

WILL KNOW TO-NIGHT.

Judges Collier and Slagle Say They Will Name the Pittsburgh List.

MANY MORE LICENSES EXPECTED.

Sligo Mill Owners Make a Fight Against Local Applicants.

MARRIED AT THE COURT'S SUGGESTION

All the retail license applicants in Pittsburgh have been heard. Judge Collier announced last evening that he would have the Pittsburgh license list ready to-night. He said he and Judge Slagle were working very hard, and though they would complete the list it would be very late. Nearly all the applications have been decided upon, and the work to-day will mainly be the examination of bonds.

The feature of the day was the fight in the Third-ward, made by James M. Bailey of the Sligo mill against the applicants in that ward. There are only four applicants in that ward, but they all are within a square of each other, and in close proximity to the Sligo mill and the public school house.

In the examination of these applicants the question as to whether drink is a necessity to the health and comfort of a mill man was brought out. Mr. Bailey argued that it was not, while some of his employees, who appeared as witnesses for applicants, took the opposite view.

Observed the Court and Got Married. Recollection of an amusing incident in last year's license court spread over the court room when Wm. J. Adams, of the Thirty-fourth ward, was called. He was an applicant last year, but as Judge White discovered he was single, His Honor said: "How do you expect to run a saloon and restaurant when you have no wife to take care of the house."

The young man blushing suggested that if granted a license he would get married, and yesterday he told the Court he had kept his word.

Anton Strop, of 1101 Sarah street, admitted he had been refused for four years, and said he expected to keep a restaurant in his barroom.

In the case of Beaman Tenney, a new man applying for the northeast corner of Bingham and South Eleventh streets, Captain Stewart and Inspector Kelly testified that more saloons are necessary on the Southside.

A. A. Milligan and C. J. Allmes, No. 1 Carson street, had the highest time of any applicant since the License Court opened, their examination lasting over 15 minutes. A witness was called by Mr. Christy for the purpose of proving several things against Mr. Milligan, but he failed in almost every attempt, and it was shown that there had been bad blood between the applicant and witness.

One Applicant Is Not Present. Lieutenant Booker testified that Owen Downey, 421 Carson street, had sold on holidays and kept open after midnight on a number of occasions.

Patrick Lyons, of 539 Carson street, admitted he had been refused once for liquor license selling, but that the court had suspended sentence.

William Ward, 315 Carson street, had engaged Attorney Charles Sullivan, but the latter was not in court for some reason. Martin Frank, the Southside contractor, appeared in his behalf, but Mr. Christy had a remonstrance stating the applicant had been convicted of illegal liquor selling in 1889 when he had a wholesale license.

J. J. Alt, the first applicant for the Thirty-first ward, was absent. He sent the Court a telegram from New York stating he was prevented by sickness from being present. His wife appeared in his stead.

Jacob Dietz had a license now at 2, 4 and 6 Knox avenue, but had been refused the three previous years.

Christ Michel has been refused for four years on account of his proximity to a church, according to Mr. Christy's record, but he showed that his place was a necessity.

John Richter has had a license at 22 Washington street every year since the Brooks law got through comparatively easy.

Well Backed Up by Councilmen. Jacob Breidnich was the first applicant from the Thirty-second ward. About eight witnesses, including Councilmen Bigham and Paul, appeared in his behalf.

Mr. Christy had a remonstrance against J. Adam Mischel, 58 Shiloh street, alleging that a club meets in his house, and he furnishes them liquor. The applicant said he sold to members of the club, but he did not know whether they took the liquor to the club room or not.

The feature of the day transpired when Michael Connolly, the first applicant from the Thirty-third ward, was called. There were not a licensed house in this ward last year, and there are a number of people who do not care to have any this year. Mr. J. M. Bailey and F. W. Hoffstot, representing the Sligo Milling Mill, appeared for the purpose of protesting against the granting of any licenses in the ward. Mr. Bailey said there was absolutely no necessity for a saloon in the ward. Carson street, the only thoroughfare of any importance, is only 1,000 yards long, and their mill is in the center.

Never Stop If They Are Sobor. Mr. Christy—About how many people do you think stop at all the lodging houses in that ward?

Mr. Bailey—No one would ever dream of stopping in a place there unless he got so drunk he couldn't get away.

Attorney Magos—You employ a great many men, don't you, Mr. Bailey?

Mr. Bailey—Yes, several hundred. "Don't mill men, who have acquired a drinking habit think it is necessary for them to keep it up?"

"I don't know anything about it."

Mr. Christy—What proportion of the taxable property in your ward do you and Mr. Bailey represent?

Mr. Hoffstot—Four-fifths.

Judge Slagle—Well, I don't think that has any bearing on the case.

When John Conaway, of 155 West Carson street, was called, Mr. Bailey and Mr. Hoffstot appeared again, but they got rather the worst of it in the cross-examination by John S. Bobb, Jr.

Mill Workers Don't Need a Saloon. Mr. Robb—How often are you about the mill?

Mr. Hoffstot—Oh, I'm liable to turn up there any time. "Well, you don't remain very long when you do turn up."

"Oh, yes, I do." "Well, you think a saloon and restaurant is not necessary in that ward?"

of going into the saloon business in that ward yourself?

"No, sir." "Didn't you talk to Father McTigue last about starting a saloon?"

