GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Local baseball playing for this year was inaugurated at Exposition Park yesterday, and, taking everything into consideration, there was nothing to complain about. It was a "trial," and only of interest and importance to those who like to dabble directly or indirectly in the national game. And there were nearly 2,000 of those kind of people there yesterday, and the most conspicuous was the genial national politician, Al Carlisle. The crowd at times was just as enthusiastic as if the possession of the pennant depended on the result of the

There was one predominating feature in the game, and that feature goes to make brighter the record of the "Old Sport." Jimmy surprised few by his old-time form of pitching, but when he went into the field and performed feats that reminded one of the brilliant days of poor Jim Fogarty, the 2,000 onlookers were satisfied that there was a "ringer" in the field. But it was no ringer, it was the perennial young man Galvin, and he hopped about the outfield like a lively lawn tennis player in his suit of white. Old Sport really made a remarkable catch, in fact, two of them, and both from Miller's bat, which performance made George very, very weary,

It Was to Try Them. The contest was "merely to try the boys," as Manager Buckenberger said. The weather was excellent, and the contest was such as to give almost the entire 18 players a chance to show their skill in one way or other. It would be wearisome to tell how all the runs were made, but the general play will bear talking about. The teams were named the First and Second nines respectively, and the Firsts had considerably the best of it as far as make-up was concerned.

Galvin started in to pitch for the First nine, and for five innings the future re-form Mayor of Allegheny kept the Seconds down to three hits. Why, nobody could believe that it was the Galvin of many, many years ago. The old man was really s a worthy example of the youngsters who took part in the game. His form was indeed pleasing to his friends, in view of the many insinuations that have been made about his not taking care of himself. He is capable of showing many of them a trick or two yet. At the end of five innings Elmer Smith relieved him, and Galvin went out to left field to gain more laurels. Elmer wasn't a success in the box, as six good thomping hits were made off his delivery. Ehret pitched for the Seconds during the first innings and was a complete failure, "Red" was in no form at all, and he threw to bases miserably and pitched in a way that pleased the batters. He knew he was out of "shape," and therefore was not dis-appointed in himself. In the four innings 12 hits piled up against him. He has an attractive style, and doubtless will be a successful pitcher when in his best form. A Very Promising Youngster.

In the fifth inning Camp relieved Ehret, the change was quite an entertaining one to everybody who saw the game. Judging from yesterday's little effort Camp is a good young pitcher and is as cool as an old veteran who has gone through more than one campaign. He has excellent control of the ball and has good speed. And he watches the bases as a hawk watches its prey. He is quick in nabbing a man at first. He certainly is a young man of promise. Only three hits were made off his pitching in the five innings. It looks as if the local club for once had secured a real good youngster. President Temple and the other officials of the club were well pleased at Camp's performance.

The fielding was just what it was expected to be—a little rocky. The outfielders in the First Nine had few chances, but the infield-ers showed that they lacked practice. Shugart particularly lacked his wonted activity artwood fielded very well, and so did Mack Hanlon's knee was still evidently bothering him on the bad ground and h made two errors that he would not make in a season when all right.

They Don't Count Yet,

But in the first game all these little mistakes are expected and it is only when the players get thoroughly warmed up that any thing like serious fault-finding should be indulged in. Earle caught a good game and played with lots of vigor all through. Briggs did not do very badly, but at times he showed poor judgment. Altogether it is safe to say that out of the 18 players who took part in yesterday's game a very good team can be selected if careful thought is exercised and personal feelings are not allowed to operate. The Climax Fills It.

There was quite a pleasant meeting of the County Baseball League at the Hotel Schlosser last evening, and the vacancy made by the recent withdrawal of the Chartiers club was very satisfactorily filled by the admission of the Climax club. Mat Thompson and his men were admitted to membership without a murnur. L. W. Batey was appointed an extra umpire. The official schedule will be ready for publication Monday morning.

To-Day's Local Game. The East End Gyms will tackle the local League club at Exposition Park this afternoon. Last evening Manager Buckenberger had not deflitely made up his mind as to what players will be on the teem. Thomp-son and Berger will likely be the Gyms' bat-tery, and Baldwin and Mack or Mills may be the Pittsburg battery.

A PROFIT-SHARING SCHEME.

How a Cleveland Official Would Secure Good and Hard Work. CLEVELAND, April 1.—[Special.]—"I have a scheme," said Secretary Hawley, of the Cleveland Baseball Club, to THE DISPATCE correspondent to-night, "whereby every player will be free from the charge that he is trying to throw the game, or is not playing up to his ability. My plan is to establish a system of profit sharing. I would have the players understand that a certain pro-ficiency in batting and fielding meant so fleiency in batting and fielding meant so many extra dollars for them. Baseball is on a sound financial footing now, and there is no reason why earnest, hard-working ball players should not share in the profits that are sure to come.

