek and Brinton, and one of the remonstrances was filed in the opening of Mr. Christy, Scott & Jordan and E. Y. Breck slipped in and filed remonstrances against John Suchberger, George Seaseok and August Goldberger of Brinton. They state that the company's large yards, extending for miles along the line, are very dangerous, and if these licenses are granted the hundreds of workmen would be in constant jeopardy.

The only answer to a remonstrance filed this year is that of Henry Jacobs, of 331 Fifth avenue. He denies the allegations of Mr. Christy that he has no lease on the place; that he would not occupy the whole house, and that there was a public hall in the building. Mr. Jacobs states that he has a lease for the place for a year from April 1, and has an option on the place until April 1, 1924. He says there is no public hall in the building. A building and loan association meets there, but it will move after August 1st.

One of the Christy remonstrances, which was against A. D. Krause, of Etna, states that the applicant was refused a wholesale license to sell liquor in the city of Etna, refused two or three times and the applicant is not a resident of the borough. A similar paper against Peter Brown, of Etna, states that the applicant is a non-resident, and that he is not a resident of the school house, is not adapted to the purpose.

NOT WORKING FOR NORTHSIDE DEALERS.

It was reported that B. C. Christy was working for the Northside Retail Liquor Protective Association, but Max Schneider, president of that association, emphatically denied that. In an interview last night he said: "Mr. Christy is not in any way connected with our association, and he has nothing to do with this remonstrance. Why some of them are against some of our own members. The only remonstrances we are interested in are those which are made by P. Hesser, our agent. We make those remonstrances because we do not believe the people are fit to have licenses, and to preserve the standing of the business men of the city. The only attorney we have is James Young, and he will appear for all our remonstrances. On the other side of the river John Marron is looking after the affairs of the liquor license."

PROGRESS OF THE TAX COLLECTION.

The clerks in the Board of Assessors' office have nearly completed the work of computing the taxes, and all the books, except those of the Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-second and Twenty-third wards, have been sent in to City Treasurer Dennison for collection. The Twenty-third ward books were opened yesterday. Since Tuesday the collection of taxes has been in progress and the total amount taken in up to last night was $72,601.94. The amount is small in comparison to the first week's collection of tax, but the amount of their payment has been extended a month, and the taxpayers are in no hurry to take out their receipts.

THE B. & O. THEATRICAL TRAFFIC.

The B. & O. handled 132 theatrical people in Pittsburgh this week. Going out the road had the "Paul Kavar" company to Philadelphia; the "Cadi" company to Detroit, and the Rose Hill Folly company to Louisville. The John T. Kelly company, in "U. & I.," will arrive from Chicago this morning. En route were the "Merrill Villa," with 16 players, to Uniontown; "Skipped by the Light of the Moon" company to McKeesport; "Social Session" people to Whitehouse and the "Burglar" company to McKeesport also.

DYNAMIC FIGURES IN A FREE FIGHT.

About 11 o'clock last night Officer Duffey arrested two men named John Watson and John Jones at the Baltimore and Ohio depot for fighting. They were sent to the station, and when searched Watson's pockets contained four eight-inch sticks of dynamite. The care with which they were handled led to the belief that the police have the proper respect for the high explosive. Watson is married, lives in Finleyville, and said he used the stuff in his business. His antagonist in the fight is also a miner, and employed under Watson. The latter had a terrible pole position about the face, and cut him pretty badly.

JACOB HARRIS EXPECTED TO RECOVER.

Jacob Harris, the colored man who was stabbed by Minnie Bell on First avenue early yesterday morning, was still living at the Homeopathic Hospital at 8 o'clock this morning. He is expected to recover, and the physicians expect him to recover entirely. The woman was placed in jail yesterday to await the result of her lover's injuries. The affray was the result of jealousy.

MAGISTRATE SUCCOP'S DOCKET.

As a result of a Polish war on the Southside there are numerous cross suits before Magistrate Succop. Joseph Karanicki is sued by John Hogan for assault and battery. Andy Wilkowsky is sued by Susan Grubicki for disorderly conduct, and there are cross suits between the latter for assault and battery. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of all the parties.

MARSHALL, THE CASH GROCER.

WILL SAVE YOU MONEY.

Tea is one of the mysteries of the present age. Some people drink tea so they can get their crockery ware "for nothing."

They cheerfully pay 50c for a 25c tea, and feel happy because they get a ticket for a 7c dish along with it. As there is 18c additional profit to the man who sells the tea, he feels happy also.

We don't deal in tickets, but Tea is right in our line. We will sell you TEA 16c PER POUND. It is genuine tea, too. We get it in the original packages in which it is imported. We add nothing to it and take nothing from it.

The cheapest tea you can buy where presents are given is 50c per pound. The difference between 50 and 16 shows the margin left to purchase presents.

If you want a choice tea we offer OUR 25c TEAS. We can give you any kind you want. Pan Fried Japan, Basket Fried, Oolong, Young Hyson, English Breakfast, Imperial, Gunpowder or Mixed.

When it comes to mixtures we really have no competition, for our Mr. Shaw has no equal in this part of the country in the art of blending.

If you pay enough money you can buy fine tea in many places. But it is impossible to get the full rich flavor without blending it. If you are hard to suit, and cannot get just the flavor you wish in your tea, come and see us.

CUMSHAW TEA

Is what you want. We sell it at 34c per pound, and guarantee it equal to any 75c tea you can buy.
