AT WORK ON PETITIONS

To the Committee on Rules to Return a Cloture Resolution.

THE SENATE TO BE GIVEN A DOSE.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAPHIC LETTER.) BUREAU OF THE DISPATCH, WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29.

While they could not excuse the plain breach of faith of Speaker Crisp in his action toward the free coinage men, the number of excellent citizens' who yesterday hoped that the last had been heard of the now tiresome subject, could hardly be expressed in figures. These men, lively with hope yesterday, are sad to-day at the prospect of a revival of the supposed corpse in the Senate, and probably also in the House. Mr. Bland and his friends made a great effort to work themselves into a frenzy over the action of the Speaker last evening, and so far succeeded as to determine to renew their efforts to secure signatures to the petition required by Speaker Crisp before he will vote for it in the Committee on Rules, including the provisions against filibustering, demanded by the silver men. The work began this morning in esrnest. A few of the most active free coinage men went about quietly with duplicate petitions, and succeeded beyond their own expectations. At 4 o'clock they had rounded out 100 names of members who demanded clo-ture and a vote on the silver bill, and Mr.

Bland's face beamed as it has not for several days. Great Doubt as to Its Success.

Great Doubt as to its Success. About 15 additional names are needed, and the irrepressibles hope to have these before to-morrow evening. If they are suc-cessful in securing a sufficient number of names, which is yet very doubtful, it is questionable if the bill can be passed. It has lost its power to inspire, and Demo-crats who would have feared to yote against it one work are will now mone a final test it one week ago will now upon a final test record themselves in the negative, and square themselves with their constituents square themselves with their constituents by showing the tremendous opposition to the measure within the party. As for Mr. Bland, he professes not to care so much whether the bill passes as to place Demo-crats on record. He is anxious to know the exact strength of free coinage among the Democrats of the House; to show the dis-tricts in which free coinage is strongest; to prove that it is a vital principle with the Democrats in Democratic States, and in Republican States which have in recent Republican States which have in recen vears shown a strong disposition to drift into the control of the Democrats, and thus force a substantial recognition of free coin-age upon the National Democratic Conven-tion

A Dose of Free Silver for Senators.

No matter what may be the outcome of the canvass now being made in the House, we are to have a dose of free silver in the Senate, which will be less welcome than it would be at the other end of the capitol, as speeches in the Senate are always longer and more tiresome than in the House. Senator Stewart is determined to force his free coinage bill on the Senate next week. It will do in the matter. It looks as though there has been a vast deal of loose work in relation to Ellis Island, for which Secretary Foster or his assistant Nettleton is respon sible, and that Owen is to be made a scape Status of the Erie Canal Bill. Of the many bills introduced in the House and referred to the Committee on Bivers and Harbors, providing for surveys for ship canals, only three have been reintroduced and referred to the Committee on Railways and Canals, which is their proper reference. One is the Dalzell bill for the ship canal from Lake Erie to the Ohio at Beaver, an-other for the canal on the United States side around Niagara Falls, and the other from Lake Ontario to the Hudson at Troy. Tom Lake Ontario to the Hudson at Troy. Chairman Blapchard, of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, has given notice that no attention will be paid to bills for ship canals referred to his committee, and there-fore Mr. Dalzell and the New York members introducing the Niagara and Ontario measures promptly withdrew their bills from the Blanchard Committee, and had them referred to the only committee from which there was anything to be hoped. Representative Catchings, of Mississippi, Chairman of Railways and Canals, has been so fully occupied with the Committee on Bules and the silver bill that practically nothing has been done by his committee, and he is unable to say what action will be taken in the canal bills. He intimates, taken in the canal bills. He intimates, however, that at least the Niagara, the Ontario, Hudson, and possibly the Erie-Beaver bills, may be favorably reported. So far as can be learned the committee favors the Erie-Beaver scheme before any other of the several proposed for uniting Lake Erie with the Ohio.

Quay Pleased With a Popular Vote.

