PREACHING HERETICAL DOCTRINE.

BOUND TO BE A FIGHT.

The Case Will Then Be Appealed to the General Assembly.

HIS FRIENDS WILL RALLY AROUND HIM

On Tuesday, April 12, the Alleghony Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church, will meet at Beaver, Pa., and the session promises to be one of the liveliest ever held by that body. The case of Rev. Joseph Baussman will be disposed of and the organization will it is expected divide itself in an intellectual discussion of heresy and its

Rev. Joseph Baussman is pastor of the Presbyterian Church, of Rochester, Pa. He is a young man of recognized ability and is charged with entertaining at least advanced ideas in religious matters. He is the son of Editor Baussman, formerly of Washington, Pa., and his congregation has been, to an extent, divided on his views ever since the famous Briggs trial attracted the attention of the Church and the people over a year ago. At that time Rev. Baussman was charged by some of the orthodox members of the congregation with holding Briggs' views and preaching the New York man's principles. His congregation gave him a trial, but before a verdict was re-turned the case was referred to a commit-tee. The committee was headed by the Rev. tee. The committee was headed by the Rev. John Fox, D. D., pastor of the North Presbyterian Church, Allegheny. This committee determined to review Rev. Mr. Baussman's work, which it is alleged they have been doing rigidly ever since their appointment. They will report their finding to the Presbytery at its Beaver meeting, and Rev. Mr. Baussman is confident that the report will be assigned him. The members of the Inbe against him. The members of the Investigating Committee refuse to say what their investigation developed or what their report would contain. It has reached Rev.

report would contain. It has reached Rev. Mr. Baussman, however, that the report will be against him, which, if adopted, will relieve the minister of his charge.

"The report, if it really is against Baussman, will not be adopted by the Presbytery without a lively fight," said a member of the Presbytery yesterday, "and even if it is adopted the case will be carried up to the General Assembly. In this case, it will is adopted the case will be carried up to the General Assembly. In this case it will attract as much attention as did the famous Briggs case. In the anticipated fight I am now confident the people who are opposing the Rochester minister and who will be led by Dr. Fox will have an easy majority in the Presbytery, but the other side will have several able and eloquent advocates who will fight to a finish as quent advocates who will fight to a finish, as they say in sporting parlance.

The gravest charge against Rev. Bauss-man is his sympathy with Briggs, and a canvass of the members of the Presbytery would prove that he is not alone in that po-pition, as many of the young ministers are with him and all of such will be expected to come to his detense at the approaching hearing."

The trouble in Rev. Baussman's church has been attracting more or less attention for a year, and the indications are that it will attract much more attention for some

LOWER PRICES THAN EVER And Better Goods for Our Friday's Poor

To-day will long be remembered as a red-letter day in the history of our famous base-ment bargain department. We have always nimed to give the poor extra big values on Friday, but to-day we are better prepared than ever before, as we made a big purchase of clothing at auction early in the week. Mrs. McKee on Children.

President Harrison's daughter has some very good ideas expressed on the rearing of children in a well-known magazine. She says "give the children a piece of bread whenever hungry." Piecing is all right, provided the bread and cakes given them are wholesome and nutritions and have been prepared from the best flour in the world. The best flour in the world, the sweetest, most nutritious, most regular, and lightest bread-makers are the "Camellia," Bayard Amber and Pearl mill brands of the Marshall-Kennedy Milling Co., of this city. Your grocer keeps these brands. Ask for them.

Are You an Exception?

It is the exception and not the rule among housekgepers of the better class to bake their own bread. They say that so long as they can buy Marvin's bread in such great variety and of such delightful quality they prefer not to worry themselves to death with the baking. We advise all prudent housekcepers to ask for Marvin's bread at their grocer's.
