OSBOURN IS UNHAPPY.

His Charges Against the Huntingdon Reformatory Fall Through.

AN INCONSISTENT PROSECUTOR.

He Refuses to Appear Unless His Expenses Are Guaranteed.

INMATES SAY THEY ARE WELL TREATED

PERCHAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCHA HUNTINGDON, March 23.-William B. Gill, of Philadelphia, and George W. Ryan, of Shamokin, came here to-day in response to telegroms from the State Board of Charities. The investigation to-day into the charges against the Board of Managers of the Huntingdon Reformatory for brutal treatment of inmates was conducted by Senator Osbourn with only half-heartedness, because of his inability yesterday to substantiate by evidence the allegations which he had preferred against the board. In their own defense, Colonel W. W. Jennings, of Harrisburg, and Samuel Mc-Camunt, of Tyrone, members of the board, who had been charged by R. Bruce Petrikin, of this city, with having furnished supplies to the reformatory, testified that they had never received a cent of profit for any supplies in iron, lumber, etc., furnished to the institution. Major Petrikin, who preferred the charges against Messrs. Jennings and McCamant, refused to appear before the committee unless free transportation to the institution was furnished him by the reformatory officials. For this act of inconsistency and discourtesy he was severely censured by the Board of Charities. The charges against the board of managers for using their influence in appointments were also fully disproved,

How the Boys Are Reformed.

On cross-examination to-day Superintend-ent Patton described clearly every step taken by the new immate from his reception to his final discharge. First the inmate is assigned to the second grade, and through good behavior he is advanced to the first grade, which entitles him to conversation grade, which entitles him to conversation with his tellow-prisoners and the free use of the library. A copy of the rules is posted in each cell. Tickets of demerit enumerating the various offenses, bearing the colors of pink, vellow and blue, are used against all offending inmates. A general court is held once a month by the superintendent, who, as occasion warrants, holds over the demerit tickets against the inmates. The second and third grade boys eat their meals second and third grade boys eat their meals in their cells. The greatest trouble of the management was shown to be in the securing of suitable positions for their paroled

A number of the inmates were brought from their cells to testify before the com-mittee. William Woods, of Philadelphia, who was convicted of larceny, has received 54 demerit marks in 11 months. He is considered one of the incorrigibles. In reply to Secretary Biddle's question, Superintendent Patton stated that out of 513 inmates,

Managers, and ...e solitary cell alone v

Instances of treatment of inmates . brought out by the testimony of Henry Al-bertis, Solomon Foster and John Harvey, of Philadelphia, who, though pronounced in-corrigibles, admitted that the punishment they received for violations of the rules was

The Board of Managers of the Reformatory are jubilant over the present result of the investigation. Colonel Jennings re-turned home to-night, and it is expected the investigation will be concluded to-morrow testimony of ex-Superintendent McClaughey, Deputy Superintendent Smith and the reformatory physician, Dr. D. P. Miller.

You Can't Afford to Miss It. Don't fail to see the plans for the new town of Aliquippa at the Aliquippa Steel Company's office, room 30, Westinghouse building. The property is owned by the steel company, the J. C. Russell Shovel steel company, the J. C. Russell Shovel Company, and the tin plate mill owners whose works are already built, or under projection, at the new town, insuling to all purchasers the solid basis on which the town stands. The railroad switches are already built to the factories, and are owned by the factories themselves. We want you to understand that the new town of Aliquippa is no land scheme, the purpose of which is to sell lots and trust to luck for factories to locate. The companies above mentioned want a town about their works, and have placed the lots so low as to avoid the suspicion of speculation. The lots are large, all on gently sloping ground and range in price from $150 to $500. If you want to make money remember that first purchasers always make the most when the property increases in value, as Aliquippa is bound to do.