Senator Quay received a telegram from Kittanning to-day informing him that his majority on the popular vote for Senator in Armstrong county will reach 1,800, and nat-urally he is greatly elated at this unex-mated income the forther that the set utally he is greatly elated at this unex-pected increase over the first reports. He declares himself to be greatly pleased with the plan of popular expression of sentiment at the polls, as it will in many instances prevent criticism of the action of members of the Legislature in their votes for Senator next winter. He seems to feel certain of next winter. He seems to feel certain of having a majority in nearly every county of the State. The Senator left this evening for a visit at his Beaver home. Postmaster Gilleland was here to-day and called upon the Postmaster General, with Representative Stone, to secure relief from the payment of the $500 shortage of Assist-ant Postmaster Myler. Mr. Wanamaker re-jected all suggestions of non-payment, in-sisting that every dollar due the Government must be made good, and Mr. Gilleland went home feeling glad that he still holds LIGHTNER. his official position.

PEOPLE'S PARTY PLEASED.

Nine Happy Men in the Lower House of Congress-Mr. Watson Says the Demo cratic Shelving of the Silver Bill Will Help the Alliance to Carry States.

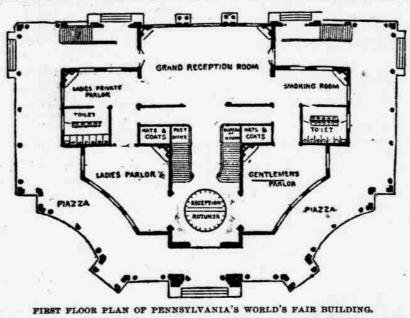

WASHINGTON, March 29 .- Perhaps the most jubilant members in the House just now are the nine People's party Congress men, who rejoice in the discomfiture of the Democratic party, and preclaim that the failure of the Democratic House to pass the free coinage bill means that the People's party will carry six or eight States in this coming campaign. Representative Watson, the leader of the People's party, to-night said:

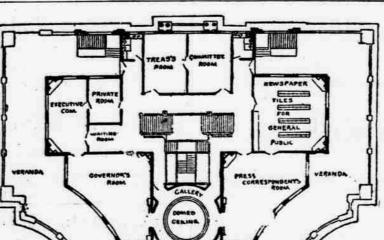

This action in the House on the silver bill is the death knell of the old Democratic organization. Hundreds of thousands of organization. Hundreds of thousands of voters in the Southern States have felt that if financial relief could be had, Democracy as now organized would give that relief if it had a chance. With a majority of 148 in the House of Representatives, it certainly had a chance to pass the free silver bill. If failed to do it. It was only by the help of nine People's party members and 11 Republicans that this immense Democratic majority escaped a Waterloo. Consequently the most conservative Democrat in the South knows now that Democrati majorities wielded under the present organization mean absolutely nothing so far as practical legis-lation is concerned.

