ENEMIES OF HARRISON

More Than Ever Determined to Defeat His Aspirations.

AFTER AN AVAILABLE CANDIDATE.

Many Men Who Are Among the Presidental Possibilities.

ENDEAVORING TO PLACATE TOM PLATT

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, March 24.-There are a score of well-known and influential Republicans in Washington and elsewhere who are rejoicing over the return of Senator Quay. They are eager to know what he intends to do in the way of opposing the ambition of President Harrison to a renomination. Mr. Quay will be ready to talk to them in a day or two. He will begin the ate to-day Senator O'Connor offered a long fight on Harrison by opposing the pending Pennsylvania nominations.

The opponents of the President appear to be very quiet now, but this is only because they are of necessity playing a waiting game.

They are more than ever determined to find some candidate with whom they can defeat Harrison, but the absence of Quay and Clarkson, owing to illness in both cases, has heretofore made it impossible for the President's enemies to put their plans into operation. It is now said that both of these shrewd Republican leaders will be ready with the coming of the early April blossoms to inaugurate the anti-Harrison movement in earnest. In the meantime the less conspicuous, but none the less effective Republicans who are in the field against the President, are doing all in their power to create a sentiment in the various States that will prevent the pledging of administration

Plans of the Auti-Harrison Men.

The plan of the anti-Harrison men is to ereate as long a list of "favorite sons" as possible in order to scatter the votes of the delegates in the hope of being able to finally concentrate them upon some candidate of Senator Cameron is as bitter in his enmity to the President as his colleague, Senator Quay, and just as anxious to prevent his nomination. There seems to be no doubt, moreover, that these men will succeed in using the Pennsylvania delegation in such a way as to greatly embarrass Mr. Harrison's chances of renomination. Mr. Cameron has been confined to his rooms for several weeks until yesterday, and during his convalescence from severe sickness, the old-fashioned house, on Madison place, next door to Mr. Blaine's, has been the scene of many conferences, at which the anti-Harrison movement has been talked over fully.

No determination as to a candidate has been arrived at, but Mr. Quay will be in-formed of what has been said, and will be ready soon to map out a plan of action. The Washington Republicans who are most earnest in the attempt to find a candidate whom the anti-Harrison men can support and nominate, are Senators Quay, Cameron, Washburn, Cullom, Wolcott, Teller, Stewart, Pettigrew and Power, and Representa-tive Tom Reed, while the outsiders include a long list of once strong politicians, headed by Colonel Dudley, all of whom the Presi-dent saw fit to turn down as soon as he was in the White House cheir. in the White House chair.

Bitterly Opposed to Harrison, The ex-Speaker is as bitter in his opposition to Harrison as any of the Senators named, if not more so, and he makes no secret of the fact that he stands ready to render any assistance in his power toward the success of the anti-Harrison movement. From advices received by the anti-Harrison managers they are confident that there will be four or five candidates before the convention, and that there will be two or three more in the background who can have the solid support of their respective States whenever it is apparent that there is a fighting chance to beat Harrison.

Illinois, it is calculated, will present Cullom; New Hampshire, Blair; Michigan, Alger, and Ohio either McKinley or Sher-Wisconsin will be united in favor o the nomination of Secretary Rusk, and will only be dissuaded from making him a can-didate at the start by the sentiment that he is in duty bound to remain loyal to his chief as long as the latter has any chance of suc-

The delegates from Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota, Colorado, Montana and other States can easily be brought into line to support an anti-administration candidate who has a fair prospect of success. That man, however, has not yet been found, and the task of finding him gives the greatest concern to the anti-Harrison managers.

What Will Tom Platt Do?

The question to which they all now seek an answer is, what will Tom Platt do, and who is his candidate? It would be a comparatively easy matter to dispose of Har-rison it New York and Pennsylvania should head the opposition with solid delegations, or even with a determined majority of these delegations opposed to his nomination. It is already known what Quay will be willing to do, but there is no such certainty with regard to Mr. Platt. Many Republicans have been to him of late endeavoring to learn his intentions, but they have not succeeded in their mission.

The reason given by one of these visitors is that Mr. Platt does not know himself what he wants to do. He knows that he does not want to have Mr. Harrison renominated, but further than that he is entirely undecided in his mind.

When Senator Hiscock was in New York recently he had a long and not very amiable chat with Mr. Platt on the subject of the Presidental nomination, at which the discovery was made that these two members of the big four are very suspicious of each Played a Double Game.

Mr. Platt, according to a prominent Re-publican who has since talked with him, accused Senator Hiscock of attempting to acoused Senator Hiscock of attempting to play a double game with him by pretending to be opposed to Harrison's renomination, but while leading the President to think that, in return for a few crumbs of patronage, he would use in his interest what little influence he possesses with the New York State Republicans.

Mr. Hiscock, of course, endeavored to placate Mr. Platt by making as plausible a defense of himself as possible, but the two big Republicans parted without having arrived at a satisfactory understanding as to their past or future actions.

To another Senator, Mr. Platt, made no

their past or future actions.