"I mean to bring this subject before the League, and I think a plan can be adopted for butting it into operation. It is only fair that a player who works with might and main to win games should get more pay than the indifferent man. I think a system of profit sharing, as you might term it, will be adopted next year. Under such an arrangement salaries could all be equitably adjusted. The good men would get good money and the men who played only to get their pay would get that and nothing more. It will save the game from the suspicion of being a hippedrome affair and will put money in our pockets in the end."

AFTER BIG GAME.

smith Goes East to Tackle Choynski, Jim Hall or Bob Fitzsimmons,

Ed Smith and two or three friends left for Philadelphia last evening, where Smith is to meet an unknown this evening in a fourround glove contest. Before leaving one of Smith's friends made the following state-

"We expect to get Smith matched against Jim Hall at 163 pounds before we come back. We cannot get $10,000, but we'll bet $2,000 on the outside and fight for the best purce we can get, the winner to take every cent there is in it. I have Jack Fogarty's authority to make this statement, "Or Smith will fight Fitzsimmons at 158 pounds uncer similar conditions to what he will fight Hall."

Paddy McBride was in the company, and remarked: "I'm not rich, but I'll bet a few dollars that Fitzeimmons won't fight Smith. If they were to fight I should certainly back Smith. I've seen them both,"
Smith is to have a four-round contest with Choynski on the 9th inst., and it is likely that a tremendous crowd will be present. Smith weizhed 179½ pounds yesterday, lighter than he has been for a long time. In a letter to a friend yesterday Tom Allen, the ex-champion, said: "Smith should cassily fight at 164 pounds, and when he gets to fight at 164 pounds, and when he gets to that weight not a man on earth will defeat him at the weight. I have seen him per-form, and I consider him a first-class man when in proper condition.

MITCHELL STILL BLOWING.

He's Afraid to Meet Pritchard and Talks Foolishly Hankering After Sullivan.

New York, April 1.—[Special.]—According to a special cable received at the Police Gasette office, Ted Pritchard, the middle weight champion of England, has challenged Charles Mitchell to fight him for from £500 to £1,000 a side, either London or Marquis of Queensberry rules. The dispatch further states:

"It was expected yesterday, when Pritchard's challenge was made public, that Mitchell would accept, as George Baird, better known as Squire Abington, had informed Frank Carew, Pritchard's backer, that Mitchell could beat Pritchard, and he would bet $1,000 he could according to any ruies. Mitchell, with Slavin, called at the Sporting Life to-day in reference to Pritchard's offer. Mitchell said that Pritchard was not in his class and he would arrange no match. offer. Mitchell said that Pritchard was not in his class and he would arrange no match, but that he would find an unknown that he would back for as much money as Carew would put up for Pritchard, if the latter would agree to fight. "Mitchell claimed that he had done with fighting, but if he had a chance to break his hand on John L Sullivan he would avail himself of the opportunity. Mitchell's known is Jack O'Brien."

A Blow to Trotting Races,

There was utter disappointment among the local horsemen yesterday when it was learned that the Homewood Park Club House had been refused a license by the Court, Adam Fuchs, the applicant, is among the most rewas utterly crestfallen at the news. It is a sad blow to the proposed race meeting, and may cause a change in the first-class programme arranged. The general feeling is one of regret that the license has been refused, as Pittsburg promised fair to be among the leading cities in the country this year, so far as trotting races are concerned.

A Big Cocking Main.

ALLIANCE, O., April 1-[Special.]-A cocking main took place a few miles west of this city early this morning, between birds from Canton, Youngstown, Salem, Massillon and Alliance. The principal contest, however, was between Canton and Alliance birds, and in every instance the Alliance birds were victorious. Two hundred sports birds were victorious. Two hundred sports were present and upwards of $5,000 changed hands. The police suspicioned that something of the kind was brewing from the great number of sports that struck the ciry yesterday, but despite their surveillance the fight took place with the above results.

The Report Confirmed.

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.-The report that A. J. Cassatt has disposed of his interest in the Monmouth Park Association to New York parties is confirmed by an official of the Pennsylvania Railrond Company, who said that Mr. Cassatt some time ago con-templated withdrawing from the associa-tion, and that the interests of the estate of William L. Scott will probably be closed out at the same time.

A Very Big Challenge.

A local sporting man left the following challenge at this office yesterday: "I will match Paddy McBride to fight any man in America for $2,000 a side and a purse at 123 pounds. I prefer Tommy Lynch. If any-body will accept this challenge, I will put up $1,000 forfeit with THE DISPATCH at once, or within a day after the acceptance. This is business, and I trust that somebody will

A DISPATCH from Washington says: President Wagner, of the Washington Baseball Club, has signed Dolan and Gastright, pitchers, but Hov, the mute center fielder, declines to take $3,250 cm file services this season. He wants his contract for $5.500, made with the Athletics last year, carried out, but Wagner says he is not bound to protect it, and will not pay Hoy more than $3,250. FRED PPEFFER, accord to a Louisville paper, is confident that Chicago will soon give him his release. In which event he will immediately sign with the Louisvilles. Fred, though, is reckoning without his host. "Chicago will not release Pteffer moder any circumstances," said President Hart. "He will play with Chicago or nowhere; that is settled and Louisville will not get his services."