No power on earth can now keep Georgia from going fut the electoral college with the People's party delegation. I confidently believe the same is true of several other Southern States. What the Democrats may Southern States. What the Democrats may do with the sliver bill hereafter, is compara-tively unimportant. They have had their opportunity. They had their majority, with 19 outside votes to help them. They were absolutely unable to pass such a very mild measure of reform as Mr. Bland's silver bill, which only purports to add 30 cents per capita to the circulating medium. I have never ceased to chim that the Alliance de-mands, upon which the People's party was founded, were true Jeffersonian principles. I claim that today. But I believe now that the immense majority of the Democrats all over the South will come to our party as the truest exponents of the Jeffersonian princi-ple of the rule of the people as against the Hamilton doctrine of the rule of money and of the classes. ple of the rule of the people as against the Hamilton doctrine of the rule of money and of the classes. Let it never be forgotten that Mr. Boutelle, of Maine, a Republican, asked the Tammany Democrats to stop filibustering on the bill, and challenged the Democratic House to come at once to a direct vote on the bill itself. That challenge was refused, and re-fused by Democratic majority of 148 found itself absolutely poweriess to legislate upon a mild measure of reform to which they have sought and obtained votes. We who swung loose from the Democratic party claimed that Northern and Eastern Demo-crats had no real sympathy with our people, but were as much under the domination of the money power as the Republicans of the North and East. After the vote of last Thursday night no man will ever be able to successfully deny that proposition. months ago the design of Mr. Thomas P. Lonsdale, of Philadelphia, was accepted. A sec-ond ballot was ordered after a vigorous pro-test, and Omwake was elected. The admin-istration followers propose sending Rhodes McQuown, Quay's right bower in Clearfield county. It was given out some time ago that the meeting would be a regular oldtime love feast, and the regulars expected the machine to work in just the same old way. About noon all the delegates were on hand, and all visited the Journal office. . No opposition was visible on the surface, and the different lieutenants were instructed in their duties, and each coached thoroughly test, and Omwake was elected. The admin-istration followers propose sending Rhodes to the convention, and attempt to have him admitted on half vote. Resolutions were passed indorsing Pattison's administration as Governor, and indorsing Cleveland for President. August 2 was selected as the date for the Country Convention in his part. At 1 o'clock the convention gathered in the Court House, and in a few moments was called to order by Chairman McQuown, politically better known here as McQuay, who stated the object of the convention, date for the County Convention. who stated the object of the convention, and counseled harmony, etc. As per pre-vious arrangements, a young Quay admirer, W. brought to a vote, it will place Senators on record.

The Republican Senators are indifferent on this point. Their position is well known. A very few of them will support a free silver bill, as they did two years ago-probably not so many of them as at that time. It is doubtful if Senator Cameron will again be found ranged on that side. He was hauled over the coals so effectually two years ago and made such a narrow escape of getting himself mixed up in a scheme to speculate in silver, by purchasing the metal, voting for the bill, and then selling at the advanced price, that he will be very thoughtful before he decides again to support a bill to bull the silver market.

Hill Between the Millstones,

Cameron was the only Eastern Repub-lican who voted for free silver two years ago. Sentiment since that time has be crystallized, and it may be safely predicted that not only will there be no Eastern Republicans on that side at this time, but that Eastern Democrats will find it vastly more difficult to satisfy their constituents now if they support free silver than then.

Hill is between the upper and the nether millstones. Either way he will be ground to pieces. The unanimity of New York Democrats in the House against the Bland bill shows that it will be fatal for Hill to support free coinage, though his expressions of a few weeks ago were favorable to that view. To oppose free coinage would simply make him a second fiddler to Cleveland.

Gorman will almost certainly oppose free silver, and Gray, of Delaware, and McPher-son and Blodgett, of New Jersey, cannot be counted with any degree of certainty for the Stewart bill.

The vote of Representative Wilson, of West Virginia, on the Bland bill, may be accepted as a reflection of the best senti-ment of that state, and therefore Faulkener and Kenna, the West Virginia Senators, may possibly be found in line with the anti-silver men. It is almost certain, there-fore, that free silver will be found to have lost in strength in the Senate, since a so-called free coinage bill was passed by a ma-jority of five or six in the Fifty-first Congress, and the passage of such a bill by the Senate is very doubtful. As has been said, however, it will be interesting to have the Senators placed on record, especially as it might result in a funeral of the hopes of more than one Presidental aspirant.

The Nettleton Investigation,

The charges of Assistant Secretary Net-tleton, of the Treasury Department, against Superintendent of Immigration Owen in the EllisIsland investigation, to-day have created more comment than even the developments of the Raum investigation of the last few days. Mr. Nettleton charges unfitness, in-competency, untrustworthiness in the perof his official duties, careless handling of public funds, persistent attempts to secure the payment of a false youcher, crooked awards of bids, etc.