To another Senator, Mr. Platt, made no secret of the fact that he would like to take an anti-Harrison delegation to Minneapolis, but he almost despaired of finding a proper candidate. The names of Sherman, Alger, McKinley, Rusk and two others were talked over at great length, and their good and bad qualities as candidates were minutely discussed. At the outset of the conversation Mr. Platt surprised his caller by stating that he was unalterably opposed to the nomination of John Sherman.

Surprised at the Statement.

Surprised at the Statement. This statement was a surprise, because, within the past few weeks, there has been a decided Sherman boom in Washington, based chiefly on the report brought from New York by a Democratic Senator that the Ohio Senator was Mr. Platt's favorite candidate. Mr. Platt has stated, however, in the strongest possible language that under no circumstances will any New York dele-gates be for Sherman with his consent. As to McKinley there is some doubt. Even Mr. Sherman admits that if the Governor

Mr. Sherman admits that if the Governor says the word he can have the support of the Ohio delegation, and there can be no doubt of his strength with the party outside of the Buckeye State.

The merits of Messra. Alger and Cullom as candidates were presented to Mr. Platt in as strong a light as possible, but many objections were found to them both. The publication of General Alger's war record, if nothing else, puts him out of the question and Mr. Cullom has yet been unable to

| The men who want to | o defeat Mr. Harri- |

The men who want to defeat Mr. Harrison are numerous, earnest and strong, but their strength is scattered, and they admit that they will find it a difficult task to concentrate it, chiefly because it is so hard to find a suitable candidate. They mean to persevere, however, and they hope to be able to take some definite steps now that Mr. Quay has returned from Florida. They will supper at Minneapolis in full force. will appear at Minneapolis in full force, whether they succeed in finding their man before June or not.

JUDGE MAYNARD SCORED

IN A PREAMBLE WHICH IS TABLED BY A STRICT PARTY VOTE.

An Investigation to Be Ordered by the Judiciary Committee of New York's Conclusions to Be Beached With All Convenient Speed.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 24 .- In the Senpreamble and resolution regarding the action of Court of Appeals Judge Maynard in connection with the contested Senatorial cases, and authorizing the Senate Judiciary Committee to investigate, the matter at once and report to the Senate as soon as practicable whether Judge Maynard has done any act which requires his removol as Judge of the Court of Appeals under section 17 of article 6 of the State Constitution. The preamble recites:

tion. The preamble recites:

That it is alleged that the act of taking the statement of the Dutchess County Board of Cauvassers from the Controller's office by Isaac H. Maynard was in violation of a penal statute and resulted in the State Board of Canvassers granting a certificate of election to a person not entitled to the same, thereby depriving the people of the Fifteenth Senatorial district of their rightful representative in the State Senate. That said Isaac H. Maynard has since been appointed by the Governor as a Judge of the Court of Appeals, and it is believed by hundreds of thousands of our citizens that his appointment to said office was in the nature of a reward for his wrongful and unlawful act in taking soid statement from the hands of its proper custodian. of its proper enstedian.

It further recites that while the said Isaac H. Maynard continues a member of said court with such charges pending against him its decisions will be looked upon with grave suspicion and its usefulness greatly impaired.

Senator Cantor moved that the preamble and resolution be tabled, which was done by a party vote of ayes 16, noes 13. Sen-ator Cantor himself then offered a preamble and resolution regarding the matter, which he said differed from that of Senator O'Connor's, which recited certain things and tended to prejudge the case. He said his preamble simply stated the question fairly regarding Judge Maynard's connection with the contested Senatorial cases and concluded.

Resolved, That the subject matter contained in the foregoing documents be re-ferred to the Committee on Judiciary; and ferred to the Committee on Judiciary; and be it further Resolved, If the Assembly concur, that the Judiciary Committee of the Senate and Assembly be and they are hereby authorized and directed to make immediate investigation of the statements and allegations contained therein, with power to send for persons and papers and report their conclusions theron with all convenient speed.

DEATHS HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

Hon. Randall Hunt, Southern Unionist. Hon. Randall Hunt died in New Orleans Tuesday, aged 86. He was one of the most prominent lawyers of New Orleans, and figured in the most important cases there and before the Supreme Court of the United States. He served in the State Legislature for several years, and was regarded as the leader of the Union party during the secession movement, being the only member of the State Senate to vote against secession. He also voted against it in the State Convention. He could have held office under Lincoln and Grant, but declined. He was elected to the United States Senate in 1894, but did not gain admission on account of the reconstruction. He afterward became President of the University of Louislana and Professor in the Law School. His brother, William H. Hunt, was President Arthur's Secretary of the Navy. Hon. Randall Hunt died in New Orleans

Joseph Geoghegan, whose death in Ben-Joseph Geognegan, whose death in Belliah. Scotland, is announced, was the first man to introduce organ music as a part of the Scotch church service. Nearly 30 years ago he succeeded in using the harmonium a occompany his choir. The idea was a bold one for those days, and its execution caused a long and bitter controversy. The harmonium was only the thin wedge. The organ followed in 1884. Mr. Geoghegan was 62 years old. He was an accomplished musician and composer.