"Not seriously." Inspector McKelvy was called and testified that when he was in charge of the Southside district the Thirty-third ward was the worst speakeasy district on the Southside.

Inspector McKelvy—Well, as fast as we would cut them down they would grow up again.

When James G. McHugh, the other applicant from the Thirty-third ward, was called, Mr. Bailey and Mr. Hoffstot did not testify.

Only Breathing Spot of the Day. When the Thirty-fourth ward was taken up, the applicants got along under. None of the applicants were detained.

Joseph Pauley and Robert Smith were the applicants from the Thirty-fifth ward. There was quite an opposition to Pauley. Two engines were called in to clear out 100 people, and Rev. W. H. Rodenbaugh appeared against him.

When Michael Foley was called, Attorney Brennan gave a sample of some of the questions asked by counsel at the trial. Mr. Foley, the politician, was a character witness for the applicant.

Mr. Brennan—You are a brother of the applicant?

Mr. F. Foley—Yes, sir. "How long have you known him?" [Laughter.]

In almost the next breath Mr. Brennan asked Mr. Foley if his brother was a man of good moral character.

John Kalb is a new applicant at 184 Steuben street. There is no licensed house on that street at present. Mr. J. P. Bierhalter, who formerly had a saloon opposite No. 10 engine house, was called by counsel to perform on the way home, but as they nearly always stop at a saloon after work, he loses custom. Dr. Neiley, who is generally known as a temperance man, also favored the applicant.

Men Who Struck It Easy. Charles Sellers, the present proprietor of the Hotel "Brigade," at 172 Main street, and who has had a license every year since 1884, except the eventful year of 1889, is now applying for 209 Main street, where he expects to increase his hotel capacity.

The following applicants were rushed through in a hurry:

Twenty-ninth ward—Mary Bender, F. K. Kubler, Greger Kuhlman, Henry Lauer, Thomas Switzer, George Martz, J. M. Allister, Owen J. McKenna, Paul Obicunna, Mary Zuk, Joseph Burkley, Joseph Burkman, Thomas Fitzpatrick, John Gambell, Valentine Gaeter, John Hineman, Frederick Hesterkamp, Thomas Miller, John Parbo, Andrew Popo, Jacob Pfaff, George Koba, Catherine Schwarzel, Frank W. Spreen, John Wellersbacher, Peter Yochum.

Thirtieth ward—George Fresh, W. H. Hartman, Joseph Heller, Bernard Kerna, James Lyons, Michael Murray, M. J. McDermott, George Sauer, Fridolin Starna, Peter Soffel, George Walker, Margareta Bouch, John Ward.

Thirty-first ward—Robert A. Biesel, Jacob Dietz, Kinehart Herbeter, August Stuckenborg.

Thirty-second ward—Frederick Puchs, Charles Jurgens, Regina W. Wilbert, Christian Wilbert, John Zimmerly.

Thirty-third ward—William Amend, W. J. Adams, William Booklemer, M. A. Baker, Peter Carlin, John Gilroy, Joseph Grimm, Albert Hollingsworth, John J. Sullivan, Honora Wall, Mrs. Nancy J. Wagner.

Thirty-fourth ward—Morris Gibausky, Jonathan Hey, P. H. McCarthy, James K. Moran, Charles Turnblaser.

T. P. Wall, an applicant from the Nineteenth ward, was not a prize fighter as he was given credit with being a few days ago.

WANT THEIR BOY AGAIN.

Fifteen-Year-Old Peter Kearns Joined the Army and His Parents Now Want Him Released—Suits on Trial—Hum of the Courts.

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed in the United States District Court yesterday by Peter and Catharine Kearns, of Pittsburgh. They alleged that on March 7, 1892, their son, Peter Kearns, Jr., aged 15 years and 10 months, was enlisted in the United States Army by Captain Francis M. Mansfield, recruiting officer at the Pittsburgh recruiting station. He was enlisted without the consent of either of his parents, and they do not want him to serve out his enlistment. They, therefore, asked for the writ to compel Captain Mansfield to produce the boy in court.

Judge Buffington granted the writ fixing April 4 for a hearing in chambers.

How about the prudence of allowing a Cough to run on, rasping the Pulmonary and Bronchial organs, when that approved and speedy remedy, Dr. D. Jayne's Expecto-rant, can be obtained from any Apothecary.

ACME BLACKING is made of pure alcohol, other liquid dressings are made of water. Water costs nothing. Alcohol is dear. Who can show us how to make it without alcohol so that we can make ACME BLACKING as cheap as water dressing, or put it in fancy packages like many of the water dressings, and then charge for the outside appearance instead of charging for the contents of the bottle?

A DASH TO THE POLE,

BY HERBERT D. WARD,

WILL BE PUBLISHED IN THE SUNDAY ISSUE OF

THE DISPATCH,

BEGINNING SUNDAY, APRIL 3.

The author, Mr. Herbert D. Ward, is well known throughout what is undoubtedly the best story of the American school life, "The New Senator at Andover." His story, "Come Forth," written in collaboration with Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, was published with great success in the Sunday issue of this paper a year or so ago. This is his greatest work. It is a strange but possible story of Arctic adventure in an air ship. It utilizes all the latest discoveries and theories in aerial navigation, and is true to the facts of Arctic travel. It will be handsomely illustrated by L. J. Bridgman.

IT'S THE STORY OF THE DAY.

Publication Begins Sunday, April 3.