Mr. Owen is an ex-member of Congress from Indiana, and by profession was a Campbellite clergyman. He stood high in the House, and his appointment by Presi-dent Harrison to the new office of Superintendent of Immigration was thought to be a very shrewd act as the Campbellites are so strong a political power in Indiana. Mr. was ambitious, however, and signalized his entrance into office by the speedy deliverance of an opinion upon an imfor-tant question which should have emanated only from the Secretary, or his assistant, Nettleton. Ever since that time there has been bad blood between Owen and Nettleton, and the unpop-ularity of the latter everywhere in the public astroice where he is known he small. has and ularity of the latter everywhere in the public service where he is known has made Owen's annoyance of him somewhat wel-come. Mr. Nettleton's letter to the Secrecome. Mr. Nettieton's letter to the Secre-tary, under date of yesterday, making formal charges against Owen, and which was read to the investigating committee to-day, will probably bring the quarrel to a climax, and persons who know Owen's in-fluence with his church in Indiana, and that that influence secured his appoint-ment are curious to see what the President ment, are curious to see what the President

A NEW HOSPITAL.

The Ladies' Ald Society of the Southside Institution Will Erect a Building-Looking for a Site-Candidates for the Secretaryship.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Southside Rospital will take place next Tuesday afternoon, in St. Mark's Guild House. The principal business will be the election of officers for the ensuing year. The board of managers think that there will not be any change. The present officers give entire satisfaction, and the feeling is that they should not be disturbed. The society of ladies was organ-ized last April, and since it has been in existence it has turned over to the hospital board, consisting of the doctors connected with the institution, $850, leaving $9,000 in their own treasury for the building fund. It will take $40,000 to put up the new hospital building, and it is expected that the other $31,000 will be raised by popular subscription. Messrs. A. H. Heisy and John L. Lewis, of the South-side, have started subscriptions among the men in their establishments, and do not ex-pect to experience much difficulty in reis-ing the required sum. Everybody in the two cities is requested to subscribe. The committee appointed to subscribe. The new hospital has not reported yet, but it is determined that the building shall be on the flat, and not on any of the hills on the South-side. It was rumored some time ago that the committee were considering the propri-ety of purchasing the Allen school building, but the ladies of the society declare that the story was utterly baseless. The Directors of the Southside Hospital met last night and passed resolutions of respect on the death of their late Secretary, Wallace J. Frost. The election of a successor will be held at the next regular meeting of the directors. Albert Reisfar, of the Howard-Hartley Company; Bert Rossitor and John E. Cook, the latter of Rossitor and John E. Cook, the latter of the Southside Gas Company, have offered their services gratis, and a selection will probably be made from these three to fill the position. It is thought Mr. Reisfar will be elected.

Rumors of Another McKirdy Suit,

It was rumored in Allegheny last evening that a charge of perjury had been made against Auditor McKirdy. Aldermen Schellman, Braun, Neille, McNulty and McKelvey were seen, but none of them had received such an information. Mr. Mo-Kirdy said he knew nothing of such a charge.

These articles will add materially to the insatisfactory - to the National Committee in Chicago and to the Pennsylvania State Board of Managers. At length, however, matters have been definitely adjusted. Some terest felt in the building. It was not until March 23 that the final

At the rear, on the bluff, about 50 feet above the church roof, is a row of five two-story buildings owned by John A. Shaw. The corner one, occupied by John H. Hill, be-gan to slide down hill about 2:45, and fell between the quarry wall and the church, a distance of about 60 feet. As the building fell a crash followed. The fire in the house set the building for a fire and the damageneous set the building on fire and the flames pene-trated the church. In a few minutes its interior and the three adjoining buildings were ablaze. Nothing but a few chairs and miraculous. Mr. Shaw's loss is $3,000 on the three houses, on which he had $1,500 insurance. The church was insured for $20,000 as tol-Ine church was insured for $20,000 as fol-lows: Phœnix, of Brooklyn, $5,000; Gir-ard, Philadelphia, $5,000; Union, Philadel-phia, $5,000; People's, Pittsburg, $5,000. There is a mortgage of $10,000 on the church, held by a Philadelphia syndicate of heirs, while the floating debt is $4,000, thus leaving the concretention but $6,000. People leaving the congregation but $6,000. Rev. George Arbin is the pastor, and had a large and wealthy congregation. During the ex-citement a fireman was badly cut by glass and several others were injured, but none

seriously. Cardinal Manning's Successor Approved