CHRISTOPHER VON DER AHE has written to President Hart that the baseball season will open with a hurral on April 12. Anson and his men will draw like a circus. The Governors of several States have promised the "boss president" that they will grace the opening game with their presence. All of the city and county officials will also attend. Von der Ahe anticipates a most prosperous season.

THE case of Danny Richardson continues to attend attention. In an interview with d. W. Spalding, Richardson relicrated his determination not to play hi Washington. Mr. Spalding advised Danny to see George Wagner and ify to come to an understanding, and Danny is now in Philadelphia. The local directors are averse to naying a bonus for Richardson's release. Meanwhile Rassett plays a fine second.

New Churches Numerous-A Cigare Fiend Dead-Almost a Murder. McKessrort, April 1.—[Special.]—The Central Presbyterian congregation recently organized here have over doubled the mem-bership through the able efforts of Rev. C. B. Hatch, formerly of Allegheny City, and has decided to build a fine church that will seat 1,000 persons. The congregation have secured a lot at the corner of Union and Versailles streets. This is one of the sailles streets. This is one of the eight new churches to be built here as follows: The Coursin Street Methodist Church, the First Baptist Church, the St. Mary's German Catholic Church, parsonage and convent building, the German Evangelical Protestant Church, all of which will be handsome buildings; the First Christian, the Be Nai Isnael Jowish Synagogue, a small church on the Eastside, and another church building in East Park. Work was commenced to-day on the building of a costly large convent for the St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church congregation.

At 4 o'clock this morning Joseph, the 19-year-old son of R. C. Snowden, of Elizabeth, died of menengitis. The boy has been for a long period an inveterate cigarette smoker, and his illness is supposed to have been brought about by it.

Thieves gained an entrance to the residence of H. M. Spring, of Locust street, at an early hour this morning, and robbed the house of $90, also some silverware, among which was a set of silver spoons, an heirloom over 100 years old that has been handed down from family to family.

Joseph Eselvitz, a Siav, is lying at his boarding house suffering from several fractured ribs, a sprained back and a badly inured head. He and a man named Joseph ehmin, also a Siav, worked together on the ittsburg, McKeesport and Youghiogheny silroad, and while out on the bridge appoach yesterday they quarreled and Lehin knocked Eselvitz off the bridge. Since nattime nothing has been neard of Lehmin.

The Trout Supply Exhausted HARRISBURG, April 1 .- The State Fish Commissioners are overrun with application for trout fry. About 3,000,000 were raised this season, and the applications have al-ready exceeded 4,000,000, so that no more orders can be filled.

FRIDAY'S UNFORTUNATES.

Six Accidents Reported Yesterday, Two of Which Resulted in Death. Of the six accidents reported vesterday wo deaths resulted. A brakeman was crushed to death between the cars and another died from injuries received while at work. The others were of a more trivial nature. Here is the list:

mature. Here is the list:

Melshick—Joseph Melshick, 45 years old, died yesterday afternoon at the West Penn Hospital from injuries received some days ago at the Carbon Iron Works, Smallman and Thirty-second streets. An inquest will be held this morning.

Gamble—Scott Gamble, 23 years old, employed as a brakeman on the Panhandle Railroad, was caught between cars while making a coupling at Mansfield yesterday afternoon and instantly killed. His inquest will be held this morning.

McDonald—Charles McDonald, an employe at Shoenberger's mill, was badly burned by a gas explosion at that place yesterday. He was removed to the West Penn Hospital. He will hardly recover.

Richards—John Richards, a 15-year-old lad, met with a peculiar accident yesterday afternoon. He was walking along the Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston Railway when a train passed over a torpedo. A portion of the explosive hit the boy on the knees, almost knocking the knee cap off. He was removed to his home on Arlington avenue. Miller—John Miller, of Hemlock street, Allegheny, was struck by a train near the outer depot yesterday and severely bruised. He was able to walk to his home.

Williams—John Miller, of Hemlock street, Allegheny, was struck by a train near the outer depot yesterday and severely bruised. He was able to walk to his home.

Williams—Daniel Williams was struck by a cable car at Fitth avenue and Moultrie street yesterday and badly injured about the head. He was removed to his home on Frankstown avenue.

THE FIRST IN AMERICA.

A Pittsburg Firm Takes the Initial Step In the Tin Plate Industry.

A few days ago the first pickling machine patented in the United States and put in use was placed in the Irondale, O., Tin Plate Works. The machine was invented by President Mestar, of the Leechburg Foundry and Machine Company. It was built by that company and it does its work

The machine consists of a vertical cylinder and plunger, operated by steam through an automatic valve. This differs from all other machines now in use in foreign plants. The plates are washed by a vertical motion in and out of the liquids, which renders them better than the old method of moving the plates horizontally through the liquids. It also has a greater capacity than the Euro-pean machines and is a great saving of labor, as one man will pack from 800 to 1,000 boxes of tin per day.
