THE NEED OF DIVERSIFIED PRODUCTS

OFFICE OF THE DISPATCH, PITTSEUEG, TUESDAY, March 29. The merchant or manufacturer who succeeds in these times must keep posted as to new methods of business and new inventions. The methods in vogue a generation ago, and which brought success to the men of those days, are now obsolete, and the business men of to-day who follow in the footsteps of their fathers will soon be forced to the rear. It is within the memory of the writer when the drummer was unknown. Merchants waited for trade to come to them. Now they must go for trade or be left.

In Hardware Lines.

While we cannot report any improvement in prices of hardware, there is a more active movement in this line since the advent of spring weather. All along the line, prices are down to hard pan, and with a continuance of present activity an upward movement must come. Builders' hardware has been at its lowest point for years during the past winter. The conflict last spring between journeymen carpenters and contractors had a depressing effect all through the year in all goods pertaining to house building.

The outlook for building this season is much better than it was a year ago. There is not now, as then, a prospect of a strike. All signs point to a season of activity in building lines, and, as prices of materials are the lowest for years, future changes in the price list are almost certain to be toward a higher level. Cut nails are now jobbed at $1 70, and wire nails $1 85 per jobbed at $1 70, and wire nais $1 85 per keg. At these figures it is difficult to see where the manufacturer's profit comes in. Pittsburg manufacturers have for years left the field for the reason that there was no money here in nail making. During the war cut nails were sold as high as $7 per keg, and at that price went off like hot

Diversity as an Industrial Factor.

Diversity as an Industrial Factor.

The Lumber Worker has this to say of one of the great demands of our times:

It has become an economic necessity to increase and diversify the specialities of manufacture so as to reap a dollar from the seed of a hundred cents. Public enterprise is generally in response to this industrial and commercial necessity.

The farmer finds financial anchorage in a diversity of crops, and when one falls in product or price he pays his taxes and buys his boots from the increased value of the rest. The merchant adopts the same procedure, and finds his prosperity enhanced by introducing variety into his business, and in manufactures it is equally as necessary. In the established staples of production clastacity is a law of success, and where the man or business ignores these flexible conditions he dries with the pea that fails to grow with the pod; in other words, his business stagnates, and is sustained for a period at a loss of time and money, is inevitably destined to starve itself to death. There is no lack of such corpses in the financial graveyard, and perhaps too many men living to-day, who, by being too conservative in their modes and methods, are simply postponing their funeral expenses. Hence it is necessary to multiply the lines of product in many of our industrial establishments, and thus avert the consequences of glutted markets or no demand.

The escape is in diversity. The class of markets or no demand.

The escape is in diversity. The class of goods that make a successful run one season is generally supplemented by a reaction of over-supply in the next. It is wise to recognize the logic of events in this instance, and keep pace with the march of progress and public needs, and in no one direction is the line of security and prosperity so accurately the security of the secu drawn as in the deployment of industria

STRINGS BADLY BROKEN.

They Were Cut Loose From Washington and the Market Price Went Up-A Big Round Cent Added to the Price of Wheat in a Jiffy.

CHICAGO-The strings tying down the wheat market were cut loose from Washington to-day. As a result, a big round cent for every bushel was added to the price of the cereal, almost in a juffy.

The announcement made by which Hatch The announcement made by which Hatch in a telegram from Washington that proposed anti measure would not obstruct or prevent a single transaction now authorized by the Board of Trade had the effect of lifting the May delivery to 80 cents. Last night the closing figure was 79 cents exactly. There was little in the situation early to lead to strength. Cables were weak and all represented the European markets as much depressed and quotations come decidedly lower. Private dispatches from Paris gave a gloomy picture of the market there and said that it was regarded as certain that the duties on imports would be fully restored on June 1.

duties on imports would be fully restored on June I.

The weather continued exceptionally favorable and was regarded as a bear factor while the export business was not very encouraging. But there was a demand to cover shorts and prices started in a shade above yesterday's close or at 79% of or May. Then some builtish news came in; outside markets were somewhat higher, the amount of wheat and flour on ocean passage showed a dewere somewhat higher, the amount of wheat and flour on ocean passage showed a decrease of 1,312 000 bushels and the local receipts proved to be 100 cars less than expected. These reports rather increased the demand and the offerings being rather meager, there was a gradual rally to 79%c, but quickly weakened as it was found that a good deal of wheat came out at the advance, Cutler selling presumably for Pardridge. This sent the price off to 79%c, and while the market held in sluggish uncertain condition, Kline made public two dispatches from Washington, saying that the anti-option bill was being considered in committee and sundry amendments adopted which, if passed, would not affect a single transaction now authorized by the Chicago Board of Trade.