BERNHARDT AS FEDORA

The Whole Performance an Excellent One, With Sara at Her Best.

performance of "Fedora," Sardou's

The performance of "Fedora," Sardou's great drama, at the Alvin Theater last night, was the best yet given by Mme. Bernhardt and her company. Fedora is one of Bernhardt's creations, and her many-sided gentus is displayed in the character of the Princess in whose veins the passionate impulses of the savage still lurk, to the best advantage. She appeared just a little fatigued in the carrier was the player and once or twice. earlier part of the play, and once or twice with difficulty suppressed a yawn, but as sie went on she warmed to her work, so that swhen she reached the climax of the third act—that marvelous third act—she was at her best. The supremely graphic character of her art was never better displayed than in those moments of suspense, which the triumph of love over a thirst for vengeance ends. The final death scene was terribly realistic, and the most piteously pathetic incident of it was Fedora's farewell embrace of Loriz. But the character as a whole, from the smallest detail to the grandest effects, was played by Bernhardt with exquisitely finished art. Many recalls rewarded her.

Mr. Darmont made a fine-looking Loriz and acted with great force and some finish. At times, however, he ranted desperately. The others were very much more at home in modern clothes than they had been in "La Tosca's" costumes, and the play as an entirety was smoothly done. It was nicely staged.

Tonight "Camille" will be given. earlier part of the play, and once or twice aged. To-night "Camille" will be given.

Plays to Come.

The bill at Harris' Theater to-day will be changed to "Barred Out," with Thomas E. Shea in the leading role. HERMANN is doing the largest business he ever knew in Pittsburg. Saturday will be children's carnival. To-day and at the mati-nee Prof. Hermann will present every child with a handsome flag.

The cake walk to-night at the Auditorium promises to be a big success, as the entries are numerous and include a large representation of local colored talent. The Rev. Broadax Smith with other celebrities will assist.

E. W. VARNEY'S production of "The Ven detta" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House next week. No stock scener s used after the first act. The zenith o realism is reached in the fourth act, opening upon the main deck of an ocean steamer. Soon another vessel is seen by the lightning's flash, gradually drawing nearer. Then comes a realistic collision.

"WANG," the amusing burletta in which De Wolf Hopper and a very clever company disport themselves, returns to this city next week. This time it will be seen at the Alvin Theater, and the managers promise that it Theater, and the managers promise that it will be better than ever. The company still includes such popular artists as Della Fox, the brightest and prettiest comic opera comedienne we have, Miss St. Henry, Anna O'Keete and others. The elephant which was a source of considerable concrete joy to the children and wonder to grown-up people when seen here last fall is still with the company, and still takes his schooner.

THE Duquesne will be occupied again next week by Charlie Reed and William Collier in "Hoss and Hoss," a farce piece written by themselves, in which they will have the themselves, in which they will have the support of the following people: Arthur Moulton, James B. Gentry, Daniel Baker, M. L. Heckert, J. W. Myers, J. R. Murchie, J. C. Cheviot, Frank Conway, the Abbott Quartet, Joseph McGuire, Louise Allen, May Yohe, Adele Farrington, Helen Reimer, Helena Collier and Lillian Ramsdon. This list of people shows remarkable strength. Every one is a comedian, singer or dancer, and they will crowd a good deal of music, dancing and specialties into an evening's performance. There is an idea running through the piece that may be called a plot, but not too much plot.

At the Bijon Monday evening William J. Gilmore's spectacular organization will begin a week's engagement, presenting the "New Devil's Auction." Conspicuous among he artists engaged in this production are he artists engaged in this production are he following: George H. Adams, the famous clown: W. H. Bartholomew, late of Moffit and Bartholomew; Miss Victoria Walters, Miss Louise Dempsey, the sisters Chitten and several other well-known people in the profession. Some of the wonder provoking specialties introduced are the Bosbobies, prother and sister from the circus Solomonsky, St. Petersburg (the reigning acrobatic ensation), the three Lorellas and the family frepstie, eight in number, from the Eden Theater, Milan, Italy.