The result was that new life was infused into the trade, and there was a quick development of strength, May soon touching 80 cents.

During the last hour the market became very weak on the receipt of lower cables and free selling drawn out by the advance, and May sold off near the close to 79%c, but reacted and closed firm at 79%279%c.

The messages to Kline from the author of the Hatch authoption bill were answers to inquiries, Kline having wired the Congressman regarding the status of the bill. The messages are as follows:

WASHINGTON MARCH 28 - BUIL is being sometimes.

messages are as follows:

Washington, March 28.—Bill is being considered in committee; will probably be reported to the House within ten days. Impossible to say when it will come before the House for its action. Committee bill will not obstruct or prevent a single transaction now authorized by Board of Trade rules.

W. H. HATCH.

mittee bill will not obstruct or prevent a single transaction now authorized by Board of Trade rules.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—My brief answer of yesterday was a reiteration of the expressed purpose of the members of the committee not to report a bill that will obstruct legitimate rading but to suppress illegitimate and gambling transactions now probibited by the Board of Trade. Make this public as you desire.

Corn was more active and recovered almost entirely from yesterday's weakness, the result being largely due to reaction in wheat. Shorts showed considerable nervousness, and were anxious to cover while selling was restricted. The local receipts were smaller than expected and the inspection still very unsatisfactory. Poole-Sherman and the Weare Commission Company were the principal buyers, and were generally thought to be acting for Cudahy. May opened at 40c, sold to 40½c and kept firm until near the close it reacted to 40½c, at which price it closed firm.

Oats were quiet but firm, governed largely by the better feeling in corn.

There was a firm feeling in provision market, and better prices ruled, but the advance established at the close was not heavy. Pork for May is 7½c higher. May lard is unchanged, and ribs are up 2½c. M. C. Mitchell bought pork early, supposed to be for Ream, and Ryan was the principal seller. Packers claim that there is a loss of $1 per barrel making pork at its present price, and that hors are at the same price now as when ribs were selling for $5 20. The difference between May and July pork has narrowed to 17½ ceuts.

The estimated receipts for tomorrow: 140 a temperature of from 90° to 110° Fahrenheis below zero, by the expansion of carbonic acid.

The estimated receipts for to-morrow: 140 cars of wheat, 200 cars of corn, 140 cars of cats and 26,000 hogs.

Workmen Ready to Begin Operations on Two Fine Buildings

TO ADORN SMITHFIELD STREET.

They Will Elevate the Standard of Commercial Architecture.

FEATURES OF MONEY AND SPECULATION

Work will begin this week or the first of next on two large buildings, both on Smithfield street. They will be constructed of the best material, be modern in style and adaptation to business, and will be an im-portant acquisition to the mercantile architecture of the city. The two buildings will cost $250,000 or more.

Last fall George H. Bennett & Bros. purchased a lot next to the north-west corner of Smithfield street and First avenue for about $40,000. The corner is owned and occupied by Mr. A. Mibm. The Bennett lot is "L" shaped, fronting on both street and avenue. The work of domolishing the existing building will commence at once. It has been an important factor in the commercial life of Pittsburg for more than 50 years. It formerly belonged to the Lyons estate. The new structure will be started as soon as the old one is out of the way. The plans were prepared by Architect Steen.

It will be eight stories in height, of brick with stone trimmings. The Smithfield street front will be of granite and the First avenue front of stone. It will be furnished with all modern equipments for business and comfort, and for protection against fire.
It is expected it will be ready for occupancy by November 1. The cost will exceed $100.000. A building of this character in that quarter will be of great value as an inspiration to other owners to "go and do like wise," and Bennett Bros. deserve great credit for establishing so high a standard for the emulation of tuture builders

The Solomon-Ruben Building. Workmen are ready to begin operations on the Solomon-Ruben block on Smithfield street, between Diamond and Fourth avenue, at once. All the occupants will have removed by the end of this week. It has removed by the end of this week. It has been reported that in the construction of this building as much as possible of the existing one will be utilized. Mr. Ruben was spoken to yesterday in regard to this statement. He disavowed it altogether, saying the structure will be new throughout. No part of the old will be used. The plan, as drawn by Architect Evans, shows a handsome front of five stories, covering 160 feet on Smithfield street and 90 feet on Diamond. There will be a finished basement.

Nothing has been omitted by architect or builders to make this structure take a high position among the commercial palaces of the city. The contract price is $70,000, but this does not include considerable extra work. The total cast will be between $100,000 and $125,000. The contract calls for its completion by August 15 of this year.

GRADUALLY GROWING LESS. THE STOCK MARKET HAS LITTLE OF INTEREST TO BUYERS, Speculative Spirit in Wall Street at a Very Low Ebb-Holders Think There is No Inducement Sufficient to Make Them Part With Their Shares.

NEW YORK. March 29 .- The tendency in the stock market is still toward a smaller vol-ume of business. The speculative spirit in stock market is still toward a smaller volume of business. The speculative spirit in Wall street has arrived at a very low ebb, and something of a positive nature must occur to revive it. There is no inducement to part with stocks, and holders are believed to be fully able to protect their interests, or, in other words, stocks are again passed into strong hands. The market to-day was nothing more than the remnants of last week's trading, and presented an unusually small amount of interest the transactions after the forenoon being restricted to a hand to mouth business, while fluctuations throughout the day were confined to the narrowest limit except in four or five stocks. Rock Island was again under the hammer and the marketing of a small lot of Lake Shore in the absence of support was sufficient to knock it down 1 per cent, but Sugar was the only weak spot in the forenoon, and though the market opened at advances of from ½ to ½ per cent over last night's figures, the rally toward noon placed the whole list a shade above the opening prices. The dullness was most intense until toward 2 P. M., when the pressure to sell became even greater than in the early trading, and was maintained throughout the rest of the session, New England bearing the brunt of the Erie, Northern Pacific preferred and and was maintained throughout the result the session, New England bearing the brunt of the attack.

The Eric, Northern Pacific preferred and Rock Islands were all close followers. The first named retired 3½ per cent and the others in proportion, so that the last prices were generally the lowest of the day.

The close was active and weak, no rally appearing as is usual in the final dealings. There was no movement of importance among the industrials, though Cordage was advanced in the forenoon, only to fall away again later in the day. The final changes are generally small losses, but New England is down 2 per cent, Erie ¼ and Rock Island 1 percent.

Railway bonds were still quiet, but the new inquiry for bonds over the counters of the dealers is stimulating a firmer temper in the general market, and while movements are confined to very small fractions as a rule, a slow but stendy improvement is to be noted.

The Richmond and West Point bonds were rule, a slow but steady improvement is to be noted.

The Richmond and West Point bonds were again the most prominent in the dealings, but while the 6s scored a gain the 5s sympathized with the weakness in the share list late in the day, being subjected to the same bear pressure. Other changes, without exception, were for insignificant fractions. The sales were $1.083,000.

Government bonds have been dull and firm. States have been entirely neglected.

A LITTLE BETTER.

Money More Active Under the Magie Influence of Spring. Although the call for money yesterday was by no means loud or urgent, there was a fair movement along all the lines. The spring trade is setting in so gradually and quietly that many fail to notice it. All the local banks, so far as known, are doing local banks, so far as known, are doing better than a year ago, and the prospect is much more encouraging. There is really nothing to complain of. Bank elearings were $2,017,981.74, and balances $347,836.52.

A bank officer remarked: "I think it is settled that money will be easy throughout the spring season. Even if gold shipments be renewed, which is doubtful, it will take a long time to wipe out the large stock of idle funds. It has been many years since conditions were so favorable to business progress as at present, and I think those who are holding out for a better opportunity are making a mistake which they will realize when probably too late for correction. I look for a sharp rally after the April settlements."

Butter and Eggs in Good Demand-Cereal Receipts Large, but the Buyer Has the Best of It - Groceries Show No New OFFICE OF THE DISPATCH, } PITTSBURG, TUESDAY, March 29.

COUNTRY PRODUCE-Jobbing Prices-At the Monday sales at Elgin last week's prices of creamery butter were reaffirmed. The supply in this market is reported very light. Country butter begins to come to the front in small quantities, and choice rolls bring almost as high prices as the best creamery. Receipts of eggs for the week have not been up to expectations, and ves-terday's prices are well maintained. Poultry is in more liberal supply this week than for a month past, and markets are quiet at a for a month past, and markets are quiet at a shade lower prices than have prevailed of late. The movement in vegetable lines is more active than it has been for a month or more, but prices fail to advance. Onions and cabbage are firm at quotations, but potatoes are barely steady, owing to large receipts. Tropical fruits of choice quality are firm, with an upward tendency,
